'Aid for Ben Cat Schools' Project Given Fast Approval

Spearheaded by the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, area residents are answering a plea from a Tecumseh GI in Vietnam.

Through a letter to The Herald, 1st Lt. Greg Mason last week asked for help in providing simple school supplies for youngsters of Ben Cat Province.

Lt. Mason's artillery unit, based in Ben Cat, has undertaken an assistance program for two village schools, which instruct more than 1,000 youngsters, some coming from as far as eight miles.

The need is for pencils, plain and ruled paper, pencil sharpeners, erasers, pens, ink, chalk, straight edges, English readers and maps.

Shortly after the story appeared, The Herald received a telephone call from Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann, a Sunday School teacher at Gloria Dei, who said the congregation there would organize a drive to collect materials and ship the gifts.

She contacted other Tecumseh churches to ask that they join in. Messages for youngsters to take home are being given junior church goers.

Mrs. Goldmann reports that response from all denominations was beyond expectations

Children are being asked to bring donations to services the next two Sundays, with first mailings to Ben Cat scheduled for the week of Jan. 16.

Anyone interested in helping may call Mrs. Goldmann, 423-2347 or The Herald, 423-2174.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

"The Herald is inaugurating a new policy this week," Mrs. Nellie Zeluff was told told Monday afternoon, "All readers who are more than 100 years old will be given free subscriptions."

"Why thank you," grinned the impish Nellie, who is going to be 101 Thursday.

It turns out that white-haired Nellie started reading this weekly "when I began to learn my ABC's".

She told me that her granddad, Samuel Rappaleye, was a subscriber, then her dad, Erastus, and finally she and her husband, Cassius, who passed away in 1955.

"The Herald is my paper," she said emphatically — and it warmed my heart.

Her son, Lawrence, said, "When her subscription comes due, just renew it and send me the bill."

That prompted the brand new arrangement — free subscriptions for regular readers when they hit the century mark.

Our Holloway correspondent, Marvel Neuman, prepared the story on Mrs. Zeluff's birthday and she was present in the nursing home while we snapped a variety of photos of Nellie.

It was a jolly session as Nellie cheerfully obliged, turning this way and that, grinning with that old saw, "You'd better watch out, I'll probably break your camera".

I ASKED if she had worked on the family's 160-acre farm.

Nellie was quick with a proud response, "I was a farmer's daughter". The answer spoke volumes.

Her son added, "Hard work, that's all she knew. And being a good church member".

Nellie got a letter the other day from the White House, personal best wishes from President Johnson and she was delighted with the surprise. Her son plans on having both the envelope and card framed to hang in Nellie's room.

A couple of weeks ago, Nellie had a kidney infection, but she quickly licked it and is feeling fine, anxious for her birthday celebration.

As Marvel points out in her story, Nellie never misses a meal, enjoying each one, which speaks well for a good, steady diet.

She likes to watch television, too, with "Lassie" rating as a favorite. Any programs with music gets Nellie's nod of approval.

As I left the cheery Longstreet nursing home in Adrian, which has been Mrs. Zeluff's home since 1960, the thought occured that meeting folks like Nellie certainly makes newspapering fun.

Six Injured in New Year Auto Mishap

Six persons were treated in Herrick Memorial Hospital the afternoon of New Year's Day, when two cars collided on US-12 just west of Tipton Hwy.

Gary Slater, 30, of Ypsilanti, was ticketed by Clinton State Police for driving left of the center line when his car collided with a car driven by Arthur L. Fedrizzi, 36, of Lincoln Park.

Mr. Slater received cuts and bruises.

Mr. Fedrizzi received a fractured leg; Mrs. Fedrizzi, 35, possible back injuries and the three Fedrizzi children, Peggy, 13, Karen, 11, and Patricia, 14, each received cuts and bruises.

Reports Thefts

Willard Southwell of Murphy Hwy. reported to Clinton State Police that during the past several weeks several items from his basement including a bed and some canned goods were gone. Also missing are ducks and chickens.

LOVELY NELLIE ZELUFF CALLS HERALD "MY PAPER" — SEE LONG & SHORT

Nellie Is 101

She Loves Food, TV, The Herald

By MARVEL NEUMAN

Mrs. Nellie Zeluff will observe her 101st birthday in good health and with thanksgiving Thursday.

"I have so much to be thankful for, a good home, my son, Lawrence, and grandchildren, who look after my needs. I thank God for all goodness in my life," she said.

Mrs. Zeluff is a charter member of the Tecumseh Christian Science Church, which was founded here in 1917.

She reads her Bible regularly, as well as Science and Health with Key to Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, seldom missing her daily lesson.

A long-time resident of the Britton and Ridgeway area, she now resides at the Adrian nursing home of Mrs. Flossie Longstreet, 1045 E. Butler St., having kept house for herself until five years ago.

She is always loving, expressing kindness to everyone she meets.

BESIDES HER son, Mrs. Zeluff has three grandchildren, Richard, Larry Eugene and Carol Ann, all of Adrian. One daughter, Mable, died in childbirth.

Television is one of the diversions of Mrs. Zeluff and she also finds enjoyment in her visitors and in the lives of those around her.

She relishes her meals, never missing any.

Born in Ridgeway Jan. 6, 1865, Nellie B. Rappaleye was the oldest of five children and only surviving member of the family.

She spent her girlhood on a farm. On April 15, 1892, she married Cassius Zeluff. They celebrated their 62nd anniversary in 1954 and he died the following year.

They lived in the same home for 56 years in Britton.

HER HUSBAND operated a general store, was postmaster for many years and at one time ran a sorghum mill.

She worked in the store and cooked meals for the sorghum mill hands — as many as 12 — besides handling her family's washing and ironing. In those days, these chores were all done by hand.

A tall, thin woman, her pretty blue eyes sparkle and her snow white hair glistens.

One of her close friends noted, "Nellie is very lovable."

This probably best describes the oldest resident of Lenawee County.

Marv Rumpf Named Truck Line President

W. J. Rumpf, veteran and well-known trucking executive,, announced sale of his stock this week in the Rumpf Truck Line, Inc., to his sons, Marvin and Robert, and daughter, Mrs. Alice Easton.

They purchased the company's stock after several months of negotiations.

New officers are:

Marvin Rumpf — president;

Robert Rumpf, of Toledo — vice-president;

Mrs. Easton of Manitou Beach — secretary-treasurer.

W. J. Rumpf will continue to be active as chairman of the board.

The Rumpf Truck Line of Tecumseh is one of the oldest operating truck lines in the country, having been managed and operated by the Rumpf family for 50 years.

It was founded in 1916 by Chris Rumpf, grandfather of Marvin, Robert and Mrs. Easton.

Both Marvin and Robert have grown up in the trucking business, starting as dockman and drivers, eventually progressing to executive positions.

Rumpf Truck Line now grosses over $1 million annually and operates approximately 200 pieces of equipment, exemplifying a tremendous growth since World War II when the company operated only eight light trucks.

With a rapid increase of business, the company's home office here and terminals at Ann Arbor and Toledo will be open 24 hours daily, except for weekends. Employment will be increased to 87.

W. J. Rumpf will now serve the company in an advisory capacity.

The new owners say his wide trucking experience of 45 years will continue to contribute to future growth of the company.

Spreemans Celebrate 50 Golden Years

More than 160 relatives and frends called at the Ridgeway Grace Methodist Church Dec. 26. to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spreeman on their golden wedding anniversary.

A feature on the refreshment table was the decorated cake baked by Mrs. Leon Merx, a cousin of Mrs. Spreeman.

The Rev. Charles Bragg of Monroe, who performed the marriage ceremony fifty years ago, was present for the open house.

The grandchildren served refreshments and had charge of the guest book and gift table.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spreeman Jr., were hosts for the event.

Bus Drivers 'Go to School'

A class for school bus drivers, sponsored by Eastern Michigan University, will be held Monday at Tecumseh High School.

The class will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

Corrugated Box Plans Expansion

By JIM LINCOLN

First industrial expansion planned for Tecumseh in 1966 may be made at Tecumseh Corrugated Box on S. Evans St.

Whether it is realized will depend on a hearing before the city's Board of Appeals on Jan. 17.

Box officers are contemplating an expansion of about 9,000-square-feet with an addition off the present building east towards Evans St. Entire expansion would be devoted to manufacturing. The present plant comprises to 6,000-square-feet now.

Present zoning, however, may limit or delay any construction. A setback from a property line is 12 feet and Tecumseh Box wants to build up to within one foot of the line.

Company officials have stated they will abide by the Board's decision, but are hopeful that an exception will be made.

If the construction is stopped at the 12-foot setback, only 7,000 square feet could be added. This would be insufficient for equipment and manufacturing planned for the addition.

The expansion will also necessitate additional employment, probably more employees than otherwise would be hired this year.

A favorable decision from the Board would kickoff construction as soon as possible, probably yet this month.

Tecumseh Corrugated Box is a new, local industry, starting here just three years ago on Feb. 1, 1963. Its business has grown rapidly and the company now employs 118 in the factory and offices.

Joseph Satterthwaite Retires

Following 42 years with the Foreign Service, Joseph Satterthwaite of Tecumseh has retired.

He has just concluded five years as ambassador to the Union of South Africa, to cap an illustrious career with the State Department.

Mr. Satterthwaite and his wife are now concluding a vacation in Spain and will return to a home in Bethesda, Md., next week. Their daughter, Ruth, is a student at Holton Arms Private School for Girls in Potomac, Md.

AS ONE Washington newsman noted, during his South African duty, Mr. Satterthwaite "stoically braved the enmity of government officials there by opposing their policy of 'apartheid'."

He was the first U. S. Ambassador — and probably only one of any nation — to invite non-white persons to official embassy functions.

This action probably best sums up the character of this man, a Quaker, who has always lived a career of honor.

One fellow State Department officer, who served with the Tecumseh man, noted:

"While he doesn't talk about his religion, he has been much guided by Christian principles. This is apparent in all the policy decisions he has made over the years. His decisions have been ethically and morally correct."

The colleague said he would describe Sattherwaite as "a sweet and gentle person except that this wouldn't be quite accurate because there is steel beneath the surface."

SOFT - SPOKEN, Mr. Satterthwaite seldom drew headlines in the public prints. But on one occasion, he was pushed into the limelight.

The incident came following the election of President Kennedy, when a spot had to be found for G. Mennen Williams, former Michigan governor who worked hard in the campaign.

Gov. Williams was apparently hoping for a cabinet post, but this proved out of reach and so JFK named him to the African desk in the State Department.

This had been Mr. Satterthwaite's position and he was asked to step aside — at the time his friends assumed a bitter pill.

However, he was immediately named to the African ambassadorship. His brother, Perry, later confirmed that Joe was delighted with the new assignment, since he actually preferred overseas work, as his long career shows.

HE BEGAN his government service as a clerk in the American Consulate at Stuttgart, Germany (1924-25).

Later he was appointed an officer in the Foreign Service and he served successively as vice-consul in Guadalajara, Mexico (1927-29), third secretary at the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City (1929-34) and Buenos Aires (1934), second secretary at Bue-

By MARIE YOUNG

Amidst a busy Monday morning at Herrick Memorial Hospital a group of doctors, nurses and Auxiliary members gathered in the doctors' lounge to view and learn more about resuscitation equipment, which is being considered for purchase for the hospital.

Various equipment was demonstrated and explained by Jack S. Moss of the Corbin-Farnsworth, inc. He also answered questions concerning the equipment.

There is much equipment to be had and combined in many units to suit specific needs. Mr. Moss emphasized that hospital and needs vary from community to community and equipment to suit the individual situation should be determined before purchases are made.

That's why all aspects are being studied carefully before the resuscitation cart is purchased.

EVERY YEAR more than half a million Americans die of coronary heart disease.

Experience indicates that prompt and effective treatment in a suitably-equipped hospital can significantly reduce the mortality rate in heart disease.

The factors of time and equipment are crucial. Instantaneous action and continuous attention may make the difference between life and death in many instances.

ST. VINCENT'S Hospital in Toledo has had a coronary unit in operation since Sept. 27 and already is credited with saving the lives of 14 heart patients.

None would probably have survived without the benefit of the unit's unique heart monitoring system.

Equipment and needs here will not be identical those at St. Vincent's, but officials are sure that when equipment is purchased and put into use, it will serve the needs of the community well.

Patterson Elementary School, often a victim of vandals, was hit again, this time during Christmas vacation.

Since all rooms are locked inside, except for the rest rooms, there was little damage, limited to the broken window and a paper dispenser ripped from a wall in a boys' rest room.

Howard Hunt, custodian, discovered the break-in last Friday morning.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to take this opportunity again this year as I have done the past several years to sincerely thank the community groups, churches, clubs, college groups, individuals and anyone else for their generosity to the Ypsilanti State Hospital and to our patients during the Yuletide Season.

Parties, gifts, cards and remembrances of every type all aid the staff in the ongoing program of rehabilitation our patients.

If it were not for the generosity of the public which continues all through the year our programs would be virtually impossible.

I would like to assure each of you that you have made Christmas at Ypsilanti State Hospital a much more cheerful one and you have made so many people happy just to know they were not entirely forgotten.

May I extend the joys of the season to you and include my best wishes for a very rewarding new year.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Coak Named '66 Chief of Staff

Herrick Memorial Hospital medical staff has named a new slate of officers for 1966.

Dr. Richard D. Coak was elected Chief of Staff, with Dr. Ralph F. Helzerman as Vice-Chief of Staff, and Dr. Carlton L. Cook as secretary-treasurer.

Following the election, the importance of modern drug therapy in psychiatric situations was described to the doctors by Dr. Dean P. Carron, Ann Arbor psychiatrist. He pointed out many of the dangers in use of these potent drugs, as well as their great advantages in aiding patients resume a useful life much sooner than previously.

He stressed the importance of realizing the potency of many of these newer drugs, as well as the great dangers in use of reducing pills containing dexedrine, which he stated, is "the greatest addicting drug we use."

DURING THE past year, the medical staff donated more than $1,500 for hospital equipment, chiefly dictating equipment used for keeping modern medical records.

The medical staff also co-sponsored a Christmas party for hospital employees and their families at Tecumseh Country Club.

The staff members became actors and producers of a nonsensical original skit depicting themselves entering "The Pearly Gates" in years to come.

PLANS FOR this year by the medical group include close cooperation with the hospital administration and board in the expansion of the hospital and the purchase and coordinated use of heart - resuscitation and other heart-lung equipment.

It will become the nucleus of a coronary care unit in the hospital, as well as aiding the inservice teaching program with other hospital personnel.

FIRST BABY OF 1966 — There's a real coincidence in the story of this year's first baby born at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Gary Lee Hoover arrived Jan. 3 at 14 minutes after midnight. Last year on the same day, his older brother, Steve, was born. Looks like the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hoover of Dundee, will be able to economize on birthday anniversary cakes as far as Gary and Steve are concerned. There are two other boys in the clan, Mike, 5, and Jeff, 3.

Goodman's Jumper Gives Indians 3rd ABHT Title

Tecumseh won its third ABHT tournament title in a row last Thursday night at Adrian when the Indians rallied to hand Hudson its first loss of the season, 81-79.

Coach Vic Lawson's club overcame a 12-point deficit in the fourth quarter, tied the count at 75-75 with 2:27 remaining, and were then knotted with the Tigers twice before winning.

Whether Indian fans — and Head Coach Lawson — were satisfied with the victory is something else. The first three quarters must have been a nightmare for the Tecumseh mentor.

A Hudson press, particularly in the first half, forced the Indians into mistake after mistake. It was a relief when Tecumseh was able to move the ball past midcourt without turning it over to Hudson.

In the second half, Tecumseh solved the press to a great extent, and particularly in the final period, the Indians picked up a few easy goals.

Tecumseh opened up a five-point lead in the first quarter, blew it and one time fell behind eight points before ending the period trailing 20-16.

Scott Edwards evened the count at 27-27 midway through the second quarter, and Gordon Gibson, who played one of his finest games, gave the Indians a brief 29-27 lead.

Tecumseh held the upper margin until the last minutes when Hudson forged ahead for a 42-39 lead at halftime.

The Tigers opened up an eight-point margin at the end of the third quarter and Tecumseh showed every sign of collapsing.

In the first minutes of the final period, Hudson stretched the lead to 12 points.

With less than three minutes remaining, Dean Hebb hit his third goal of the period to pull Tecumseh within three points, 74-71.

At this stage, Al Eady, 6'10" Hudson center, fouled out. Hebb then tallied twice on free throws, and John Goodman connected after a Tiger free throw, to tie the game at 75-75.

Twice after Hebb and Scott Edwards hit to put the Indians in front, Hudson came back to even the count.

With just under one minute left and the score tied 79-79, the Indians worked past the Hudson press to Goodman in the corner. He hit from 15 feet with about 10 seconds left.

A shot by Bruce Lewis was wild, but the Hudson guard was fouled trying to get the rebound. At the line in a one-and-one situation, his toss hit the front of the bucket, bounced over to Don Poe who tried and missed, a short jumper as the gun sounded.

Fans couldn't have asked for a more thrilling game. Most of the time, both clubs were within a few points of each other.

Neither club, however, played well, particularly the Indians. Lawson, fortunately, went to the bench and was rewarded with fine play of several reserves, notably Goodman and Edwards.

Seven players scored in two figures, and only Jim Mobley and Dave Kennel missed out completely of Tecumseh cagers who played in the game.

VIC LAWSON REALLY GETS INTO ACTION

Indians Face Grosse Ile

Tecumseh's chances of boosting their season mark from 3-2 is excellent Friday night when the Indians travel to Grosse Ile.

GI is one of the weakest clubs in the Huron League while the Indians should be in the race for the title.

Tecumseh, with a few breaks and despite playing some poor basketball, could easily be 5-0.

Terry Alcock, 6'4" center and top rebounder in the area, has been the only consistent starter for Coach Vic Lawson, who has had his share of headaches with the error prone Indians.

Tecumseh whipped Blissfield in the opener of the ABHT tourney last week in what was probably its best game to date. The Indians wrapped up the tournament Thursday night, whipping Hudson, 81-79, but were far from a polished team in doing it.

Diplomats Bring Comedy

Basketball's internationally-famous Harlem Diplomats will play a Tecumseh High School faculty team Thursday at 8 p.m.

The Diplomats have played in Mexico, Cuba, Jamaica, Nassau, Brazil and Venezuela, where they were labeled the "Funniest team ever".

The team features two of basketball's great comedians, Dick Harvey and Goose, Jr.

Also there is a bright new sensational dribbler and ball handler, Pete Russell.

The Diplomats will present basketball's a magic part, done in darkness; only visible objects are the hands, shoes and a glowing basketball. This tricky ball handling will precede the game.

While playing before 200,000 fans last season, the Diplomats compiled a 173 and 4 win-and-loss record. At present the team is undefeated.

Tories Take Tourney

DEERFIELD — Britton High School Tory Cagers grabbed a 77-71 victory over the Minutemen of Deerfield High to secure the first Deerfield Holiday Tournament trophy last week.

The Tories overcame a Deerfield rally late in the game and outlasted them after what appeared would be an easy win.

The Tories connected on 33 of 68 shots for 47 per cent in the game as Larry Ash led with 19.

In comparison, the Minutemen averaged 28 per cent with 23 for 81. Tom Forche led scoring with 20 points.

The Tories have a 3-3 record over-all and 1-3 in the River Raisin League. They will meet Boysville in Macon, Friday at 8 p.m.

Coach Sam Hamilton summed up the tournament action as a "good test" of the teams actual potential. He indicated that the contests both helped his Tories play heads up ball.

Michiganians View Future at Farm Week

Farmers of Michigan will view the future at the 51st annual Farmers' Week on the campus of Michigan State University starting Jan. 31.

Theme for the event will be "Rural Michigan . . . Now and in 1980." Many thousand Michigan farmers, homemakers and young people will be on the East Lansing campus for a comprehensive, forward-looking view of rural Michigan as it is expected to be in fifteen years.

Since early 1964, scientists at MSU have ben working with industry and rural leaders on "Project '80" . . . an analysis of Michigan's rural potential by 1980. Projections have been made to 1980 for population, family living, crops, livestock, dairy plus demands on industries and services which serve the rural community.

Complete programs will be available in early January. Copies may be obtained from county offices of the Cooperative Extension Service or from the Bulletin Office at Michigan State University.

Romney Given MSU Report

LANSING — Governor Romney has receivd a comprehensive report of a thorougn study of Michigan's driver licensing system conducted by Michigan State University's Highway Traffic Safety Center.

The driver licensing study was undertaken at the request of the Governor, who believed that an in-depth study was needed to determine the best way to achieve maximum benefits from the driver licensing function. The project has been supported and encouraged by Secretary of State James Hare.

"I commend the center for its exhaustive study submitted on schedule and which has produced a wealth of background and reliabi guidelines to help the planning of the administrative and legislative branches of state government," commented Governor Romney.

All facets of the center's study, findings and recommendations have been thoroughly evaluated and endorsed by the study's advisory committe — a select panel of national and state authorities and driver licensing administrators.

Highlights of the study's findings and recommendations include:

The three basic functions of driver licensing — driver examining, driver records and driver improvement — should be combined and closely integrated.

Total administration of such an integrated driver licensing system should be centralized in one state agency.

A state force of qualified, trained "driver analysts" should be established under state civil service to enable the state to provide improved services to drivers.

Qualifying standards along with examinations and testing procedures should be made more rigorous.

Adequate time must be available for a thorough examination of each applicant and for effective driver improvement work with problem drivers.

Sufficient appropriations must be provided for the size and quality of the civil service force needed to realize the full benefits of an integrated system.

Sports Cars in Spotlight at Museum

DEARBORN — Greenfield Village will stage its 14th annual Sports Cars in Review show in the Henry Ford Museum Jan. 14 through Feb. 6.

"Les pur-sang," or the pure bloods, will be the theme of this annual exhibit of automobiles tracing the history of sports cars and their racing heritage.

Five thoroughbred cars have been selected to form the central exhibit in the show. These are the 1933 Alfa-Romeo 8.6 roadster by Figoni, 1935 Hispano-Suiza V-12, 1932 Bugatti T-55, 1932 Delage D8S and a 1939 Talbot Lago.

Special programs have been arranged on each of the Friday evenings during the show. Three sports car authorities will head the program, with a sports car fashion show scheduled on final weekend.

The Sports Cars in Review show at Greenfield Village is included in the regular admission charge to the Henry Ford Museum.

Special Museum hours during the show are 9 a.m. until 11 p.m. daily.

Friday evening lectures in the Museum theatre will be at 8:30 p.m. and the fashion show on February 4 at 9 p.m.

Foods and nutrition specialists at Michigan State University say the length of time frozen food may be kept varies directly with the temperature. The length of time quality can be maintained is cut in half with each five degrees the temperature rises. Foods will keep well for one year if the temperature stays at zero.

Peace Corps Will Test January 8

Tecumseh area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 8, at the Adrian Post Office, Conference Room.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas.

The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.)

The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test.

Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

Guide Pinpoints Data on States

The American Heritage Encyclopedic Guide to the United States, the first and only reference work of its kind, will be introduced in Tecumseh on Jan. 10.

The new 16-volume set will be sold in the A&P store. Only available in supermarkets on a book-a-week continuity basis, the American Heritage series put it within reach of every American family.

The series, a collaboration between American Heritage and the Dell Publishing Co., Inc., is an alphabetically-arranged guide to all the states and territories of America.

Profusely illustrated with color and black-and-white photographs, each state's important cities, beauty spots, landmarks and industries are described in up-to-the-minute detail.

Full color paintings and drawings depict native flora and fauna and the official flower, tree, bird, motto, song and nickname are noted.

The history of each state is written by the editors of American Heritage and the character of its people is personified in amusing anecdotes and folklore. Two maps of each state show its topography, places of interest, major rivers and roads.

CARLENA STONER EVIDENTLY ENJAYS THE NEW PLAY HOUSE

Given Play House

BY JO WEGNER

Santa left a most unusual gift for three delighted little girls when he visited Tecumseh last week — a life-sized, hardwood floored little playhouse.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stoner, 6900 Mill Hwy., Carlene, 7, Christine, 3, and little Donna, 9 months, are going to have the most enviable playhouse in town.

Already passers-by are slowing to take a second look, and visitors have called in a steady stream.

Built to the specifications of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. DaMuth, it was assembled in the Stoner garage, painted, taken down and re-assembled on the lawn before Christmas.

The Stoner girls were told it was a chicken house, a fact they readily believed, for they do raise chickens.

But Christmas Eve saw a Santa on the roof, and a wreath on the door, and they were shown in to their very own playhouse.

Mrs. Stoner says it is tall enough for her to stand upright in, and she wishes she had such a house when younger.

"Nana" DaMuth has promised the girls curtains for the aluminum storm windows.

Sign for Jaycee Follies Dreamer

All local residents who have dreamed of a career in vaudeville, take note! Rehearsals for the Jaycee Follies begin Thursday morning, Jan. 6, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Both morning and evening sessions are scheduled and anyone interested in performing may still join the cast.

Heading the talent committee is Dr. Robert Murray, who emphasizes the fact that the production is all for fun and none need be reluctant to appear because he lacks dramatic ability.

In fact, it's the "perfect opportunity to indulge the little bit of ham that a lot of us seem to have.

The musical comedy revue is professionally written and staged, under direction of the Jerome H. Cargill Co., of New York.

Performances are scheduled for the evenings of Jan. 19 and 20 at the Strand Theater. All profits will be donated to the Football Lights Fund.

Tickets are $1.50 each ($5.00 patrons) and will be available next week. For ticket information, contact Mrs. Walter Wonderly, 423-3931, or Mrs. Thomas Morgan, 423-2462. Tickets also are available at Hodges, Helms and Woolworth's.

'65 Busy for Kiwanians

The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club had another active year during 1965, reports the Rev. A. C. Sheley, a Kiwanian and pastor of the Church of God.

The organization promoted the annual World's Fair, which provided local businesses an opportunity to come into closer conjunction with the people they serve and in turn for people to express their appreciation of the fine business Tecumseh has.

Kiwanis sponsored the first pro basketball game ever played in Tecumseh in October as the Detroit Pistons defeated the Baltimore Bullets at Tecumseh High School gymnasium.

They continue sponsorship of the only Boy Scout Troop for retarded children in the State of Michigan, It is located at Lenawee Institute on Sutton Rd.

In addition the local club purchased and planted shrubbery and trees for the Institute and furnished a loom for training purposes.

Finally, Kiwanis landscaped the entire north end of its park on N. Maumee St., made cash contributions to Goodwill Industries, 4-H Clubs, Little League, Future Farmers of America and aided in other community functions.

"With the help of the good Tecumseh citizens, Kiwanis has plans for continued hard work during 1966," says the Rev. Sheley.

Lawson, McEnroe Among Record NMU Enrollment

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's record enrollment of 5,551 reflects a striking increase in area representation among students.

The 29.5 per cent climb from last year's 4,291 students is supported in increases in 13 of the Upper Peninsula's 15 counties and representation in 63 of the 68 Lower Peninsula counties.

Among those representing Lenawee County at Northern are Jim Lawson and Gregg McEnroe of Tecumseh.

Robert Bliss, director of admissions, pointed out that the growing acceptance of Northern Michigan University has resulted in greater state-wide recognition.

GOP Forms Ag Council

Michigan's Republican Party has created a State Agricultural Council as an arm of the GOP organization.

The Council's stated purpose is "to help Michigan farmers by promoting the general welfare of agriculture and by improving the general prosperity of rural Michigan within the framework of our American free choice economy."

Marda Gene Duncan

THROUGH MY WINDOW

1965 IN REVIEW—PART 2

Picking up the resume of last year's happenings . . .

June was busy, not with newcomers but with old friends; how the youngsters of our regulars did show off. Baby robins, grackles, sparrows, bluejays, cardinals — you name them and we saw them. There were also young rabbits, squirrels and woodchucks to watch.

Return visits were made by the indigo bunting on June 5 and 6, the great blue heron on June 11 and by June 17, the Baltimore oriole was seen almost daily. We ended the month on a high note by playing host to a pair of quail.

July was another busy summer month. A large flock of cedar waxwings appeared on July 2, a vespen sparrow on July 9 and by July 13, hummingbirds were working hard at the red bergamot. A female rose-breasted grosbeck made the 14th day exciting ,a young flicker did the same for July 20. Baby titmice and the whole kingfisher family on July 22 were also fun.

The month ended with a woodchuck stealing our plastic grill cover, Marda going for an airplane ride, ten robins congregating in the back yard, Papa Cardinal feeding two youngsters right outside our window plus sightings of pheasants and brown thrashers.

AUGUST started with a great burst of excitement as we spent the cold and rainy 1st watching a female towhee scratch for her wet dinner but much too soon all bird business came to an abrupt halt.

Bulldozers, a big shovel, trucks and all sorts of ditch digging equipment moved in to start working across the creek.

Heartsick, we watched the trees being uprooted and the desecration of the thicket which afforded so much food and protection for the birds and small animals.

Finally 'the diggers' moved on but their scars will be a long time in healing. By August 27 we were having a little business once again — downy woodpeckers, hummingbirds and squirrels, rather surprising was the huge flock of sparrows which tried to take over, and the 21 grackles.

Best excitement of all occurred on August 30 when poor tired Papa Cardinal brought his three very, very young kids around. My, what a sight to see him feeding those hungry beggars.

SEPTEMBER began with a surprise when Ida reported seeing a large flock of geese going south. The rest of the month had more usual goings on; hummingbirds, Papa C, and his three kids, towhees, hairy woodpeckers, goldfinches, flickers, kingfishers. a red winged blackbird and the yellow bellied sapsucker were all regulars. A flock of cedar waxwings flew in midway in the month and a big fat woodchuck appeared daily from September 21 on. On September 28 three thrushes sent us scurrying for the field glasses.

October is always the month to enjoy Michigan's spectacular display of fall colors. After a slow start the trees finally exploded into a veritable riot of brilliance.

Birdwise we had a great many woodpecker visits, both the hairy and downeys performed. The titmice returned from their summer vacation on October 12 and the chick-a-dees on the 20th.

Shades of warm weather were still present on the 22nd though, when we saw robins, crows and a kingfisher. Strange apparitions, ghosts, witches, Indians, etc., rang our doorbell on the final day.

NOVEMBER was perhaps the most exciting bird month of the year. It all started on when we had flocks of both juncos and cedar waxwings. Five cardinals, four woodpeckers, two brown creepers, five squirrels, three chick-a-dees and seven mourning doves all visited.

We picked a pansy on November 16, but catch this, earlier in the day we saw a covey of 16 quail and a week before we had seen three evening grosbeaks. Wow!

The snow flurries and cold weather with which we ended November and started December afforded excellent bird watching. Nothing out of the ordinary but large numbers of regulars. Seventeen mourning doves, five blue jays, etc.

Soon, of course, Christmas preparations went into high gear and, although there was still much going on outside, our attention was mainly directed inside.

So it is that all and all, '65 turned out to be a good year — wonder what '66 has in store for us all $19 Million Expended by Phone Co.

MUSKEGON — A record $19 million was expended by General Telephone for service expansion and improvement in 1965, T. A. Saunders, president of the company, announced.

The 1965 expenditure marked the 10th consecutive year in which General Telephone has maintained more than a million-dollar-per-month construction budget.

"Of our several areas of accomplishment in 1965, the most important progress was made toward our goal to provide more private line service and to reduce the number of customers on party lines to a maximum of four," Mr. Saunders said.

With the concurrence of the Michigan Public Service Commission, the company reduced rates for its customers four times, including three reductions of long distance rates.

Customer savings resulting from the four rate reductions will amount to more than $800,000 annually.

General Telephone increased the number of telephones it serves by nearly 6% to a total of 326,022 through November, 1965.

General Telephone serves 464 Michigan communities located in 56 of the state's 83 counties.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

WANTED — Adult, male or female, who enjoys working with young people. Opportunity to be advisor for Tecumseh Teen Club. A challenging job with no pay, except personal satisfaction you receive. Please phone 423-3839.

After nearly 15 years, John Hamilton is retiring from his position as Teen Club advisor.

In about two weeks, John will move his family to Lansing, following a promotion from his employer, Gulf Oil Co.

Long noted for his dedication to helping Tecumseh youth, John has done a tremendous job with the Teen Club.

This was borne out in recent years by the fact that two communities, St. John's and Reed City, sent delegations here to learn how the local organization operates so that they could pattern their clubs after Tecumseh's.

Probably the biggest reason the group in our town has flourished over the years is that John, although always on hand, has stood discreetly in the background, letting the young people actually plan their activities.

This is a winning combination and one which should be maintained by whomever answers our mythical classified.

Basically, an adult advisor is required to be on hand twice monthly when the club's 20-member legislature gathers to formulate future fun.

He or (she) also must help keep tab on chaperones for various parties staged at the Teen Club.

However, this part has always worked nicely, thanks to cooperation of four service clubs — Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and Jaycees.

Each takes over for one month at a time, providing the full quota of chaperones.

THE YOUNGSTERS have activities year 'round, but the numbers from week to week vary, mainly based on school functions.

Obviously, the job of adult advisor is an important one and maybe a husband and wife might wish to volunteer, splitting the responsibility.

In any event, someone should step forward in the next week or so. That telephone number in the ad is for real — it's John's and he'll be sitting close to his phone, hoping.

In the loss of Mr. Hamilton, who also is a city councilman and county supervisor, the city will be without its No. 1 blood donor.

Over the years, John has given at almost every visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile with three gallons to his credit so far and a leg on the fourth.

And before I forget, Coach Tom Fagan is going to need someone to help tote the yardage chain at home football games. That's one other John has been performing since way back when.

Looks like Tecumseh will need about four guys to take over John's responsibilities.

First Shipments of Pencils, Chalk Off to Ben Cat

First boxes of school supplies for Ben Cat from Tecumseh will be winging their way to Vietnam this week.

Response to the appeal from 1st Lt. Greg Mason via a letter to The Herald has kept a committee of volunteers hopping.

Headed by Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, the group is now packaging piles of pencils, rulers, erasers, scissors and notepaper donated by schools and churches.

Heavier items — readers and work books — will be shipped later, with an assist from the government.

Congressman Wes Vivian's office said that a meeting in Washington Friday will determine who will have responsibility for delivering non-organization gifts, such as the Tecumseh-to-Ben Cat project.

It was suggested that the smaller items be mailed directly to Lt. Mason now and this is what Mrs. Goldmann and her committee will do.

Post office regulations were explained by Jack Metcalf, who happens to be Lt. Mason's uncle. A package sent directly to a serviceman can weigh up to five pounds and measure up to 60" in total outside measurements.

Mailing charge for each box is $1.34.

Each package will have a label attached (see sample), being printed by The Herald at no charge. In addition, books sent will have labels affixed to inside covers.

The smaller boxes are going surface mail to San Francisco and from there be air lifted to Lt. Mason in Ben Cat.

MRS. GOLDMANN is keeping a complete inventory of all items given, which already includes 39 catagories.

Elementary readers have been donated by St. Elizabeth's School. Public grade schools' surplus readers are being collected at Tecumseh Acres in response to a bulletin issued by Supt. McDowell.

These will be shipped after instructions are received from Congressman Vivian.

Church Joins Association

BRITTON — Members of the Britton Congregational - Christian Church voted to unite with the National Association of Congregational Churches, whose headquarters are in Milwaukee, Wis., at the annual meeting of the church Sunday afternoon.

This association is composed of churches who prefer to remain as continuing Congregationalists, instead of joining the merger of some Congregational churches with the Evangelical and Reformed church, which is now known as the United Church of Christ.

The trustees were also given the authority to purchase a furnace and have it installed in the church as soon as it is convenient.

Year-end reports were given by all departments of the church, and the budget for the new year was presented and approved. The new parsonage, which was built three years ago, is completely paid for.

The nominating committee report was read and unanimously approved. New people elected to serve on various boards are; Sunday School Superintendent, Mrs. Eldon Reeck; trustees for three years, Gerald Benedict and Roger Gillespie; deacons, Kenneth Smith and Robert Bush, deaconesses, Mrs. Raymond Seagert and Mrs. Leslie Downing.

The benevolence committee is Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, Mrs. Donald Willis, Eldon Reeck and Raymond Kahle. Men appointed to be in charge of the Father-Son Banquet are Roger Gillespie, Leslie Downing and Joseph Hall.

Lenawee Nurses Will Take Part in Injections

The Lenawee County District Nurses Association will be cooperating with the Lenawee Medical Society in the Tetanus Immunization Program by administering injections at three local drug stores.

Shots will be given at Hodges, Lamb's and Wrights Jan. 27, 28 and 29.

They are free.

An informative talk on post-operative care of the heart-surgery patient will be given by a nurse from the University Medical Center for the next meeting of the Lenawee Nurses on Jan. 20.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the meeting room near cafeteria of the Bixby Hospital in Adrian.

GI Sends His Thanks for Card

Editor's note — In answer to a Christmas card sent to Vietnam, Doug and Jean Hall received this letter from Pfc. Philip Friend. Perhaps others have heard from GI's over there. Many greetings were sent from this area. Ken Garno, president of the Citizens For Good Government Club of Lenawee County, reported over 1,000 cards were sent to 34 men through his group.

Dear Doug and Jean,

This letter is by way of expressing my sincere appreciation for the Christmas card I received from you. I regret the fact I was unable to write earlier, but at that time I was on a mission. This in no way dims the gratitude I feel.

Due to you, and others like you, the Christmas for the GI here was made much more pleasant. It is very disheartening to see a group of American citizens demonstrating our stand here in Vietnam. Many brave men have lost their lives here and we all have taken chances. However, the chances we take and the hardships we endure are well worth while, as long as there are people such as yourselves who believe in us.

So, once again I would thank you for the card, but, mostly for which the spirit it was sent in. God bless you both and the others like you who have done so much for so little in return.

Sincerely yours,

Government OK's $39,000 Remedial Reading Program

Tecumseh school officials learned Tuesday that the Federal government has approved their remedial reading program and has authorized $39,000 in government aid.

Supt. James McDowell hopes the program will be underway sometime in February.

Four teachers must be hired, two mobile reading laboratories purchased, and reading laboratories set up in the junior and senior high schools.

Officials expect 150 pupils to benefit from the program, which is primarily for students with reading ability two or more years behind their grade level, and students from families with incomes of $3,000 or less.

Supt. McDowell says students from higher income families also may realize benefits from the service after the basic group is serviced.

Giant Crap Game

One of the biggest floating crap games in the country will be taking place in Tecumseh next month.

It will be part of the musical fable of Broadway, "Guys and Dolls," being staged by the Tecumseh Players.

Moving back into the Community Center Glass Room theatre, the Players' opening night is slated for Feb. 16.

There will be eight performances in the Center and then one at Dawson Aditorium on the Adrian College campus.

Reservations for tickets can be made by calling 423-4281. Last year's "The Music Man" was a sell-out at all nine showings.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"All wool and a yard wide" is an old saw that alludes to one who is pretty special, maybe gives a bit of himself to his fellowman.

This could possibly be a phrase used when speaking of a newcomer to Tecumseh, Betty Wollenhaupt.

Mrs. W. and her husband, employed by Peerless Gear Co., Clinton, came to Tecumseh in August, 1964. She soon discovered that the Tecumseh Public Library staff could use a bit of help.

For some time now, Tuesday afternoon has found Mrs. W. in the library processing books, just for the love of it.

Her regularity and promptness has endeared her to the library personnel. Over and above the call of duty, she even makes it known if she is unable to be there as usual.

Japanese Missionary Speaks to WSCS

George Gish, a short term missionary to Japan, provided an interesting and informative program for the Women's Society of Christian Service at its January meeting.

Presently a student of Japanese studies at the University of Michigan working toward his doctorate, Mr. Gish told the group some of the history and progress of Christianity in Japan where even now after three hundred years of contact with the religion there is only one per cent of the population professing Christianity.

He pointed out that some of the lack of acceptance is based on the fact that there really are not any technical needs which a missionary can supply.

Therefore, according to Mr. Gish, some manner has to be found to demonstrate the inner need for the faith and hope which Christ can provide.

Complimenting his talk, the young missionary presented a series of slides of the Japanese islands featuring the busy and modern city life around Nagoya where he was serving.

Accompanying Mr. Gish was his Japanese wife and three-year-old daughter, Mari. Mrs. Gish, Yoko, wore the traditional dress of the Japanese and demonstrated a number of arts in the wearing of a kimona, the use of a fan and parasol.

Following the program refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Tracey Lord, hostess for the evening. Devotions were led by Mrs. Vaynard Close with Mrs. Vira Bancroft and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron acting as greeters.

He Spent 9½ Years in Prison

"If there had been a welfare program the prodigal son would never have come home to the father," said John Noble Saturday evening as he spoke to more than 1,000 attending the Teen Life Crusade at Dawson auditorium.

Mr. Noble, Detroit, was held prisoner in Siberian camps for nine and one half years. His weight during eight of these year was less than 100 pounds.

After listening to the Bible Quiz contest between the Raisin Center Friends Church youth and the First United Brethren Church of Adrian, concerning the story of the prodigal son, Mr. Noble remarked that knowing the scriptures is not enough.

The First United Brethren church school students won the quiz.

Mr. Noble told the story of his imprisonment saying that it was the "foundation of horror such as one half of the world has already experienced."

He said that Soviet occupation is more deadly than an all out atomic war. It happened in Europe and it is happening here.

When Noble was not quite 16 he went to Europe with his family due to the ill health of his father. The two were arrested and with 7,000 other American citizens were held captive when World War II broke out and even after the end of the war in 1945.

The thing that seemed to disturb the prisoner returned to American soil was that "there are close to 5,000 American citizens still held captive."

He told of the starvation of 700 people in the Dresden prison of which he and his dad were two of 21 or 22 survivors.

A postcard was smuggled out of Siberia by Noble and used as evidence by the state department to get the Soviets to free him.

Mr. Noble's story is told in a book entitled, "I Was A Slave in Russia", available in the Tecumseh Book and Bible Store.

Tecumseh High School was fourth in the attendance contest followed by Britton. Morenci, Blissfield and Sand Creek placed first, second and third on the bulletin board.

A rally will be held at Dawson Auditorium Saturday, Feb. 12, when Phil Regan, professional baseball player, and Al Kuhnel will be the speakers.

All-Church Mission Is Set to Open

An all-church mission study entitled "The Christian Calling" has been announced by Mrs. Warren Pack, secretary of the Commission on Missions at the First Methodist Church.

Beginning this Sunday evening and continuing until the end of January an entertaining and educational program will be offered.

The sessions will begin promptly at 5:30 p.m. with a potluck supper each Sunday evening. Those attending are asked to provide sandwiches, milk, and table service for their families as well as a dish to pass.

Coffee and tea will be provided by the various circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service who will act as hostesses.

Following the supper a film will be shown this week and discussion groups will continue the study the two succeeding weeks with classes for pre-schoolers, primary, juniors, junior high and senior high fellowships, and adults.

Each evening's program including supper will last two hours and promises to be interesting and eventful for all those attending.

Michigan State University dairy economists say the greatest problem in dairy expansion is getting through the first five to eight years. Cash expenses increase faster than income because cow numbers cannot be built up fast enough to meet rising costs.

Indians Rout GI, 79 to 53

Chuck Thomas and Gordon Gibson paced the Tecumseh Indians to their fifth straight victory Friday night when Coach Vic Lawson's club routed Grosse Ile, 79-53.

The winless Red Devils were never in the game, trailing 35 to 23 at the half, and 56 to 38 at the end of three quarters.

Thomas enjoyed his first game in an Indian uniform, turning in 20 points, tops for both teams.

Gibson, who has improved rapidly in recent games, netted 16 points. Nine of Lawson's cagers tallied in the romp.

The victory ties Tecumseh with Airport and Blissfield for second place in the Huron League. Flat Rock leads and is still undefeated in loop play.

GI rests at the bottom with a 0-3 record.

Jayvee Five Wins 49-35

By DICK CARVER

Tecumseh High Junior Varsity cagers failed to score in the fourth period but outlasted Grosse Ile 49-35, Friday night.

Jim Upell sparked a 23-point third period for the JV Indians to insure hope against any GI comeback, despite the fourth period.

Jim and Steve Dalton, 5'11" forward, shared top team honors with 14 points. Grosse Ile's Leonard made it a three-way tie for game honors.

Coach Val Spangler praised Upell, Dalton and the team for fine offensive play, but pointed out that Buddy Work keyed the game with seven assists and played fine defensive ball.

Airport travels to Indian stomping ground Friday evening and the Jets should give Val's boys a good contest.

DEFLECTS LAYUP — Boysville's Mike Gaudreau deflects a scoring attempt by Ray Vershum of Britton in Friday night's contest. The Tories held nearly equal board control against the Knights as they fought a height disadvantage.

Boysville Clips Britton Tories for Fourth Victory, 72 to 60

Boysville's Varsity cagers added a fourth win to their record Friday with a win over the Britton Tories on the Boysville home court.

Britton opened scoring in the first period and held a lead as high as six ponts. The first quarter ended with a Britton lead of 15-13.

Boysville sparked its offense and outscored the Tories 26-12 in the second period to pull into the lead and maintained their lead throughout the game.

Boysville's Moe Jacobs led Knight and game scoring with 25 points and retained defensive honors with 16 rebounds.

Britton tied the Knights on second half scoring but could not overcome the 12 point margin.

Larry Ash and Ray Vershum shared high point honors for the Tories with 19 points each.

The Tories hosted Summerfield on their home court Tuesday evening and lost 62-60 against Bulldog height advantages.

It was Mom's Night and 34 mothers of JV and Varsity players and cheerleaders were honored during half-time cememonies.

Torie Ray Vershum led all scorers with 28 points and was backed up by teammate Jack Brown with 12.

The game was close all the way with a 29-28 Torie lead at half time and a third period score or 46-45 in favor of the visitors.

Coach Sam Hamilton attributed the loss to the great number of turnovers during the game.

Indians Need Win

A "must" game on the Tecumseh schedule comes up Friday night when Airport invades the local gym.

The Jets dropped a close one to Blissfield for its first loss last week, leaving Airport, Blissfield and Tecumseh tied for second place in the Huron League with 2-1 marks.

Another loss by Tecumseh would just about drop the Indians out of the championship race, unless Flat Rock is upset along the way.

Tecumseh plays Airport, Blissfield and Flat Rock this month, and wins in all three contests would put the Indians in a favorable position to repeat as league champs.

---o---

Turn those discards into cash! Try a Herald Classified Ad. Phone 423-2174.

Defensive ace and top Indian rebounder, Terry Alcock, will have his hands full this Friday night when he's scheduled to run up against the Airport Jets. The Jets prove to be a top challenger for the Indians as they attempt to repeat last year's league championship.

Auxiliary Has Raised $1,000 for Heart Cart

By MARIE YOUNG

Over $1,000 of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary pledge toward the Resuscitation Cart has already been realized.

The net profit from the Holiday Ball was $649.79 and the proceeds from the sale of fruit cakes will exceed $400.

Donations to the Herrick Memorial Heart Fund at the United Savings Bank will be more than appreciated.

Two more companies are going to demonstrate their equipment before a decision is made as to the exact items to be purchased.

However, the estimate of needed equipment for our Hospital is between $3,000 and $4,000 to complete this project.

HIPPOCRATES and his followers said that the heart could not tolerate injury or disease, a misconception that persisted for centuries.

Through the years man's studies, theories and discoveries have brought its research to bounds unbelievable. Surgery undreamed of centuries ago have certainly disregarded the old idea that the heart could not withstand a wound.

Knowledge, surgery and equipment have progressed to such an extent that almost everyone seems to have become aware of the heart's care and importance to the maintenance and sustenance of life.

Newspapers, magazines and television have helped to bring it to the fore. Old concepts of the heart and its function have in many conditions been completely revised as a result of modern research, the development of newer electronic equipment.

"THE HEART is an organ more delicately wrought than the finest watch, but stronger than a locomotive."

In an average lifespan it beats two and one-half billion times, circulates 45 million gallons of blood through 12,000 miles of vessels.

HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

PART OF ONE AUXILIARY PROJECT — This is how the court yard between the west wing of the hospital and the Herrick Nursing Home (background) looks since it was dressed up as part of the Auxiliary's $11,154 landscaping project. When warm weather comes, this area will be excellent for relaxing in the sun and short walks.

Cub Scout Charters Given

Charters were presented at the Cub Scout Pack meeting last Tuesday in the Fellowship Center of the First Presbyterian Church.

Duncan Oliphant gave the opening prayer.

The flags were presented by Richard Packard and Gaylord Long.

Francis Packard, Pack Committee Chairman of Organization and Extension, presented the charter to Mr. Oliphant, Institutional Representative, and registration cards to leaders.

Mr. Oliphant then presented the charter to Mrs. Dwight Hodges, clerk of the session of the Presbyterian Church.

Cubmaster George Brady took charge of the meeting. A Christmas skit was presented by committeemen and den mothers after which Santa Claus arrived with treats for everyone. Santa, in turn, was presented with a gift.

Each den decorated the tree with their handmade ornaments and presented parents with gifts which they had made.

Daniel Warobi, who was spending the holidays with the Francis Packard family, described his homeland, Kenya, East Africa, and answered questions. He is attending Central College, Pella, Iowa.

The following awards were presented:

Russell Brady — Bear badge and silver arrow under Wolf

Kevin Hopkins — silver arrow under Wolf

Gaylord Long — Bear badge and silver arrow under Wolf

Richard Packard — silver arrow under lion and graduation certificate to Boy Scouts.

All of the boys received their registration cards.

Den Mothers, Mrs. Lila Murphy, Mrs. Ruth Brady and Mrs. Belva Hopkins were presented with Den Mother pins and each was pinned by her son.

Further meetings announced were: Roundtable at Adrian, Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m.; Pack Committee in the Presbyterian Church, Jan. 11 at 7:30 p.m.; Pack meeting, Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m.; Council Recognition dinner, Jan. 29 in Dundee High School.

3 Scouts Honored

Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins presented these highest awards of Catholic Scouting to David Laidlaw, Thomas Rohrer and William Whiting, in recognition of outstanding service to their church and scouting.

Sunday afternoon twenty-one scouts and their fathers attended the Detroit Pistons and Los Angeles basketball game at Cobo Hall. Dr. Robert Laidlaw, Scoutmaster announced the swimming dates at the Adrian Junior High pool for Troop Four at Jan. 26, Feb. 2 and Feb. 23.

THE LANSING REPORT
FROM senator
GIL BURSLEY

The Legislature adjourns its 1965 session this week.

To recap we had a six month session in the spring, a recess and a six week session in the fall, another recess and a six-hour session in December.

The recesses were devoted to extensive committee work.

Out of 1800 bills introduced in 1965 over 400 were enacted into law and about 25 were vetoed. The state spent a record sum, but stayed in the black and imposed no new taxes. There is a fiscal surplus which should carry us into 1967.

On Jan. 12, the Legislature reconvened for its 1966 session.

THERE ARE some unique features to this coming session. Because of the new Constitution, bills introduced in the 1965 session and not passed or killed will be carried over into the 1966 session in the same status which they had at the close of 1965.

Thus a bill still in a Senate committee will be there on the opening day of the 1966 session and will not have to be reintroduced. A bill which has passed one house and is in the other will carry on as if there had been no interruption.

(An example is the Osteopathic College Authority bill which passed the Senate and is in a House committee. Another example is Mackinac Bridge Refinancing legislation which passed the House and is in a Senate committee).

The 1966 Legislature will start off with 756 House bills and 477 Senate bills alive, a total of 1,235. There have already been over 500 requests for new bills.

It is apparent that the Legislature will have a heavy workload, but we should be able to start with a rush since so many bills are already printed and in hand.

I WOULD hope that we can pass a compulsory automobile inspection law and an "implied consent" law aimed at drinking drivers. I would hope that Mackinac Bridge tolls can be reduced through refinancing of bridge bonds.

There was obvious dissatisfaction with deer herd management as a result of a poor hunting season and this subject will doubtless be before the legislature.

I would think that some improvement in legislation affecting veterans might be in the cards. I hope so.

This is, of course, the time for me to query citizens in Lenawee and Washtenaw Counties as to legislation they would like to see introduced and passed.

Or if bills are already "in the hopper" and you have not expressed your views, please write me at the State Capitol in Lansing. I would be happy to visit with anyone about suggested legislation.

To the schools I would say, please bring your government and civic classes to Lansing for a day to visit the Senate, the House and the Capitol. If you give me advance warning, I may be able to get the class in to shake hands with Governor Romney.

Members Urged To Be in Festival

David Bush, president of the Music Makers Club, encouraged members to participate in a festival in March as he conducted the meeting of the group Sunday at the Episcopal Church.

The festival in Lansing is sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

Linda Oberlin introduced numbers of the program including a piano solo by Michael House, a brass quartet number played by Jim, David, Mike and Dan Bush and several organ selections by Dexter Bailey.

Dexter also described the von Beckerath organ, demonstrating and explaining its operation.

Linda Sinkey, a student at Eastern Michigan University, sang two selections in Italian.

George Berryman of Britton, guest speaker, using a blackboard told of the comprehension of people concerning music from early rock and roll to classical.

He stated that ability to comprehend depends on the amount of study given the subject.

Pat and Cathy Cook, Craig Smith and Stephen Maples served refreshments to nearly 40 attending.

The Feb. 6 meeting will be held at the Episcopal Church at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kapnick returned Jan. 4, from a week's stay in California, flying via the Michigan State University alumni jet.

They were among 184 aboard the chartered plane, reaching their destination in four hours.

Mrs. Kapnick reports that the three hour parade in Pasadena was simply beyond description, it was so beautiful.

The couple also spent some time in Disneyland, Las Vegas and Hollywood.

They saw Jimmy Durante, Betty Grable, the Kim Sisters and several other stars in person. They toured the Will Rogers Ranch and Universal Studios.

"If you think things are busy here, you should see Las Vegas," said Mrs. Kapnick. "Shops, groceries, everything open 24 hours a day."

Scientists Seek Meaning of Life

"Life," one of the key terms through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God, is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches. Other key synonyms for God to be taken up in succeeding weeks are: Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul and Mind.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

OFF TO A GOOD START

To have something new or different or at least unusual visit the weeding station is always reason for great rejoicing.

Lately we have been hosting a tiny bit of a thing, a red-breasted nuthatch. Although not qualifying as a new bird, the red-breasted is such an infrequent caller that any sighting makes for a banner bird-watching day.

It all started way back during the Thanksgiving holiday with a telephone call from Clara. She had marvelous news to report, a little red-breasted nuthatch was investigating the shrubbery in her yard.

My answer to her query about had we seen any was no, but certainly, knowing who was in the area, would cause us to keep extra close track of what was happening outside our window.

A short time later another phone call brought the even more exciting news that two red-breasted nuthatches were around. Wow! We had seen nothing.

I half-jokingly told Clara that since we only lived two blocks north of her and since we would love to see one of her little birds and since we had some especially delicious suet on the feeder and since after all, she did have two of them — well, couldn't she perhaps talk nicely, explain how close we were and persuade at least on of her tiny friends to drop in for a snack now and then.

Bless her heart, she did just that and soon we too were having the fun of watching a red-breasted nuthatch. In fact, once in a while, she became overly generous and sent them both up to dine. What a thrill.

SERIOUSLY, it is exciting to host one or two of these characters because first of all, it doesn't happen often and in the second place, they are as cute as cute can be.

As mentioned before, this was not the very first time for a nuthatch visit but it has been several years since the last one. (If memory serves correctly, on that occasion they also stopped at Clara's).

When they are here they keep the feeder busy, busy, busy, however, not by and stretch of the imagination do I think we will ever be able to call the red-breasted nuthatches regulars.

Appearance wise, they are interesting little things but to call them red-breasted is paying a compliment — it is even stretching the truth a bit.

Their front is a dark buff, a dirty tan, a weak orange, a faded rust, but, if we think of red in connection with a cardinal or even a robin, then red, a red-breasted nuthatch is not.

Head, back, wings and tail are a dark blue-gray-black. A rather dirty white stripe circles the head just above the eyes and a faint trace of reddish brown tinges the end of wings and tail.

In silhouette this little character is all nuthatch — long slender needle-like bill, round bullet-shaped head, rather chunky body and short square blunt tail.

However, it is the size, or rather the lack of it, which makes our red-breasted nuthatch so charming. He truly is a little character, only 4½ to 4¾ inches long and remember, part of this is that long bill.

Just how big is a 4¾ inch bird? Well, that is exactly the size at which the cheery little house wren is listed in the "Audubon Bird Guide."

Not very big. The day we saw both the red-breasted nuthatch and his bigger cousin, the white-breasted, sharing the feeder, really pointed up the difference in size — usually we think of the white-breasted as being a little bird but by comparison he is a giant.

THE TWO have some things in common. Both dearly love suet, sunflower seeds and crawling up-side down on tree trunks. The larger birds, though, make their homes in this area where as the red-breasteds are more restricted, preferring the ever-green-forest of the north.

Also, unlike the white-breasted is the fact that nowhere are they too plentiful and never are they very friendly to either other birds or to people.

So it is that by having the excitement of the visiting red-breasted nuthatch to share with you, I think that 1966 has indeed jumped off to a good start.

CULL DAIRY COWS that won't pay their way over a 305-day lactation. If you don't have DHIA records of previous lactations as a guide, you can estimate how much a cow will produce. Average production on the 59th and 60th day of lactation and mulitply by 230. If the average is 45 pounds, for example, you can expect her to produce 10,350 pounds of milk in 305 days. Checked against records of 455 cows in Idaho tests, estimated production was only 12 pounds under actual.

YOU CAN POUR CONCRETE IN COLD WEATHER, but use caution. Buy a fast-setting "high-early-strength" cement Type III to lessen risk of freezings before concrete has set. Mixture should be 50° to 70° F. when poured. To do this you may have to heat the water first. Avoid using sand and gravel that is frozen or contains ice. Cover the fresh concrete with a tarpaulin and at least 6 inches of straw until it has cured.

STEADY TO STRONG slaughter cattle markets will hold through January but some weakness is likely in February. Cattle prices aren't likely to continue to receive the support they have been from hog markets. Furthermore, there has been some holdback of cattle which will likely boost shipments later this winter. Sell cattle when ready except on price breaks. Look for winter prices to average near late fall levels.

Redskins Take Eagles 82-78

By ED VOGEL

CLINTON — Holding off a late surge, the Clinton Redskin varsity cagers triumphed for the fifth consecutive time as they narrowly downed the Brooklyn Eagles, 82-78.

Though the Redskins led during the entire game, the Eagle rally cut a nine point Clinton margin to three at 77-74 with 1:18 remaining, throwing a fright into the Redskin rooters.

But clutch baskets by Butch Hoelzer and Jerry Bellmore, and free throws by Gene Brown and Hugh Miller brought the victory to Clinton.

Hugh Miller, who had scored only 29 points in the Redskins first six games, hit for a career high of 20 to help make up for the loss of high-scoring senior forward Bill Jedele, out with injuries.

Butch Hoelzer paced the squad in the point department as usual with 22 points, but trailed Bob Borchardt of Brooklyn, who scored 24 tallies on long jump shots, for game honors.

Butch also picked up 17 rebounds and center Jerry Bellmore grabbed 13 to guide the team on the boards. Another Miller figured prominent in the action. Dave Miller of the Eagles netted 10 points in the fourth quarter alone, while hitting for a game total of 22.

This victory, which many fans called the Redskin's most exciting game, left Clinton with a 5-2 overall record, and second place in the Lakeland C Conference standings with a 4-1 mark. Brooklyn lost their perfect league record, and fell behind the Redskins with a 3-1 standing.

Brookyln JV Downs Clinton

CLINTON — The undefeated Brooklyn Junior Varsity proved to be superior to the Redskin J.V.'s as they crushed Clinton 54-34.

The Eagles were never pressed as they continued to mount to their advantage by outscoring the Redskins in every quarter.

Even in the loss Melvin Pardee stood out with eight points and 11 rebounds as he paced the Clinton squad in both departments. But his performance could not stop the taller Brooklyn cagers who jumped off to an early lead and were never headed.

During a third quarter spurt, the Redskins drew close at 29-25, but the Eagles rallied for seven straight points to secure the game.

Netting only 34 points, the Redskins marked a season low in scoring. Forty-six against Saline had been the previous low. The defeat left the Clinton JV's with a 4-3 season record.

$20,000 Renovation Project Transforms Clinton Theatre

CLINTON — A $20,000 renovation job at the Clinton Theatre will be finished by the end of the week, just in time for the movie's re-opening.

Mayor John Truesdale recently purchased the 300-seat theatre from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzatrick.

Workmen have been busy since then, completely refurbishing it.

New aluminum doors and a newly-paneled lobby will greet patrons, with the paneling continuing down the walls of the theatre proper.

THE ENTIRE structure has been rewired by Ralph Sager of Tecumseh, with attractive new fixtures dotting the walls.

Rich, deep carpeting from Des Ermia of Tecumseh covers the lobby floors and aisles, as well as the stairs to brand new rest rooms downstairs.

The projection booth now includes a new office. Both are heated electrically.

Debbie Reynolds falls in love with romantic gambler Gregory Peck in the massive Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer-Cinerama production, "How the West Was Won." The sweeping story of the great American adventure, filmed in Metrocolor on panoramic locations covering nine states, features a spectacular cast of 24 stars.

A new gas furnace by Auten Heating of Britton will provide warmth for the rest of the building.

General contractor Don Meyers was directed to rearrange the seating pattern, which now has aisles on either side and all seats in one solid secton in the middle.

Formerly, an aisle ran through the middle.

The theatre opens this weekend with the 153-minute "How the West Was Won," holding showings Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The doors will open at 7 p.m. wtih one screening to start at 7:15.

Mr. Truesdale plans to be closed each week on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

A stage has been constructed and eventually, Mr. Truesdale plans to add dressing rooms so that at some future date live shows may be held in Clinton.

FRED SHUMAKER of rural Clinton, a veteran projectionist who is attending Adrian College days, will handle screenings.

Two of Mr. Truesdale's daughters, Barbara, 18, and Susan, 17, will work in the box office, along with Linda Smith, who formerly was employed at the theatre by the Fitzpatricks.

Richard Sharpe Named Village Superintendent

CLINTON — Richard Sharpe was named by the Village Council to replace Charles Wilson as village superintendent, at the meeting last week.

Mr. Sharpe has resided in Clinton since 1950. He studied at the Electronics Institute for three years and was an Industrial Engineer in The Sparton Company in Jackson for the past two years.

Mr. Wilson was superintendent of the village for 15 years. He will work with Mr. Sharpe for several weeks until he becomes familiar with the work, then Mr. Wilson plans to retire.

Tracy Joins U. S. Army

CLINTON — Tracy Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Matthews, left last Tuesday for service with the Army. He is a 1965 graduate of Clinton High School.

His parents entertained at a surprise birthday party for Tracy on Dec. 30, with 16 friends from the area attending.

Mrs. Halladay Notes Changes

CLINTON—Significant changes which have taken place in churches and Sunday schools in her lifetime, were described by Mrs. Ralph Halladay for a meeting of the Methodist Friendly Class, Thursday night.

Mrs. Halladay, who has given many years of service to the church as a musician, recalled the days when she played a hand-pumped organ. Those were the days when church suppers cost only 25 cents and even the special chicken pie suppers were only 50 cents.

The meals were prepared in church kitchens which had few conveniences.

"The most noticeable change of all," she said, "is the disrespect for the Sabbath, which is taking place now."

Mrs. Hazel Thompson presented the devotions for the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Oren Wood.

Mrs. Amelia Kutzley was elected president of the class.

Elected with her are:

Vice-president — Mrs. Oren Wood

Secretary — Mrs. Frank Furgason

Treasurer — Mrs. Merle Greenfield

Mrs. Kutzley will be the hostess for the February meeting.

Concludes Annual St. Johns Visit

CLINTON — The Right Rev. Archie Crowley made his annual visit to the St. John's Episcopal Church Sunday.

A nearly morning service was held at 8 and the 11 a.m. service was dispensed with.

Bishop Crowley celebrated Holy Communion at 4 p.m. and performed the rite of confirmation for Warren Merritt, Gary Pfaffinger, Donald Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gage, Mrs. Priscilla Miller, Barbara Stamats, Mr. ad Mrs. Harold Schroeder.

Dennis Drazic was received from another Catholic communion.

Donald Quick transferred from another church.

Others confirmed were Milton Baisch, Kenneth Harvey and Lorie Robison of the Holy Cross Mission at Saline.

A reception for Bishop Crowley and the members was held following the service. He was consecrated Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan in 1954. In 1960 he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Kenyon College. He has the administration of the parishes and missions in the Central District of the Diocese.

The sanctuary was enhanced for the occasion by beautiful new carpeting in a shade of deep red, which was installed only last week as a gift from members.

New Clinton High Teacher Starts Career

CLINTON — Robert Gray began teaching art and English in the secondary grades in Clinton last week.

Mr. Gray, a 1940 graduate of the Alpena High School, received his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan. He has studied at the Art Institute in Pittsburgh, Art Students League in New York and the College of Architect and Design in the University of Michigan.

He served four and one-half years in military service in the counter-intelligence corps.

Mr. Gray's sculptures in steel and bronze have been shown in the "H" Gallery and the Artists Co-op of Ann Arbor, and in the Euclid Gallery in Berkeley, Calif.

Mr. Gray is married and has a 10-month-old son, Eric. Mrs. Gray is a librarian at the University of Michigan. She is active in the Kabuki Players, a group presenting classical Japanese music.

Clinton Building Bid Accepted

CLINTON — Krieghoff-Lenawee Co., Adrian was the successful bidder for the Education building of the Clinton Methodist Church. It was announced at a special quarterly conference meeting held last Tuesday in the church.

The official board voted unanimously to proceed with the construction which will cost approximately $94,000, and should be completed in about six months.

Auto Skids into Mishap

CLINTON — Doris M. Blom, 38, of 107 Clinton-Macon Rd., skidded on snow covered Tyrell St., just after noon Friday and her car struck a parked car owned by Carol Hess of Clinton.

Discuss Proposed Lenawee School Reorganization

CLINTON — The Board of Education discussed at length the matter of the proposed reorganization of Lenawee County School districts at two recent meetings and decided to go on record as opposing it.

The matter was discussed at a social gathering during the holidays when members and their husbands and wives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wegner at their home.

At a special meeting of the board last Monday, a letter was drafted stating the board's position on the reorganization, to be sent to Milton Porter, county superintendent of schools.

The letter said in part, "It is felt by the board that for many reasons, among which is industrial and population growth and the educational program under development, that reorganization as proposed is not to the best interest of the Clinton district at this time."

Bids were opened for the purchase of school buses.

Classrooms, Inc., Superior Bus Company, was the low bidder for the body. George's Motor Sales was the low bidder for the bus chassis.

Bids were received on both the pusher-type and the conventional standard 66-passenger bus. In the interest of economy, the standard bus was selected. Two buses, complete, will each cost approximately $7,000.

Chairman — Roland Russell of Adrian.

Vice Chairman — Leland D. Bush of Tecumseh.

Regular Member — Floyd Barrett of Britton.

1st Alternate — Hal Benner of Clayton.

2nd Alternate — Gene Frost of Palmyra.

Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASCS Community Committee elections held throughout the county.

This year for the first time, County Committeemen were elected to stagger terms of office.

Chairman Russell points out that the ASC County and Community farmer-committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation Program, the feed grain program, the voluntary wheat program, acreage allotments and marketing quotas, the National Wool Program, the Sugar Program, commodity loans, and storage facility loans.

Congress has also recently enacted the new Cropland Adjustment Program administered by the farmer-committees.

1,200 Expected

An estimated 1,200 persons from 16 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in southeastern Michigan will meet in convention at the Tecumseh High School for their semi-annual circuit convention, Jan. 21-23.

Mr. Richard Krebs, Jr., presiding minister of the Tecumseh congregation, in explaining the purpose of the gathering, pointed out that Jehovah's Witnesses are a society of ministers and as such feel the necessity of improving their ministry.

Supervising the assembly program and the necessary details for the comfort and convenience of the delegates is Mr. T. L. Eleas of Brooklyn, New York. The principal speaker will be Mr. H. A. Fetzik of New York.

MR. AND MRS. OTIS DRAKE

Drakes Observe 64th

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Drake, parents of Mrs. Duncan Oliphant, 412 N. Maiden Lane, observed their 64th wedding anniversary Jan. 12 at their farm home west of Cambridge Junction.

The couple were married Jan. 12, 1901, in Cement City and have lived all of their lives on the 200 acre farm where he also practiced carpentry and operated a threshing rig.

During a five year period soon after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Drake lived in a new home they built on the farm before moving to the farm house after his parents moved to Brooklyn.

The couple are active, spending their summers in Gaylord where they fish often. Mrs. Drake still tends his sheep at the farm.

Their success formula is hard work and trying to live up to the Golden Rule.

The Drakes have one granddaughter, Mrs. Marvin Goad, nee Doris Oliphant of Lansing.

Doris Reports from Turkey

Editor's note — Doris Heckert is a former Tecumseh teacher now instructing servicemen's children in Turkey. She taught two years at Patterson School before doing a two-year stint in Germany, prior to her transfer to Turkey last fall.

By DORIS HECKERT

ADAND, Turkey — Where does the time go?

I found it difficult getting in the spirit of Christmas with temperatures ranging from 60 to 72 degrees in the daytime, and about 45 at night.

Some days, when not raining, it is still warm enough to go without a coat or sweater in the heat of the day.

It is beginning to rain almost every day now, and does it ever get muddy — especially around the quonsets. The soil is the most sticky clay I've ever seen.

Before I arrived in Turkey, I read that Adand was situated on a plain, surrounded by spectacular mountains.

It was about six weeks before I saw the mountains — because of haze. But they are certainly spectacular and beautiful with snow covering their peaks.

I am really enjoying having my car, but still fear the traffic — every drive is a challenge.

Besides all the pedestrians, horse-drawn vehicles, and pushcarts, there is the usual herd of sheep, goats or cattle.

But the other day I saw something new — a flock of turkeys being herded down the highway outside of town. (The base is about seven miles outside Adand.)

MY APARTMENT mate was recently sent to Ethiopia in Africa, so now I have this large apartment and the expense of it alone. I am fortunate to have a young Turkish girl staying nights with me. From her I am learning some Turkish and Turkish customs.

I have been trying to take many rides with the car. Some of the places I have been are Antioch (called Antakaya), Tarsus and Beirut, Lebanon.

Antakaya is just as one might imagine it to be. The first Christian Church is a cave in the side of a mountain. St. Peter is said to have preached there.

I just learned the other day that Jonah was supposedly spewn out of the mouth of the whale at a spot near Iskenderun, a town about 60 miles from here on the way to Antakaya.

There are many old Roman ruins near here. Old coins, oil lamps, etc.. supposedly authentic, are for sale in shops, or by peddlers.

AS TO MY teaching situation, the school consists of main building and an annex area, of quonset huts, one of which is mine. Supplies are limited, but one can make the best of it, with this wonderful opportunity to travel.

There are many orange and banana trees around Adand, and the oranges are beginning to ripen — a very pretty sight.

I am planning a trip to the Holy Land and Cairo, Egypt, during vacation.

Committee Will Meet

The Lenawee County Committe on Economic Opportunity will meet at p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 12, at the Michigan Employment Building, 410 E. Maumee St., Adrian.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Sorry to report, girls, but Tecumseh's most eligible bachelor is taking off on a four-month European tour.

Handsome Hal Weakly, who'll be celebrating his 28th birthday March 28, is off on a junket he has dreamed about and saved for over many years.

Taking a leave of absence from his post as an expediter with foreign operations at Tecumseh Products Co., Hal is booked on a Pan Am flight from Metro Airport Sunday.

He'll touch down in London to start a sight-seeing session that will whisk him through Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Western Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and France.

If this sounds like a once-in-a-lifetime jaunt, you're right.

Hal says he long has been interested in seeing the Continent and his three years of dealing in export transactions for the Products has served to heighten that desire.

He has gotten to know quite a few fellows with Products' licensees, like Max LeFranc in Paris, Lai Berg in Oslo, Ollie Sjowall of Stockholm and Elio Bormida in Torino.

Hal will be contacting them socially as he arrives in their cities and you can imagine the extra special treatment he'll receive when it comes to touring their native countryside.

NOT MANY guys would just up and take off like this, but if a fellow is ever going to realize such a dream he'd better do it when he's able.

After those wedding bells jingle, adventures like this are all but out of the question, which prompted a query as Hal told of his plans:

"Are you going to bring back a bride?"

"That's the same thing my mother asked," Hal grinned, but he quit before he really answered.

In case you didn't know, Hal has always been fleet of foot, having been a trackster (as well as football and basketball standout) at Tecumseh High and this may have helped as the femme fatales started to close in.

He ran the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes at Western Michigan University, where he was president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Hal reports his emotions are confused with the coming trip, "I'm itching to go, but I hate to leave."

His moonlight duties as manager and master of ceremonies of The Stage in Adrian, on Friday and Saturday nights, will now be shared by the owners, Dr. Robert Murray and Frank Dalton, until Hal's return.

I doubly applaud young Mr. Weakly for his plans, mainly because of a missed experience I suffered at his age — due to my own stupidity.

Jaycee Follies Brings 'Unique' Talent to Stage at Strand Theatre

"Something for everyone — a comedy tonight!" promise the ladies and gentlemen of the chorus in a rousing overture for the Jaycee Follies.

That's a pretty good description of the two-hour variety show which opened Wednesday and plays again Thursday night at the Strand Theatre.

More than 50 of Tecumseh's brighter (or, at least, bolder) talents appear in this wacky musical revue.

Tickets are $1.50 each and will be on sale at the box office from 7 p.m.

The curtain rises on a "Muscle Beach" scene, circa 1900, as John Day (who manages Woolworth's during his off-stage hours) takes the original "Beach Boys," Walt Wonderly, Charlie Robinson, Bob Renka and Gary Jackson, through a strenuous song-and-dance routine.

Featured in the cast are soloists Deb Earling, Jamie Danforth, Ruth Danforth, Debbie Carpenter, John Howell, Pat Mull, Betty Flanders and Stan House.

An unidentified coloratura offers an unforgettable version of the old standard, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Dianna Westgate and Dr. Bob Murray star in a comedy sketch, and four mysterious "Moon Men," including Don Mueller and Doug Monagin, perform an intricate specialty number.

A touch of culture, too, is provided in "Ballet Invades the Drama," with a unique corps de ballet which consists of Dianna Westgate, Ginny Snyder, Ron Albert, Jack Lundi and John Howell.

Tecumseh High School's contribution to the production is a precision chorus line featuring Deb Earling, Charmaine Earling, Bev Fitzpatrick, Onalee Cote, Linda Bush, Kay Swaney, Sandy McKenzie and Garna Gove.

THE STILL-YOUNGER set is represented by Peter and Paul Murray, Peter Grua, Gary Wonderly, Gaylord Young, Mike Corley, Shawn Dalton and Mike Creswell, who perform with their fathers (in some cases, "adopted" for the duration of the Follies) to "Me and My Shadow."

Show Girls Pat Cook, Norma Wonderly, Nancy Rundell, Claire Helms, Jeanne Sheldon and Karen Morgan back up Betty Flanders in a spirited rendition of "Let Me Entertain You," but Ginny Snyder and the "Girls You Used to Know," Alda Pickard, Gertrude Golat, Lillian Bilby, Faith Cote, Emma Howard and Frances Spreeman, steal a scene with their nostalgic delivery of an old chorus girl's lament.

Music is provided by Dexter Bailey at the piano, Gary Abner on drums, and John Miller, bass.

OTHERS IN the cast include Brenda Golat, Jan Osworth, Doug Osworth, Walt Elwartowski, Dick Westgate, Dean Sheldon, Jim Rundell, Bruce Corley, Frank Dalton, Dyke Helms, Mildred Albert and Ann Harvey.

The Jaycee Follies is sponsored by Tecumseh Jaycees for the benefit of the THS Football Light Fund. The entire production is staged and directed by Max Sheaf, of Jerome H. Cargill Producing Co., New York.

P.S. They're already talking about doing it again next year!

SOME BEACH TIGERS — You won't see many like these (thank goodness) roaming the edge of the waters on summer days. But on stage in the Jaycee Follies, the fivesome of Charles Robinson, Bob Renka, John Day, Walt Wonderly and Gary Jackson is bringing down the house.

Earnings Hit Record High

A 60% stock dividend was approved by shareholders of the United Savings Bank at their annual meeting Tuesday.

Par value of the stock was changed from $20 to $10 in the split before the dividend, which added on means 3.2 shares for each one previously held.

The bank had its biggest year in history, President Pat Meadows pointed out, with gross business soaring to $1,120,543 and total earnings hitting a record $261,581.

This meant an 11% increase over 1964, with a similar jump for 1966 predicted by Mr. Meadows.

THE MEETING'S agenda also included:

► Retirement from the board of Ray W. Herrick and Lester Rogers, with Kenneth G. Herrick elected to the board.

► Announcement of a possible merger with the Deerfield Bank, which has assets of $5 million.

► Report that the new Herrick Park branch, to be located west of the A&P store, will be open in the fall.

Capital stock will now total 100,000 shares with a total par of $1,000,000. Before the split and dividend, market value of the bank stock was running at $120. It will be close to $40 now.

Mr. Meadows lauded Ray Herrick and Mr. Rogers for their contributions as members of the board. A bylaw change, approved Tuesday, sets the retirement ago of board members at 70.

The oldest boardman, Mr. Rogers has had 26 years service to his credit, plus an earlier five as a consultant to the board during reorganization of the bank following the Depression.

MR. MEADOWS told shareholders that interest paid on savings in '65 hit $390,723, which was a 40% increase over the previous year.

He noted that 166 home mortgages, totaling $1,600,000 were booked during 1965.

Twins' Mothers Enjoy Dressing Children Alike

Members of the Mothers of Twins Club agreed at their meeting Jan. 10, that they liked to dress their twins alike when they were small but allowed them to do as they pleased when older.

Mrs. Richard Upell was the hostess when Linda Gilbert spoke and presented pictures of her trip to Sweden and Denmark.

Linda's resume of her trip included a good coverage of many phases of interest including the first time that she had seen her grandfather in Denmark.

A variety of baked and canned goods, candles and cards brought a profit of $9 which the group may use to purchase a Santa Claus suit.

Mrs. Frank Sandhoff and Mrs. Dee Smith of Saline were guests.

An apple dessert with ice cream, mints, coffee and tea were served by Mrs. Upell, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Koons and Mrs. James Hite.

Mrs. Charles McLaughlin will be hostess for the Feb. 14 meeting, when Dr. Robert Murray will speak on "Your Children's Teeth."

Will Perform Concert Band

Wittenberg University's 75-piece concert band will present a concert Jan. 27, 8 p.m. at the Onsted Community School. The concert is sponsored by the instrumental music department of the school.

Police Jail Resident, 26, on Vagrancy

A couple of wild tales led to the arrest Tuesday of Donald Erhart, 803 W. Chicago Blvd., by the Tecumseh Police.

Erhart was charged with vagrancy and committeed to the county jail at Adrian.

Local police also suspect him to be involved in several peeping tom incidents in the N. Union St. area, although Erhart has denied it.

The 26-year-old youth also denied making obscene phone calls. His only admission to police here is that he has, at night, been in the area victimized by peeping toms.

Board Recognizes Drivers

Recognition to the bus driver committee and secretaries was granted by the Tecumseh School Board for the purpose of negotiations.

Teachers had been given similar recognition previously.

In other action, the board approved the purchase of two new buses for the 1966-67 term. They will replace two older buses.

A resume of the meeting's discussion included a remedial reading program and the government's $39,000 aid; future use of West Branch elementary school.

Portable classrooms or permanent addition at Tecumseh Acres School; approval of a pre-payment on the school's bond indebtedness.

At an executive session, the board reviewed the administrative and instruction staffs and possibly of additional millage this year. No action was taken.

Zoning Change Turned Down

An appeal to change the zoning of the southwest corner of W. Chicago Blvd. and S. Pearl St. to business was unanimously rejected by Council Monday night.

Owned by Dr. Walter Elwartowski, was the property sought by Adrian realtor John Abraham, who planned to build a restaurant there.

Several residents in the area voiced their objections. Communications from the Planning Commission and the city planner also disapproved changing zoning.

Mr. Abraham told officials that he had no arguments for or against the proposal, that he was interested in the property solely for another party.

He said there are alternative sites on the outsirts of town for the restaurant, rumored to be a "Big Boy."

John Hamilton Resigns Council

An 11-year stint on Council ended Monday night when John Hamilton resigned as a city official.

He's moving to Lansing in the near future, forcing him to resign as councilman.

Hamilton, who was active in other community affairs and organizations, had served nearly twice as long as any other present councilman.

Non-Paying Guest Ends Up in Jail

George R. Taylor, 24, of 315 S. Pearl St., discovered Tuesday that it does not pay to skip out on motels.

Taylor was arrested at his girl friend's house and taken before Justice Ernest Oliver, who charged the youth with failure to pay lodging bills at the Harvey House and Jack Pine motels.

He was fined $25 and sentenced to 10 days in th county jail. An additional 20 days are to be added if the fine is not paid.

Mrs. Hayden Holds Hard Times Party

Mrs. Perry Hayden was the hostess for a Hard Times party held by the Friendly Class of the Friends Church recently.

As the 14 lady members ranging in age from 60 to 90 arrived the hilarity mounted.

One 90-year-old entered into the spirit of the party coming dressed as a "drop out," bobby socks, rolled up levis, pony tail, the works.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows conducted a brief business session and devotions. Games were played.

Delicious bean soup, hot corn sticks and jello were served from a newspaper covered table centered with dried golden rod in a pop bottle by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Emma Day.

One guest said that the party proved that "What was done in the good old days" can still be fun.

THS Students Pitch In on Ben Cat Project

Tecumseh High School's Student Council is joining the Aid to Ben Cat Schools project.

With Cathy Hall of the Future Teachers Club and Steve Hollar of the Honors Society as prime movers, the Council plans to discuss early next week what can be done by THS students.

Assistant Principal Don Brazee explained that coordinating efforts through the Student Council would be the most profitable.

Donations of books and supplies by area residents continue to be made at the fire hall, reports Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann, chairman of the project.

Nearly $90 has been contributed to help cover mailing and shipping charges.

To date 10 packages, each containing a variety of pencils, erasers, chalk and crayons, have been mailed at a cost of $13.40.

These contributions went directly to Lt. Greg Mason, the Tecumseh man who is serving with a 1st Infantry Division artillery battalion which is assisting the 1,000 pupils in Ben Cat's two schools.

Heavier items, elementary English text books and paper, will be sent in larger boxes to San Francisco, where the government takes over on transportation to Vietnam.

Shipping charges to the west coast on these will be higher, but if cash continues to roll in, these should be met as cartons are prepared.

How to Get Rich in Newspapering. The publisher of a small newspaper retired with a fortune. Richard N. There have been a lot of raves about the Jaycee Follies and if you haven't got your ticket yet, hustle to the Strand Thursday evening for the final performance that night. CLINTON — Reading Problems will be the subject for discussion by Donald Quick, the Elementary School principal, at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association, Jan. 24 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Quick will discuss the "Reading Improvement Programs and Current Approaches to Teaching Reading."

The subject should be of particular interest to parents at this time since the Clinton school is about to institute a remedial reading program financed through a $7,150 federal grant.

The program is basically aimed at more fully meeting the needs of economically and culturally deprived elementary students.

Better go Wednesday night, the place will be crowded Thursday. It's the Jaycee Follies we are speaking of and Mrs. Walt Wonderly, ticket chairman, makes the suggestion.

Exams for the students will be over Thursday and maybe this is the reason so many plan to go that evening.

At any rate, persons that can go Wednesday evening will be welcomed regardless of the color of their ticket but this won't be the case Thursday.

Maybe you thought, as I, that this is just a football game on New Year's Day. Not so, at least in Dave's day.

THERE WERE sports events for a whole week, a basketball tournament with four top collegiate quintets, sailing regatta, track meet, boxing tournament—all capped with the gridiron battle.

"When this war is over, I want you to come for the week and stay at my place," Dave said over and over again. I always promised. But as you might guess the trip was put off from year to year until it was all but impossible.

Each year as the big New Orleans Sugar Bowl rolls around, I have another mental swift kick for myself.

That's one thing Hal will never have to do.

He's Not Best Man After All

Instead of serving as best man at a friend's wedding, Charles H. Fletcher, 19, formerly of Onsted, was arrested by Tecumseh police Tuesday while enroute to the ceremony and charged with larceny.

On Monday, Fletcher and another man, not involved in the theft, went to Bug's Super Service Station on N. Evans St. to have a battery charged.

While Elwyn Bugbee, station owner, and the other man were in the garage section servicing the battery, Fletcher rifled the cash register of $108.

After the two left, Bugbee discovered the loss and notified the police. The car, a 1962 model, was found in Ridgeway.

The owner, a resident of Covington, Ky., told officers he knew nothing of the theft, but gave information which led to Fletcher's identity and arrest Tuesday.

Now Offers Musicians Their Place

The Air Force is now offering an excellent opportunity for qualified musicians to satisfy their military obligation as members of one of the 26 Air Force Bands.

Air Force Musicians perform only in the Musical Career Field and have no other military skills or assignments. When not performing as a part of either a marching band, dance band, or other musical combination, they are instructed in courses to add to their musical education.

Training includes, musical history, theory, harmony, arranging and conducting.

Before obligating themselves, persons interested can be auditioned and given a guaranteed assignment with a band.

They then enlist and after four weeks of military training are sent directly to their band assignment.

Interested persons are urged to contact the Air Force Band Program Representative, Sgt. Tom Foulds in the Eagles Hall in Adrian at 10 a.m. on Tuesday or Thursday.

Visitor Fascinated by Snow

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Alfonso Marin B, 12-year-old boy from Mexico City, is fascinated by the snow here. He has seen it on the mountains but never "fall from the sky."

Arriving here in November to spend several months as a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Lothair Hardesty, 1006 River Acres Dr., Alfonso rushed out with camera the morning after he arrived to take pictures of the snow falling.

He was disappointed when it didn't continue until he was up to his neck in the white, fluffy stuff.

Mrs. Hardesty took him to the Irish Hills and showed him man-made snow which really surprised him. She said, "He thought I had 'rocks in my head'."

Sunday found the Hardestys and their guest at Number 7 on the golf course where Alfonso was introduced to tobogganing. He also enjoys ice skating, having done this at home on rinks.

Alfonso or Poncho as he was called this past weekend by scouts attending the Klondike Derby, has no difficulty with communication in English since he started studying the language when a second grade student.

He is presently attending classes in the seventh grade of the Tecumseh Junior High School. Fortunately schools in Mexico City are recessed for vacation through December, January and a part of February.

Since arriving at the Hardesty home, Alfonso has been attending church with neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt. As luck would have it, the Spanish-speaking visitor arrived in time to hear mass before Christmas spoken in Spanish by Father Collins at St. Elizabeth.

Pizza and Mrs. Frank Stuwe's steamed plum pudding are special favorites among the American foods which Alfonso enjoys. Mrs. Hardesty said that he didn't care much for Chow Mein but he eats peppers so hot "I don't even open the can."

Alfonso told Flip that when he goes to Mexico, they will have iguana (a type of lizard) a delicacy which he compares to chicken in taste.

The plan is for Flip Hardesty, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardesty, to return Poncho's visit in July and August this summer.

The exchange was arranged by Dr. and Mrs. Raul Marin E, parents of Alfonso, who contacted Mr. Hardesty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Healy, of Toledo. The Healys spend vacations in Mexico City.

Dr. Marin is a dental surgeon in Mexico City.

An interesting custom in Mexico that the U. S. could well copy is the carrying on of the mother's maiden name by her sons.

The initial is added to the family name. Example: Alfonso Marin B and the B is for Berrara, his mother's name before her marriage.

As so often is the case, one situation seems to trigger another and Alfonso will have an unexpected experience with the Hardestys.

Though the home has been listed for sale some two years, it was only the week before his arrival that Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bonar of Detroit decided to purchase it.

Alfonso and the Hardestys will be moving to Union Lake soon, nearer to where Mr. Hardesty works.

Alfonso came prepared for the Christmas season, bringing a donkey pinata filled with toys which was duly battered to pieces by the Hardesty children and youngsters of Mrs. Hardesty's brother and wife.

The pinata party was held in Clinton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuwe, parents of Mrs. Hardesty.

The boy from Mexico explained that pinatas are made in many shapes but the donkey is the most popular since it was on the back of one that Mary was carried to the Holy City.

Though he is an excellent English student, slang confuses Alfonso, such as when he gave hand-tooled billfolds to the Hardesty boys and they immediately exclaimed, "cool." He has also had difficulty in understanding "rocks in my head" and other phrases currently in use at the Hardesty residence.

Probably when Flip goes to visit Alfonso and his family next summer, they will stay at Tequesquitengo, the summer home of the Marins on a lake.

Flip will celebrate his 14th birthday anniversary there and no doubt it will be one that he will never forget.

Knights Are Gymnasts

By DICK CARVER

Think of a cheerleader and visions of vivacious, energetic girls come to mind.

Boysville has an entirely different idea. They're guys.

Modeled after the University of Michigan and Notre Dame, both with male cheerleaders, Boysville's Fighting Knights are regularly entertained by gymnastic exercises.

Pyramids, barrel jumps, rolls, flips and many other aerial gymnastics keep audiences, that came to watch basketball, up in the air.

The really amazing thing about these fellows is that all of it happened in the short course of three years.

Boysville of Michigan is a resident school supported by the Knights of Columbus and founded in 1947. The Archdiocese of Detroit, Roman Catholic Church, administrates the education facilities.

The school is maintained for the benefit of high school and Jr. High age boys from broken homes in the Detroit area.

Care should be taken to emphasize that these fellows are not wards of the court with criminal or juvenile records. The school is meant to be a preventative factor in that line of reasoning.

SEPTEMBER, 1962, brought Brother Thomas Friel, C.S.C., to Boysville. Among his first tasks was establshing a cheerleader squad.

Brother Thomas wanted athletic lads, so started recruiting fellows that would work with gymnastic exercises. 1962 netted six Junior High boys who halfheartedly showed up for practice with the idea of leading cheers in the old 'hip, hip, hooray' style.

That idea changed quickly and after a year under Brother Thomas, 31 applicants showed for the 1963 version of the Boysville Cheerleaders.

Now, with three years under their belts, the boys are expert gymnasts. A waiting list of eager lads shows how anxious others are to join in the fun.

Brother Thomas stresses that "success over the years" has led to enthusiasm in an area that could be nearly forgotten. The boys have a remarkable "pride in achievement" and their ability to add considerably to Boysville athletic events.

EACH YEAR the campus at Eastern Michigan University is swarming with up to fifteen hundred high school girls and under 10 boys gathered for Newt Loken's Cheerleader Convention.

With a few exceptions, the guys present are from Boysville and last year 1,500 girls gave a five minute standing ovation to five Fighting Knights, who ended up stealing the show.

Brother Thomas emphasizes the masculine quality of the cheers including no dance numbers is making typical "girl stuff" guy material with a real touch of quality.

Genius Is Found

A quest for genius.

Although the program was really entitled, "Let's Be Original," the members of the Tecumseh Music Club were admittedly on the lookout for concealed genius at the Jan. 11 meeting.

Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney was hostess and Mrs. Ray Sommers, program chairman for the evening, welcomed the group to "Iva's Coffee House."

She stressed that an atmosphere of informality and originality would reign throughout the evening.

Mrs. Norman Bailey presented copies of the new words she wrote for the melody, "Auld Lang Syne" and the group sang them. Mrs. Paul Brantingham accompanied at the piano.

MRS. WILFRED WALDRON, who recently moved from a farm to North Pearl St., read her original "Ode to Our New Home."

Displaying acting and dancing talent, Mrs. Clarence Brock pantomimed a record of a whistling artist. She "did" two numbers, "Indian Love Call" and the "Tennessee Waltz."

Mrs. Perry Hayden, using the familiar children's tune known as "Doctor, Doctor," introduced her new lyrics inscribed "To My Husband."

Mrs. Leland Fogelsong read a poem she had written about Johann Sebastian Bach and sang a hymn for which she had both written the words and composed the music, "Your All." Mrs. Brantingham accompanied her.

MRS. HAROLD SMITH told how she had been inspired to write the words and music of a tribute to the late Bernice Large, a personal friend of many years. Mrs. James Danforth played the composition as Mrs. Smith read the words.

Mrs. Fred Oberlin and Mrs. Sommers presented two compositions on which they had collaborated. One, entitled "My Prayer" they sang as a duet. The second, a ballad, "To Jane," was sung by Mrs. Sommers accompanied by Mrs. Oberlin.

Mrs. Mulvaney played and sang her song about a Scottish lady she had once known.

IF, UP TO this point no real genius had been unearthed, the final member vindicated the whole evening.

Mrs. Nicholas DeWit, who studied composition in France and at The Hague, presented her own piano work with a Dutch title which translated means: "Marrianne, I Love You So Much."

The composition, written to one of Mrs. DeWit's daughters, contained a central theme with variations.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hayden. Mrs. Truman Rentschler will present the program, "To My Valentine."

Presbyterian Men Will See Church Film

The color film, "Above and Beyond," will be shown in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church Sunday, Jan. 23, at 4 .m.

It is the story of a man, Bert Elliott, his "down to earth" struggle with getting too involved in the church, his being caught up into an amazing motivation, above and beyond his human understanding.

The Tecumseh Area Church Laymen's Association is sponsoring this Fellowship Hour.

Pat Meadows, president of the Association, invites men from all Tecumseh area churches to participate in this event. Pastors are especially invited to come with their men.

READY FOR THE ROOM — Weather permitting, the steel girders and roof will be put in place on the Education Building for the new Methodist Church this next week. Aluminum window sashes are stacked at the left in the picture, ready to go in the south walls. The west wall of the sanctuary where the organ and the choir are to be is completed up to the roof level. Weather until this week has been a contributing factor in the speedy progress of the construction of the church, only started the early part of November.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

A LITTLE BIT OF MANY THINGS

Thank goodness this week's article does not depend upon a resume of what is going on outside our windows. Why? Well, primarily because there is nothing happening — absolutely nothing.

Oh, if we wanted to dip into an unpleasant subject there would be no end to the available material.

But today, with the sun shining brightly, a fine sifting of snow covering the shadier parts of the creek bank and the creek itself rapidly freezing over.

Today it is just too nice for anything other than "fun goings on." Next week, if the birdwatching has not improved, watch out—

BUT FOR now let's go back several weeks when there was exeitement and thrills were plentiful. Nothing singularly spectacular, but many little episodes which taken together amounted to fine Through My Window watching.

Numbers always give birdwatching thrills. For example, there was the day not too long ago when we looked out and counted 18 grackles parading around the yard.

It was a cold blustery day, the kind which gives promise that perhaps the winter we have been dreading and yet waiting for might finally be on its way.

It was certainly no day for birds who long ago should have migrated to the warm sunny south. Yet, there they were — big, shiny, black grackles. At least 18 of them — all we could say was "Oh, no!"

THE FEEBLE sunshine, which occasionally managed to slip through the heavy clouds, hardly seemed strong enough to make anything shine. However, when the rays touched the black backs, shine and glisten they did.

It was all so out of place — What were grackles doing in our yard in January? And, as if sensing our question, whenever any of the birds stoped pacing and cocked their blue-black heads towards the window, I am sure it was not just imagination that made those yellow ringed beady eyes look more evil and cruel than ever. They were sneering at us.

BUT ON TO a nicer example of excitement by number. In this almost cardinal-less winter, imagine our feelings when we looked out one morning and counted not one, not two, not even three or four, but seven cardinals.

We were thrilled almost speechless. Aparently they came from the weed patch, which is just north of us. I first noticed two males fly in from that direction and almost immediately a dull colored female followed.

Ida and I speculated about the possibilities of this trio being the same one at which we had laughed last August when Papa Cardinal was having such a time trying to keep his three hungry youngsters fed.

We never did reach any conclusion because other cardinals started flocking in and we found ourselves busy counting. The seven worked in the yard and on the creek bank.

Some of them were constantly on the move. Gradually the whole gang worked their way up the creek. We have not seen them since.

AND JUST to prove that the best things do not always happen in groups, listen to the case of the one muskrat who so far made but one appearance.

It happened at noontime and ordinarily Ida would have been long gone home for lunch. Somehow, though, we were running late that day. If we hadn't been we would have never seen the muskrat. She happened to glance out the window, uttered a surprise exclamation and started rolling my bed up. Sure enough, there he was, a big sleek muskrat.

He nibbled vegetation along this side of the creek, sat up once as if to make sure we had a good look at him. Upon reaching a small clump of tangled weeds, which the high water had surrounded, he dove and that was our one and only look at a muskrat.

So it is that when nothing much is going on outside, fun may still be had by looking back and remembering a little bit of many things.

Give Glasses for Charity

You can give to charity without spending a cent. Sound impossible? Well, it isn't. There is a charity called New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., located in Short Hills, N. J., which DOES NOT want your money. All it wants are your discarded eyeglasses, antique and costume jewelry and bits of scrap precious metal.

For 33 years this unique charity has been working to improve the vision of the needy the world over. Over half a million people have been helped . . . without ever asking for a penny. Here is a charity everyone can help all through the year.

New Eyes is a volunteer, nonprofit organization which provides eyeglasses for those in the United States who cannot afford them. With the nation-wide help of countless individuals and service organizations it collects discarded eyeglasses, jewelry and pieces of precious metal. Each year some 752,000 carefully wrapped pairs of glasses and hundreds of pounds of jewelry find their way to New Eyes from every corner of the country.

A social worker writing to New Eyes recently said, "I only wish each of the people who contributed to your organization could see what a lift it gives struggling men and women to know someone cares".

Help New Eyes to help others by going through your bureau drawers and cupboards for the things New Eyes needs. Wrap each pair of glasses separately or send them in their own soft cases.

Dubious Treatments Are Tried

Sick elm trees, infected with Dutch elm disease, have prompted many property owners to invest in treatments of dubious value, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

As yet, the only recommended control is spraying to kill elm bark beetles that spread the infection, along with destruction of diseased and dead trees.

Desperate elm owners, in last-ditch attempts to save valuable trees, have tried many short cuts. Epsom salts and lime were used by some tree owners.

One treatment which received wide publicity during 1965 was injection of a chemical into the tree itself. Used this way, the compound — called a systemic insecticide — was supposed to have entered the tree's circulatory system and poisoned the disease carriers.

Some sort of systemic treatment does have promise, tree experts admit. But research has not yet taken the "bugs" out of such treatments for bugs. Expanded research in the use of systemics is planned in 1966.

So, concur experts of both the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division and the Department of Entomology at Michigan State University, tree lovers had best stick with the tried-and-true spray treatment. When a better elm-saver is found, they promise to advise the public.

Methodists View Film

"The Eighth Day" was the film shown Sunday evening to those youth and adults attending the first of three sessions on "Missions: The Christians Calling" at the First Methodist Church.

Emphasizing a theme different from what is expected in a mission study, the film showed many of the various ways and apportunities in which the Christian can further the work of God within his own church, community, country, and world.

Not only were the areas of ministry and missions featured but small everyday chances which come to all of us to witness by word and deed.

The children's division saw a film strip entitled "All the Church's People", followed with a lesson led by Mrs. Carl Hale. The youngsters will bring supplies for the Vietnamese school in Ben Cat as their sharing project during the mission study.

The next two weeks seminar lessons will be held for the youth and adults with a simpler lesson offered to the children. These sessions will begin at approximately 6:15 p.m. following the potluck supper at 5:3.

Mrs. Donald Rodehaver, organizer of the study, stresses that it is not too late to join these interesting, educational, and enjoyable family programs.

Senator Bursley Will Address Tecumseh Rotary

Senator Gilbert Bursley will speak to the Tecumseh Rotary Club Tuesday night.

Senator Bursley, Chairman of the Michigan State Senate Committee on International Commerce, will discuss the findings and recommendations of his committee based on a three-week study trip in nine western European countries.

An 85-page report already filed with the Legislature has recommended establishment of an independent International Commerce Division within the State Department of Commerce, a designated officer of section responsible for international trade within the Agriculture Department and a Coordinator of World Tourism within the Tourist Council.

Once these organizational changes are implemented a small trade promotion branch of the Commerce Department should be established in Amsterdam or Brussels.

A third recommendation is for a non-profit corporation wherein business and government would be partners and whose purpose would be to get more Michigan companies exhibiting and selling at U.. Trade Centers abroad and participating in overseas trade missions.

The fourth recommendation calls for the establishment of an Institute of International Commerce at the University of Michigan.

Senator Bursley is the only Republican chairman of a committee in this year's legislature.

Says Michigan Laws Are Kind

CLINTON — "Michigan Laws are Kind to Women" was the subject discussed by Melvin Smith, Clinton attorney, for the meeting of the Clinton Woman's Club last Wednesday.

Mr. Smith mentioned several areas of the law in which Michigan women are favored. Since the change in Michigan laws in 1908, women can own their own property and convey their dollar interest in such property.

This is also true in regard to bank accounts, stocks, bonds, automobiles and real estate.

He suggested the members take a look at their household insurance to see if they carry enough, since most houses in Clinton are underinsured.

He concluded by urging his listeners, "To protect your own property you must get out and vote in school, village and township elections. Owning property is not enough — one must figure out how it fits into the local situation and in that of the state and the nation."

Mrs. William Driscoll and Mrs. Hans Schmidt were hostesses for the meeting attended by 28 members and guests, including Mrs. Clara Conner, Mrs. John Monaghan, and Mrs. Clara Steele.

Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick presided at the business meeting. Mrs. William Driscoll, Mrs. Ted Kiebler and Mrs. Charles Wilson volunteered to serve as the Ways and Means Committee.

Mrs. Ralph Halladay played three piano selections to conclude the program.

The centerpiece of lavender and white chrysanthemums gracing the lavender-clothed tea table was later sent to John Truesdale for the re-opening of the Clinton Theatre, in appreciation of his continuing interest in the youth of Clinton.

Indians Nip Jets 70-68

One down, two to go is the count this week for the Tecumseh Indians, victors last Friday over second place Airport, 70-68.

If the Indians can bump Blissfield this Friday night and follow it up with an upset over Flat Rock, Tecumseh will at least gain a tie for first place in the Huron League.

The road ahead is rough, and if last week's game is an indication, Tecumseh will be lucky to break even the next two games.

Terry Alcock, 6'4" center and the only consistent player so far on the squad, pulled out the win over Airport with two free throws with six seconds left on the clock.

The winning tosses came after the Jets had scored 10 straight points in the fourth quarter and then went ahead twice, the final time with about one minute remaining.

The wild fourth period came about after Tecumseh squandered a 17-point first quarter lead, and then proceeded to play turnover. Tecumseh had 38 turnovers for the game.

SPEED — Jim Mobley, 5'8" Indian Sophomore, will need his ball handling ability and speed against Blissfield Friday Night as Tecumseh meets their once-defeated five. Blissfield is fresh from an easy Friday night Milan victory.

Except for a big 26-point first period splurge, the Indians would have been swamped in the fray. The Jets outscored the Indians the rest of the way, 59 to 44, a margin of 15 points.

Coach Vic Lawson's club turned in its finest performance of the season in the opening stanza, rolling up 26 points, handled the ball well and had few turnovers. A zone press against the Jets helped.

In the second quarter, Tecumseh quit shooting and turned an apparent rout into a nightmarish exhibition with turnover after turnover.

A halftime break helped as the Indians nearly broke even in the scoring column and once opened up a 14-point lead after, allowing the Jets to close it to seven.

Airport, trailing 60-50 at the opening of the fourth quarter, applied the pressure and tallied 10 consecutive points in just under two minutes.

Tecumseh, meanwhile, had only two shots at the bucket, usually turning the ball over before attempting a shot.

The Jets tied the count at 60-60 at the 6:11 mark, went ahead 64-62 with 4:17 left. Behind 66-64 with just over a minute remaining, John Goodman connected on two free throws to tie the count at 66-66.

Tecumseh caught Airport on Dean Hebb's goal, 68-68, to set the stage for Alcock's winning tosses.

Flat Rock still holds first place in the league with Tecumseh and Blissfield tied for second.

Family Entertainment

After being closed for nearly a year, the lights of the Clinton Theatre are once more aglow. Actually, it's practically a brand new show, thanks to a $20,000 renovation in which nearly everything has been replaced. There are new front doors, lobby, rest rooms, seating arrangement, stage, wiring, carpeting, lighting, heating. It's a place where the entire family can enjoy wholesome entertainment. John Truesdale, the new owner, is anxious to have a good movie house, where Clinton residents may enjoy the best in films. He is making arrangements with the leading distributors – Universal, MGM, Columbia and United Artists – to provide top pictures, soon after their release.

The Mayor Loves Kids

It's pretty common knowledge around the Village of Clinton that the No. 1 booster of young people is Mayor John Truesdale. His Teen Can Teen, opened two years ago, is a concrete evidence of this. Mr. Truesdale's recent purchase and complete renovation of the Clinton Theatre once again emphasizes the fact that John likes and wants to do something for the youth of his community.

Good Luck to John Truesdale with His Clinton Theatre

We are proud to have been a part of the complete renovation program, which has transformed the theatre into a modern motion picture house.

PRACTICE FOR MUSICAL — "Guys and Dolls" Director Betty Jo Hancock (center) works with Marty Bagdon and Dick Egli as they start rehearsal for the Tecumseh Players' annual musical comedy. Marty and Dick hold lead roles along with Peg Gieger and Howard Gentry.

Busy Backstage

"You can bet that they're doin' it for some dolls — and guys too!"

They are the people who form the backbone of the Tecumseh Players' newest production, "Guys and Dolls," the heads of the various production crews.

They're working hard to recreate this popular Broadway musical comedy, based on a story and characters of Damon Runyon.

BETTY JO HANCOCK, of Adrian, who ably directed the Players' fall production, "Never Too Late," has turned her talents to the musical comedy world.

Aiding her in the coordination of the large cast and technical crews is assistant director Duane Steele. Duane, who played Ed McKeever in "Solid Gold Cadillac" has worked behind stage before as technical director of a number of Players' productions.

The orchestra which will provide the music for the show is under the direction of Dave Schoonover, the AAA insurance man in town. Having majored in music at Harden-Simmons College in Texas and been director of a high school band in Abilene, Texas, Dave is well-qualified.

HELEN BENDES, who majored in music at Central Michigan University and is presently a vocal teacher in Tecumseh, is in charge of the chorus.

Choreography will be directed by Lorayne Pihl, who has been dance director of all four previous Players' musicals. Assisting her are Mary Myers and Bob Bagdon.

Technical director in charge of set design and backstage crews is talented Mike Brose, who will be assisted by Gil Rothfuss.

Construction chief for this musical is Preston Caswell, president of the Players.

Homemakers Learn About Family Life

EAST LANSING — If you want to learn more about family life in 1980 and how to prepare for it — plan to attend this year's Farmers' Week.

A special program for homemakers will be included in the January 31-February 4 sessions at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Loa Whitfield, and Anne Kinsel, of the Cooperative Extension Service, Family Living Education staff will give homemakers an idea of "What Will They Tink of Next?" in the January 31 session.

A new slant for the familiar dress revue will feature men instead of women. "Dad Duds — A Word to the Wives" will be on the Tuesday morning schedule.

You can take an imaginary trip to Japan with Mrs. George Romney on Tuesday afternoon. Michigan's first lady will speak on family life in Japan.

A nutritionist's views on current trends in the use of vitamin supplements and food enrichment will be discussed by Dr. Dena Cederquist, chairman of the MSU Department of Foods and Nutrition, on Thursday.

Other programs for homemakers will focus on present and future housing, landscape design, consumer responsibilities, family values and home furnishings. All homemakers' events are free and open to the public.

Complete programs for the week are available from county offices of the Cooperative Extension Service.

News From Boysville

Coach Pat Connors and his Fighting Knights are assured of at least a scond-place finish in the River Raisin League standing, having posted wins this past week in league action against Sand Creek and Deerfield, falling by scores of 92-47 and 85-42 respectively.

Thus far this season, the Knights have been led by the shooting of seniors, Moe Jacobs and Jim Cowan, and by the fine second effort displayed by Jacobs under the boards.

Both turned in their finest performances to date in the Sand Creek and Deerfield games.

Jim Cowan made his bid for a school scoring record held by J. Murray, in the Sand Creek game last Tuesday. The 6'1" guard tallied 42 points for the evening, turning in the school's finest individual scoring effort for several years.

Boysville had little trouble turning back Sand Creek's Aggies. The Knights held a comfortable 41-24 half-time lead, and kept up the pace through the second half, overwhelming the Aggies 92-47.

Moe Jacobs lived up to his introductory nickname of "Jumping-Jack" Jacobs at Boysville's home encounter with Deerfield. Standing at 6'2½", the agile forward held undisputed claim to the backboard, claiming 24 rebounds while shooting for 29.

Boysville held a 60-33 margin at the end of the third quarter when the bench took over. The reserves outpointed the Minutemen 23-22.

The Knights face a tough schedule in the coming week. Tomorrow they take on Whiteford's Bobcats followed by what promises to be a rough game with Ida. Next Friday, Boysville faces a decisive game with the first place Irish of Adrian Central Catholic.

Graduation pictures are next on the agenda of the Senior closs announces School Principal, Brother Jeffrey Michels, C.S.C.

The sitting will be on Monday at the Crane Studio in Dearborn.

Approximately 80 of Boysville's student body attended a dance at the St. Joseph's Academy in Adrian on Saturday. The dance was a mixer sponsored by the Girls Athletic Club.

A New Years greeting from President General Mrs. William Henry Sullivan of Washington, D. C., was read.

Mrs. Cecile Smith gave a report on National Defense using a reprint from the Nov. 22, 1965, issue of The Evening Star, a Washington, D. C. newspaper. She read:

General Curtis E. LeMay warns of a real danger that Red China might intensify its backing of North Vietnam aggression (to prolong the war, increase our losses and thereby weaken our will.)

The retired Air Force chief of staff told the Associated Press in an exclusive interview "the solution is to hit harder against North Vietnam with United States Air Power, to bomb (more important targets such as air fields with Migs on them, power plants, oil storage, industrial targets and ports, etc.)."

"I happen to believe we can get the message across better by the use of air power than by the use of ground forces," said LeMay, architect of the strategic air command.

He put on the record "what has been known officially for months — that top United States officials had limited the number of planes and the kind of bombs that could be used against targets in North Vietnam."

An advocate of space power as well as air power, LeMay said, "the United States is handicapping itself by stressing peaceful utilization of space."

"Our security from and in space will become equally important if not more important, than our security on land, sea and air as we know it now."

"I happen to believe we can get the message across better by the use of air power than by the use of ground forces. My basis for that belief is that air power can more rapidly deprive them of essential military facilities and resources and it can do it at minimum cost of life and equipment."

Mrs. Smith gave a quote from an American soldier in Vietnam "As you no doubt know, we are prohibited from flying the American flag here — even above our own American compounds or headquarters when the United States outpost at Plei Me was attacked recently, a sargeant raised a 6-inch by 10-inch flag, I was proud when I read the stirring account of his efforts."

Mrs. Purnell Osburn brought her granddaughter, Susan Kennel, a senior and representative of the Tecumseh High School government class, to the meeting.

Students of the government class are making reports in class of activities of various organizations in the city.

Mrs. Joe Rice presented a program on "DAR, Past, Present and Future."

Refreshments were served from a table centered with spring flowers and yellow candles.

Officers will be installed at the February meeting.

Historian Reviews Telegraph

Editor's note — The Bud Guest program, "People, Places and Things", featured a Tecumseh enterprise of the 1880's last summer. It was The Commercial Telegraph Company of Tecumseh that he spoke about, using the story written by Marvin J. Petroelje in a publication of the Michigan Historical Commission.

Mr. Petroelje used many clippings from The Tecumseh Herald and material supplied by Clara Waldron, who donated them to the Michigan Historical Collections of the University of Michigan.

The founder and originator of the company was Raymond J. Bowen, father of Glen Bowen and Mrs. Lawrence Drewyor, 206 N. Union St., and uncle of the late Percy Bowen.

Delmar Finch brought the story to the attention of The Herald.

THE COMMERCIAL TELEGRAPH CO. OF TECUMSEH . . .

The village of Tecumseh in the 1880's and 1890's was in most respects similar to many other comparable towns in the state. The business places, for the most part, were brick buildings, and many fine residences lined each side of Chicago St., the main thoroughfare in the village.

The streets were broad and level, well kept, and shaded by splendid maples. This village, however, along with the neighboring countryside, differed from other Michigan villages because of its communication system.

Long before the telephone came to Tecumseh, the villagers and those living in the surrounding countryside were communicating with each other by means of a multiparty telegraph line.

The founder and originator of the company was Raymond J. W. Bowen, who lived on a farm northwest of Tecumseh (where the Dale Bowens now live.) In June, 1881, Bowen and a neighbor, Atwater Mangus, constructed a telegraph line between their residences, a distance of about 300 feet.

This project was designed strictly as a social affair. There was no thought of extending it commercially. The idea of a telegraph key in a house soon spread, and in December, 1881, the line was extended on-half mile west to the home of Wesley B. Keyser.

Other neighbors asked for lines, and by fall of 1882, the telegraph line had reached the village of Tecumseh, a distance of about three miles. In January, 1883, the telegraph line was incorporated under the laws of the State of Michigan as the Commercial Telegraph Company.

THE INCORPORATION of the line was accomplished with a capital stock of $5,000, divided into $10 shares. In 1885, the company, as a corporation, paid a state tax of $14.95.

For a period of three years, the line was continually extended as the company gradually gained popularity. By 1886 it reached far beyond the village of Tecumseh to the towns of Franklin, Clinton, Raisin, Ridgeway and Sand Lake.

From the humble beginning of a line connecting two neighbors, the Commercial Telegraph Company continued to grow until, by 1890 it could proudly boast of nearly 100 miles of wire and 170 instruments in use on a line which connected Adrian, Britton, Clinton, Holloway, Lake Ridge, Macon, Newburg, Pentecost, Sutton, Tipton and Tecumseh.

These instruments were located in the houses or offices of 95 farmers, 19 stores, 10 physicians, seven railroad offices, six post offices, seven mechanics, seven factories, two grain dealers, two teachers and one pleasure resort.

Three years after the establishment of the Commercial Telegraph Company, another line was established which would eventually connect Tecumseh with another part of Michigan. This line was first established northeast of Tecumseh in 1884.

In that year, the families of John B. Garlinghouse, John W. Benedict and Charles Benedict constructed the telegraph line for their own use. In 1886 the line was extended through the leadership of four young men from Clinton and Macon townships.

Seeing the benefits derived from a telegraph line, they extended the line into their townships, thus adding at least two miles of wire to the Garlinghouse and Benedict line. Having completed the line into their area, the four men began extending the line from the Garlinghouse residence to Tecumseh.

They were successful with the aid of Tecumseh businessmen and farmers in the vicinity. By 1887, the Tecumseh and Macon Telegraph Company line (or the Dew Drop Line, as it was called) was in good working order with about six miles of line and 11 instruments located in the village of Tecumseh.

An undated directory of the Tecumseh and Macon Telegraph Co. shows 50 operators with their own call letters.

The line connected with the Commercial Telegraph Company line at Garlinghouse's livery stable to form a continuous line spreading in almost every direction from the village of Tecumseh.

The Adrian part of the Commercial Telegraph Co. line was a separate line, although it was operated in connection with the rest of the company lines. The available directories of the Tecumseh Commercial Telegraph Company list at least 250 establishments or families as having the ability to operate on the line.

The number would be higher if all the members of families who operated a key were known. The Tecumseh Herald estimated that there were at least 300 persons along the line who were able to send and receive messages. The paper commented:

"Telegraphing was supposed to be a difficult thing to learn, but experience has shown us that farmers' boys and girls without any previous knowledge of the art learn it rapidly, and in a few months become quite expert.

Quite a number have gone from this line into railroad offices, and now have good positions as operators. This is probably the only line of its kind in the world that has attained such large proportions."

By the middle of the 1890's, the Commercial Telegraph Co. line was beginning to deteriorate because dues were difficult to collect and equipment was beginning to show the signs of wear and tear. In 1898, the company sold poles, wire, franchise and good will to the Tecumseh Telephone Co., a locally-owned organization, which in turn was sold to the United Telephone Co. in 1926.

Through the years the company performed many interesting functions beyond that of rural communication. One of these was bringing the weather forecasts to the people of Tecumseh.

These forecasts were brought in through the leadership of Satterthwaite Brothers and Boyd store and weather flags were flown from it every morning at 8 a.m.

Telegraphic dispatches were sent out from the central office at Washington, D. C., every night at 1 a.m. on the weather probabilities for the following 24 hours. Seven flags were used at the station signifying the following red sun, high temperature; red crescent, lower temperature; red star, stationary temperature; blue sun, general rain or snow; blue crescent, clear or fair weather; blue star, local rain or snow; black square, cold wave approaching.

When these flags were displayed from the pole they were to be read downward. For instance, a red sun followed by a blue sun, a blue crescent, and a black square signified higher temperature, general rain or snow, followed by clear and much colder weather.

The red sun, blue star and blue crescent read higher temperature,, local rain or snow, followed by clear or fair weather.

Another function of the company was social. The Tecumseh Herald on July 28, 1877, carried the following announcements:

"The Commercial Telegraph Company will hold its 3rd annual picnic at Putnam's landing, Sand Lake, Friday, Aug. 5, 1877. Come all operators and bring your friends, the more the merrier.

No matter if you are not a telegraph operator, if you operate anything, you are invited. This includes operators on sewing machines and dish pans; on pitch forks and mule teams; on yard sticks and slippers."

This announcement of the picnic signified one of the leading social events of the year. The annual telegraph picnic was an event that was looked forward to as much as the Fourth of July or any other holiday.

The people along the telegraph line on these occasions had the opportunity of meeting those to whom they had "spoken" during the year by means of Morse code.

The picnic of 1886 was attended by 125 people from all parts of the county who came together for nothing more than food and good times.

During the picnic the annual shareholders' meeting was held at which the financial report of the company was presented and the officers were elected. Generally the same men were returned to office.

The actual operation of the Commercial Telegraph Co. was controlled by the by-laws. Shareholders and members of their families were the only ones entitled to practice on the line or to have messages sent free, except for the operators at the railroad offices.

Operators were allowed at any time to break into any conversation not relating to business when they had business to transact. The operators were prohibited from using the wire from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. except on necessary business. A standard form for sending messages was required to prevent mistakes. Each message sent by a non-member was to cost 20c for ten words or less.

The answer was free. Two cents additional was to be charged for each word over ten in the message or the answer. This rule was not carried out as fees for messages were rarely collected. Other regulations concerned the technical aspects of the line and operating a key.

Power to operate the line came from wet cell batteries set up in certain houses along the line. By this method, the houses would be in groups, each group having its own source of power. Mr. Delmar Finch, 209 W. Pottawatamie St., remembers batteries stored in his father's house.

His father serviced them at regular intervals to guarantee continued power. In the Finch residence, there were between 15 and 20 batteries to supply the power for the group services from the Finch home.

Poles for the wire, when necessary, generally came from the tamarack swamp near Tecumseh. Mr. Finch as a young lad, used to peel the bark off the poles before they were used.

The people bought their own keys and joined together to set the poles and string the wire to the houses. Anyone wanting to be on the line had to see to it that the line was strung to his own house.

The values and importance of such a system was easily discernible. The system began as a means for the people of a rural area, during a period of slow transportation, to communicate and to get acquainted. Thus it quickly became a social affair and ended its life as a strong and vital social instrument.

Throughout the years of its existence, it was predominantly a communications medium and secondarily a unifying social agency. Its other values are equally significant.

It became a rapid system to bring a doctor or other help when needed, in times of emergency. It provided businesses a chance to expand their trade as people on the line would notice a neighbor drive by to town, and they would wire ahead for something to be sent back with the neighbor.

Because it was unique as a system, so it was also unique in its importance. Overtaken by the telephone, the telegraph line faded not without regret on the part of the people who were connected with it.

The story is told of a housewife who complained that with the telephone, she had to stop work to listen to the gossip, whereas with the telegraph she could continue to work and listen as the messages were tapped out.

Proof that progress can eliminate some of the smaller pleasures of life.

'Healthmobile' Features Exhibits

The public is invited to visit the "Healthmobile" and see the story of Michigan medicine, when the unique traveling exhibit visits at Adrian in the Maumee Plaza for four days, Jan. 24, 25, 26 and 27.

The attractive mobile unit— the first of its kind in the nation —also will seek to interest young people in careers in the health field.

The unit is brought here by the Lenawee County Medical Society and its auxiliary.

The Healthmobile, a 12' x 50' trailer, described the story of Michigan medicine from the wooden stethoscope of 100 years ago to the gleaming health and lung machines of today.

The slogan, "A Century of Service in Michigan Medicine" is developed by colorful, authentic displays that begin with the work of Dr. William Beaumont at Mackinac Island, into the Civil War period, and on through the turn of the century to date.

Helping to portray Michigan's contributions to medical advances during the century are special exhibits prepared by the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Michigan State University, the State Department of Health, the Michigan Health Council and the two major Michigan pharmaceutical companies.

One of the popular, education exhibits was provided by the American Medical Association. It is the transparent human figure with a panel of buttons keyed to various organs and muscles which light up as the appropriate button is pressed.

Wives of Tecumseh physicians and dentists will be hosts Wednesday, Jan. 26, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the "Healthmobile."

Mrs. Carlton Cook, secretary for the auxiliary, said that the exhibit is interesting and worthwhile for both children and adults.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

A group of ladies were gathered at the Dale Bowen home to make plans for the coming Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's 25th anniversary banquet.

Mrs. Bowen, as chairman, was riding herd on the proceedings.

Someone mentioned that this was the night Bob Hope's Christmas show from Vietnam would be shown at 9 p.m. and hoped things would be wrapped up by then.

Well, you know how meetings go, there is always oodles more to consider and discuss than at first anticipated, so when adjournment neared, the clock was reaching for 10:30.

As all good chairmen should, Mrs. Bowen then asked, "Is there anything we missed?"

There was a brief silence. Then up chirped Mrs. Bob King, "Yeah, the Bob Hope show."

WELL, TO that hard-working group of planners and anyone else who passed up the master comedian's trek through the war zone (yes, it is a war), I'm sorry you weren't along.

Few presentations on television surpass these emotion-packed reports. There are bundles of laughs, songs, dances, skits, music.

As I watched, enthralled, breaking into yelps of good humor, enough to keep everyone awake at our house, I mentally applauded Bob Hope and his various troupes, for what they have done to bolster military morale since way back in World War II.

In one desolate Vietnam beach area, Hope told his audience, "I don't know what you did to get sent here, but let that be a lesson to you."

Several thousand GIs hooted happily at their own plight.

The guy bubbles with local humor and that's what makes his act so well received.

Back about 1945, in the tiny town of Ingalstad, Germany, I was in the audience at a Bob Hope show. Earlier that day there was a brief chat with one of the supporting cast, who said that Bob is a dynamo, up and firing jokes all day long.

How our servicemen love that guy.

BUT BOB HOPE isn't the only talent in this land of ours, as about 900 people will attest to after catching the Jaycee Follies last week.

Both a financial and artistic success, here is the sort of program that should be held annually in our town.

A professional director, backed by a theatrical company in New York, produced the Follies, but I'm thinking there are people around who could do much the same thing (witness in a similar area the success of our Tecumseh Players.)

There are usually show stoppers and the Follies of 1966 had their quota — headed by the fabulously-talented Ginny Snyder and Betty Flanders.

Both have had numerous other stage appearances and they were delightful.

Mrs. James Mull really belted our "Hello, Dolly" and John Howell, a newcomer to town, making his stage appearance, offered a fine baritone voice.

Another sleeper was charming Dianna Westgate, who showed great poise and a polished delivery.

THE STRAND Theatre is a perfect place for stage shows.

When the Players got started five years ago, their plays were given at the Strand, going only two days, Wednesday and Thursdays, with a matinee and two evening performances.

Gradually, the Players wanted to extend the number of showings and add Friday and Saturday nights, so this prompted the switch to the Community Center.

The Glass Room is fine for some small-cast shows, but when it comes to the annual musical, with an orchestra, a cast of "thousands" (count 'em) and heavy demand for tickets (the past three musicals have been sell-outs — including "The Music Man" at eight performances in town and for a single outing at the 1,200-seat Dawson Auditorium in Adrian,) a bigger layout is needed.

The Strand's dressing room facilities are minimal, but the stage is perfect and acoustics are A-1.

Payrolls During 1965 Topped $37 Million

By TOM RIORDAN

Jobs and payroll in the Tecumseh area took a giant step forward during 1965, the annual Herald business activities survey shows.

An all-time record $37,141,110 was paid to 6,269.

Two new industries, Fisher Body and Stauffer Chemical's Sutton Rd. complex, helped push up the figures, between them accounting for $4,269,000 in checks and 1,115 jobs.

However, 1965's total community payroll ranked over 1964 by $7,864,480, meaning that veteran employers paid more than $3½ million in wages during the past year over 1964.

Total employment stepped up from the '64 total of 5,160.

This surely is Tecumseh's most prosperous business and industrial year in the city's 142-year history.

Total assets of the United Savings Bank — a record $32,244,430 — reflect the prosperity of the community.

ONE OF 6,269 — That's how many people held jobs in Tecumsehland during 1965, including Russ Mitzner, 8912 Matthews Rd., a toolmaker at Tecumseh Products Co. Together they earned more than $37 million from industries, schools, hospital, retail outlets and service organizations — an all-time high payroll for the community, besting 1964 by $7,864,480.

Box Co. Expansion Runs into Problem

By JIM LINCOLN

A surprise decision by the Board of Appeals last week rejected Tecumseh Corrugated Box's plans for a 9,000-square-foot addition to its plant along S. Evans St.

Company officials say they will abide by the board's ruling and not take it to Circuit Court in hopes of getting a reversal.

Denial by the board has canceled any hopes of construction at this time, Box officers explain.

A new zoning ordinance, adopted by Council last September, prohibited Tecumseh Box of building within a foot of its east property line.

Since the company's plans were non-conforming to the ordinance, the Planning Commission referred Corrugated Box officials to the Board of Appeals, which was set up about two years ago to relieve Council of possible pressure and influence.

Donald Brazee, Tecumseh High school assistant principal and chairman of the Board of Appeals, said the reasons for denying Tecumseh Box were:

► Non-conforming of present zoning

► Condoning further development or setting a precedent.

► Company had not exhausted all expansion possibilities.

All members of the board — Fred Dickinson, Dr. Richard Coak, Robert Bonner, John Thompson and Mr. Brazee — were present.

James Robideau, Corrugated Box officer, explained his company's position, why a 9,000-square-foot addition was needed and why, for economical reasons, it should be built east towards Evans St.

HAROLD TUTTLE, president of H. W. Tuttle Co., told board members that Tecumseh Box's problem was similar to the one he had in Adrian and the reason for his company to move to Tecumseh.

He sympathized with Mr. Robideau and urged the board to grant a favorable decision.

See Editorial Section B

The Tuttle firm is located just south of Tecumseh Box.

Discussion of developing S. Evans St. for a main artery was somewhat eliminated when Lynn Nobles, city engineer, told the board that a 45-foot street could be constructed for a four-lane thoroughfare.

MR. ROBIDEAU told the board that the company is operating at a peak load and needs to expand to grow and handle its production.

He said expansion south and west was not possible at this time. A wood frame building to the south is required for storage.

To the west, the company has another building of 2,600 square feet, also in use. Permanent construction south or west would eliminate space already in usage.

Tecumseh Corrugated Box was founded here Feb. 1, 1963 and has grown from a few employees to 118.

Visitors through the plant, an old building formerly occupied by Quaker Oats, are amazed at the size of the company's operation.

$792 Earned by JC Follies

By CAROL HOWELL

Tecumseh High School's Football Lights Fund is $792.15 richer this week, thanks to the Jaycee Follies.

This early figure may increase to over $800 as some late collections come in.

That, according to Follies treasurer Charles Robinson in a preliminary report, is the total profit from last week's two performances.

Ted Sisson was elected Big Chief and Hugh Walter the runner-up. More than $200 was realized from the voting, at a penny a ballot in stores around town.

Hero of the hour was Max Shoaf, director and representative of the Jerome H. Cargill Co., who produced the show.

He led the group of 65, many of whom never had performed in a show of any kind, through 10 days and nights of grueling rehearsal and came up with a colorful production.

It featured plenty of laughs and a lot more talent than audiences had anticipated.

SHOW STEALER — Mrs. Alton Snyder was a standout in the Jaycee Follies. One of her numbers found her in royal garb, much like this get-up she wore in "You Can't Take It With You," four years ago, when she portrayed a Russian countess in the Tecumseh Players' comedy.

Philip Roff, 49, of 506 Cairns St., was stricken early Wednesday morning at his home and died before he could be rushed to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Roff is a former city police officer and at one time drove a truck for Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt Paving.

He suffered a heart attack about a month ago and was just released from the hospital last week.

Space Heater is Overheated

The fire department was called to the Tecumseh Products Co. Monday night at 11:15 p.m.

A gas space heater was damaged slightly when it overheated. The heater was located in the ceiling of the shipping department.

Books May Be Shipped by Air

Writing from Junction City, Kansas, Mrs. Gregory Mason applauds the Tecumseh-to-Ben-Cat School Aid Plan.

"I have been following the Ben Cat Project through The Herald," she told Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann in a letter, "And want to commend you for all you have done. Both you and the people of Tecumseh have contributed many long, but worthwhile hours."

"Greg has written and mentioned how happy he is at all the response and enthusiasm of everyone envolved. He will keep you posted of developments as he is able," she added.

Mrs. Mason's husband, a Tecumseh first lieutenant with the 33rd Artillery Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division in Vietnam, started the Ben Cat Project with a letter to The Herald, seeking donations of pencils, erasers, chalk, crayons and English readers for 1,000 pupils of the two schools in that tiny town.

Contributions of supplies, as well as money, have poured in and to date 23 five-pound boxes have been packed and mailed to Lt. Mason. These contained small, light items, each box requiring $1.34 in postage. Cash contributions to handle mailings have topped $100.

THE MORE DIFFICULT stage is now underway — shipment of books and writing paper. Mrs. Goldmann estimates there are nearly 300 pounds in this category, with more being brought in.

At first, it was planned to truck this to San Francisco, where the Defense Department would relay the supplies to Saigon. However, Congressman Wes Vivian's Washington office discovered that with the tremendous movement of military materials, books to Ben Cat would have a low priority and may sit in a west coast depot up to three months.

A suggestion was made that the committee consider the plan used last Christmas by the Booth Newspapers, which underwrote the airlift of gifts from Michigan to Vietnam.

Following a phone conference with Bill Kulseas, chief of Booth's Lansing bureau and the prime mover of the Yule program, there was a chat with Arthur Flinn, cargo sales manager of United Air Lines.

Mr. Flinn said United would handle the freight, from Willow Run to San Francisco, where it would be switched to Pan Am and on into Saigon.

The rate is $1.59 per pound.

This would mean a total expenditure of nearly $500.

Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. has volunteered to pack the books and if necessary truck them to Willow Run.

One possibility might be to seek the $500 freight fare from a recent $4,000 gift to the Tecumseh Service Club. Coming from the Exchange Club, it was cash left over from a fund collected to aid Palm Sunday tornado victims.

Major question: Would tornado fund donors object to having some of this money used to airlift books to Ben Cat?

part of your community in 1965 and look forward to a successful year in 1966. The cooperation extended by your community is indeed appreciated."

Stauffer's Sutton Rd. roster totals 240.

Harold W. Tuttle of the H. W. Tuttle & Co. reported that current employment at his plant has reached 175, as compared with 115 in 1964, and that a new three-year contract with UAW-CIO Local 963 was recently signed. Mr. Tuttle expects sales and employment to increase about 10% in 1966.

Rumpf Truck Lines revealed a 25% increase in sales over the previous year, while Hayden Flour Mills enjoyed an 11% jump and anticipated another 20% in 1966.

Wilson Motor Sales noted that "1965 was a tremendous year." From Walt Rowley, Kroger manager, came: "Business very good for all of 1965. It should keep climbing for 1966." Vescio Country Market agreed.

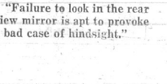
TECUMSEH SCHOOLS paid $1,039,811 in salaries with Supt. James McDowell pointing out, "The additional mill in revenue allocated (by county) plus additional state aid enabled Tecumseh schools to augment and improve their curriculum in almost all areas. General staff raises were also possible. Increased enrollment made necessary the use of two temporary classrooms."

Herrick Memorial Hospital administrator Orrie Gilbert said there will be an increase of $85,000 in salaries during 1966. For 1965, the figure was $612,000. Admissions totaled 3,492, patient days, 25,569; births, 374 and total expenses $840,000. The hospital's assets now stand at $1,350,000.



"Failure to look in the rear view mirror is apt to provoke a bad case of hindsight."

DESPITE A number of handicaps, notably the fact that they were unable to rehearse at the theater until 5 Wednesday afternoon, just before the first performance, the cast managed to hide their jitters, remember their lines and keep from tripping over each other in the backstage congestion.

A spirit of camaraderie prevailed through it all and everyone who had been a part of the show felt its effects.

This, and the knowledge that their efforts had resulted in a job well done, was their reward.

Behind the scenes were many deserving of special mention:

► Tom Morgan, who managed scenery and props.

► Mrs. James Rundell, who was in charge of costumes and fittings.

► Mrs. Tom Morgan, whose deft fingers applied makeup — including those "Moon Men" faces.

► Harold Underwood, who presided at the spotlight.

► Volunteers from the THS Varsity Club, who served as ushers and stage crew.

Accessories before the fact deserving of special "Thank You's" for long hours spent in preparation for the Follies, were Jack Lundi, publicity co-chairman, Dr. Robert Murray, talent chairman, Mrs. Dyke Helms, program chairman, Mrs. Walt Wonderly, ticket chairman and Mrs. Don Stoner, chairman of "Big Chief" contest.

Humorous Want Ads

An hilarious evening — with some serious moments — was enjoyed Jan. 24 as 52 members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club observed Newspaper Night.

Mabel Lockwood assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Zornow and Mrs. David Watson presented "Putting Out a Newspaper" as the theme for the program, following dinner in the Pythian Hall.

IN RESPONSE to roll call, members each gave a humorous classified ad, provoking much laughter.

Mrs. Watson told the story of the first newspaper, followed by Mrs. Wiley McCann telling "What Makes a Paper."

Mrs. Zornow read a poem pointing out gruesome headlines and emphasizing her topic with a display of headlines.

"Stand Up and Be Counted, You Squares" who dare to teach that honesty is the best policy without fear of reprisal. This was the theme of the editorial by Mrs. Robert King, Jr., in a more serious mood.

She spoke of the moral degeneration of the country concluding that "Squares" should be proud to stand up and be counted.

Marie Koernig presented an editorial on the humorous side and Mrs. Ben Hammack read a poem, "When the Paper Doesn't Come."

Mrs. Cecile Smith had charge of personals, Mrs. George French, health notes and Naomi Sallows, church notes.

Hazel Kruger read an essay on "husbands" and school notes were recognized by the 12 teachers attending, telling humorous incidents which have happened in their school rooms.

MISS LOCKWOOD concluded the program telling about the "kicks" in newspapering and displaying pictures of some years ago which included a number of deceased members.

Mrs. Frank Lasky, Mrs. Fred E. Burket, Mrs. Robert Osborne, Mrs. Chester Merritt were on the committee.

Two donations of $5 each were made to the Interlochen Fund and the Indian Scholarship Fund during the business session.

County Job Total Cracks Record High

Unemployment in Lenawee County dropped to an unprecedented low of 1.7%, as the year 1965 ended.

Clifford Rice, manager of the Adrain Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said claims for unemployment insurance ranged between a high of 882 during the first week of March to a low of 169 for the last week of November.

Previous unemployment high in recent years was 1961 when it hit 14%.

Unemployment Claims filed at the Adrian Office averaged 400 each week during the year.

PAYMENTS for the month of May, amounting to $17,446, were the lowest and October payments, totaling $104,421, were the highest.

The Adrian Office issued checks to Lenawee County unemployed workers totaling $502,956 during 1965.

In 1964 unemployment insurance payments amounted to $542,063.

DURING THE past year, 328 Lenawee County employers, excluding those of domestic help, called the Adrian MESC Office for workers and hired 2,730 applicants.

Nine hundred and sixty-six (966) of these workers were hired by 110 agricultural employers, most of which were for seasonal crop harvesting.

Included in the 1,763 non-agricultural jobs filled by the local office were 192 clerical positions and 1,287 factory jobs.

Manufacturing employment in the county increased by 1,500 during the past year to a total of 13,100.

Total employment of 28,600 at the end of 1965 set a Lenawee County all time high.

Slippery Roads Cause Mishaps

Rose Cubberly Weds Melbourne Partridge

MRS. MELBOURNE O. PARTRIDGE

Rose Marie Cubberly and Melbourne Owen Partridge were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at St. Elizabeth Church by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins.

The altar was decorated with white chysanthemums and flanked by beauty baskets filled with the same white blossoms. Satin bows marked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thelma Cubberly, 120½ W. Chicago Blvd. and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Austin Partridge of Carson Hwy., Tipton.

As the guests arrived they were seated by Douglas Aylesworth, Douglas Fairbanks and Fred Feight.

Mrs. Donald Johnson presented a prelude of nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Wallace B. Whiting.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Jerry Cole. She was wearing a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace with removable chapel train.

A Sabrina neckline and bouffant skirt with overskirt of lace over cascades of ruffles were outstanding features of her Angelo-created gown.

Four tiers of bridal illusion secured to a crown of net petals trimmed with sequins and crystals were worn by the bride.

She carried a delicate bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid and a pearl rosary placed on a white prayer book, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Allan Barrett, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Roger Partridge, another sister of the groom, and Mrs. Jerry Cole, sister-in-law of the bride.

Janelle Cole, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and Colleen Cole, another niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

The attendants wore floor-length dresses with burgundy velvet bodices and rose pink peau de soie skirts accented at the waistline with a satin cummerbund.

They wore a cluster of velvet roses and sequins with double wisp veils at the back on their heads.

They carried crescent arrangements of burgundy and pink sweetheart roses accented with moss green velvet tubing.

The flower girl was attired in white and carried a miniature bouquet, identical to those of the other attendants.

Matthew Barrett, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer.

Arnold Partridge served as best man for his brother and the other attendants were Roger Partridge, another brother of the groom, and Allan Barrett.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Warren greeted 300 guests attending the reception in the evening at the Odd Fellow Hall.

A four-tiered cake was served from a table flounced in pink satin and burgundy ribbon centered with an anniversary candle.

The bride, a 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School, is employed at Kerby's Restaurant.

Her husband is employed as a truck driver for Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. After a week-long trip in the southern states, they will live at 115 N. Union St. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Partridge were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at their home.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Surprise, surprise and it really was a surprise Sunday evening for the Rev. Paul Brantingham of the Friends Church when appointments began to take shape right before his eyes from, seemingly, out of nowhere.

A decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Clarence Randolph and numerous luscious Jellos had been hidden by a committee on the front porch of Mabel Lockwood, next door to the church, until all was in readiness following the Sunday evening service.

The amazed pastor was the recipient of a clever handmade card and piggy bank with funds to reimburse his wardrobe, all in observance of his birthday anniversary which had occurred the day before.

Mrs. Clark Pearson made the 12 x 18 inch card and her husband presented a gift during the service, attended by more than 150 persons.

Besides the Pearsons, Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Furgason and the Clarence Randolphs helped with the arrangements assisted by Mrs. Donald Baker, Mrs. Avery Pool, Mrs. Clifford McClure, Richard Mead who presided at the punch bowl and other teen agers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howell, Mr. and Mrs. William Shilland and Robert Shilland of Detroit, were in the city Wednesday evening to see the Jaycees Follies. The group are relatives of the John Howells.

Mrs. Dwight Helm's parents of Mason and parents of the John Lundis of Ashtabula, O., were weekend guests especially for the Jaycee Follies.

Scouts Will Sell

More than 5,000 Girl Scouts and Brownies from 300 troops in Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee Counties will begin to sell an expected 100,000 boxes of Girl Scout cookies after school on Feb. 4.

The annual Cookie Sale, the largest money raising project for the Girl Scouts, will continue until Feb. 12, when the last orders will be taken.

Delivery dates will be from Feb. 25 to March 14. All girls, who are selling cookies, will be identified by a special sticker and all neighborhoods, in which Girl Scouts are active, will be covered in the drive.

This year's target represents a 20% increase over last year in the Irish Hills Council area.

Five varieties of cookies are available from the Girl Scouts this year: shortbread, peanut butter, chocolate-vanilla, sherbet and mint.

The North Jackson Lions Club will assist in the Campaign by delivering the cookies to Girl Scouts who took orders.

There are 35 neighborhood captains, in the three-county area, who are in charge of the pre-order campaign.

Congregate for Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses more than 1,200 strong congregated in the Tecumseh High School this past week-end for their semi-annual cicuit assembly.

The program under the direction of Circuit Minister T. L. Eleas used speakers from Adrian, Milan, Ann Arbor, Dundee and Monroe.

Mr. Harry A. Fetzik, District Supervisor, set the theme for the convention Friday evening by addressing the assembled delegates on the subject, "Increasing Our Praise To Jehovah."

This was followed by a ministry school said to be typical of those conducted in Kingdom Halls throughout the world.

The service meeting following this featured animated demonstrations and a symposium of talks accenting the convention theme.

The advertised feature of the meet was the Sunday lecture by Fetzik, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?"

Said Fetzik, "Although sacred books such as the Koran of the Mohammedans and Vedas of the Hindus share with the Bible great age and are venerated by untold millions, the Bible alone stands out as unique in its teaching of a ressurection of the human dead.

"Resurrection," he continued, "is one of the most marvelous of hopes offered to believing persons and opens up the prospect of life as well as future reunion with loved ones now deceased."

To prove that a resurrection of the dead is certain, Fetzik pointed to many illustrations from the Bible. The most outstanding of these was the raising of Christ from the dead after three days in the tomb.

"Some question a resurrection," Fetzik said, "because of man's inability to accomplish it much less understand it."

He cited miracles which are common, everyday occurrences to refute these arguments. For instance he said, "The miracle of birth and that of genetic behavior is beyond man's power of control and is still accepted every day as reality."

The convention operated with 21 organizational departments including music, first aid, public relations, traffic and a cafeteria, which provided meals to the delegates at cost.

Convention officials expressed their pleasure in the fine cooperation received from school and city officials who made the excellent facilities available to them.

Tecumseh Rally Falters, Blissfield Wins, 78-71

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh played a catch-up brand of basketball Friday night, and it failed to come off as the Indians were edged at Blissfield, 78-71.

With less than three minutes remaining and trailing 69-67, the Indians found the lid on the bucket closed as shot after shot went in and out.

Blissfield, leading throughout the game, usually by four to six points, took advantage of Tecumseh's cold shooting to win by seven points.

All but two of Blissfield's last nine points were made at the free throw line.

The relapse in the final three minutes and the final five seconds of the first half cost Tecumseh the game.

WITH FIVE seconds remaining in the second quarter, Dave Gurica hit a goal and was fouled in the process. He added a third point. Jim Gibbons then grabbed the ball thrown in from under the basket and dropped it through, as the Royals raced from what would have been a three-point lead at the half to eight points.

Gibbons, 6'5" Royal center, topped all scorers with 33 points. Some termed it his best game of the season.

John Goodman paced the Tecumseh attack with 23 points in the best offensive display by an Indian this season.

Terry Alcock picked up 14 points and topped all rebounders with 23. Dean Hebb hit for 12.

FOUL TROUBLE plagued both clubs with Gordon Gibson leaving the game with nearly a full fourth quarter to play. The officials — who had a bad night — called 48 infractions during the game, but overlooked numerous other violations.

The victory gave Blissfield undisputed second place in the league and could tie with Flat Rock if the Indians win here Friday night.

Tecumseh stands an excellent chance to revenge its loss to the Royals when Blissfield loses the home court advantage and plays here Feb. 25.

Flat Rock Game Crucial for THS

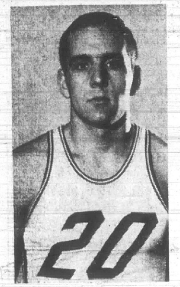
A do-or-die game is on tap here Friday night when the Tecumseh Indians tangle with Flat Rock, undefeated leader of the Huron League.

The Rams are two full games up on the Indians, and another loss by Tecumseh would just about drop the local club out of the race.

FR has been squeaking by in recent games, including an overtime affair with lowly Grosse Ile.

Tecumseh bowed in the final minutes in its first encounter with the Rams, but have improved enough to win here Friday and hand FR its first league defeat.

Tecumseh's hopes for a repeat championship hinges on a victory here, hopes that Blisfield will beat FR, and then an Indian win over the Royals when they come here Feb. 25.



SEES ACTION — Jim Lawson, 5'10" freshman at Northern Michigan University, has seen action on the Varsity squad this year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Lawson, 508 Cairns St., and graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1965. Jim has recorded fine defensive play in the Wildcats 7 and 2 season thus far and has a .250 record in the field goal column. Eleven games remain for the Wildcats with their next against the Duluth Branch of the University of Minnesota, Friday.

Easton Guests

Mr. and Mrs. William Perrin and family of Kalamazoo, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Easton. Linda Easton and Cindy Parker returned to Western Michigan University with the Perrins.

The Tecumseh Jr. High Basketball Indians downed Saline, 52-28, last week.

Top scorer for the night was Bob Pettit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Pettit, 8981 Tipton Hwy.

Bob scored 32 points from his 6' Center vantage point. The seventh grader tallied his highest score of the season on his first starting night.

Coach Ted Todd indicated that Bob, a straight A student, gained an interest in basketball early this year and has been training all season toward playing regularly.

9 Members, 2 Guests Attend Club's Party

Nine members and two guests of the Progress Extension Club enjoyed a "Come as You Are" party Monday night at the home of Mrs. Howard Kronberg.

Earlier in the month members had been called on unexpectedly and were required to wear the garb they were found in then to Monday's party.

The group voted to contribute to the Share-the-Loaf program which was borrowed from the Canadian Freedom from Hunger committee and adopted by CROP for use in Michigan .

A bake sale will be held at the Feb. 28 meeting at the home of Mrs. Lester Fogelsong.

Mrs. Melvin Purple won the mystery gift.

Mrs. Robert Wood assisted the hostess with the serving of refreshments.

Lee Villa Trailer Court Shows High Star Rating

VETERANS — Mr. and Mrs. Gus Moss are veterans in the administration of trailer courts having maintained a four-star trailer park near Brighton. Lee Villa is graced by their own expansion trailer, as complete and comfortable as any home.

By DICK CARVER

An increase in mobile living and ever-widening demand for new housing in areas adjacent to the Fisher Body and Stauffer Chemical plants has prompted construction of the Lee Villa Trailer Court.

Gus Moss and his wife own and operate Lee Villa. They are previous owners of a four-star court at Brighton and veterans of 16 years in the business.

The court, located just south of the Fisher Body Co. installation is a small city with every possible convenience provided.

All supply lines are pre-installed and fully underground.

Underground facilities include electrical (for electric heat if you wish), natural gas, oil, water and sewage.

Wide sidewalks border the equally-spacious streets and street lights illuminate the area.

EACH OF THE 115 units is 12 x 54 feet with an additional 7 x 24 patio. The entire area has a single access and thus cuts down on "through" traffic.

Trailer courts are classified according to the "star" system. The Lee Villa Court may well, when completed, be in the top class with a Five Star rating. It's facilities challenge anything now in Michigan.

The entire operation approches a quarter million dollars with an adjacent water sewage disposal plant built specifically for the court.

Mr. Moss has constructed and is now completing a wash building that will double as indoor recreation during the winter. Summer will find a play area well away from highways for safe child recreation.

For new mobile living, Tecumseh is right up to par.

ALL UNDERGROUND — Gus Moss indicates one of the 115 individual outlets for electrical supply to the trailers. Everything is supplied underground, leaving the air free of poles and wires.

THE
FROM
GIL BURSLEY

How to best serve the 230,000 Michigan citizens residing in my state senate district is a constant challenge.

The area is large.

People write me great numbers of letters.

Aware of our limitations, responsible legislators in both parties are constantly seeking ways and means to better serve their constituents.

My personal goal is to see that every letter gets answered and that periodic newsletters reach all citizens who have at any time written me.

One theory upon which I have always operated is that the better informed a legislator is the better able he is to vote intelligently upon legislation and to respond helpfully to citizen inquiries.

Two years ago while in the House of Representatives I joined with Representatives Harry DeMaso, a Republican and Representatives Joe Snyder and E. D. O'Brien, Democrats, to form a Bipartisan Breakfast Club or as some of us called it the Friendship Club.

We had breakfast meetings every Thursday morning in downtown Lansing.

We would have as our guest a top-level department director or administrator.

After eating we would have half to three-quarters of an hour of off-the-record discussion on the operation and problems of the particular department.

Several of us in the Senate are now attempting a similar program. We meet for a "dutch treat," supper at 6 p.m. Mondays and are able to be in our seats for the start of the session at 8 p.m.

Last week we had as our guest Bernard Houston, director of Social Welfare and this week Gus Harrison who has long been responsible for the State prisons.

I have limited supply of leaflets from Mr. Houston on various programs, available on a first-come, first-served basis to those writing to me at the State Capitol.

Leaflets cover "Old Age Assistance", "Protective Services in Michigan", "Aid to the Disabled", "Aid to the Blind", "Aid to Dependent Children", 'Medical Assistance for the Aged', and "Family Planning".

School Study Group Holding Special Session

A special meeting of the Lenawee County School Reorganization Study Committee has been called to discuss the proposed plan as submitted by the 18 member committee.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 2, at 8 p.m. in the drain commissioner's conference room of the County Office Building.

Dr. Roland Strolle and Mrs. Barbara Dumouchelle, members of the State Reorganization Committee will be present.

Clara Waldron Describes Past to Monday Club

The fragrance of homemade bread, molasses cookies, the cookie crock, the warmth of a coal range, hungry children visiting grandmother all lived again as Clara Waldron so ably took the Tecumseh Monday Club back through the years to her grandmother's farm home.

This was the program January 24, that so appropriately followed the delightful dinner of "Grandmother's Dishes" brought by the members and served to the club.

Each member had prepared her favorite dish from a recipe handed down from a grandmother.

Everything from homemade grape juice, fresh breads, hot biscuits, rare meat dishes, unique salads, vegetables so unusual that they were hard to identify to the final and most varied item of the menu, the desserts, were a delightful change from the meals that are served today.

Following the dinner and the talk, the members spent time discussing the recipes and aided one another in the meaning of some of the ingredients listed.

Nostalgia pervaded the entire room as members reminisced their childhood, recalling everything from gooseberry jam to making soap in a black iron pot.

Mrs. Clarence Brock was in charge of the program and she and her committee were hostesses.

Mary McWilliams, president, announced the next meeting when the group will hear Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Juvenile Division of the Probate Court, Feb. 7.

Health Museum Visiting Adrian

The public is cordially invited to visit the "Health-Museum" to see the story of Michigan Medicine when the unique traveling exhibit visits here at the Adrian Plaza, West Maumee (US 223) in Adrian, on Jan. 24-28.

The Michigan State Medical Society Health-Museum will tell local adults and children about the exciting Michigan developments in medical research and health care.

The attractive mobil unit — the first of its kind in the nation —also will seek to interest young people in careers in the health field.

The unit is brought here by the Lenawee County Medical Society and its auxiliary.

The Health-Museum, a handsome 12 x 50 foot trailer, describes the story of Michigan medicine from the wooden stethoscope for 100 years ago to the gleaming health and lung machines of today.

The slogan, "A Century of Service in Michigan Medicine" is developed by colorful, authentic displays that begin with the work of Doctor William Beaumond at Mackinac Island, into the Civil War period, and on through the turn of the century to date.

HELPING TO portray Michigan's contributions to medical advances during the century are special exhibits prepared by the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Michigan State University, The State Department of Health, The Michigan Health Council, and the major Michigan pharmaceutical companies.

One of the popular, educational exhibits was provided by the American Medical Association. It is the transparent human figure with a panel of buttons keyed to various organs and muscles which light up as the appropriate button is pressed.

Michigan contributions during the decades include the modern heart-lung machine used in open-heart surgery and developed by Michigan physicians at Harper Hospital with General Motors laboratories.

Photographs show the first electro-cardiograph developed in Michigan in the 1930's. Other exhibits tell about the latest in the care and treatment of stroke, hemophilia, goiter, diabetes and other illnesses.

Bill Peterson Shawnee Square Special Caller

Bill Peterson of Detroit will call for the Fifth Saturday special square dance of the Shawnee Squares, Jan. 29.

LEADS PROGRAM — John Grew of Halifax, Nova Scotia, will be the featured organist in a Mid-winter Recital featuring the von Beckerath organ at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Tecumseh.

College Books Series

The Roger Wagner Chorale and Orchestra has been signed as the major attraction for the 1966-1967 Adrian College Celebrity Series.

The Chorale, described by Leopold Stokowsky as, "second to none in the world", and by Eugene Ormandy as, "the finest chorus I have ever conducted", will come to Adrian Saturday, Oct. 22.

The complete series announced by the college will feature three musical programs, one dramatic program and a prominent speaker.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, one of America's best known religious leaders and leading advocate of the modern movement to bring religion and psychiatry together, will be the lone featured speaker. Eighteen million copies of his books have been sold.

MUSICAL PROGRAMS to be presented in addition to the Wagner Chorale will feature the Russian pianist, Vladimir Krainev, and the Metropolitan Opera's six-foot bass, Jerome Hines.

The 20-year-old Krainev at 17 was the top money-winner in the Leeds International Piano Contest. This will mark his first American Tour. Hines is the first American basso in four decades to win international acclaim in the great bass roles in the Metropolitan Opera.

Maurice Evans, of both the stage and screen and noted as one of the world's great dramatic and Shakespearean actors, will be one of only seven scheduled during the 1966-1967 theatre season.

TWENTY-THREE community citizens, from Jan. 24 to Feb. 5, will conduct a season ticket sale in connection with the series.

Mrs. Ray Sommers of Tecumseh is the area sales representative.

This marks the fourth year of the college series, the past three of which have been complete sellouts in season ticket sales. Annually, 800 tickets are made available to the community and 400 are reserved for college students. Programs are presented between Oct., 1966, and April, 1967.

Prepare Now for Festival

Now is the time for music students, teachers and music club presidents and counselors to prepare for the Junior Music Festival.

The Junior Division of the National Federation of Music Clubs will again sponsor Junior Music Festivals throughout the United States.

These Festivals are designed for both the average music student and for the exceptionally talented performer.

Festival entrants do not compete with one another but rather, each is rated on his own merit.

MICHIGAN's South - Central District Festival will take place Saturday, March 26, in the auditorium of the Music Building at Michigan State University.

To be eligible for entry, a student must be not more than 18 years of age, an active member of a Junior Music Club, or become a junior special member of the Federation.

Participants may enter solo events or in one or more of such categories as piano, intrumental, dance, voice composition and musicianship.

Within these divisions are many events in which a student may enter, such as piano ensemble, organ, accordian, hymn-playing, folk-song singing, playing of recorders, guitar and other instrumental divisions from the harp to double bass.

For further details, music teachers and Junior Club presidents and counselors are invited to write for the Junior Festival Bulletin and the new application blanks to Mrs. Frederick MacDonald, 2016 West Maple Street, Lansing, or to Mrs. C. T. Liebum, 1212 Wood Street, Lansing.

Deadline for the return of applications is March 1.

Jim Wilbar Is Nominated for Academy

A Tecumseh High School senior, Jim Wilbar, has been nominated for appointment to the Air Force Academy by Congressman Wes Vivian.

Wilbar will compete with five other men of the Second Congressional District for the final appointment.

Each of the candidates will be given a series of tests, including the National College Board Examination. Their records will be reviewed and evaluated by admissions personnel at the Academy.

Those who meet Air Force standards will be ranked in order of performance and the top-ranking man will be awarded the principal appointment by Congressman Vivian.

The remaining qualified men will receive alternate appointments. In the event the principal appointee later declines appointment, the alternates, in order of rank, will be offered the appointment.

Persons who wish to be considered for nomination to classes entering the Air Force Academy in 1967 should contact Congressman Vivian at the U. S. House of Representatives in Washington.

Should Register Social Security Even Though 65

Anyone who is 65 years of age should sign up for social security even if they continue to work, according to Paul J. Hughes, Jackson Social Security District Manager.

This will entitle them to hospital care and give them the opportunity to enroll for insurance to help pay doctor's bills under Medicare. Hughes explained that even if they cannot receive a regular social security monthly payment at this time they will receive Medicare protection when it starts in July, but only fi they enroll before March 31.

If a person who reached age 65 before Jan. 1, does not sign up by March 31 he will not have another chance to enroll for this medical insurance until 1967 and his protection cannot start before 1968.

Workers who enroll but continue to work and have earnings so high that regular social security cannot be paid will be entitled to Medicare benefits.

Hughes stated that there is no disadvantage to signing up for social security before retirement if a worker is 65. When earnings after enrollment are high enough to increase the amount of his social security check the monthly benefit amount will be automatically refigured. Any increase will be paid to him when he retires.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Boysville's Varsity cagers have posted a 7-1 league record preceding their mid-season clashes with Ida and Adrian Catholic Central.

Whiteford's Bobcats fell 70-48, to Boysville's River Raisin league-leading defense, marking Boysville's fourth triumph in a five-game home stand.

Poor Boysville shooting and rebounding made way for the many turnovers in the early minutes of the second quarter. Boysville later recovered the momentum of the first quarter, outpointing the Bobcats seventeen to fifteen, and securing a 36-27 half-time lead.

Sam Kirkland opened the third quarter with three consecutive baskets, bringing his total of the night to eighteen. Boysville staged a 22 point onslaught that quarter, while holding Whiteford to eight.

Whiteford matched baskets with Boysville in the final quarter, and thus the Knights made it five straight.

Jim Cowan and Sam Kirkland took the scoring honors for the night, leading all scorers, with twenty and eighteen respectively.

The Knights connected with thirty of seventy-six field goal attempts, and added ten points more from the free throw line. They committed six personal fouls, their lowest for the season.

New to Boysville's transportation fleet is a 1966 Plymouth Belvedere II station wagon.

The 318-cubic inch V8 has carried the Varsity to scrimmages in Tecumseh and has already earned the nickname of "Little Red Wagon."

Boysville's student body leaves for its semester vacation tomorrow afternoon. The weekend vacation ends on Sunday at 8 p.m.

Helen Barth is Featured Solo Artist

Burned Cottage Comes Under Fire

A communication from Glen Leu, a Sand Lake cottage owner, was read at the meeting of the Franklin Township Board, Jan. 4.

Mr. Leu stated that a cottage next to his had been partially burned down several years ago and has not yet been demolished.

Board members decided the cottage was in violation of the zoning code and moved to turn the matter over to the township attorney for disposition.

The building inspector reported a collection of $642.50 for permits on new homes during 1965 with a total valuation of $246,775.

He also reported 30 trailer permits were issued at a total revenue of $150.

A resolution was adopted that was recommended by the state boating control commission — to restrict speed boat usage on Round Lake.

The building committee of Franklin Township reported that the town hall is moving to completion at a satisfactory pace.

India Discussed at Friends Church

"India" was the theme when members of the Ladies Missionary Society of the Tecumseh Friends Church met Jan. 18 at the church.

Ralph Comfort narrated the movies he made on a trip around the world in 1956.

At that time Ralph was treasurer of the Mission Board of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends, and he spent considerable time on the mission stations sponsored by that board.

Providing a general background of Indian life, the films gave a cross-section of occupations, living conditions, wildlife and mission work.

One especially interesting scene was that of Mr. Comfort ascending an elephant preparatory to a ride.

Preceding the program the ladies rolled bandages, cut quilt blocks and worked on baby layettes. Much of this work will be sent for distribution to the National Association of Evangelicals.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Russell Johnston and Mrs. Benjamin Ross.

The next meeting will be February 15 with Mrs. Dale Neff speaking on "Africa."

Transporting audiences to Broadway and Havana are just two of the challenges facing Mike Brose, technical director of the Tecumseh Players' musical production, "Guys and Dolls."

It opens at the Tecumseh Community Center Feb. 16.

Mike has to his credits scene designing at Massachusetts Institute of Technology for both the annual musical comedy and little theatre Drama Shop.

He was technical director of the Tecumseh Players' "Solid Gold Cadillac," and did some of the scene design for last year's production of "The Music Man."

As set designer, Mike has the job of producing six different sets for the 17 scenes in "Guys and Dolls". This involves scale drawings, water color sketches to plan the color schemes and finally the actual construction.

These tasks, however, are only part of his job as technical director. Mike is also in charge of the costume, properties, lights and make-up committees.

It's his duty to dovetail their group efforts into one smooth operation. He has capable assistants in each of these areas.

MRS. BILL FROWNFELDER, the Edith Head of the costume department, is in the midst of outfitting 45 people for their parts in "Guys and Dolls."

Peg, who did such an outstanding job as Edith Lambert in "Never Too Late," has now focused her energies behind stage and is presently forming her crew.

Helping her in the sewing department are Mrs. Preston Caswell, Mrs. Richard Hammel, Iva Caswell, Mrs. James Mull and Mrs. Joseph Rohweder.

According to Peg, there are still some items needed to complete the costuming. She is sending out an SOS for men's suits styled in the late 40's and early 50's, and men's shoes and hats from the period.

Also needed are seven long cigarette holders, preferably gold colored. If you can help, please call 423-4804.

PROPERTIES are in the hands of Judy Sherwood, who had her first taste of little theatre as prop girl for "Never Too Late" and liked the duties well enough to return.

Judy is a first grade teacher at Tecumseh Acres Elementary School.

Roger Myers, an electronics engineer at Tecumseh Products, is in charge of lights, special effects and sound. He'll draw on his experience in lighting and sound from other Tecumseh Players' shows.

The make-up committee consists of Mrs. James Vanzo, Mrs. David Schoonover, and Pat Squires.

Stage manager and set chief, Preston Caswell, who will work closely with Mr. Brose in the actual construction of the sets can claim experience in all phases of little theatre work.

"Cas" has been seen on stage in "The Music Man" and behind stage as technical director in the past. He and his crew have the responsibility of transforming Mr. Brose's set design plans into the sturdy and colorful scenes.

TICKETS for "Guys and Dolls" will go on sale Jan. 29. All seats are reserved. Reservations can be made by calling 423-4281.

Tickets will be available at Wright's Drug Store, Flander's Music Store and the Colonial House of Beauty.

Students may take advantage of reduced rates to see the dress rehearsal on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Student tickets for the dress rehearsal will be sold at the door for $1.

VOICE of THE HERALD

We Disagree with Decision

Who's setting a precedent?

As far as being an active judicial body for Council, last week's public hearing by the Board of Appeals could well be its last.

The decision — a flat rejection of Tecumseh Corrugated Box's plans for expansion — clearly indicates the futility for anyone, or any organization, to seek a favorable decision from the board.

Precedent was one of three reasons — and the only sound reason — for denying Box officers permission to expand their plant for its production requirements.

Is precedent a sound reason for rejection? If it is, then the Board established a precedent itself — by admitting that approval in turn would be setting up a precedent for future hearings.

In effect, the Board went on record for all future public hearings. It can't approve, for if it does, it will be setting a precedent.

This is wrong, just as wrong as the Board's decision to reject Tecumseh Corrugated Box.

Since the only recourse for a rejection is to Circuit Court, the stature of both the Planning Commission and the Board of Appeals has been enhanced.

Both organizations now have more power and authority than originally intended, we hope. Theoretically, the Planning Commission can say no and refer a party to the Board of Appeals for possible relief.

Last week's decision removed any doubt that the Board can grant relief or a favorable decision because of setting a precedent.

In retrospect, a couple of years ago when Council discussed and appointed a Board of Appeals, councilmen hoped to take the pressure and any influence off their backs. In reality, it set up a board to say "no" for Council.

Council is an elective body, one chosen by the voters to run city affairs. It can't run our affairs if another board is doing its work.

No appointive board, such as the Board of Appeals, should have the right to say yes or no for our Council. We do not consider the Board of Appeals in the same light we view our Supreme Court.

We should have either a Board of Appeals willing to view a case individually and on its own merits, or a Council ready to accept its responsibilities.

DR. WALTER JUDD, SPEAKER AT TEACHERS' INSTITUTE FRIDAY

Dr. Judd To Speak

One of the nation's top authorities on Asia, Dr. Walter Judd, will speak at the Lenawee County Teachers' Institute in Adrian High School Friday.

A former Congressman who spent 10 years in China as a missionary, Dr. Judd is one of the relatively few Americans who can speak with personal knowledge of the sinister significance of what is happening in Asia and the Pacific.

When he talks about Communism it is from his personal experience of having worked in areas under its control as far back at 1930.

Dr. Judd served 10 terms (1943-1962) as a member of Congress from Minnesota. He is a nationally recognized authority on United States foreign policy.

As a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs for 16 years, he played an important role in establishing our relief, recovery, re-armament and economic development programs abroad.

He was a Delegate to General Assembly of the United Nations in 1957, and to the World Health Organization Assembly in 1950 and 1958. He helped organize the Council of Europe and was a delegate to the First Consultative Assembly at Strasbourg in 1951.

THE MORNING session of the Institute opens at 8:45 with coffee and donuts, followed at 9:15 with a concert by the Blissfield High School band, a vocational survey, report and announcements.

Dr. Judd speaks at 10:30.

A variety of group meetings are on the afternoon agenda, including one in elementary reading, which will be chaired by Wayne Kaiser, principal of Tecumseh Acres School.

Another, teaching techniques in English, has as its chairman Edgar Ericsson of Britton-Macon High School.

John Pobuda of Tecumseh High will moderate a panel in guidance and counseling.

Mr. Kaiser served on this year's Institute planning committee as did Richard Wegner, Clinton superintendent.

Launch 'Michigan Mother' Search

Did you know that the search for the Michigan State Mother has begun?

Mrs. Charles F. Kuhn, Michigan State Chairman of the American Mother's Committee, Inc., has announced the launching of the search for the 1966 Mother of Michigan.

The primary objective of the American Mother's Committee, Inc. is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the American home.

The qualifications for the American Mother are:

► That she be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children.

► That she be an active member of a religious body.

► That she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers; courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and a homemaking ability.

► That she exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule.

► That she have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and that she be active in service for public benefit.

► That she be qualified to represent the Mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role as the National Mother.

Other qualifying conditions require that the youngest child should not be less than 15 years of age since achievement, conforming with qualification No. 1, cannot be judged at an earlier age; also, no divorced mother may qualify.

The chosen State Mother will be especially honored at a luncheon sponsored by Northland Center Chamber of Commerce. Later she will be sent to New York by Northland Center to be considered with the State Mothers selected by all the other states for the honor of being the American Mother.

Anyone may send in the name of a candidate if they have the recommendation by a recognized organization.

Nomination blanks are obtainable from:

Mrs. Charles F. Kuhn
Post Office Box 322
Pontiac, Michigan

Nominations must be returned by March 1, 1966.

Herrick Hospital Auxiliary Cooks Compile A Book

To comemorate the 25th anniversary of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, members are compiling a cook book to be placed on sale at the salad luncheon in March.

Mrs. Neville Hart, president, has sent letters to all members asking for favorite recipes and requesting that they be returned with a week so that the project may be completed on time.

The books will have a picture of the hospital on the cover. They are plastic bound so they lay open when in use and the covers may be kept clean with a damp cloth.

They contain 250 recipes in the different food categories, plus charts and information on ways to use leftovers, how to carve, time tables for meat cookery, quantity recipes for 100 people, suggestions on what to have for dinner, substitute ingredients and much more.

"There's all the basic cooking information one could wish for and will have a clever thumb index for quick reference," said Mrs. Hart.

The price of the book will be $2 and those who would like one may contact a member of the auxiliary or call Mrs. Neville Hart, 423-2354 and a copy will be reserved for you.

Being compiled with recipes of all the members the book will have dishes representing various nationalities.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

We have sidewalks now but — the elementary school students still walk in the road.

The Tecumseh Acres School road, Shady Lane, is made hazardous by the unthinking children.

For many years parents fought for and the now teenagers wished for sidewalks. As a teenager, I have experienced the nervous jitters as I have driven down Shady Lane at noon and at 3 p.m.

If one reminds the youngsters to walk on the sidewalk they yell at you and tell you "it's none of your business."

I, for one, would like to drive down Shady Lane without having to keep my foot on the brake and being constantly afraid of hitting one of the children in the road.

Please parents of Tecumseh Acres students, protect your children, make them walk on the sidewalk; it's for their own safety!

Barbara Wood,
905 Shady Lane

Redskins Win

BY ED VOGEL

CLINTON — With every member of the team scoring, the Clinton Redskins trounced the Britton-Macon Tories 82-59 last Friday. Clinton jumped off to an 8-0 lead and increased the difference to 16 at 32-16 after one quarter.

Scoring at a fast pace, Jerry Bellmore counted 20 points in the first 10 minutes before Coach Dick Content gave him a rest.

Jerry was aided by Butch Hoelzer and Hugh Miller who passed off to him at many instances.

Though Britton was hindered because Clinton is Class C and not Class D like themeselves, the Tories outhustled and outplayed the Redskins during the third quarter. They narrowed the margin to 11, at 55-44, before Clinton could come alive.

An all-reserve Redskin line-up played the fourth quarter, and increased the Clinton lead to 76-57 before Tory Coach Sam Hamilton pulled out his starters.

As play became sloppy, the Redskin reserves kept building their margin, with only Don Steffens out of the scoring parade.

Both Clinton fans and basketballers shouted, "Pass to Steffens," as the clock showed only seconds left. To the joy of everyone, with one second left, Don scored on a "lay-up."

Sam Sparks paced the reserves during the final quarter by connecting on five baskets.

Big Sophomore Butch Hoelzer and most of the other Clinton starters were held below their season scoring averages, but played only little more than half the game.

Jerry Bellmore paced both teams with 23 points, while Britton's Ray Vershum added 20.

The Redskins now stand 7-3 for the year, with a 5-1 record in the Lakeland C Conference. Britton, experiencing their second straight losing season after their two fabulous state championships, has a 3-7 record for the season.

Steal Saves Jayvee Win

CLINTON — A clutch interception by Clinton guard Clarence "Jake" Schwab with only 30 seconds remaining in the game saved the Redskin Junior Varsity as they came from behind to squeak past the Britton-Macon JV's 59-57.

The Tories led 57-56 when Jake grabbed off a stray Britton inbound pass and gunned in the winning basket. Torie fans were still optimistic as their team brought the ball down the court for a final shot, but the Redskins' Jim Schuler pulled down the rebound of their final attempt.

Jim was fouled and hit on the last Clinton point to secure the victory.

Superior height aided Britton as they jumped off to a quick 15-9 first quarter lead, but the scrappy Clinton cagers, paced by Doug Brown, had moved to a 34-27 halftime edge.

The little Redskins looked like they were going to run away with the game as they soon held a 43-33 margin, but the Tories rallied to hold the edge after three quarters 49-48.

This set the stage for the final minutes, as the lead changed hands with every tally.

Doug Brown, scoring most of his points in the first three quarters, paced the squad with 17 tallies. Jim Henry of the Tories matched this total as they tied for game scoring honors. Jim Schuler's 13 points and Mel Pardee's 11 also helped the Clinton team to victory. The Junior Redskins now stand 7-3 for the season.

Principal Explains Reading Program at PTA Gathering

CLINTON — The Elementary Principal, Donald Quick, described a Reading Improvement Program which will be inaugurated in the Clinton Elementary School this semester, for the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, Monday night.

The program, financed by the federal aid grant of $7,150, was considered the most immediately important area for improvement by a committee including both faculty and administration members.

Mr. Quick participated in the Reading Institute held in California last summer and consequently is especially well-trained to develop such a program for the Clinton school.

A Reading Methods committee will be set up to establish the following objectives:

► Study and to evaluate the present reading program.

► Study the various approved techniques of remedial reading.

► Evaluate textbooks and material used in the school.

► Consider a better use of supplementary books in the home and in the library.

► Improve the language arts; writing, speaking and listening.

► Develop a means to enrich the reading program for the high achievers with improved book lists.

► Provide guidelines for story telling.

► Aid parents with follow-through helps to assist their children.

► Study improved use of library and audio-visual aids.

MR. QUICK then demonstrated, with the use of a screen, some of the most recent innovations in the teaching of reading including the words and color method; ITA, the Initial Teaching Alphabet and Programmed Reading.

No decision has been reached about the methods to be used here. He stressed the fact that each child's ability to read is an individual matter, thus each must be guided individually.

"Children should not be pressured to learn to read," he concluded.

Secondary Principal, Richard Steudle, explained the efforts administration is making to correct the sanitary conditions in the locker and shower rooms.

Working with the suggestions of the County Sanitation Engineer, Clifford Lantz, considerable improvements have been made.

He suggested ways in which parents can be of assistance in this matter, by weekly laundering of gym clothes; insistance on good health habits, and by providing shower clogs for use in the shower rooms.

SUPERINTENDENT, Richard Wegner again invited parents to call administrators at the school whenever they have a question or concern about the school.

"If we don't know about it, we can't do anything about it," Mr. Steudel concluded.

Karen Osterburg's Dramatic Class had on display in the hall an unusual collection of miniature stage settings.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

CAREFUL PREMIX HANDLING is important if you do your own feed grinding and mixing. Covers on the mixer must be tightly in place and all pipes secure or ingredient dust losses will be high. When drugs to control disease are being used, clean the mixer carefully before using it to prevent contamination. If you can, add the premix after grinding. If run through the grinder, temperature increases from the grinding process may cause deterioration. Add the premix through a concentrate hopper.

PUTTING DUAL WHEELS on your tractor before late winter manure hauling or early spring field work begins is often recommended. Duals will increase flotation on soft soil and reduce the severity of soil compaction by spreading the tractor's weight over more square inches of soil. Their additional weight will give you a little extra traction, too. Good used tires can be used even though they may be another size if the proper kit is ordered from the manufacturer.

ORDER SEED CORN now if you plan on planting one of the most popular varieties. Figure the single crosses, early varieties, and those that do best in heavy populations will be in greatest demand this season. Hybrids resistant to maize dwarf mosaic and rootworms will likely be popular, too. To find the hybrid most suitable to your farm, it's a good idea to test plant several varieties on small plots along with your normal plantings.

CHECK INSURANCE POLICIES to make sure they cover all your assets. New buildings, grain bins and machinery may not be covered. If your present policy does not cover borrowed or leased equipment, it may require a separate endorsement or rider.

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

Thru My Window

COMPANY FOR BREAKFAST

Exactly when it all started I am not sure, but suddenly one morning Ida and I realized that for quite a while we had been having company at about the same time every morning.

We have since tried to be a bit more alert as to what is happening outside and fortunately the breakfast free-loaders have continued to come.

Three squirrels, fat from over-indulging their appetites for corn, line up — one in the corn-tree, one on the feeder close to the window and one at the ear of corn on the fence.

Two of the squirrels are prompt, but the third is a laggard and often late. Of course I can sympathize with him because I too have trouble getting around in the morning — those last few winks after the alarm goes are so precious, but Marda, you are talking about squirrels, remember?

O.K. — sometimes No. 3 is so late in showing up that we have actually started worrying, has something happened to him? He always gets himself around eventually though and we breathe deep sighs of relief.

COMING IN late however presents certain problems, not the least of which is being forced to contend with leftovers.

If all the feeding tables are "set" there is no difficulty, but often happens that the corn supply on either the feeder or the fence is low and this means trouble. Trouble for the squirrels, but fun for us.

As No. 3 decides which of his two friends will be the easiest to dislodge, they for some reason, never seem the least bit concerned. Actually they almost ignore the late comer and are quite taken by surprise when he suddenly tries to invade their breakfasting spot.

THE FENCE is apparently the easiest to attack, the corn tree is next with the most formidable being the feeding tray up by the window.

The chase is fun to watch because the action is fast and furious. It is a chain reaction type thing where one squirrel challenges another and the loser of this encounter races over to try his luck with the third party. A regular cycle evolves with of course on one really winning.

One of the nice things about all this chasing is that it is done almost in the spirit of play. There are no serious fights and seldom does anyone go away mad.

When they have all had enough exercise, peace settles in and we look out on the now tranquil scene of one squirrel on either the fence or feeder, one in the corn tree and one sitting on the ground beneath the corn tree satisfying himself with leftovers.

WOULD WE ever be guilty of deliberately shortchanging the squirrels, leaving one breakfast table empty, just to provoke something? Why, of course not!

The past few days have found our original trio of squirrels enlarged by two. Five squirrels — wow. Ida saw them all playing beneath the corn tree and that was about as much squirrel action as she had ever seen.

Well, just imagine five squirrels running, jumping and bumping into each other — they were never far apart and Ida said they looked just like puppies playing.

And after all these years of squirrel watching, we saw a first the other day. Two squirrels shared the corn tree!

We could hardly believe our eyes, such a thing has never happened before — never, never, never.

The first squirrel was in the top of the tree working on an ear of corn and as the second started his climb, you have never seen such a display of care and caution.

HIS GOAL was the lowest ear of corn and upon reaching it, he settled himself into position and we had two squirrels in the corn tree.

Once in a while, the top squirrel would make a quick move and the other jumped as if for dear life, but there was never any real trouble. Soon everything settled back down and they would both be eating together again.

So it is that lately we have had good squirrel watching days, most of which start off with company for breakfast.

COLUMNIST RELAXES — Reading her favorite weekly and wearing her zooty newspaper pajamas, Marda Gene Duncan relaxes before her picture window overlooking Evans Creek. The feeder, which is a scant four feet from the window, has been attracting a set of squirrels in recent weeks, as Marda tells about in her column this week. Miss Duncan has been doing her Herald column since Jan. 30, 1958, with a vast following, including Jim Murray, of the Los Angeles Times, a syndicated writer, who appears in many dailies, including the Friendly Free Press. Mr. Murray once devoted an entire piece to Marda Gene.

Linda Hemphill, Thomas Counts Are Married

Six seven-branch candelabra filled with lighted tapers and fronted with smilax and stephanotis outlined the altar of the Presbyterian church Jan. 15 for the wedding of Linda Darlene Hemphill and Thomas Howard Counts.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Estill Hemphill of Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard Counts of rural Brooklyn.

The Rev. Alfred Sheley of the Church of God performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Fred Schober of Britton was the organist and accompanied Edward Braden and Barbara Meyers who sang.

The bride on the arm of her father approached the altar in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with scalloped neck and hem lines.

Large French folds formed the chapel train on the A-line gown studded with rhinestones.

Her shoulder length four tiered veil was secured to a pearl tiara.

She carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Sylvia Upton was the maid of honor in a floor length gown in three shades of blue. She wore a blue bow in her hair with circular veil and carried blue orchid iris and blue and white carnations.

Anita Owens of Covington, Ky., cousin of the bride and Sharlene Roe were the bridesmaids and Laverna Hemphill, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

All wore gowns designed with red velvet bodices and white brocade skirts with lace inlays set with rhinestones at the waists. They wore red velvet bows on their heads with nose veils attached and carried red carnations.

Lee Ann Hemphill, miniature bride dressed in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace, is a cousin of the bride.

She carried miniature red and white rosebuds to match the bride's bouquet.

Annette Sessoms, dressed in blue and carrying blue carnations, was the flower girl.

David Hemphill, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Joseph Hemphill, brother of the bride, was the best man and the 150 guests were seated by Butch Counts, brother of groom and James and Rickie Hemphill, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held in Fellowship Center where the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations and lily of the valley flanked by lighted red tapers.

Betty Wallace served cake from the white satin covered table trimmed with red satin bows at the corner.

Others assisting with the serving were Phyllis Brininstool, Alice LoPez, Sue Hicks, Sharon Meyers, Dorena Trombley and Alice Burns.

Mrs. Joyce McNeil and Mrs. Zanda Owens were the hostesses.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ridener, Mrs. J. W. Owens of Covington, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hemphill of Belleville and Mrs. Ernest Grant of Detroit.

The bride attended Tecumseh High School and her husband is a graduate of Onsted High School and is employed at American Chain and Cable Co., Adrian.

They will reside at 214 Sarah St., Adrian.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the groom's parents.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Oh, boy, did we get clobbered by irate readers. And this was supposed to be a week of reveling in results of the annual state newspaper contest.

Well, it seems that in this space only a few weeks back I wrote how much fun editors have when readers write their opinions.

Quoting from Dec. 30 Long & Short: "Believe it or not, editors especially like missiles which figuratively kick them in the shins and punch out a few front teeth."

After reading this week's correspondence, Jim Lincoln and I must be deliriously happy — toothless maybe, but gay of heart in the knowledge that our opinions are worth discussing (or should the word be cussing?)

In "Our Readers Write" column on page three, you'll find a trio of blasts from three highly-respected persons. We are gently moved by their reasoning, but not enough to reverse our field. (See editorial on same page.)

For the moment, sidestepping the actual issue at hand, I have begun to wonder if maybe the Council should consider amending the extreme powers given to the Board of Appeals.

BOARD CHAIRMAN Don Brazee, in a nice chat we had Monday as he hand-carried his message to us, explained that although Council-appointed, the appeals group has the final say.

Council is powerless to alter any decisions. Protesting citizens, if wishing to fight further, must go to Circuit Court.

Maybe this is the proper route, but I question it.

Councilmen, being the elected representatives of the community, should have the final right of agreement or dissent. This is the case, in the Planning Commission, which makes recommendations only. Councilmen approve, amend or say "No."

Another of our letter-writers, Jim Beardsley, city attorney, seems to imply that our Master Plan is followed to the Nth degree.

For the most part, it is.

HOWEVER, there have been alterations, which Council has OKed.

Like last year's complete rezoning of W. Chicago Blvd., where business establishments were all violating the Master Plan.

And if memory serves, there was a sewer line, built by the city, through Raisin Township without permission.

At the time, we all agreed (The Herald included and we still do), that this was the proper way to go.

Fisher Body was in need and the city responded — the statutes not-withstanding.

But the whole point now, seems: should Council go on without a portion of its power and responsibilities, which have been given away to the Board of Appeals?

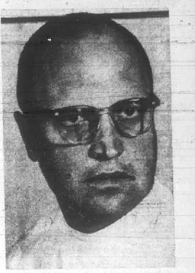
THEY PLAYED KEY ROLES — Back shop gang of The Herald, from left, Bill Schooley, Lonal Bishop, Don Blesing and Marv Leismer, played a major part in The Herald's 1965 contest successes, seven citations, more than any other weekly in Michigan. Technical skills of this mechanical foursome translated front office ideas into realities.

Bill Holmes Buys Store



WILLIAM M. HOLMES

Final negotiations were completed last week for the sale of Hodges Drug Store to William M. Holmes, Registered Pharmacist, who officially took over the pharmacy Tuesday, Feb. 1.

The 20-year-old drug store will be known as Holmes Pharmacy.

Mr. Holmes has managed the store since May, 1961, when the late Ralph Hodges employed him from the Wyatt Pharmacy of Adrian.

Mr. Hodges, who died last Oct. 29, started the business in 1945 when he purchased it from William Wehr.

The new owner has 15 years experience in the pharmaceutical business. After graduating from Toledo University in 1950, he worked at the Salter Pharmacy in the Ohio city for two years.

He was than a pharmaceutical representative for Lederle Laboratories in Toledo and southern Michigan. In 1954, he moved to Adrian and was a pharmacist for Wyatt Pharmacy.

SINCE HIS management here with Mr. Hodges, the store installed a new pharmaceutical department, added a surgical appliance and garment section and renovated much of the store.

Mr. Holmes plans few changes for the pharmacy, operating it much as in the past with nine employees, including Court Nighswander, pharmacist.

Study Helps Advance Testing Techniques

ANN ARBOR — University of Michigan doctors say a single blood sample can be used as a "valuable and practical" way to detect abnormal blood sugar.

The finding is based on evidence gained in one phase of the eight-year old Tecumseh Study.

Epidemiologists at the U of M School of Public Health say they have found that a simplified one-hour glucose tolerance test "can estimate carbohydrate tolerance as consistently and as precisely as any one critical point in the standard glucose tolerance test."

The stanard test calls for the patient to undergo two or three days preparation, plus a test period of some two to five hours and requires frequent blood samples.

In the simplified test, the patient needs no preliminaries. He drinks a cup of glucose and, one hour later, donates a single blood sample.

The new finding was reported Sunday at the Conference on Cardiovascular Disease Epidemiology in Chicago by Doctors Norman S. Hayner, Benjamin C. Johnson, Marcus O. Kjelsberg and Frederick H. Epstein.

All are connected with the Tecumseh Study, a long-range health check of the people in the entire community of Tecumseh.

Data for the report came from some 6,500 physical exams of Tecumseh residents, also from special tests conducted on 24 volunteers at Milan Federal Prison.

For part of their study of the one-hour test, the U of M doctors checked it against the hypothesis that diabetes runs in families.

If the hypothesis is correct — and past research indicates it is — the one-hour test should be able to show a resemblance among blood relatives.

By examining the data from the Tecumseh population, the investigators found that the short test did detect this correlation.

ALTHOUGH glucose tolerance tests are used to detect diabetes, the U of M researchers stapped

Emergency Self-Help Class Opens

A "Medical Self Help Training" program, open to the public, will start next Monday night at 7 in the American Legion Post.

The Federal government program is free and being sponsored by Tecumseh's American Legion Auxiliary.

It will be taught by John Saling, Lenawee County Civil Defense director.

Each lesson will last about two hours, with approximately eight sessions planned.

Purpose of the program is to educate people in emergencies. List of lessons are:

► Radio-active fallout and shelter, healthful living in an emergency, artificial respiration, bleeding and bandaging, fractures and splinting, transportation of injured.

► Burns, shock, nursing care for sick and injured, infant and child care and emergency child birth.

Those taking the course will be tested at the beginning and at the end to evaluate their learning.

Although participants are urged to attend all lessons, two can be missed and the student will still be eligible to receive a certificate.

100-Acre Development Under Way

A new 100-acre subdivision has been started south of Tecumseh for homes of $14,500 and up.

Developers are Jack and Chuck Osburn, who actually began construction work there last summer.

There are 188 lots in the subdivision, which is bound on the west by Green Hwy., on the south by Gady Rd., and on the east by Raisin Center Hwy.

Lots are being offered to both individuals and to contractors. Streets have already been cut in.

Two new homes have been constructed and footings are in for four others. Present homes are a ranch-type and tri-level.

New Industrial Site Purchased

Tecumseh-Area Industrial Association has purchased approximately 18 acres of land, just east of S. Maumee St.

TAIA, leaders in bringing Faraday here from Adrian several years ago, bought the land from Willis Baker. They were able to offer Faraday property, where Gray-Faraday is now located.

The new site adjoins Blood Rd. at the north and extends south almost to Russell Rd. It does not include the Baker home and lot there.

Products Buys Three-Acre Plot Near Peerless

Tecumseh Products Co. purchased a three-acre L-shaped section of land north of its Peerless Gear plant from the Clinton Industrial Development Corp.

Products president W. E. Haselwood explained that the company exercised its option so as to have room available for possible future expansion.

Annual Dinner Honors Eagle Scout Members

Danny Rodehaver, Randall Disbrow and Richard Roost of Troop 73 and Reed Skinner of Explorer Post 87 of Tecumseh were among Eagle Scouts recognized at the annual Recognition dinner Saturday evening in Dundee.

Fred Nash presented round-up ribbons and certificates to 30 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts of the Wolverine Council who have attained their membership goal in 1965.

Judge Rex Martin was master of ceremonies for the event attended by 450 scouters.

Plan Teen Dance

"The Necessities" from Clinton will play for a dance at the Teen Club Thursday, Feb. 3, from 8 until 11 p.m.

The dance will be held Thursday evening since there will be no school Friday due to the Lenawee County teachers institute.

Color Film of Africa Has Scenery, Animals

High adventure from Burundi, Africa, that's what will be on the agenda Sunday evening, Feb. 13, at 8, when Rev. George Belknap of Jackson, presents his color film in the First Baptist Church.

REV. GEORGE BELKNAP

His visit is sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association for the people of this community.

Mr. Belknap accumulated many experiences in 18 years on a primitive mission field in the heart of Africa. Color moving pictures help to make these experiences come alive.

The film covers the beautiful scenery of the inland highlands as well as many animals in their natural habitat — black cape buffalo, elephants, antelopes, lions, baboons.

Add to this the constantly encroaching jungle, tropical disease, tribal customs, tribal wars and you have a setting unequaled in which to render service.

The most rewarding satisfaction comes when one witnesses change from pagan existance to the Christian way of life.

Seed Corn Specialist To Speak

Ken Garno of the Garno Certified Seed Corn Growers will be the main speaker at the Tecumseh Adult Farmers Class Monday.

Mr. Garno will discuss red stripe and other characteristics of hybrid seed corn.

The meeting will be held in the agriculture room of Tecumseh High School at 8 p.m.

All farmers in the area are welcome to attend.

"I'll accompany you on the drums while you talk."

"The clinician must take a great many factors into consideration before he can diagnose diabetes," Dr. Hayner said. "Thus he may find that this abbreviated test is not sufficiently detailed for his needs.

"Nevertheless, the speed and simplicity of the one-hour test provides us with a valuable tool for studying the role of heredity and environment in diabetes and related disorders."

Sale of Tags To Aid Fund

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is busily planning and promoting a "Tag Day" Feb. 11.

This is the first time the Auxiliary has sponsored this event and members are looking forward to its successful completion.

A committee is organizing the workers to put in hour shifts at numerous places and locations with colorful tags and canisters in Britton, Clinton, Manchester and Tecumseh.

The Herald has printed the tags gratis.

Patients in Herrick Nursing Home are punching and stringing the tags.

Inside the red-and-white tags is printed:

"Proceeds from this Valentine Day Tag Fund will be used for purchase of equipment for a Cardiac Resuscitation unit at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Your contribution may make it possible to provide you or your loved ones with a longer, useful and productive life when heart disease strikes and the necessary equipment is available."

The tag is self-explanatory and any and all donations will be gratefully appreciated to help swell the "Herrick Memorial Hospital Heart Fund."

State Is Missing Boat on Exports, Senator Reports

Michigan could be doing a lot more foreign exporting, Senator Gil Bursley told Rotarians last week.

He recently led the Senate Committee on International Commerce in a study mission to nine western European nations.

The group found Michigan's efforts to promote its manufacturing facilties a drop in the bucket, especially when compared with New York.

Senator Bursley proposes:

► A Department on International Commerce, to work in tourism and exports of goods and agriculture products.

► Establish a Michigan office in Europe.

► Set up an Institute of International Commerce on the University of Michigan campus.

► Form a non-profit foundation (like that for Michigan Week) to help state companies get involved in foreign trade shows.

The senator told Rotarians that by doing these things, Michigan might well do $100 million more in exports and create 5,000 new jobs annually.

AN ILLUSTRATED version of this committee report is being prepared with funds from private sources and will be widely distributed.

The committee believes its findings and recommendations should be brought to the attention of all Michigan businessmen and farmers who are actual or potential exporters.

"At our first committee luncheon in London the Commercial Attache at the American Embassy drew attention to the fact he had purchased some cake mix from the Chelsea Milling Co. at a London grocery store the night before," he noted.

"By and large Michigan's small and medium-sized manufacturers are not getting the share of the international market that should be theirs.

"In fact Michigan's proportionate share of sales in the European market appears to be declining.

"This means that Michigan producers are not realizing the maximum profits available to them and that the people of Michigan are being deprived of the economic prosperity which increasing exports can generate," he added.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

After reading your editorial regarding the Board of Appeals decision in the matter of the Corrigated Box Company's proposed addition as well as the editorialized front page story, I felt compelled to set down on paper some thoughts in the matter —

1. The city government is made up of in part
   A. The Council, an elected body one of whose functions is to enact ordinances which may concern zoning, building code and the like. The council does not have the right to allow anyone to break the law.
   B. The Planning Commission, a group appointed by the Council to study growth and development of the city and to pass on to Council suggestions regarding this process which the Council may or may not accept (i. e. enact into ordinance.)
   C. The Board of Appeals, another group appointed by the Council which may after due consideration allow an individual or group to "bend" an ordinance under special circumstances.

2. I take exception to your opinion that the only one of the three reasons given for turning down the request was "sound", namely precedent. It would seem that failure to comply with zoning and failure to use other expansion possibilities would indeed be valid reasons for turning down the request. Incidently these two points didn't seem to be too well covered on the front page story.

3. You failed to mention in either article that the Board did give permission to the company to build out even with the present building closest to Evans St., and that this building is already in violation with present zoning setback requirements.

4. Citizens of Tecumseh are fortunate to have a Board of Appeals composed of thoughtful and responsible people who are not afraid to make an "unpopular" decision if they feel it is for the good of our city despite pressure groups, individual interests, emotional editorials and the like.

Sincerely,
Carlton L. Cook, M. D.

Editor's note: — The doctor is a member of the Planning Commission.

TO THE EDITORS:

I have just completed reading your editorial anent the application of Tecumseh Corrugated Box to the city Board of Appeals requesting a zoning variance. For this you should be awarded the 1966 Michigan Publishers' Award for Outstanding Editorial Myopia.

The City Zoning Ordinance requires that an industry build no nearer than 50 feet from its lot line. The Board of Appeals has the authority to mitigate this requirement if hardship exist.

In the instant case, the Board was not asked to approve 48 feet, or 35 feet, or something of the sort—but was requested to drop the requirement from 50 feet to ONE FOOT.

Favorable action on such a request would not be mitigation—it would be repeal, a matter completely beyond the jurisdiction of the Board to grant. Furthermore, no hardship, as defined by the law, was shown to exist. To hold otherwise would be to encourage the fuzzy type of thinking which would permit an industry to locate in River Acres, or a cattle pen in the downtown area.

If the law is right, it should be enforced. If it be wrong, it should be changed. It is as simple as that! But it happens (properly, I think) to be the duly enacted statute of this community.

Blame, if you must, our Professional Planner who has spent his adult life studying and working on such projects, and who recommended it. Accuse the City Planning Commission which has labored for eight long, thankless and payless years, and who endorsed it.

Reproach the City Council which has given it lengthy consideration and has approved it. Denounce the 8,000 residents of Tecumseh who have enacted it. And ridicule our local newspaper which, without editorial eructation, suffered it to become law.

But DO NOT, I beg of you, blame the Board of Appeals for doing its sworn duty . . .

J. C. Beardsley

Editor's note:—The writer is Tecumseh's city attorney and assisted Council in setting up the Board of Appeals.

———o———

TO THE EDITORS:

Regarding your recent editorial concerning the Board of Appeals:

As you know, the Board was created in the interest of sound government and not, as you imply, to enable councilmen to avoid responsiblity. It has never been considered good practice for legislative bodies (eg. city councils) to sit in judgment of their own ordinances, nor is it proper for decisions to be influenced by pressure, sympathy or sentiment.

I agree that the board is not the Supreme Court, never-the-less, the same rules apply. The board's considerations are twofold: (1) What are the facts? (2) How does the law apply? Relative to the Corrugated Box Co. decision, the board was in complete sympathy with the problem but the facts simply did not warrant granting a variance on the basis of economy since economy alone is not considered a valid basis for an exception.

In conclusion, may I say that this decision in no way indicates, as you claim it does, the futility for anyone or any organization to seek a favorable decision from the board. The board will continue, as it has in the past, to view each case individually and on its own merits.

Sincerely,
Donald Brazee, Chairman
Board of Appeals

It will be on public display at the church, Chicago Blvd. and Oneida St., on Thursday, 1 to 6 p.m.

Following services on Sunday morning, the pages can be viewed. Arrangement with any interested groups can be made with Mr. Pistole, 423-2202 or 423-7330.

INCLUDED ARE 10 pages from eight historical Bibles, beginning with the hand-set Tyndale New Testament of 1525 and including versions up to the King James Bible of 1611.

Posters with Matthew 5:7,8 translated into 16 languages and Braille, with an accompanying record, are also a part of the display.

The pages represent the forming of the major English translations of the Bible, and include samples from the following versions:

► Tyndale's New Testament, 1525
► Coverdale's Bible, 1535
► Matthew's Bible, 1537

MR. PISTOLE said the exhibit was brought to the city in connection with the church's project of distributing Bibles and New Testaments in various waiting rooms in Tecumseh.

"It is our hope, through this project, that those who see it will have a greater appreciation for the Bible," he said. "It shows some of the heritage of years past, especially through the early translations which have resulted in the Bible as we know it today."

The exhibit is from the American Bible Society and available for showing to any group in Tecumseh or the nearby area. Arrangements can be made by calling Mr. Pistole at his home or at the church.

VOICE of THE HERALD

They Didn't Agree with Us

From a few sources — mostly city officials — The Herald has been criticized (See Our Readers Write) for objecting to a Board of Appeals' ruling on a Tecumseh Corrugated Box expansion proposal.

In turn, many citizens have voiced approval of our position. However, popular or unpopular, we still stand with our original opinion that the Board's ruling was unwise.

The Herald appreciates the hours of thankless time spent by the Council, Planning Commission and occasionally, the Board of Appeals, in their efforts to provide for a better Tecumseh.

We respect the individuals serving the city, but we do not consider them infallible.

We seldom criticize, perhaps not often enough. Last week we were justified, and so far, there's been nothing to change our opinion.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

For warmer thinking in this frigid weather, let's make a thought visit to Paul Surratt with the US Army on the Ellice Island of Nukulaelae.

Paul, with a group of topographers, found himself, for a time, one of four who speak English on the island only four blocks long and one and three quarter blocks wide.

Under British rule, the tiny spot in the Pacific has a population of 450 and until World War II was virtually an entity by itself.

The friendly Tecumsehian was a house guest of Kelesi Simone, chief of the Island, and one of the four who speak English. Fascinated by Paul's typewriter, the hospitable chief spent two hours "hunt and pecking" a masterpiece to Paul's brother, George, whose picture made a quick round of the tropic isle.

By now Paul is probably in the Fijis, another dot on the map where thatched houses, fishing, sea food, lava lava and paros are the order of the day. A pleasing thought when the snow blows down our neck, here in Michigan.

Karen Goller and Terry Haughn Are Married

Karen Goller and Terry Haughn were united in marriage Jan. 29, at the First Presbyterian Church in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Julian Gresham.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums in tall vases enhanced the altar with potted palms outlining the kneeler. Four cathedral candelabra decorated with smilax and stephanotis outlined the chancel with groupings of palm foliage and clusters of stephanotis at the chancel entrance.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goller, 805 River Acres Dr. and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haughn, 701 Center Dr.

Mrs. Fred Oberlin played a prelude of nuptial music as the 150 guests were seated by Leland Green and John Lindstrom.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was wearing a floor-length gown of peau de faille with bouffant skirt featuring a chapel train.

Crystal beads and seed pearls trimmed the scoop neckline and front of the gown.

Her elbow-length veil of illusion was secured to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of threaded white hyacinths and Carol Amling roses.

Lana Callihan was the maid of honor in a gown of royal blue velvet with slim skirt of powder blue crepe and a blue crepe rose with nylon tulle head piece.

She carried pink threaded hyacinth florets centered with a cluster of deep pink sweetheart roses and dark blue florets.

Six more couples had been in on the planning and the gift of an electric carving knife but they were unable to attend because of family illness, being out of town and bad weather.

Strings and Orchestra Concert

"An exciting interview with new sound . . .'

This was one listener's description of the Clebanoff Strings and Orchestra, the instrumental ensemble which will appear here on Thursday at the Walsh Hall Auditorium in the Siena Heights College Master Arts Series at 8 p.m.

In 1957, when Clebanoff originated the group, it was a daring experimental move. This type of chamber ensemble, though popular for centuries in Europe, was all but unknown in this country.

The debut of these top instdumentalists was received with immediate and overwhelming enthusiasm: "As fine a string a string orchestra as can be heard these days" (Chicago Daily News).

Since 1957 the Clebanoff Strings and Orchestra has played across the length and breadth of our land showing "the sound technique, beautiful tone, and the gift of a singing line" (Cassidy, Chicago Tribune) which "all add up to the kind of music-making everyone loves" (Associated Press Wire Service).

The program is really two-in-one:

► The first half, classic string concert;

► Second half, adding piano, accordion, harp, and percussion, all "pop".

Seniors Hope to Earn $300

BRITTON — With a goal of earning $300 towards their trip to Washington, 32 seniors of Britton-Macon High School are into the annual Operations Herald Subscription Campaign.

This year's effort will have a special flavor — a contest featuring young men against young ladies, with a special prize to be announced later to the winning team.

For each new subscriber the seniors sign up, The Herald pays a $1.25 commission. A renewal earns 50c.

Sherry Squires and Susan Eddinger were selected as co-captains of the girls group and Dennis Mastie and Clark Griffin for the boys.

The Herald has a special bonus arrangement whereby the class receives an extra $5 for every set of 25 new subscriptions turned in.

A weekly individual prize of $5 goes to the Star Salesman, who sells the most new subscriptions for the previous seven days.

Members of the Tory Class of 1961, while juniors, conducted the first Herald circulation campaign, signing up 284 new subscribers and getting 64 renews. Their earnings totaled $345.

In 1963, seniors earned $246.75 as they sold 130 new ones and 118 renewals. Last winter, there were 93 and 119 with the class being paid $205.75.

At present, The Herald has 345 paid subscribers who receive their mail through the Britton post office, which has a total of 695 patrons.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Boysville won one and lost one in league action this past week, triumphing over Ida on Tuesday in a 60-50 decision, but falling to league-leading Adrian Catholic Central by one point, 42-41.

The Fighting Knights ended their five game home stand on a winning note, staging perhaps their best comeback of the season against Ida's Bluestreaks.

Boysville jumped to a 9-1 lead in the early minutes of the first quarter, but then ran out of gas in the second, enabling Ida to take a three-point halftime lead.

Boysville's offensive rebounding, particularly that of 6'4" Junior Dick Kayl, was perhaps the largest factor of Boysville's comeback in the second half.

Boysville boardmen out-rebounded Ida 32-13 in the final half.

Ida's Gary Anderson was high point man of the evening. Moe Jacobs and Jim Cowan contributed 16 each for the Boysville cause.

First place Adrian Catholic Central dimmed Boysville's hopes for league laurels last Friday night. The Irish managed to keep the lead throughout most of the game, and squeezed by on an extra free throw.

Boysville had fallen to the Irish earlier in the season 52-50, when again free throws were the deciding factor in the game.

Jim Cowan took scoring honors for the Knights with 14.

Tomorrow night, Boysville faces a tough, fourth-place Summerfield team at Boysville's home court.

Boysville's daily school routine has been changed with the coming of the new semester.

Thirty minutes have been added to the school day in the form of three ten-minute, supervised study periods at the end of each forty minute class period.

The study hall formerly held at 5:15 p.m. now becomes a reading period.

Flat Rock Rally Nips Tecumseh, 71 to 64

Tecumseh's hopes of repeating as Huron League champs vanished at the free throw line here Friday night when front-running Flat Rock rallied for a 71-64 victory.

Except for the opening seconds of the game and the final 53, Coach Vic Lawson's club dominated the game.

If the officials had not slipped on an infraction in the waning seconds, the Indians still might have handed the Rams their first league loss.

Instead of allowing Tecumseh a second free throw and giving the Indians the out-of-bounds ball after a technical foul, the officials called for a jump ball, which Flat Rock controlled and turned into a winning goal.

Prior to the wild windup, fans witnessed excellent accuracy from the foul line by the visitors — 27 of 34 — and poor shooting from the same spot by Tecumseh, 10 of 19.

The game marked the third time this season that the Indians have dropped one due to 60% shooting from the free throw line.

The Indians moved out front, 23-11, in the first quarter as the Rams found success only at the foul line, where they hit seven of eight shots.

UNABLE TO find the range in the second period — going almost four minutes before hitting their second goal — the Indians watched their margin cut to five points at half time.

After Flat Rock closed the gap to one point, Tecumseh rallied for an eight-point lead in the third quarter until just before the end, when FR closed with eight fast points while the Indians were collecting just two.

Fouls, which have plagued Tecumseh all season, took its toll in the final quarter when Dean Hebb — top Tecumseh scorer with 21 points — left the game at the 2:19 mark.

Trailing 66-64 with 17 seconds left, Terry Alcock fouled out.

Scott Edwards, who turned in his finest game of the season, was in foul trouble early, picking up four in the first half. He sat out most of the third period before returning for four points in the final stanza.

Songs To Fill Glass Room

'Guys and Dolls' Features Raft of Familiar Lyrics

Remember these songs — "Bushel and a Peck," "If I Were a Bell" and "I've Never Been In Love Before"?

They're among the sparkling lineup of hit numbers from the musical comedy "Guys and Dolls," which the Tecumseh Players are going to stage later this month.

Lyrics of these and a raft of other tunes will fill the Glass Room at the Tecumseh Community Center for eight nights, with the opening performance on Feb. 16.

The play contains songs ranging from the religious "Follow the Fold" to the sprightly "Luck Be A Lady" to the romantic "I'll Know" to the saddest song in the show, "Adelaide's Lament."

The four main characters who will be singing their way through this musical fable are Adelaide, Sarah Brown, Nathan Detroit and Sky Masterson.

PEG GEIGER, an elementary music teacher in the Clinton School System, plays Adelaide, the not-so-bright, but delightful star of the Hot Box Nightclub.

A talented and experienced actress, Peg recently received the Best Actress Award in a Musical for her lead role in the Clark Lake production of the musical "Bye Bye Birdie."

She earned her Bachelor of Music Education degree at Eastern Michigan University, where she played leads in "Firefly" and "Male Animal."

Her background includes direction of numerous high school plays and musicals, plus the Tecumseh Players' production of "State of the Union."

Marty Bagdon portrays Sarah Brown, the attractive, dedicated mission worker who falls in love with a "sinner." A fulltime housewife, Marty, manages to find time for her favorite pastime, singing.

Besides singing in her church choir, Marty has been active in the Tecumseh Players, doing everything from behind stage work on props to lead singing roles in such musical productions as "Girl Crazy" and "Pajama Game."

Howard Gentry takes the part of Nathan Detroit, the dapper professional entrepreneur of the games of chance, and Adelaide's betrothed.

Formerly active in the Wayne Civic Players, Howard was seen last year in the Tecumseh Players' "The Music Man." He is employed as plant superintendent at the Stubnitz Spring Corp. in Adrian.

Dick Egli, a newcomer to the Tecumseh Players' stage, plays Sky Masterson, the big-time gambler and ladies' man. Dick, who is sales manager at WABJ in Adrian, graduated from Westminster College in Pennsylvania with a major in radio and theatre.

He was the director of the Red Barn Little Theatre at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and has appeared on stage in "Dear Ruth," "Antigone," "Light Up The Sky," and "Years Ago," to name a few.

PROVIDING the instrumental music will be a 10-piece orchestra under the direction of Dave Schoonover. These experienced musicians are volunteering their talents to add the professional musical backing necessary for "Guys and Dolls."

Helen Bendes, who is also in charge of the vocal interpretation of the cast, will be at the piano. Jerry Moore, Taylor Junior High School band director, is first woodwind.

Wayne Brooks is second woodwind, Steve Laskey is third woodwind, and Ed Klink, band director at Deerfield, is fourth woodwind.

George Berryman, band director in Britton is first trumpet, and Terry Haugan of Tecumseh plays second trumpet.

Tim Dickinson of Tecumseh plays the trombone and Bill Fielder, also of Tecumseh the bass violin.

Don Dobrosky, a newcomer to Tecumseh, will man the percussion section.

DATES FOR "Guys and Doll" include Feb. 16, 17, 18, 19 and 23, 24, 25, 26. Curtain time will be 8 p.m.

Tickets, priced at $2, are available at the Colonial House of Beauty, Holmes Drug Store and Flander's Music Store, Tecumseh; from Morrison's Pharmacy or WABJ Radio in Adrian, or from any member of the cast.

All seats are reserved.

PLEASE SET THE DATE, NATHAN! — Peg Gieger of Clinton, as the patient Adelaide in "Guys and Dolls", wonders when gambler Nathan Detroit, being done by Howard Gentry of Tecumseh, will name their wedding date.

Summer Post Office Jobs Available

Representative Weston E. Vivian urged all students who desire to obtain temporary summer employment to consider positions which will be available this summer in post offices throughout the area.

Open competitive examinations will be held shortly.

The examination will be for the position of Seasonal Assistant, PFS-3, and the pay will be $2.37 per hour.

Examinations will be held in Adrian.

Applications for the test, obtainable from local post offices, must be returned by Feb. 24.

Local YMCA Offers Kids Fun Express

The YMCA of Lenawee County is offering another Tecumseh Fun Express after having a successful program in the Fall.

The Tecumseh Fun Express is for boys and girls 8 to 12 years of age. They will be picked up at Wright's Drug Store at 12 noon and Tecumseh Acres School at 12:05 with the YMCA bus.

They will be brought to the YMCA for swimming instruction, gym and organized game room exercises. They will be returned to Tecumseh at 3:30 p.m. to the same place they were picked up at.

The new express will have three phases of program with the group divided into three individual groups with each group having a counselor.

The main emphasis will be on the swimming instruction class. The Gym program will have some sports skill taught such as basketball, baseball, volleyball, tennis, etc., but will also have a period of fun and games.

The third and new phase of the program will be an organized game room. There will be stunts, games, tournaments for each child to participate in and give him a chance to excel in another area of skills.

The program will start Feb. 5, and last for 10 weeks. Advanced registrations are now being taken at the YMCA in Adrian.

GRADUATES — Kathleen Butler graduated from the Ann Arbor Practical Nursing Education Center, January 27. Part of a class of 47 students, she completed a year of hospital and classroom experience.

Lesson on 'Spirit'

"Can Deity be known through the material senses? Can the material senses, which receives no direct evidence of Spirit, give correct testimony as to spiritual life, truth, and love?"

This thought-provoking question is part of the Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit" to be read from the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, at all Christian Science churches this week.

LUCKY SEVEN

Human nature being what it is — seldom satisfied but always wishing for a little more — this article could just as well have been titled Seven Come Eleven.

No, we are not shooting dice, we are simply talking about cardinals.

Several times we have had seven of the red beauties around and these are indeed lucky days. But, of course, we keep hoping they will come oftener and we keep counting in hopes that they will bring some friends.

ACTUALLY THIS so far has been a peculiar year for cardinals. It is either feast or famine —our Window Picture is either crowded or there are none at all.

When the gang does congregate, there is so much going on that we hardly know where to look.

We know where not to look, though. There is no reason to look at the feeding stations, because they are being ignored completely.

As of this writing, the winter has been such an open one that the cardinals are finding plenty of wild seeds.

When in our view the birds flit through the trees and bushes apparently just having fun.

Their mood is care-free — with food readily available and easy to find, why worry? Of course, get several good hard snows, the types which will keep everything buried under a foot or so of the white stuff, and our cardinals will be whistling a different tune.

SNOW IS ABOUT the surest way to have good cardinal feeding business. With dinner not so easy to come by, life suddenly becomes harder and procuring food is serious project.

There is no time for play. Under such hardship conditions, a feeding station filled to overflowing with sunflower seeds and scratch feed will attract cardinals, cardinals, cardinals.

This almost overnight change in a cardinal's attitude never ceases to amaze us. A red bird who one day is flighty and skittish, who shies away from the feeding station close to the house, who spends most of his time playing in the trees and bushes along the creek bank, who snacks only now and then on a few kernels of corn which are quickly picked up from the ground beneath the corn tree — this very same bird, when he awakens to find his world covered with snow and his natural food buried deep, comes unhesitatingly to the platform feeder, minds being close to the house not a bit, and eats "as if there were no tomorrow.' So engrossed is he with grinding open the sunflower seeds and corn that we are even allowed to use the camera. He doesn't notice the click of the shutter, the flash of the strob light or the whir of the little motor which advances the film.

BUT THESE days our latehearted cardinals are showing no such concentration on food. When they do show up, their first stop is usually in the old cherry tree on the north line.

Someone walking through the kitchen will see them and sound the alarm. Then I started watching and soon will see red spots appearing here, there and everywhere.

It is a mixed gang—four males and three females we believe—we are anxious to see what happens when it time for pairing-up.

From our yard they go over to M and D's where their favorite of all "playing-in" bush grows.

Actually this winged euonymus bush is apt to have a cardinal anytime and how thankful we are that it is easily seen from our window.

AND JUST why do we even presume to think about having more than seven cardinals?

Such a number should be thrilling enough for anybody and really, it is. I am not complaining that we don't have more, I shall be perfectly satisfied if this gang keeps showing itself.

However, I cannot help remembering the great fun we had many years ago when the winter flock of cardinals totaled a marvelous 24!

So it is that I really was referring to birds and not dice when I titled this Lucky Seven.

Argentina Folks Love The Siesta

(Editor's note — Tecumsehite Mrs. Barnard Fero writes from Cordoba, Argentina telling of life there. The Fero family went to South America in May of 1963 when Mr. Fero accepted a position with Kaiser Jeep Corp, supervising drop forging at the Cordoba plant, which has 11,000 employees. Mrs. Fero was employed as a secretary at the Tecumseh Products Co. Her correspondence will be printed in two parts.)

By EVELYN FERO

Hola, Amigos Mios:

Having a quiet Sunday afternoon at hand, with "El Senor" at the golf course, the "chico" (boy), Kelly practicing with his new Christmas guitar, and Maria, Our Gal Friday, busy in the kitchen with dinner preparations, I am moved to write a little concerning some clippings from The Tecumseh Herald of Oct. 1965.

One is captioned "Is Your Herald Late?" and gives various steps in assuring prompt delivery of the Lincoln-Riordan-Grigg masterpiece.

I need only remark, apropos of the steps, that they do not concern me in the least, since we are considerably farther south than the Ohio border.

Our Heralds arrive a month or six weeks late and never in sequence. The postal workers maintain that they are bogged down with holiday mail, but this doesn't prevent them from taking their siesta without fail.

THEY ARE great buck passers too — our Cerro post office says it is the fault of downtown Cordoba; the P.O. in "El Centro" says it is in Buenos Aires.

I am convinced that each fresh batch is stacked atop that of the previous day and often those at the bottom are not uncovered for weeks. One of our carteros (mailmen) admitted once that he is allotted so much mail to carry each day and the rest awaits another day.

Inasmuch as most of them walk miles and miles on rough, rutted dirt roads, perhaps this outlook can be understood. A few of the more lucky ones have bicycles and one "plutocrat" I know even has a motorcycle.

Almost every month it is a fight to get their pay which often is not paid or is deferred indefinitely.

NO MATTER when we get The Herald, it is read immediately from cover to cover. We eagerly hunt for news of people we remember and even drool over the ads. Nor does the interest stop with us in Cordoba.

We clip whole sheaves of news and articles and mail them periodically to our Mike, in Varzea Alegre, Brazil.

So you lucky people who receive your Heralds only a few days late — take heed and count your blessings.

Our English-language newspaper, The Buenos Aires Herald, mentions the snow and storms in your part of the world and we gloat over our "perfect" weather here. Our thermometer says 87 degrees in a sheltered nook.

The sun is a little hazy and there is a fresh breeze, which alleviates the tendency to high humidity. This is a rarity, Cordoba is noted for its dryness.

On the few days of extreme heat by lowering the persianas (rolling horizontal shutters), keeping the doors and windows closed from morning to early evening, our brick-cement-stone houses stayed dim and cool.

WITH SUCH weather commonly enjoyed, it's a little difficult to understand why the people cling to the three to four hour siesta routine.

Most shops close promptly at noon and everybody goes home to a huge lunch and then sleep.

Along about 3 p.m. or so, the men saunter, in their PJs to the garden or along the street to chat with neighbors and passers-by. Around four the shops begin to open again — but really get going with business about six or later to close again anytime from 8 to 9:30 p.m. for the night.

You can imagine the jam of traffic at 12:30 and again at 3:45 p.m.

Buses are bumper-to-bumper and here is where the owners of the tiny cars (Fiats, Renaults, Citroens, DiTellsa and even smaller ones with three wheels!) have their day. They are able to weave in and out and under and make more headway than we who have the larger autos.

Kaiser and other factories do not close for siesta. Shifts are out at 4:18 — which causes another traffic jam. Bicycles and motorcycles come to the fore at that time and clog things even worst.

Dutchmen Down Clinton

By ED VOGEL

An all-court press paid off for the Manchester Dutchmen as they constantly forced Clinton errors in a 83-58 win over the Redskins, before an enthusiastic home audience.

Clinton actually led 3-2 when the Manchester bomb exploded. Time after time the Redskin guards would bring the ball down court only to have the alert Dutchmen steal it away.

The weather outside may have been below zero, but Manchester was red hot. Before the Redskin squad awoke, the Dutchmen had opened an 18-3 gap.

In the second quarter, a more determined Clinton group narrowed the margin to four, at 32-28, just before the first half ended. But in the third period, Clinton turnovers were again forced, and Manchester's Fielder cousins, Larry and Jim, scored at a terrific clip.

Fifteen straight Dutch points turned what had been a close game into a 47-28 Manchester rout.

The contest was played on near even terms during the remaining moments, but the damage was done.

THREE Dutchmen finished right after another in the scoring parade. Jim Fielder, with 20 points, was the game's leading gunner, but his cousin Larry and Pat Wallace, who tallied 20 and 19 respectively, were close behind. Another Fielder, Dick, Jim's brother, also helped the Manchester cause as he hit for six scores.

Even in the loss, Clinton had four players in double figures. Gene Brown, with 15, lead his teammates in scoring; but Bill Jedele and Butch Hoelzer each connected for 14 points, and Jerry Bellmore added 11.

The victory almost clinched the Lakeland C Conference championship for Manchester. They are now two games in front of the second-place Redskins with a perfect 7-0 record compared to Clinton's 5-2.

The Dutchmen were ranked tenth in last week's Class C newspaper poll with an overall record of 11-2. The Redskin's season record has dropped to 7-4.

Clinton Junior Varsity Wins

CLINTON — Leading all the way, the Clinton Redskin Junior Varsity held off a late Manchester rally to triumph over the Dutchmen JV's 57-51 for their fourth consecutive victory.

The Little Redskins jumped off to a 10-1 lead before Manchester hit for their first field goal after seven minutes had elapsed in the opening quarter.

Another five minutes passed before the Dutchmen connected again from the floor, while the Clinton squad added 11 more points to open a huge 21-3 gap.

The first half ended with the Redskin JV cagers dominating the Dutchmen 26-9.

After the teams played to an even third period, Manchester began to cut the Clinton margin. With three minutes left, they trailed by only four, at 53-49.

Manchester fans anticipated a victory, but scrappy Clinton forward Kelvin Bennett wrecked their hopes as he banged in six clutch tallies to preserve the Redskin victory.

Kelvin concluded the game with 16 points, making him the high scorer, while the Dutchmen's Rick Lowery, who led Manchester's attempted comeback, and Doug Brown, Kelvin's teammate, netted 14 tallies each.

Manchester had two other players in double scoring figures, Homer Walter and Dan Smith, who tallied 11 and 10 points respectively.

The winning streak has pushed the Clinton Junior Varsity's season record to 8-3.

She is now eligible to compete for state and national awards which include college scholarships and educational grants.

Since the Betty Crocker Homemaker awards were first presented in 1954, four million girls have taken the tests and received $1,261,000 in scholarships.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hulett and is a senior.

With a mother who teaches in the Clinton School, she quite naturally has an interest in teaching.

She is vice-president of the Future Teachers Club, a member of the National Honor Society, the Art Club, the school choir, plays clarinet with the school band, and is business manager for the band council.

She has been a member of the all-county band for three years.

For the past two summers, Laura had the unusual opportunity to travel extensively in the Canadian Provinces, to Newfoundland last year, and to British Columbia the year before.

She plans to attend the University of Michigan, probably majoring in science.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

An assembly line, turning out hand-held blackboards, is the latest twist in the person-to-person aid program for Vietnam's Ben Cat school system.

More than 500 old fashioned "slates" are being made by teen agers as their part in the project, which so far has seen the shipment of 55 packages of school supplies to Ben Cat.

Those parcels each contained pencils and pencil sharpeners, chalk, crayons, note paper and English workbooks.

The materials had been requested by Lt. Greg Mason of Tecumseh, whose unit, the 33rd Artillery Battery of the First Infantry Division.

Lt. Mason's unit has taken under its wing the two run-down schools in the village, which serve 1,000 pupils from first grade through high school for the entire district, or county.

Eight other towns send youngsters to Ben Cat for schooling, since terrorists forced the closing of their schools.

Tecumseh residents responded immediately to the request.

One item that was sought, hand-held slate boards, proved difficult to locate and besides the few that the committee, under Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann, could find seemed too delicate for shipment.

THAT'S WHEN someone came up with the idea of making them from Masonite. Tecumseh High School students said they'd like to help and volunteered to come up with a sort of blackboard manufacturing center.

First of all, requests for donations were broadcasted over the high school's public address system and these pleas soon netted $135.97. Of this, $50 was earmarked for the purchase of large sheets of Masonite.

Student Council members have worked out a plan whereby the boys taking shop would slice the panels into 10x12" pieces and then the girls would paint them.

Harvey Frankhouse, one of the owners of The Decorating Center in town, has volunteered to furnish shellac, brushes, special blackboard paint and rollers to apply it.

A test run was held in the back shop of The Herald on a job printing drying table last week. Mr. Frankhouse showed five young ladies how to first shellac the Masonite, then apply two coats of the paint.

The finished products — 32 slates — were excellent.

This week, the full-size project will get underway.

The blackboards, along with primary English readers for Ben Cat high school pupils learning the language, will be air-mailed at 80c per pound later this week.

HEAVIER ITEMS had originally been scheduled to go by truck to the west coast and then to Saigon by Defense Department ships or planes, but Washington advised the Tecumseh committee that a low priority for the school supplies might mean them sitting in a warehouse up to three months.

Commercial air freight service was investigated, as well as air mail. The latter proved to be less expensive, so boxes of not more than 50 pounds each will be routed through the Tecumseh post office.

Cash donations have come in steadily to the committee. These and future money gifts can be used to handle the mailing costs, which are expected to be about $300.

Bowling Gear Is Found

Bowling balls, shoes and other equipment were stolen from cars in the VFW parking lot about 1:30 Tuesday morning.

All of the bowling gear was recovered later that day when a sheriff's deputy spotted it on the ground near the intersection of Sutton and Wilmouth Rds.

Victims were Bud Johnson, 4089 Aebersold Rd., and Jim Clabush, Walter L. Richardson, Keith Richardson and Fred Wolkins, all of Adrian.

John Pieh, Deerfield, reported two gun holsters, handcuffs and an electric razor missing. None of his equipment has been recovered.

Humphrey 'Impressive'

Students Meet, Question VP

By DICK CARVER

"He didn't just say hello and walk on," Sherry Squires, a Britton-Macon senior said, "He wanted to know where I lived and what my interests were. He's a very cordial person."

Sherry was among area youths chosen to form a student press corps to quiz Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey during his visit in Ypsilanti, Monday.

Due to fog in Minneapolis, the vice-president arrived an hour late, but after a short talk, still late, insisted that students be allowed to continue questions beyond even a quickly set deadline.

"He's impressive," said Tecumseh High, Assistant Principal Don Brazee.

"He is a real warm, articulate person, at ease in this type of thing," Mr. Brazee added.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT expressed concern with the student drop-out problem, but added he was concerned with the students in school as well.

Tecumseh High student representative David Lips indicated that "the vice-president thanked the students and proceeded to shake hands with each one" and he continued into the audience for those remaining to see him.

Insuranceman Elmer Eberhardt was also on hand.

ADDRESSES VICE-PRESIDENT — Robert Pieh, Deerfield High School representative, addresses a question to Mr. Humphrey during the student "press conference", Monday. Other area students attending were David Lips of Tecumseh, Sherry Squires and Jack Brown of Britton, with their escorts, Mrs. Gerald Hendricks and Vern Neidlinger, Gary Couture with his escort, Richard Steudle, from Clinton and Edward Johnson with Brother Robert Fillmore from Boysville of Michigan. Other area persons attending were Paul F. Burns, Don Brazee, Elmer Eberhardt, Milton Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Metcalf.

He summed it up saying, "He's a personality," but more than that, "he's sincere and relaxed in a difficult situation."

AT FIRST glance it would appear that Mr. Humphrey is two people or that he is simply a good politician. He is a good political personality, but he's more than that.

He has achieved the near impossible in that he is a really human vice-president.

He doesn't just shake hands and kiss babies, but talks with interest to young people and with no other motivation than an interest in them.

THEY MAKE BLACKBOARDS — Five Tecumseh High School students, from left, Kathy Hall, Susan Kennel, Carol Cook, Linda Hollar and Debbie Black, made up the initial production line which transformed 10" x 12" pieces of Masonite into 32 hand-held slate boards for Ben Cat.

'Guys and Dolls' Opens Wednesday

After six weeks of rehearsals, "Guys and Dolls," the musical comedy production of the Tecumseh Players, will open Wednesday in the Glass Room at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The show is scheduled to run Feb. 16, 17, 18, 19 and 23, 24, 25, 26.

Curtain time is 8 p.m.

There will also be one performance at Dawson Auditorium on the Adrian College Campus March 5.

Main setting for "Guys and Dolls" is Broadway, with side trips to Havana, the Save-a-Soul Mission off Broadway, a big city night club and even a giant sewer under New York.

BASED ON characters written about by columnist Damon Runyon, this Broadway fable is a tale of gamblers, girls and their troubles.

The major trouble is the difficulty of deciding between the rolling of the dice and the beating of the heart.

The plot concerns Sgt. Sarah Brown, portrayed by Marty Bagdon, a dedicated Salvation Army mission worker who falls in love with a "sinner."

The "sinner" is Sky Masterson, a free-living, big-time gambler played by Dick Egli.

The second romantic tangle involves Adelaide, a nightclub canary, with Peg Geiger in the role. She has been engaged for 14 years to a hot-shot, but marriage-shy proprietor of "The Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York" — which is, by the way, one of the hilarious songs in the show.

He is, by name, Nathan Detroit, and Howard Gentry of Tecumseh plays this dapper gambler.

It is Adelaide's pursuit of Nathan that adds the uproarious and sometimes pathetic touch to the play.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the cast, are also available in Adrian at Morrison's Pharmacy and WABJ radio.

All seats are reserved.

STUDENTS MAY take advantage of reduced rates to see the dress rehearsal on Tuesday, Feb. 15. These tickets will be sold at the door.

Dress rehearsal will begin at 8 p.m.

Youths Want Understanding

By JUDY SLAGH

"Striking out to get attention" and "causing trouble for parents to get their attention" is the basic cause of juvenile delinquency, Mrs. Hugh H. Hanna of the Juvenile Division of the Probate Court of Lenawee County told Monday Club members this week.

Onsted Club members were guests as Mrs. Hanna, wife of the late Mayor H. H. Hanna, spoke in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Hanna said that a small percentage of the youth population are offenders, only 160 in the entire county.

The children are referred to the Juvenile Division by police, schools, parents who have difficulty controlling their young ones or by citizens who have been troubled by the youths.

Mrs. Hanna said that in most cases the problem can be solved before the youngsters need to appear in court, which is the fate of constant repeaters.

"This is why it is so important to reach a troubled child or family before it is too late to change the pattern," said Mrs. Hanna.

"THE NEGLECT cases in our affluent society," are a source of great concern with 33 girls and 42 boys on the rolls at this time.

Thirty-five new cases were received in January of this year. Divided homes contributed 90% of the cases handled by the Juvenile Division.

Mrs. Hanna gave tribute to Judge Maurice Spear and Ray W. Herrick for the Lenawee Youth Center.

These men have made it possible for many youngsters, currently 16 boys and eight girls, to have a chance to change their ways under qualified supervision and be returned to society without having the stigma of an institutional record.

Most rewarding of Mrs Hanna's tasks is the placing of children in homes where they will be cared for and loved. This comes only after the heartbreak of taking them from their natural parent, who are incapable or unwilling to care for their offspring.

Saddest cases are children from five to 14, who are not adopted. They remain at the Center to be cared for by the taxpayers.

Persons taking youngsters into their homes receive $12 a week for their care. The county also pays clothing and medical bills.

Mrs. Hanna said that there is a constant need for boarding homes.

Six Residents Take Petitions for Council Race

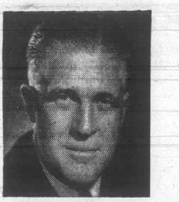
Six residents, including three incumbents, have taken out petitions for Council.

Incumbents seeking re-election in April will be Mayor Harold Easton and Councilman Donald Sunderland and Lawrence Mohr.

T. J. Wagner, Dr. Carlton Cook and Herbert Barnes also have petitions out.

Five seats at city hall are up for grabs with the top three in polling votes getting three-year terms.

Petitions may be obtained from Naomi Sallows, city clerk, and must be filed by 5 p.m., Feb. 21.



Gov. George Romney will be speaker at the Lenawee County Republican Lincoln Day Banquet, which is slated for Saturday, Feb. 19, at Adrian First Baptist Church. Tickets are $10 and can be obtained from Hugh Walter, Mrs. Mel Wegner and Mrs. Ned Baldwin in Tecumseh and Mrs. Raymond Platt in Tipton.

Vandals Hit Glass Again

Windows were again targets of vandals the past week with breakage reported at Osburn's Val-U Station, corner of S. Maumee and Russell Rd., H. W. Tuttle Co., and Tecumseh Acres School.

The two business places were hit by coke bottles, apparently Sunday night.

The school reported two windows broken by rocks Tuesday night, when school secretaries were holding a meeting in the main office.

Sponsors Two Dances

The Teen Club will sponsor dances, February 19 and 26. The Necessities will entertain at the first with the Serfs providing dance music for the Sponge Dance Feb. 26 in the T.H.S. gymnasium.

Adrian Gets Motel

A $1 million, 100-unit Holiday Motel will be built in Adrian's west side, where Maple St. crosses US-223. Construction starts March 15 with completion scheduled for fall.

Justice Shows He's Real Sport, Fines Self $5

Residents can't accuse Justice Ernie Oliver of being prejudiced.

Last week, the local JP double-parked, slipped into a downtown store, came out to discover the alert Tecumseh police had a ticket under the windshield wiper.

The normal fine is $3. Ernie upped his own ante to $5.

Proposes Garbage in Sacks

Refuse Firm Wants Folks To Switch

Possibility of Tecumseh residents using large paper bags, instead of metal cans, for trash and garbage pickup developed Monday night when Council agreed to study the proposal.

Phil Duckan, of Dependable Garbage Service in Napoleon, told councilmen that bags have been used in other communities.

His plan would have residents buying the bags and place them either in a wall bracket or floor stand outside their homes.

Cost of the metal frames to hold the bags varies from $4.50 to $7.

Mr. Duckan said the bags would eliminate troubles with frozen cans, flies and dogs. He said the sacks have a flap for sealing and a dog repellent.

The city's contract with the Napoleon firm was extended three months to July 1, to give councilmen time to investigate and study Mr. Duckan's proposal.

Watershed Project Gets New Hope

Hope has been revived for the River Raisin Watershed project. The Watershed Association met last week in Adrian as John Comstock, county agent, presented Dr. Bill Kimball, an extension specialist on economic development and Dr. Emanuel Van Nierop, assistant secretary of the State Soil conservation commission, from Michigan State University who will serve as consultants for the group.

On Feb. 24, another session is planned. Don Mitchell, Lenawee County Drain commissioner and state chairman, will relate progress of an amendment to the state drain code presently ready for action in Lansing.

MR. MITCHELL admitted that the bill, has some shortcomings but that it is the best possible enabling legislation to date.

It is hoped that the amendment will clear the way to create an entity in the six-county watershed area drained by the River Raisin.

Being sought are engineering studies and Federal assistance.

Tecumseh mayor, Harold Easton asked to be relieved of his duties as association president.

A nominating committee headed by Duane DeLoach of Blissfield will present a slate of officers at the meeting Feb. 24.

Water Rates Up for Trailers

Council authorized City Manager Cal Zorn Monday night to adjust the water rate for trailers to comply with the city ordinance.

Mr. Zorn told officials that he did not know why trailers were given a lower rate in the past. He recommended the adjustment.

The new trailer rate will almost double the city's total collection from users at Paul's Trailer Park and Ferris Trailer Park.

Beverly Ann Myers Weds Nick Penrod

Cathedral baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and lighted candelabra were used to enhance the Friends Church for the Feb. 2 wedding of Beverly Ann Myers and Nick Penrod.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Myers of Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Penrod, 306 S. Union St.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and Barbara Myers, sister of the bride, was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Avery.

THE RADIANT bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a floor-length gown in semi sheaths with lace bodice and tapered sleeves ending in points over her hands. A detachable watteau train was a feature of her gown.

Her veil of nylon net illusion was secured to a crown of tiered petals of Alencon lace trimmed with pearls and crystals.

She wore a cultured pearl surrounded by tiny jewels on a sterling silver chain and carried a cascade arrangement of white petite carnations centered with Butterfly roses and blue forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Robert Kempf, sister of the groom, was matron of honor in a short full skirted dress of whipped cream light blue silk.

She wore a nylon tulle veil in her hair and carried a crescent of blue iris threaded hyacinths and carnations.

MRS. NICK PENROD

Robert Kempf was best man and the 100 guests were seated by Rick and Forrest Grubb Jr. of Chilicothe, Ohio.

A four-tiered blue and white wedding cake centered the bride's table at the reception at the church.

Jane Kiley and Mrs. Carl Wilson served assisted by Diane Handy, Mrs. Gaylon Robinson and Judy McMichael.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed as secretary at Dearborn Steel Tubing, Clinton.

Her husband is stationed with the Air Force nead Pensacola, Fla.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at their home.

5 Given Citations

Only five of 10 accidents checked by Tecumseh police during the past week resulted in citations, and only one involved personal injury.

Injured slightly Saturday was Charles E. Henson, 25, 208 E. Chicago Blvd.

Driving north on N. Evans St., he lost control of his car, jumped a curb and struck a shed owned by Moore Lumber Co. He was ticketed for failure to have his car under control.

JET-SMOOTHER
THE CHEVROLET WAY

We added new bushings and softened body-to-frame mounts to smooth Chevrolet's ride. We put in soft-acting shock absorbers and soft-working coil springs at every wheel. By soft, though, we don't mean mushy. Chevrolet's Way makes for a smooth, solid ride. Very steady on curves. A bump jumps from the Wide-Stance wheels to the supple springs and shocks—and pffft! It all but disappears.

Soft contoured new Strato-bucket front seats come standard in Super Sports for relaxing comfort on every trip.

3,000 Citizens

CLINTON — R. G. Mulchahy, Director of Community Relations of the Coldwater State Home and Training School addressed 70 members of the Clinton Future Nurse, Clinton Future Homemakers and the Tecumseh Future Nurses in the Clinton High School Monday evening.

Mr. Mulchahy gave highlights from his experience as a state employee for 38 years, 24 years in child welfare work and 14 years at Coldwater.

His educational preparation included graduation from MSU and graduate work at the University of Chicago, Western Reserve at Cleveland and MSU.

He showed slides illustrating facets of the varied work with the three thousand citizens of the Home and of the 900 employees. Most of the former will spend their entire lives in the Coldwater Home. The age span runs from three months to 85 years.

Mr. Mulchahy discussed the causes and care of all forms of mental illness which he stressed was curable in most cases, and of retardation. He emphasized the belief that every human being has a right to develop to the fullest potential.

The girls were interested in the vast amounts of food required for the three culinary buildings. They were impressed by the thought that mental illness and mental retardation may strike anyone, regardless of age or station in life.

A red and white theme was used on the refreshment table. The refreshment committee was comprised of the two hostess groups; Bonnie Hoover, Linda Coffelt, and Nancy Bellmore from the FHA and Sharon Pribble, Jackie Proctor, Mary Ann Manchester, Iva Brooks and Diane Lauer from the FNA.

Plans were made for a joint Clinton-Tecumseh field trip to The Coldwater Home and Training School Friday, Feb. 18. The Clinton bus will leave at 8:30 a.m. for the all-day tour with the Tecumseh students as guests.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, RICKY FRANK HORTON, whose 17th birthday would have been Feb. 13, 1966.

Though you've gone first,
and we remain
One thing we would have you do,
Walk slowly down that long,
long path
For soon we'll follow you.
We want to know the steps you'll take,
That we may walk the same,
For someday down that lonely road
You'll hear us call your name.

Still greatly missed by mother, dad and brother.

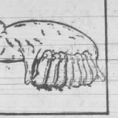
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.



NEWBORN PIG LOSSES from bacterial infections can be prevented. Bacteria enter through the naval cord, broken skin, and mouth which leads to scouring, lameness, swollen joints and death. First, thoroughly clean and disinfect the farrowing quarters. Wood shavings, or ground corn cobs in each farrowing pen, will reduce the number of skinned knees. Treat naval cords with iodine immediately after birth.

NEW TRACTORS or rebuilt engines require careful break-in procedures, particularly diesels. Follow manufacturer's directions carefully. Leave oil that comes in the tractor as long as the manual suggests. Run the tractor at one-half to two-thirds of its maximum lead in the highest gear that does not push temperature above normal. This allows rings to seat properly. It's a good idea to get your tractor broken in properly well ahead of heavy spring work.

ADJUST DAIRY RATIONS if supply of high-quality hay has about run out. It won't work to feed more poorer hay to make up the nutritional difference. Balance ration with more concentrates instead, unless you can buy good quality hay or silage. Daily consumption of average quality hay is only 2 to 2.5 pounds per 100 pounds of body weight while cows will eat 2.5 to 3 pounds of high-quality hay.

DUST ON VENTILATION FAN BLADES can reduce their capacity to remove air by 30 percent, according to ag engineers. Dust on the blades can also put an overload on the fan motor causing it to run hot. Check exhaust ducts and grills too, moisture often freezes to them during the winter.

Indians Shooting 666 for Season

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh boosted its mark to 8-4 for the season last weekend with victories over Milan and Hillsdale.

Coach Vic Lawson's team rallied to rout Milan in the second half for a 66-46 win Friday night, then journeyed to Hillsdale to whip the Hornets Saturday night, 64-56.

Dean Hebb and Gordon Gibson paced the Indians over the Big Reds, Hebb netting 22 and Gibson 14.

Both collected 10 points each in the third quarter when Tecumseh rallied from a 25-24 halftime deficit to 46-40 lead at the end of three periods.

The Indians continued to roll in the final stanza, outscoring Milan 20 to 6 for a 20-point winning margin.

HILLSDALE, which has lost only four games this season and leads the Twin Valley League, dropped its second encounter this season to Tecumseh.

Fortunately for the Hornets, the Indians continued their cold foul shooting or the winning margin could have been doubled. Tecumseh hit six of 14 against Milan and 18 of 36 against the Hornets.

Scott Edwards led the Indian attack at Hillsdale with 16 points. Hebb tallied 14 and Terry Alcock 11.

Hillsdale was probably Tecumseh's best floor game of the season with only seven turnovers. In all four losses dropped by the Indians this season, turnovers contributed greatly.

Run from Shop to Shop

(Editor's Note: This is the continuation of a letter from Evelyn Fero in Cordoba, Argentine. In the first part of her missive she spoke of the afternoon siesta when the stores closed.)

By EVELYN FERO

This closing bit is a bother when one has a long list to accomplish in town. But we learn rapidly to adjust our schedule — get to town early and run, run from shop to shop and then at noon find a quiet, cool hotel lobby and collapse over cafe or a cold drink while waiting for the home-bound traffic to thin out.

Obviously, we plan carefully to avoid any more trips to "El Centro" than are absolutely necessary.

The sidewalks are "two people" wide, made of brick or cobblestone, broken and pitted and always jammed with people. So one walks in the street a good bit of the time and there is no leisurely window shopping, although the windows are interesting and exciting.

No manikins are used but every employee seems to be an expert window dresser and their achieved effects are often jewels of artistic presentation.

Then there are others with all the merchandise inventory scrambled together in one small window.

ALTHOUGH large hotels have fine dining rooms, a majority of the restaurants are of the open-air type! small tables and chairs fill the front court yards and overflow onto the sidewalks.

One cannot hope to be served before 8:30 p.m. and the main crowds (and every restaurant is "full house" especially on weekends) do not reach the peak until 10:30 or 11, so, if lucky, we may be fed and home by midnight.

Whole families frequent the "parillas" and "confiterias", including the littlest children. They run wild among the tables, annoyingly, and the din is unbelievable. So many Argentines seem to talk only a little degree below a shout and always every-one-at-once.

You have no doubt deduced that we rarely eat out though food is delicious and prices low. It's fun to drive along the streets in the late evening and watch the people.

Irregular Quality

In the two and one-half years we have lived here, the quality of nearly everything has improved vastly but there is still no real quality control, for instance, canned corn (which is not very good, the white variety, cream style) may be palatable from one can and the next one mostly cob. Availability is improving, too.

Prices are soaring and the peso value is jumping up and down like a Jack-in-the-box. The Argentine middle class is growing, too, and everybody has plenty to eat, even the poor.

WE HAVE MANY beggars at our door but I have yet to see one emaciated from hunger. They mostly ask for old clothes or for pesos to take the bus to the hospital or for medicines for some "awful" infirmity.

Begging is a business with many, — the adults train their children to go door-to-door and it is no fable that much of the proceeds may be used for wine for the father of the family.

We have made it a rule to give to nobody, except through our church or school or through IKA (Industrias Kalser Argentina). There is much organized church work with the Kaiser Women's Club and other groups, done with investigation, careful choice and presentation.

The KWC, as a major project, has the Feria Americana — a resale shop — with 20% of the proceeds going directly to the Charity Fund and dispersed for major needs for hospitals, schools and the like.

Buenos Aires is a most beautiful and exciting city — I have made several trips which are diversions much anticipated and enjoyed.

Exotic restaurants are numerous and prices low enough to be tolerated. Theatres have all the latest U. S. and foreign movies and shows, shops are fantastic with jewels, furs, gold, leather goods, silver objects, hand-done wood treasures.

Here we get the latest records and English books, also. Hotels are reasonable and service is wonderful.

We fly to B. A. in less than two hours and planes fly every day. The Avenida 25 de Mayo (widest avenue in the world) is a sight to see and the city is full of beautiful buildings, parks, monuments and statues.

IT IS A JOY to visit there but pretty nice to come home to Cordoba — our mountains and provincial life are much more to my taste for actual living. The slower pace is so restful. People are friendlier, too.

Two weeks ago, the beauty of B. A. was blurred somewhat by the prolonged strike of the rubbish collectors. Gutters were piled high with refuse and garbage, some in the raw state and some burned or still burning.

This was a disgrace and scandal in the huge city (many "Letters to the Editor" were written) but as yet no settlement, although I hear the military stepped in and organized a limited collection.

Kelly and other teenagers assist the coach with the summer recreation program at school, Academia Arguello. All types of recreation are offered including a swimming meet, which is the highlight of the last-day program just before school begins around the first of March.

Kelly will be in pre-ninth — a special four and one-half month review and preparation for beginning the high school correspondence courses on a statewide time basis — this starts after the two-week semester break in July.

Compares Sounds

We live about a block off a main thoroughfare and the sounds from the highway often remind me of West Chicago Blvd. There are some differences: rarely do we hear the squealing of tires, but horns (sometimes very musical ones) are used incessantly.

The clop-clop of horses' hooves mingle with the roar of the huge buses, the putt-putt of the tiny cars and the blare of the motorcycle motors.

Horses and dogs roam freely and farther out, cows and burros. In this country we drive a car but there is no depending upon traffic control or that the other driver (not to mention the animals) will obey the few lax laws.

And you never argue with a bus — you have absolutely no recourse and always get the worst of it, if you collide with a bus.

CATS ARE SCARCE — dogs are for watchdogs, not pets, and cats don't fill this function. We have one which has adopted our maid's little boy, but it doesn't even have a name and is more wild than tame.

Life here is tranquil but also most exciting. Most "furriners" adjust rapidly to the frustrations and there is constant turnover of English - speaking families, to make life interesting.

The British people do not "integrate" even those who are Anglo-Argentine for several generations cling tenaciously to their customs, speech and own kind and still speak of England as "home", although they may never have actually been there.

For the most part, they only tolerate the "crillos" (natives) and are a trifle supercilious regarding their "hosts."

Germans are probably the second largest in representation and the German language is heard everywhere, especially in the nearby mountain villages.

Germans have settled there because the terrain is most like their homeland. French, Italian and Swiss are well represented, along with some Scandinavians and Orientals.

Barney will be happy with the rain this morning and now the sun to aid his efforts in starting a red raspberry patch. These berries do not (or have not up until now) grow in Cordoba area and B. accepted this as a challenge to prove that it could be done.

A friend from the states has brought him the seeds (which she secured by ordering them from England) so in a few years we just might have a raspberry patch.

Hasta luego y buena suerta en el ano nuevo de 1966.

Attending this annual meeting will be mayors, village presidents, councilmen and other officials from cities and villages in the counties of Hillsdale, Ingham, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw.

The Region II program will open with a brief discussion of Municipal League services and activities by Mayor Walter F. Bohn of Adrian, a former Trustee of the League. A general discussion of employee-employer relations will follow which will be moderated by Mayor Max E. Murninghan of Lansing.

Speakers will be Kenneth Bronson, City Attorney, Ypsilanti, who will discuss recent changes in State labor law and the impact of these changes on cities and villages; William A. Berrodin, Manager of the League's Personnel and Services Division, who will discuss variations in the duty week for firemen and related legislation.

The second half of the afternoon program will include two concurrent sessions. In the one entitled "Potpourri for Larger Communities." Raymond D. Martin, Planning Director, Ann Arbor, will discuss annexation procedures and prospects.

Harold A. Moore, Councilman-at-Large, Lansing, will describe the operation of community antenna television systems, (CATV) and Harold R. Green, Grants-In-Aid Project Officer, Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Ann Arbor, will discuss financial assitance available for parks and recreation facilities. Mayor Mary A. Bennett of Jackson will preside over this session.

The other concurrent program will be a general round table audience participation discussion of municipal problems for smaller cities and villages. Grant DeForest, Village President, Fowlerville, wil lact as the discussion leader.

At the dinner session, Robert E. Fryer, Director, Michigan Municipal League, will report on the League's 1966 legislative program and Richard W. Walker, Executive Director, Michigan Good Roads Federation, Lansing, will describe the proposed highway financing legislation now before the Legislature. The meeting will conclude with the election of new Regional Officers for 1966-67.

Present Region II officers are Mayor Gilson R. Pearsall, Mason, Chairman; Mayor Harold E. Easton, Tecumseh, Vice-Chairman; and Deputy Clerk Robert L. Schafer, Carleton, Secretary.

Regional Officers serve as liason between League headquarters in Ann Arbor and its members and assist in helping officials make use of League services.

Jet Commander Wins Certification from FAA

BETHANY, Oklahoma — Airline certification of the Jet Commander by the Federal Aviation Agency was announced by the Aero Commander-Bethany Division of Rockwell-Standard Corp.

The Jet Commander is the first twin-engine business jet to be certified for use as an airliner.

Aero-Commander also builds what once was the Meyers 300, designed by Al Meyers of Tecumseh.

Overseas National Airways, of Jamaica, N. Y., a supplement air carrier based at Kennedy International Airport, carried out the certification program on the Jet Commander.

Recently Overseas National created an executive jet division to contract hours on the Jet Commander. The first aircraft delivered for their fleet was Jet Commander N6504V.

This operation is unique in that this is the first airline to purchase twin engine executive jets for use on the routes.

ONA has thus become the only firm in the world to offer business jet charter service with airline crews and airline equipment requirements.

The Jet Commander is a four to nine passenger twin-jet aircraft which can cruise at speeds up to 527 mph and operate into and out of more than 2,000 airports.

On Jan. 12, the Jet Commander became the first business jet to be certified for Category II landings, those with a ceiling of 100 feet and runway visibility of one quarter of a mile.

Adrian College Seeks $1,500,000

Adrian College has begun a $1,500,000 development campaign.

Howard C. White, former President and chairman of the board of Revco, Inc. is general chairman of the campaign, "Action at Adrian.'

"To continue the quality in academics and to meet the increasing demands for admission, this program is vital at this time to the future of the college," Mr. White said, "The excellent support of the past decade must be supplemented to include requisite needs which have not previously been provided."

Adrian has an enrollment of 1,400.

After studied consideration, the College's board has approved an enrollment increase to exceed 1,800 by 1974.

Additional resource will be used for academic, physical plant and equipment needs, endowment improvement and general campus development.

Approximately one third of the money will go towards endowment growth. The current endowment stands at about $2,000,000.

It is expected that $150,000 of the money raised, or $30,000 per year for five years, will be used for further improvement of the Shipman Library.

North Hall, the oldest building on campus will be retained, remodeled and furnished at a cost of some $200,000.

It is further anticipated that $150,000 will enable the purchase of needed academic equipment for the various departments.

The remainder of the funds received will be applied toward meeting the expenses incurred in the building of the completed heating plant, plant maintenance building, and in other areas of campus improvement.

Ex-Sheriff Bob Stites Enters Race

Former Lenawee Sheriff Bob Stites will seek the Republican nomination as State Representative from the 40th District in the August primary.

In announcing he will be a candidate for the office held for 22 years by Rollo G. Conlin of Tipton, Mr. Stites said:

"My decision to be a candidate for the State legislature was the result of my friends and many of my supporters urging me to run, for they believe it is time for a change."

A long-time resident of Lenawee County, he held public office for 30 years.

The 40th District is composed of all of Lenawee County with the exception of Franklin, Cambridge and Woodstock Townships.

Elected to four terms as sheriff, Mr. Stites resigned in July, 1964, to accept the position of executive secretary of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association.

Farm Machinery Tax Exemption May Come

Two recent moves by legislative committees seem to indicate that there will be some relief for the already overburdened pocketbook of the Michigan farmer, according to State Rep. Rollo G. Conlin.

Rep. Conlin said, "The House Labor Committee has recommended a delay until May 1, 1967 for mandatory coverage of farm workers under the 1965 Workmens' Compensation Act.

"In addition, the House Taxation Committee, of which I am the ranking Republican member, has favorably reported a bill designed to increase the property tax exemption on farm personal property from $1,000 to $5,000 of state equalized value.

"This initial approach would put farm machinery on a more equitable basis with industry which was granted an exemption on tools, dies and jigs.

"At the time that exemption was granted, I felt farm personal should have been included which would have meant that local units and school districts would have been reimbursed for any losses of revenue. However, I was overruled.

"NEVERTHELESS, if enacted, these proposals on farm personal property and Workmens' Compensation will significantly reduce the farmer's burden caused by excessive property taxes and government regulation. At the same time, they don't go far enough considering how difficult it is for the farmer to make a profit today.

"The year's delay on Workmens' Compensation will merely postpone the effect of this profit-eating act. I have favored the complete exclusion of the farmer from this program.

Had the Act taken effect on May 1, 1966 as originally planned by its sponsors, it would have cost farmers $8.35 per $100 of payroll this year in order to comply," he concluded.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Boyville's Fighting Knights remain two games behind first place Adrian Central Catholic in River Raisin competition, after routing Summerfield's Bulldogs 72-56 in league action last Friday night.

Four of Boysville's starting line-up hit in double figures in their home stand against the Bulldogs. Senior Moe Jacobs led the pack with 22 points and 14 rebounds. Norris McFarland and Jim Cowan hit for 16 apiece, while Dick Kayl added 10.

Poor shooting hampered Boysville in the first quarter. A fast Summerfield team made all but four attempts from the floor in that quarter, and at one time led 17-10.

A give-and-take game followed in the second quarter, but Boysville held a two-point, 37-35 halftime lead.

The Boysville cagers outscored Bulldog netmen, 17-7, in the third quarter, thereby taking a substantial lead that was not again disputed. Boysville continued its pace in the final quarter.

The new semester finds two faces new to the Boysville faculty. They are Brother David Naples C.S.C. and Mr. Richard Marra.

Brother David, a native of Akron, Ohio, comes to Boysville from the St. Edward's University in Texas. His teaching assignments are in the Science and Mathematics departments.

Mr. Marra, a native of Detroit, graduated from Fordson High in 1959. More recently, he has returned from his studies at the University of Arizona in Tucson, where he majored in Business Administration. His classes include General Business and Typing.

Report cards were issued at Boysville last week, and along with that came the publication of the default list and the Honor Roll.

Pleasant to note, however, is the fact that the Honor Roll outnumbered the default list. Seven students attained Highest Honors.

They are Mike Frei, Joe Pawlus, Bob Schwanki, Bill Kostka, Pat Downey and Donald Matatall.

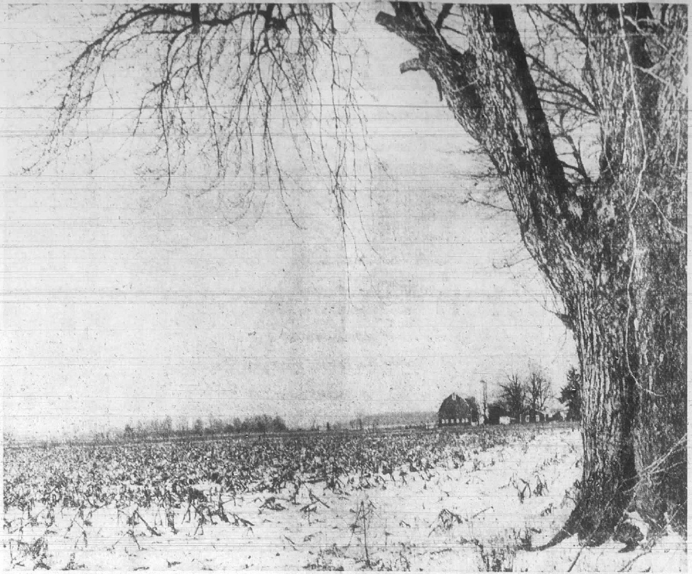
Senior Citizens Plan Potluck Dinner Thursday

"Bring a well filled dish to pass," said Worthy Chandler as he told about the potluck dinner the Senior Citizens plan for Thursday, Feb. 10, at the Community Center.

He also said that all senior citizens of the community are invited.

Mr. Chandler, president of the group, said that they have been stringing tags on their weekly "drop-ins" for the Hospital Auxiliary Heart Fund.



HERALD PHOTOS BY TOM RIORDAN

BEAUTY OF WINTER — Cold weather over the past few weeks has brought with it the usual problems, cars not starting, streets slippery, Mr. Flu Bug, but it also has fashioned some beautiful scenes, especially in the country, like this one along Dinius Rd., where stubbles of corn poke their heads through the light covering of snow as a bright sun floods the landscape.

Extension Club Meets

Members of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club answered roll call January 25 by reciting a poem.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Bailey.

The study topic, "Homemakers Arithmetic," included smart grocery shopping, buying for the freezer, comparing price and quality, reading labels and looking for hidden costs.

The members participated in the national health test that evening on television.

Mrs. Elmer Wilt will be the hostess for the next meeting.

Mrs. Porteous Is WSCS Speaker

Using the "Book of Acts" as her subject, Mrs. Donald Porteous presented an interesting and informative talk to the members of the Women's Society of Christian Service at the general meeting in the Methodist Church.

In outlining the subject she stated that the first seven chapters of the book deal with Christians in Jerusalem, the next five concern the spread of Christianity, and the remaining section relates Paul's mission to Greece, Rome and Asia Minor.

She emphasized the sincerity and power of the early Christian and highlighted the difference between the Church today and that of 60 AD.

Mrs. Paul Hadsel led the devotions in keeping with the speakers subject.

Mrs. Jim Murphy and Mrs. John Curth were the hostesses for the evening.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Carroll Sprague several new efforts of the Society were announced.

An afternoon circle will be formed with Mrs. Carlton Cushing as chairman.

Also a committee to assist Mrs. Maynard Lucas, membership chairman, was secured in an effort to visit new members of the church and invite them to the Society.

THE FOLLOWING announcements were made:

► Study class will be held Tuesday mornings for three weeks beginning March 15 using the Book of Acts as the subject.

► Annual spring meeting of the district will be held in Monroe in April at which time all charter presidents of local societies will be honored.

It is expected that Mrs. Wilfred Waldron will be able to attend as the local charter president.

Mrs. James Barton flew to Palmetta, Fla., recently called by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Caspar Glenn. Mrs. Glenn recovered from surgery but suffered a heart attack which caused her death.

Funeral services were held in Stockbridge and Mr. Glenn returned to Florida where he and his wife had been spending the winter.

Mary Blumerick Named Homemaker

Tecumseh High School's Homemaker of Tomorrow award was presented to Mary Blumerick, a senior.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blumerick, 108 W. Logan St.

Miss Blumerick is a member of the National Honor Society, a majorette in the band and a member of the Home Management Class.

She plans to attend Ferris State College to study marketing and retailing.

WINNING this Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award makes Miss Blumerick eligible for the state and national awards, which are being judged at this time.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 college scholarship and her school will receive a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

State winners will enjoy an all-expense tour to Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D.C. where the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced.

The national winner will have her state scholarship increased to $5,000.

The senior girls participated in the written competition Dec. 7.

Navy Accepts Local Men

Donald Rudd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd of 506 Parkway Ct., Barry Roe of 408 Brown St. and Douglas Taylor of Clinton volunteered for service with the Navy in January.

Chief Thomas Alldaffer, recruiter for the area, announced that the Navy will accept only three enlistments from Lenawee and Hillsdale in February.

This is due to the large number of men who have enlisted in the Navy recently. "Anyone interested in joining the Navy should call the office on Broad St., Adrian immediately," Chief Alldaffer said.

Scouts Attend Local Services

All Boy Scouts in the Tecumseh area will attend church services Sunday, Feb. 13. It is a deep desire of parents and leaders that these youngsters will be in church every Sunday to thank God for their freedom and lives.

The Herrick Park area children decided to come to the Sunday service of the Gloria Dei Ev. Lutheran Church where a special service will be held for them and their leaders, at 10:30 a.m. Their parents and friends are cordially invited to attend this service.

The Spanish Club has set up a scholarship granted to a Spanish student for further study in that language. The fund is in memory of Mrs. Patricia Reeds, a former student of Mrs. Gloria Calhoun. She lost her life with a son and a niece in a tornado enroute to her Spanish lesson.

Money projects have been planned to build up the club treasury and scholarship fund.

Club pins will be ordered as soon as a selection has been made.

The February meeting will include a formal initiation. The annual Mexican banquet will be held in March.

TWO YOUNG ladies from Spain were recently enrolled at THS.

They are Benita and Ramona Rodriguez, 18 years and 16 years of age, respectively. With their parents, Aurora and Jose, and little sister Josepha they live in Macon. Mr. Rodriguez is employed by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Riddell as manager of Windsong Farm.

The girls were born and lived in Orense, Spain, where the climate is cool but never as cold as here. They have never seen snow before their arrival in America.

In Spain the girls were privately educated after primary school.

"People in Spain" agreed the girls in an interview, "are not so different from Americans." There the young people enjoy basketball and football (soccor). Bicycle riding and racing are also popular.

The girls dance rock and roll as well as native Spanish dances.

The strangest thing to them about America is the language. But their Spanish-English teacher, Mrs. Calhoun reports that they are doing very well in their studies.

The Spanish students are enjoying the challenge of actual conversation in Spanish. Benita's and Ramona's constructive criticism is greatly appreciated. In turn the students are helping to teach the girls English.

Another thing that is pleasantly strange to the girls is the room in America. In Spain the girls were accustomed to crowded conditions. It seems to them that everyone lives independently.

In Spain only the wealthy own cars, while America is a "country on wheels."

BENITA enjoys art work and would like to be a singer or a dancer, or artist. She plans to attend college.

Ramona thinks that perhaps she will go on to college, too, and train to be a music teacher. She is a skilled seamstress and enjoys needle work and knitting.

Their younger sister Josepha attends St. Elizabeth. Josepha is a lover of animals and likes working with her father.

The Rodriguez family attended the January Spanish Club meeting as honored guests.

Belknap Part of Community Service Plan

The Rev. George Belknap will appear at the First Baptist Church, Sunday evening, Feb. 13. This appearance is another in the series of community services planned by the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association.

This service at 8 p.m. will be a visual presentation of the problems and privileges in sharing the Gospel with the people of Burundi, Africa. The changing condition relative to Africa will be graphically portrayed.

Special music will be provided by members of the Baptist Church with the Rev. Blair Bashore and the officers of the Ministerial Association sharing in the service.

Eastern Star Plans To Buy Villa Bus

All of the Chapters of the Order of Eastern Star are combining efforts to help purchase a bus for the Eastern Star Villa in Adrian.

There are usually from 26 to 30 children living at the Villa and transportation is a big problem, hence the bus.

Citizens in the Tecumseh area who would like to contribute trading stamps for this project and members of Tecumseh Chapter No. 51 would certainly appreciate it, may leave the stamps at The Herald office with Mrs. Robert Hunt.

Top Value are the stamps needed to purchase the bus to be presented to the Villa on Villa day, June 5.

Stamps must be turned in by March 1

Can We Inspire Another "Edison"?

Somehow — from someone — young Thom[illegible] birthday we celebrate this week, received the inspiration and encouragement which led to the invention of the first successful light bulb — and the magic of electricity sprang forth to change the world.

Like Tom Edison, modern youth has an inquiring mind. It is the responsibility of persons "in the know" to enlighten and inspire these youngsters.

Consumers Power, through sponsorship of conferences like the recent Youth Conference on the Atom, helps create a stimulating atmosphere for Michigan youths looking for answers. Sponsorship in other programs like the Junior Engineer Technical Society and scholarships to advanced educational institutions, also encourages science-minded boys and girls. Junior Achievement and 4-H support help still other youths to gain an insight into the business and professional world.

Youth deserves answers and encouragement and we at Consumers Power strive to supply some of the answers . . . some of the inspiration.

50-Foot Shot Not Enough

By ED VOGEL

CLINTON — A home-court advantage didn't help the Ypsilanti Roosevelt Rough Riders as the Clinton Redskins ran past them 66-49, Saturday night.

After a close first quarter the Redskins took over and stretched a 15-12 lead into a 25-14 gap. The second quarter rally was paced by Jerry Bellmore and Bill Jedele, who each connected for four baskets. Clinton held a dominating 39-21 margin when the half ended.

Coach Dick Content put an all-reserve squad on the floor when the Redskins increased their lead to 20 points, at 49-29, with 50 seconds left in the third quarter.

Ypsilanti soon fought back into contention, forcing Coach Content to play his starting cagers. But the Rough Riders lost any chance of victory when Gary Guider and Bill Wales fouled out with just over two minutes remaining.

The game's most exciting moment came just before the final buzzer. Fred Houk of Roosevelt was dribbling toward the mid-court line when he saw time was running out.

Fred threw in a 50 foot shot leaving the crowd gasping.

Three Redskins scored in double figures. Jerry Bellmore led his teammates with 15, while Bill Jedele and Butch Hoelzer netted 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Rough Rider's Gary Guider was the game's high point getter with 17, while Fred Houk hit for 15.

The triumph left Clinton with a 9-4 season record, included a 7-2 Lakeland C Conference mark.

Doug Brown Scores 20 as JVs Win

CLINTON — Paced by Doug Brown's 20 points, the Clinton Redskin Junior Varsity defeated the Ypsilanti Roosevelt JV's 57-46. The victory was the Little Redskin's sixth consecutive victory, leaving them with an excellent 10-3 season record.

Roosevelt's Sandy Ylisto led his team to a 26-24 half-time edge, but some clutch scoring by Kelvin Bennett threw the Redskins into a 30-28 Clinton margin, which they never relinquished.

Jim Schuler, who scored most of his points in the first half, backed up Doug Brown as he hit for 12, while Kelvin Bennett also hit for a dozen.

Three players scored high for the Rough Riders. Sandy Ylisto connected for 15, while Norman Laton and Harold Tripp added 11 and 10 tallies respectively.

European Traveler Reports

Editor's note — Currently on a four-month tour of European nations, Hal Weekly promised The Herald he would keep folks back home posted on his journey. This is the first in a series of articles by Hal.

By HAL WEEKLY

AMSTERDAM, Holland — Here I am, in the home of tulips and windmills. I have just returned from Rembrandt's house and the Rijksmuseum and this afternoon I'm taking a cruise of the many canals.

They call Amsterdam the Venice of the North. Right now, I'm sitting in a sidewalk cafe on one of the main streets, Voorfurgwal.

The temperature is about 15 degrees centigrade or about 59 degrees Farenheit. I've read about the snow and cold weather in the States, too.

Last week they were skating on the canals, but they are now having somewhat of a heat wave.

SPEAKING of weather, I had a bit of difficulty getting into Europe because of the weather.

When I left Metro Airport I was scheduled to fly to London via Pan Am with a fuel stop in Boston. As luck would have it, the flight was canceled due to snow in Boston.

They had us take Northwest Orient to JFK in New York and then BOAC to London. We were held up for four hours in New York because it was snowing and they had only one runway open for jets to take off and land.

We were in a line of 14 jets waiting for takeoff.

FINALLY, we got to London only to find the city buried in fog. We circled the city for an hour and a half before we were diverted to Manchester Airport.

We were then bussed to Crewe, England where we took the train into London. Certainly, it was the roundabout way, but interesting.

The airline was apologetic about the inconvenience and delay and made sure we were well fed during the interim.

That was one thing that stands out in Europe — the politeness and friendliness. They try to make you feel at home. At least, that has been the case so far.

I realize that might be a premature assumption, but if you have a smile on your face they will go out of their way to assist you.

WHEN I LEFT London I took the train to Dover, where the clifts are really white, and the ferry across the English Channel to Ostend, Belgium.

I can see now why Florence Chadwick had such a difficult time swimming the Channel. We had a rough crossing — but refreshing, to say the least.

I stayed a couple of days in Brussels, the Capitol, and a couple of days in Antwerp with a Belgian family. They treated me like a king, even taking me for a drive to their summer cottage, with the family poodle, Carri.

My next move will be to the Hague and on to Rotterdam.

Over the weekend I will be in Copenhagen, Denmark.

You can probably tell that I am having the time of my life and Eupore is everything I've read and heard about it and more.

Edith Ingersoll Left Vivid Impressions

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to take this opportunity, with the gracious permission of The Tecumseh Herald, to express my personal sadness at the death of one of the most admirable people I have ever known — Miss Edith Ingersoll.

The death of Miss Ingersoll touched many of us who had known her and has left, indeed, an emptiness in our lives. Having known her as a personal friend for many years, I find it hard to conceive of her being gone.

I enjoyed many pleasant conversations with her and was always amazed at her remarkable memory, her awareness of current information and her quiet and simple goodness. She certainly was more than a pleasure to know — she was a unique experience for each of us that knew her.

In a most miraculous way, Miss Ingersoll, through her unselfish and understanding personality, made each of us feel that we were accepted and valued by her. She not only had time to listen and discuss whatever might be on our minds — and her range of interest was unbelievable — but she also had well-formed opinions to offer.

A conversation with Miss Ingersoll, under any circumstance, left one a bit richer in wisdom and faith than they had been at the onset.

Tecumseh changed a great deal in her lifetime, as did the entire world. Within a few minutes, Miss Ingersoll could relate exciting memories from her youth and go on to express her view of our present world. How many of us can boast such a range of experience?

As a member of a world that has so few worthy citizens, I am grieved at this loss. Having lived in Tecumseh, the same town that Miss Ingersoll was so involved with — through numerous clubs, the Presbyterian Church and years of dedication to the library — I am one among many who will miss her untiring efforts.

As a member of a family well acquainted with her, I realize that I will find it hard to be without her friendship.

Seldom does one individual make as strong and as valuable an impression on another person as Miss Ingersoll has made on me. I ask that we all appreciate the many kindnesses given us by this wonderful woman.

Let us not only appreciate her, but let us also remember her as the valuable asset that she was to our world, our community and to our personal lives.

Are we not all a little more vast, a little more Christian, and a little more humanly concerned with one another from having known Miss Edith Ingersoll?

Respectfully yours,
Barbara Jo Damon

Manager Praises

TO THE EDITORS:

Congratulations on being cited as the No. 1 newspaper in the state. However, it was a waste of time for them to consider all the other newspapers in your class as we have been telling you that you have the No. 1 paper all the time and you should have taken our word for it.

However, I can't agree on that No. 2 business for photographs — I think it should have been No. 1.

No kidding, I think you have what is the finest newspaper of its class that I have ever seen. In fact, I have seen very few big city dailys that have had anything like the good editorial coverage and outstanding photographic effort that you have.

This is not merely my personal opinion either, as I have obtained the same comment from other people in the area when your newspaper is discussed.

I just wish I had the command of the English language that you have, but failing in that I will settle for a little of your photographic talent. I get the pictures alright, but when I look at them afterwards, that is what they are, just pictures — the artistic effect is gone.

Again, congratulations and keep up this extremely good coverage of the news and your comments. Ruth and I look forward to Thursday and reading your paper from cover to cover.

Sincerely,

Wants Copies

TO EDITORS:

Congrats on winning so many well-deserved awards.

I have been tapped to lead news-editorial round table at Ohio Newspaper Association convention beginning 2/10 and would appreciate copies of a couple of your outstanding efforts of the past year or so — the dandy coverage of the Palm Sunday tornado, the football extra, the big deal about the new manufacturing plant, to use as talking points.

Student Agrees

TO THE EDITORS:

It's Thursday. My easy day so I read THE paper. The Tecumseh Herald.

I see things are booming with The Herald receiving seven citations. I'd say that's a good job. Congratulations.

I also read the editorial last week and this week. I strongly support The Herald's view. The other way (the present way with the Board of Appeals) is democratic, but not as just as it could be. The Board should not have the absolute power granted to it. If it has this power the Council is not doing its job of protecting the people.

Next term (I think) all the men students are to take a test and if you pass the test and are in the upper three-quarter of the class you still get a 2-S deferment.

If you do not meet one or both of the requirements, your draft classification may be set back to 1-A at the discretion of the local draft board.

I noticed Sue Hohenstein, joined a fraternity. Boys join fraternities and girls, sororities, I think.

TO THE EDITORS:

We were very pleased to learn Saturday evening at your Michigan Press Association Banquet that your paper had been named one of the outstanding weeklies in the State.

Knowing of your interest in your community and your desire to serve all of the citizens in your community, we, too, feel that this award is justified.

We are certain that during 1966 you will continue to strive to fully inform your subscribers on all events and opportunities.

Through My Window

CAUGHT AGAIN

It happens once or twice each year and I suppose that, as long as I write these articles, it will continue to happen. Any season of the year has the potential weather to trip me up, but of course, winter is the worst offender.

In recent articles I have been guilty of "ranting and raving" about our winter or more properly our lack of it. Ha!

Well, you all know how effective The Herald is and what quick results it produces — my complaints about no or little snow were just bound to bring on a storm.

THE ONLY trouble is that my lamenting column was "in" when the white stuff fell. So last week you read about our problems of having no cardinals because of the open weather, while at the same time you could look out on a white, snow-covered world.

It happened something like this. The day we wrote about our seven cardinals and how they were ignoring the feeder, there was only a sifting of snow on the ground.

It was not deep enough to have forced the birds into eating up all that was available. Therefore I went blundering ahead, dictated my article, had Marilyn pick it up to type, and guess what?

That weekend it snowed and snowed hard! Oh, my! Next, the temperatures dropped and winter was here.

DOES A SNOW storm really make that much difference in our watching?

Well, just listen. We have a calendar on which we keep track of what bird activity enlivens our window pictures and for the first part of January there are many open spaces. This shows that nothing happened.

There are also days with notations such as two titmice, junco, or two bluejays in M & D's yard. Mighty poor bird watching when that is typical of what causes bird watching excitement.

THE DAY of the storm, however, we had business, business, business — we even ran out of room on the calendar and overflowed into the next week's space.

the birds sensed an all-day blow.

The snow started as the fine sugar-like stuff which had all week frustrated our hopes of a good blizzard. Marda looking forward to snow, Marda the confirmed winter hater?

Well, you see it is like this — I don't like winter, snow or ice and the wheelchair simply do not get along together.

But, on the other hand, cold and damp weather is just as confining and so, if I must be "shut up" for a season, I much prefer to at least have something pretty to look at outside.

And a snow-covered world is pretty! It is embarrasing when it catches us with an unseasonable article, but pretty it still is.

GETTING BACK to the storm — the biting crystals soon became small but respectably-sized snowflakes and the fun started.

As the wind whipped the snow and whistled through the trees

The sparrows came first, a huge flock of them swarmed over the feeder, the trees, the ground and the fence.

We had five squirrels tearing around. A flock of mourning doves, which numbered from 15 to 20, searched for their corn breakfast.

Bluejays appeared, Juncos (at least five of them) scratched for food beneath the corn tree and along the creekbank. We even had a chick-a-dee, in fact two of them.

The cocky tufted titmice, the upside-down-nuthatches and their cousin, little Mr. Red-breasted Nuthatch, a few misguided grackles and a long looked for song sparrow were also much in evidence.

NATURALLY, with all the snow, our lucky seven — the beautiful gang of cardinals — showed up and made the day a great success.

So it is that snow does help and probably every winter when we don't have it, we will write about the lack and get "caught again."

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Well, anyway, this opus is going to be a joint effort. Sort of a Huntley and Brinkley. Except, Chet and Dave always agree on things.

Combining with me (via a letter) is Mrs. John Robinson, 1210 Shady Lane, publicity chairman for the Tecumseh Acres PTA.

Let's have Mrs. Robinson start the ball rolling.

"It is my duty to get notices of the PTA meetings to the press. I agree to do this. Following is a synopsis of events last week:

"Borrowed typewriter, double spaced, etc. (as that's the way the editors like it.)

"Made special trip Sunday evening to put in Herald mail box in door (to be sure it would be there before 9 Monday a.m., as editors request.)

"Assured that I had done my very best, sat back and waited for The Herald's appearance at newsstand.

"Promptly purchased one, read from cover. Guess what? No write up for PTA (It has happened before.)"

"Assuming there must be a reason, I telephoned The Herald, to be told by 'the bookeeper' that she was the only one in (that figures). She didn't know why my particular item didn't get in, but did know there were many others that did not get in, too. (This should make me feel better? Or make my excuses to the other members?)

"Perhaps, all these extra items could have been put in another single page of Herald news."

NOW, THIS is Tom. I'm really sorry, Mrs. Robinson, and take full blame. It's especially heartbreaking for you, after you did everything letter perfect, following so carefully our Rules of Procedure for Publicity Chairmen.

OK, back to Mrs. Robinson.

"I'm quite a broad-minded person (and broad-shouldered, too, or I wouldn't be writing this!) but personally, I think this is ridiculous.

"Hometown, weekly newspaper, in which this week alone, I counted nine items that either had nothing at all to do with current Tecumseh events (example — 'Marx Brothers Comedy Showing at Ford Museum'), or were so written that they could have appeared a week later and still have been news (example — 'Farm Machinery Tax Exemption may come.')

You counted nine, I could probably add another nine.

One of the most tortured nights of the week for me is Wednesday, when I cautiously pick up a freshly-printed copy of The Herald and start to read it.

First of all, errors pop up like neon lights. How we miss them nobody will ever know. Gumper-

RE-ROUTED US-223 FREEWAY WON'T BE UNDERWAY UNTIL 1970

Freeway 'Corridor' Is Two Miles Wide

Property owners in the area of the proposed new freeway, south of Tecumseh, are concerned exactly where it will run.

The Herald's free-hand sketch in last week's edition provoked the question.

The corridor runs approximately mid-way between Tecumseh and Adrian.

An exact route is still one year away.

To date, the State Highway Department has established "a corridor for the new road," which is to replace the present US-223, from the new US-23 to US-127.

According to Ed Poucher, a State Highway publicist, the corridor measures up to two miles wide with the freeway to be located someplace within these bounds.

A route location study will soon be made, with final recommendations in by June of 1967, added Mr. Poucher.

This will be followed with public hearings, where the exact location of the road and property involved are to be discussed.

Purchase of property along the right-of-way will take place in 1969, with construction contracts scheduled to be let in 1970.

The new 223 is expected to be ready for use in December of 1972. It will cost $22 million.

Boarded-Up Structures Going Down

Two of Tecumseh's eye-sores — both vacant buildings — will be torn down, with work expected to start soon.

The properties, owned by Marion Bills Murphy, are located at 210 E. Chicago Blvd., former apartment house, and at 218 E. Kilbuck St.

Both buildings have been boarded up for several years.

Salvage rights were bought by a Monroe resident.

Kids Skip School, Are Discovered at 218 E. Kilbuck

Charges of disorderly were leveled at two youths last Friday and the cases of five juveniles, also in the same escapade, were turned over to Probate Court.

The youngsters, four girls ages 12 to 14, and one boy, age 15, along with Gene Wesley Roy, 17, of 126 S. Ottawa St., and Roberto R. Gonzales, 17, of Ridgeway, were picked up by the Tecumseh police in the old, rundown house at 218 E. Kilbuck St.

They told police that they had entered through a basement door. Police found them upstairs smoking cigarettes.

Neighbors spotted the party entering the house and called police. The juveniles had skipped school for the afternoon.

Mother, Infant Hurt in Wreck

Five people, including a six-month-old baby, were injured in a car-van accident on W. Chicago Blvd. Saturday.

Taken by ambulance to Herrick Hospital were:

► Mrs. Suzette P. Ross, 21, of 308 Adrian St., and her baby, Elizabeth. Mrs. Ross suffered a fractured right leg and minor injuries. Her baby had a fractured right leg and possible head injuries.

► Paul D. Velandra, 41, of 213 W. Chicago Blvd., bruises, treated and released. (His daughter, Mrs. Ross, and her child, were riding with him.)

► Lonnie Elladge, 19, of Tipton, lacerations, treated and released.

► Robert Richardson, 22, of 7128 Centennial Rd., slight leg injury, treated and released.

Velandra and Frank C. Harris, 19, of 303 W. Chicago Blvd., were both driving west on W. Chicago Blvd., when Velandra started to change lanes.

Elladge and Richardson were riding with Harris.

The Harris car struck Velandra's at the left rear section knocking it out of control. Velandra traveled over 200 feet after the impact, jumped the curb and hit two trees at 509 W. Chicago Blvd.

Harris stopped just over 90 feet after the collision in the left lane of the boulevard. He was charged with violation of the basic speed law.

Velandra was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

FIVE OTHER traffic accidents investigated during the past week were:

Feb. 10 — Gus Lopez of Britton, and Karen Mae Fedell, 18, of Petersburg, driving separate cars, ran into a hole on S. Evans St., near H. W. Tuttle Co. and damaged the wheels of their cars. A tire on the Fedell vehicle was ruined.

Feb. 10 — Gerald G. Dusseau, 27, of Monroe, hit Robert Bristle, 23, of Clinton, in the Tecumseh Products parking lot.

Feb. 11 — Bruce A. Robison, 41, of Adrian, was cited for following too close after a mishap with George V. Fairbotham, 40, of Adrian. Fairbotham was making a turn at Chicago Blvd. and Evans St. when struck from the rear.

Feb. 11 — Velma J. DeJonghe, 27, of Ridgeway, reported her car damaged while parked at the hospital. Other driver is unknown.

Feb. 12 — Richard C. Perry, 30, of Deerfield, reported the left side of his auto damaged while parked in the Tecumseh Products parking lot. Other driver is not known.

Council Race for 5 Seats Attracts 9

Nine have entered the race for five seats on Tecumseh Council.

Taking out petitions late last week were John Saling, Harold L. Smith and LeRoy Betzoldt.

Others running are councilmen Donald Sunderland, Lawrence Mohr and Harold Easton, and Dr. Carlton Cook and T. J. Wagner.

Incumbent Gene Tuckey is not seeking re-election.

Deadline for filing is Monday at 5 p.m.

Michael Rice Among Students on Dean's List

KALAMAZOO — Michael D. Rice, 509 Blanchard, was among 937 students at Western Michigan University placed on the Dean's List last semester.

FOUL-SHOOTING ACE — A West Virginia trans plant, Chuck Thomas, is proving to be one of Tecumseh High School's best free-throw shoo ters. Chuck displays his one-handed technique which clicked for 8-of-10 charity tosses in the Friday victory over Grosse Ile, then 11-for-11 against Adrian Tuesday. The Maples edged Tecumseh, 66-65. Details on games appear on page six of this section and page one of Section C.

CHORUS LINE — "Guys and Dolls" offers a variety of song and comedy, as well as dancing by this lineup of gals, from left, Mary Myers, Judy Killman, Sue Lamb, Cynthia Frayer, Marge Broderick and Joyce Schneider. The Tecumseh Players' musical opened Wednesday and continues with performances Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, as well as Feb. 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Chorus Helps Set Moods

"There's no business like show business," is an old bromide being proved at the Tecumseh Community Center this week where the Tecumseh Players' musical production, "Guys and Dolls" has opened.

Rehearsals are over and the show is on!

ONE HIGH spot in this musical show is the dancing.

The Hot Box Girls consisting of Joyce Schneider, Cynthia Frayer, Marge Broderick, Sue Lamb, Judy Killman and Mary Myers kick up their heels to "Bushel and a Peck," "Marry the Man Today," and "Take Back Your Mink."

The girls also lend their voices to the chorus.

They set the mood when the audience is transported to Havana and they set the pace at the Hot Box Nightclub.

There is a male dance group also to add vim and vigor to a few numbers. "Luck Be a Lady" is turned into a full production with the addition of the Crap Shooters Ballet, done by Bob Bagdon, Ray Ellsworth, Dick Carver and Don Partridge.

Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Choreographers for this show are Lorayne Pihl, Mary Myers, and Bob Bagdon.

"GUYS AND DOLLS" will run through Saturday of this week and next week Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 23 through 26.

There are still a few tickets available for next week's showing. For reservations, call 423-4281. All seats are reserved.

Give Affection, Good Example

Richard Sunderland, academic supervisor of the Girl's Training School at Adrian, used lines from a popular song to illustrate his talk Feb. 10 at the meeting of the Tecumseh Acres PTA.

"Dad, there's a boy outside. his name is Jim.

"He wants me to marry him."

This was the part, Mr. Sunderland used to illustrate a girl going to her parents for advice all through her life, even to adulthood.

He said that discipline and training are one and the same, that parents can make or break a child by the love he or she is given from birth until age 15.

The supervisor encouraged parents to insist on obedience from their youngsters.

He said a good example is hard to set and a bad one is easy to follow.

In speaking of the girls at the Training School, Mr. Sunderland said that the school tries to give them the tools of success, such as education, training for household tasks as well as for work in a laundry, bakery or sometimes as a seamstress.

An effort is made to teach the girls to appreciate life since many come from poor environment and sometimes when the girls are ready to leave the school, their parents are not ready to accept the responsibility for them.

Girls at the school come from all around the state.

Mr. Sunderland announced that an open house will be held at the school during Michigan Week in May.

ABOUT 30 Acres PTA members attended the meeting, bringing 15 dish towels for use in the kitchen.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Ed Osburn, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell and Mrs. John Frazier will present a slate of officers for the next meeting April 28.

Local Exchange Observes Crime Prevention Week

The Tecumseh Exchange Club observed National Crime Prevention week with a talk by Willie Smith. The program was arranged by Wayne Berridge.

Mr. Smith, a counselor with the University of Michigan, gave summary of crime in our educational system. He described what the crime consists of and what the university does about it.

Mr. Smith attended the U. of M., then played three years in professional football. He is presently working with culturally deprived youth of Michigan.

J. R. Garno inducted a new member, Robert Bird, who is affiliated with the Tecumseh Products Audit Department.

President Robert Hart announced that the club will chaperone at the Teen Club for one month. The new supervisor of the club is Mrs. Robert Moore.

Maidens Meet

The North Franklin Maidens will meet Feb. 26, instead of Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Young. Lorrie Beevers will give a demonstration on hems.

Kathy Munger will furnish refreshments.

Everyone burst into laughter as Jesse countered the move, asserted his rights and collected the change.

"Usually it works," grinned his wife.

A batch of nearly 40 parking violation tickets were handed out by police last week, all for vehicles left on the wrong way of residential streets.

Violators got pleasant surprises when they turned up at Justice Ernie Oliver's court.

Veterinarian Carlos Knisely sends along an interesting item from a trade magazine, to-wit:

"By using a high-intensity flash from a photographer's ordinary photoflash equipment, Dr. D. F. Riordan (no relation to TAR of Tecumseh) of the Canada Department of Agriculture, was able to sterilize 82% to 88% of a group of male flies by a single flash. Two flashes from the apparatus either killed the flies or sterilized them, he reports in Nature. A single flash killed 26% of male mosquitoes, and all survivors were sterile. Dr. Riordan believes this method of dealing with insects is superior from a safety standpoint over the gamma-radiation and chemo-sterilants methods already in use."

A bundle of Durand Expresses, which told about that town's high school band there being selected for the Rose Bowl festivities, arrived at The Herald. Great job, tremendous.

Owen Rood, Express publisher, sent his news editor, Bea Winer, who has a daughter in the band, to accompany the kids and write about the trip.

Bea's stories were fascinating, not missing a thing. We were tickled by, "All the kids are behaving as you parents would want them to."

A tribute to all the youth of today — as well as of Durand. These papers can be seen at The Herald.

Old heroes never lose their luster. In town last week was former Detroit Tiger slugger, Charlie "Paw Paw" Maxwell, who now is a representative of Paramount Die Castings in St. Joseph. He was calling on Harry Pries of Gray Mfg. Girls in the office were all atitter, asking for autographs.

Maybe somebody could get him to make a comeback.

Volunteers Collect $1,230 on Tag Day

By MARIE YOUNG

Success, success!

Another first has been scored by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Valentine Tag Day proved that many hands and much cooperation can help reach a goal — no matter how extensive it seems.

Held by the Auxiliary Friday, the event netted $1,230 in Clinton, Britton and Tecumseh, helping swell the Herrick Memorial Heart Fund.

MRS. NEVILLE HART, Auxiliary president, expresses sincere thanks to everyone who helped, especially to:

► Hospital staff.

► The Tecumseh Herald which donated the 5,000 tags.

► The 100 Auxiliary workers.

Thanks are also expressed to all the Senior Citizens, who helped string the tags and the two ladies from the Herrick Nursing Home, Mrs. Mable Ferguson and Mrs. Myrtle Ricker, who helped to get the 5,000 tags in readiness.

A special thanks to Paul's Trailer Court for the heated trailer furnished for use as a headquarters for the day, plus the cooperation of the local Police Department.

Also thanks to Charles Gross, who sprayed the canister tops and the decorative hearts which the workers wore, the industries and business places where canisters were placed or solicitors were allowed to be.

WITH THIS kind of enthusiasm and cooperation from all the surrounding people the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary feel confident that their pledge for the Resuscitation Cart will be realized and their vision of a Coronary Care Unit for the local hospital be accomplished.

Long & Short

son's Law says that at least an even half dozen typos must appear in each issue of every newspaper (yes, the Detroit News included), no matter how many times proofreaders and editors check pages. They only become visible when the full run is completed.

But we stray from the topic at hand.

Why leave out entire stories?

MRS. ROBINSON carefully recounted Her Day. Here was our Early Week.

Arrive at Herald early Monday, not exactly bushy-tailed, but eager to get on with another issue.

Question: How many pages will we run?

Answer: As editors know full well, this won't be known until sometime Tuesday, depending upon number of advertising inches we'll be running. (To stay financially solvent, ratio in newspapering should be approximately 55% advertising, 45% news.)

Start to edit copy, along with assistant Dick Carver.

Dick checks Acres PTA yarn, writes headline, pushes along to Linotype.

Copy set and proofed. (Before edition is complete, nearly 800 inches of editorial matter will have been so handled.)

Tuesday at 7 a.m., makeup starts on Section B.

(Herald press can print up to eight pages at one time. Last week's edition ran a total of 18, so we broke it into three sections of six pages each.)

Tuesday afternoon, Section C is started.

Wednesday morning, with elbows flying, last-minute stuff is processed and makeup of front section begins while Section B rolls on press.

MAD SCRAMBLE to see that everything runs which should.

Along about 3 p.m. Wednesday Section A goes on press and a mournful check is made of holdover, type that didn't get in.

That's when we wish the clock could be turned back on the already-printed Sections B and C, as various articles draw comments, "Gee, we could have held this."

Or, "That didn't really have to run."

Even with what seems the greatest of care, some must-run stories often don't — like that Acres PTA yarn.

We can only plea "human frailty" and promise to try harder next week.

Candle Pro Meets Her Waterloo

"Oh, they won't blow out," remarked Mrs. Bertha Hoag, 207 W. Logan St., Sunday, as she tried to extinguish the flames on the candles lighting the decorated cake honoring her on her 87th birthday anniversary.

And it was certain the candles wouldn't stay out, they lighted again and again, for that's the type of candles they were.

The cake and special decoration was arranged for Mrs. Hoag by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Hoag.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. Hoag's granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Harris, in Wayne.

The four-tiered cake was also in recognition of the 17th birthday anniversary of Roger Hoag, which occured Feb. 5. Mrs. Hoag's anniversary is Feb. 24 and her granddaughter's is Feb. 23.

Mrs. Warner Harris of Belleville was also a guest for the festivities.

Youths Make Mess, Then Clean It Up

Four youngsters at Tecumseh Acres elementary school stayed after hours Tuesday to clean up a mess they did the afternoon before.

Disciplining the boys was turned over to Wayne Kaiser, principal.

9 Win Top Ratings

The first time Tecumseh High School has been host to the Solo and Ensemble Festival of the southern section of District 8 of Michigan Band and Orchestra Association was Saturday, Feb. 12.

Tecumseh had 40 members from the senior band, and 15 from cadet band entered, with some in two or three events.

The students who received first division (excellent performance) and are eligible to go to the State Solo and Ensemble in Jackson, are Barry Lamkin and Debbie Osburn, clarinet solo; Jeannette Mannino, Barry Lamkin, Ron Packard, clarinet trio; and a cornet quartet of Glenn Barton, Steve VanValkenburg, Robert Stone and Martin Korth.

Students who received second division (good performance) had only minor errors. They are: Lisa Pence, Sherree Harper, Darrell Beal, Debbie Miller, Beth Frownfelder, Susie Smith, Jill and Joyce Holden, Debbie Vollmer, Linda Tilton, Ron Packard, Robert Belcher, Bradley Brees, Steve and Phil VanValkenburg, John Bryan, Jim Quigley, Peggy Martinus, Tim Dickinson, Rick Jackson, Gerald Slick, Lee Lemerand and Jim and John Goodman.

Twelve students received third division (average performance); three received fourth division and three failed to play.

The band students from 30 schools were here and are to be congratulated for their performance, appearance and above all, conduct.

It is estimated there were 700 performers and another 300 to 400 observers. The Tecumseh Band Boosters were active by operating the cafeteria and snack bar.

It was good to see so many boosters active. Thanks to all who contributed in any way. Many junior and senior high students helped as chairmen, runners and general help.

The Junior and Senior Solo and Ensemble will be held March 26 in Brooklyn. About 25 seventh through ninth grade students will be involved.

The Senior Symphonic Band will be going to a band festival on March 12, at Michigan Center, with a complement of 95 students.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Boysville's Fighting Knights posted league victory No. 10 Friday, narrowly overcoming Britton's Tories, 64-56.

Lacking its usual pep, Boysville, watched Sam Hamilton's Tories take an early 13-7 lead.

The Tories capitalized on Boysville's missed lay-ups, and mediocre rebounding and shooting.

Jim Cowan, Boysville's 6'2" guard, committed four fouls before the end of the second quarter and remained on the bench until the final quarter.

Boysville collected nine points more than Britton in the second quarter taking a 32-27 half-time lead.

Foul trouble plagued the Knights as three starters collected four.

Approximately 70 of Boysville's underclassmen attended a Valentine's dance Saturday at St. Joseph Academy in Adrian.

Cultural life of Boysville's student body has been given an added boost. Sixty seniors, junirso and sphomores attended a showing of "The Sound of Music" at the Madison Theatre in Detroit on Saturday.

Boysville's eighth grade captured the Junior High tournament championship at Deerfield last week, winning all three games.

The Junior Knights opened with Monroe's Custer Junior High School — making somewhat of a "last stand" of it — eliminating them 32-7.

Alan Sorfiano combined 10 free shots and a field goal for 12 points and individual scoring honors.

In the second game, Ida took a 10-0 first-quarter lead, but a strong second quarter set Boysville ahead at half-time, 18-15.

Boysville increased its margin through the final half, coming out on top 42-29.

Alan Soriano and Henry Bell shared honors with 13 each.

The Junior Knights closed with a 31-27 victory over Summerfield.

Alan Soriano led the winners with 18, followed by Henry Bell, who added eight.

The eighth grade team is coached by Bennie Clark.

Opens Campaign

Edgar L. Peavey of Adrian has announced his candidacy for State Representative of the 40th district, running on the Republican ticket.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"The only trouble is, we don't have Mrs. Moore," said Katherine Hunt Tuesday when queried about the possibilities of the presentation of an Easter cantata in Tecumseh.

She was speaking of the late Grace Moore, mother of R. H. Moore, Red Mill Dr., who was the driving force in many fine sacred musical programs presented here some years ago.

"She kept good music before us all the time," continued Mrs. Hunt, equally capable at organ or piano for a long time and a frequent accompanist for these aforementioned programs.

Kitty's Osburn's letter started some reminiscing and wishful thinking for this long-ago, would be soprano who would like again to participate in such a project, an excellent one for choir and music club members to support.

Mrs. Joe Rohweder received the nicest Valentine Monday. Her son, Dr. Tom Rohweder phoned to tell her of the birth of a lovely little daughter, 7 lbs., 2 oz., born that morning to them at St. Luke's Hospital in Cleveland.

It's Marge's first grandchild and she can hardly wait to leave Friday, to spend some time in the Rohweder home in Cleveland.

A little Valentine arrived Feb. 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilt, nee Carol Bilby of Lansing. The little girl, Carla Ranee, 6 lbs. 5 oz. was born at Sparrow Hospital according to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilt are the paternal grandparents.

Mrs. Bonnie Sniffen was transferred Monday from St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor to Bixby Hospital, Adrian, for physical therapy.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge will observe their 59th wedding anniversary Feb. 27 with a family gathering at the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Partridge.

Mary McWilliams was surprised Friday evening when Magdalyn and Oliver Blum of Ypsilanti arrived at her home with a birthday anniversary party for her. Her birthdate is Feb. 13.

Barb Gibson, Jerry Dicks Speak Vows

MRS. JERRY DICKS

Barbara Ann Gibson and Jerry J. Dicks are spending this week at Lake Placid, New York, after their marriage Saturday evening at the Ridgeway Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed before 450 guests by the Rev. Robert Mitchinson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson, 8824 Monroe Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dicks, 11107 Milwaukee Rd., Britton.

The bride wore a gown of peau de soie with detachable chapel train falling from a natural waistline. The fitted bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace appliques and the same lace formed a portrait neckline.

Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was secured to a lace medallion and hand-made silk roses.

She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Patricia Gibson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Lee Britton and Lorna Dicks, sister of the groom.

Trudy Riggs was junior bridesmaid and Mary Schroeder was the flower girl.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Cleary College. She is employed as an IBM key punch operator at Tecumseh Products Co.

Her husband is a 1959 graduate of Britton High School and spent three years with the US Army. He is employed by Ford Motor Co. at the Rawsonville plant.

The bridal dinner was held Feb. 11 at the Britton Congregational Church.

Those assisting with the reception at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall were Donna Obendur, Mrs. Claude Maynard, Karen Riggs, Vickie Davis, Mrs. Richard Linn, Mrs. Cliff Hass and Mrs. Dean McCarley.

When Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dicks return they will reside at 11703 Monroe Rd., Britton.

Sheryl Lynn Peska and Curtis Cook Married

Sheryl Lynn Peska became the bride of Curtis Lee Cook in a ceremony performed by Dr. Paul Sabel, Feb. 5, in the First Presbyterian Church in Alma.

Pyramid arrangements of white blossoms flanked the chancel entrance and satin bows marked the family pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peska of Holt and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cook of Tipton.

John Moggenberg was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Mantey, who presented nuptial music as the 200 guests were seated by Darwin and Gerald Peska, brother of the bride, Greg Hardy and Terry Johnson, friends of the groom, and Douglas Lembrick, cousin of the groom of Britton.

The lovely bride wore a floor length of Chantilly lace over taffeta styled with full skirt, chapel train, a square neckline and tapered full length sleeves.

Sequins and pearls trimmed the neckline and tiers of lace on the skirt.

Her elbow length veil was secured to a double crown of sequins, pearls and lace and she wore an Alaskan diamond necklace, gift of the groom.

Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of Phalaenopsis orchids and threaded hyacinths.

Jan Bennet was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Karen Brink, Mrs. Rodney Holmes, Mrs. James Wert and Donna Smith with Deborah Lynn Paska, junior bridesmaid.

Tracy Louise Peska, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Roger Cook, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in floor length dresses of frosted emerald green and mint green peau de soie with shoes to match.

Their matching headpieces were dark green pleated bows with lily of the valley flowers and short veils and they carried envelope arrangements of pink petite carnations, threaded hyacinths and sweetheart roses.

The flower girl wore a short sleeved dress with full skirt of peau de soie and a dark green sash and lace jacket.

Mrs. Gerald Peska, sister-in-law of the bride, made the flower girl's dress and that of the junior bridesmaid.

Gary Korte, friend of the groom, served as best man.

Barbara Lembrick of Britton registered the guests at the reception immediately following the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Caroline Lembrick assisted as the gift table.

Others serving at the reception were Nora Roberson, Janice Hoffman, Kay Hunt, Linda Hitchcock, Mrs. Gerald Peska and Mrs. Darwin Peska.

The bride is a graduate of Alma High School and is employed at the General Telephone office in Alma.

Her husband is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Smith-Douglass Corp., Saginaw. He attended Michigan State University.

Following a two weeks wedding trip to Mackinaw Bridge, St. Louis, Mo., and the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, the couple will live at Scottish Manor Apts., 849 W. Superior in Alma.

The rehearsal dinner for 26 members of the wedding party was given by the groom's parents at the Cloverleaf Restaurant in Alma.

Rita Haskell and Winfield Walker Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Haskell announce the marriage of their daughter, Rita Elizabeth, to Winfield Joseph Walker, second class Electronics Technician, United States Navy.

The Rev. George C. B. Tolleson performed the double ring ceremony in the Unitarian Church Dec. 23, 1965, in Charleston, S. C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white lace street-length dress, accented with a white satin bow at the waistline.

Her veil of illusion was gathered to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white Bible topped with white carnations and ribbon streamers.

Gloria Haskell, sister of the bride, was her attendant. Miss Haskell was attired in an off-white, A-line dress and carried a long stemmed American Beauty rose.

The bridegroom had a friend, Ronald Smith, of Charleston, as best man. Usher-groomsmen were William Rodgers and Robert Horne, uncle and cousin of the bride.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell. She is a graduate of Anderson College where she majored in business administration.

HOT FIRST HALF — Chuck Thomas evades a defending Grosse Ile player in the first half when he tallied 21 points. He netted 24 for the evening.

Maples Upset Indians

By JIM LINCOLN

Adrian upset and won a well deserved victory over the Tecumseh Indians, Tuesday night at Adrian, 65-64.

It was only the third win in 13 outings for the Maples, while the Indians have won nine, and have now dropped five.

While Tecumseh gave its finest exhibition at the free throw line hitting about 85%, 33 of 39 attempts — it was also the poorest overall performance of a Tecumseh team in several years.

Adrian completely outhustled the Indians and capitalized on numerous Tecumseh mistakes. The Indians were guilty of 14 turnovers in the first half, and hit just seven of 27 shots from the floor.

The second half was better, and midway through the third quarter, Tecumseh went ahead for the first time since the opening minutes.

Chuck Thomas, sparkplug of the team with 15 points, including 11 from the foul line, fouled out early in the fourth period.

The Maples, playing without two starters, including their top scorer, relied mainly on Duane Nelson. Nelson topped all scorers with 20 points.

There were 50 fouls called, 26 against Adrian. The officiating, though not prejudiced, had the small crowd buzzing most of the time.

Jayvees Mark Dual Victorys

Coach Val Spangler's Jayvee team won two games the past week, whipping Grosse Ile here Friday night, 62-44, and Adrian, Tuesday evening, 61-50.

Against GI, John Anderson paced his teammates with 18 points. Two other players in double figures were Doug Bugbee with 16, and Jim Upell, 11.

Buddy Work and Bugbee shared scoring honors at Adrian with 14 points each. Steve Dalton netted 10.

Tecumseh led Adrian from the start, and except for a brief Maple spurt in the third quarter, the Indians were never seriously threatened.

GI led the Jayvees at the end of the first quarter, but then folded as the Indians turned the game into a rout.

The Jayvees now hold a 10-4 record.

The scores are:

Grosse Ile	11	8	14	11—44
Tecumseh	9	23	20	10—62

Adrian	9	10	19	12—50
Tecumseh	13	13	16	19—62

Princesses Win

The Girls' Junior Varsity continued their winning ways by defeating Napoleon 26-15, Feb. 10. Jane Beasley was high scorer with nine points; Debbie Goldsberry had six and Peggy Martinus five.

The Varsity made it 16 straight wins by trouncing Napoleon 57 to 19. Mary Ann Allen was again high scorer with 24 and Emily Manwaring was close behind with 18 counters. Janis Linger and Jackie Rentschler played very well for the winners.

Linda Silvers' eight points were high for the losers. The next game will be Feb. 24 at Ypsilanti High.

Broken Arm Ends Action for Lawson

A broken right arm has all but ended Jim Lawson's first year of basketball with Northern Michigan, currently top-ranked small college team in the nation.

An all-Huron League star while playing in Tecumseh, Jim made the Wild Cat varsity as a freshman.

He still hopes to make the trip with the team to the Air Force Academy, a highlight of the Northern season.

Takes Two To Tango—and Negotiate

Until recently many thoughtful people have assumed that in dealing with the Vietnam situation the United States had three choices available, says Congressman Robert Griffin.

- ► Fight
- ► Withdraw
- ► Negotiate.

"However, like the tango, it takes two to negotiate," he noted.

"In military terms the bombing pause was costly, but President Johnson's peace offensive has served a necessary and useful purpose by demonstrating to all — except the few who will not see — that only two of those options are actually available at the present time," he added.

While most Americans support the President in the choice which seemed inevitable, still they are troubled and concerned about the extent of USA commitment in a tiny country 10,000 miles away."

UP UNTIL 1960, United States assistance to South Vietnam was limited to economic aid and several hundred military advisors.

Then, beginning in 1961, the commitment of troops to fight in Vietnam began to accelerate rapidly.

By February, 1962, there were 4,000 Americans in Vietnam; a year later there were 12,000.

By December, 1964, the number had risen to 23,000.

Then, in 1965 it jumped to 200,000. And now it appears that the number may reach 500,000 by the end of this year.

In South Vietnam the free world is confronted with a naked Communist effort to conquer and control 15 million people by terror and force," says Congressman Griffin.

"One lesson of history ought to be clear: When an aggressor is allowed to succeed by such methods, he is only encouraged to try again," he added.

When Hitler was "appeased" at Munich, many foolishly thought it meant "peace in our time."

Unfortunately, too few were listening then to the lonely voice of Winston Churchill, who cautioned: "The belief that you can gain security by throwing a small state to the wolves is a fatal delusion."

"EVEN THOUGH the lessons of Munich are not forgotten, Americans still find themselves on the horns of a dilemma because they are also impressed by the wisdom of General MacArthur's warning that the United States should not get bogged down in a land war in Asia," the Congressman stated.

"With shorter supply lines and a limitless number of troops waiting in the wings, it's to the Communist's advantage to fight on the ground. On the other hand, it's to our advantage to wage battle in the air and on the sea to the greatest extent possible.

"For that reason, it's particularly disturbing to read reports from time to time about severe limitations being placed on the use of our air power while the number of our ground troops rapidly escalates.

"Although it is extremely important to check Communist aggression in Vietnam, we cannot lose sight of the fact that the activity there represents only one move in a worldwide chess game.

"While we have been transporting more and more of our troops to Southeast Asia, Red China and Russia have been busy participating in a Communist conference at Havana, 90 miles off our shore. "According to authoritative reports, 'revolutionaries' from 82 nations met there recently to establish Cuba as a 'general headquarters' and to lay plans for additional 'wars of liberation' in various parts of the world," Congressman Griffin added.

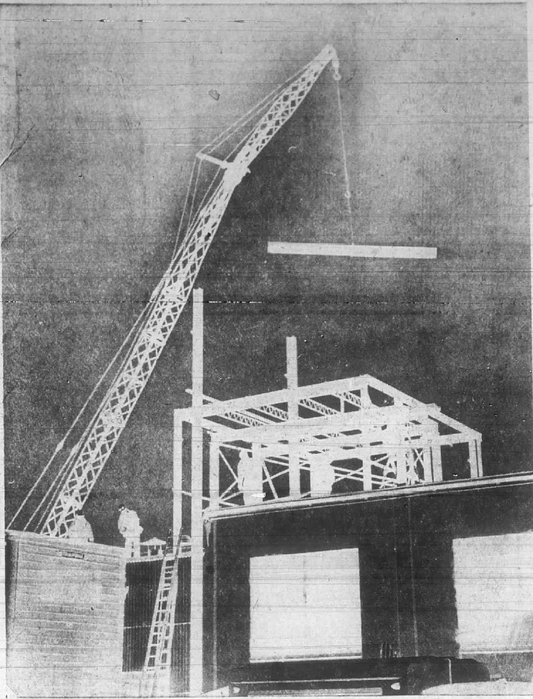
"ALONG WITH most Americans I support our President in his efforts to cope with the challenge of Communist aggression," he said. "However, I have a number of serious reservations about current policies, including the following:

► "If additional ground troops are needed in Vietnam we should insist (more strenuously than has been evident) that the manpower burden be shared by other free world nations, particularly those in Asia whose freedom is directly at stake. To date, only Australia, New Zealand and S. Korea have put troops in the field by our side.

► "Instead of supporting our efforts in Vietnam, some of our 'allies' are actually aiding the enemy by permitting their flag ships to transport cargo to the Communists in North Vietnam. In fact, during 1965 there were more free world ships docking at Haiphong than Communist ships. This situation is intolerable — particularly while we continue a world-wide foreign aid program and support Britain in Rhodesia.

► "This is no time for 'politics as usual' on the domestic front. The 'guns and butter' routine will not do. We face the serious threat of runaway inflation at home unless the Johnson Administration reverses its policy and cuts back on non-defense spending plans."



STEELWORK IN REVERSE — Gimmicking the plastic engraving machine provides an odd effect as a steel beam is hoisted over an addition on top of P-2 building at Tecumseh Products Co. It will house equipment for a compressor dehydration system. Thirty-two tons of structural steel is being used, with completion of the addition slated for late spring.

Presbyterians Planning World Day of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer will be held this year on February 25 at 1:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

On this day all over the world groups of Christians will be gathering to pray for all the peoples of the world who are caught up in the tensions and opportunities of a changing time.

Through the service prepared by women of Scotland and reflecting the long traditions of the Scottish churches, people will be considering the theme "You Are My Witness."

We invite you to join in the observance of this day with us. Nursery services will be provided for those who desire to attend who have children under school age.

The World Day of Prayer, observed each year on the first Friday in Lent, is sponsored by United Church Women of the National Council of Churches. It has a meaningful history of almost 80 years.

Prayer and giving for the world-wide mission of the Church have been its primary purpose. It has traditionally brought people together across denominational, racial, national, and cultural boundaries to pray for the needs of the world and to make an offering for carrying out the church's mission around the world.

World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character. Basically the same service is used by groups in approximately 125 countries and areas of the world. This provides an extraordinary opportunity for fellowship at a deep level and the experience of Christian unity in prayer with Christians all over the world. Increasingly, persons from many nations are involved in shaping the service.

'Valentine' Theme for Music Club Tuesday Meeting

Mrs. Perry Hayden welcomed members of the Tecumseh Music Club to her home Feb. 8. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron was co-hostess.

"Valentines" was the theme of the evening with the program arranged by Mrs. Truman Rentschler. When she presented a brief history of the significance of Valentine's Day, the group learned that the day is named for a Roman, Valentinus.

Messages of love which people send February 14, are thought to have originated when the Romans expressed their sentiments to each other when Valentinus was canonized.

Mrs. Rentschler also told about Esther Howland, the lady who started the commercial sale of Valentines.

A collection of old Valentines loaned by Mrs. Norman Bailey was examined. Some, with dates as far back as 1905, belonged to Mrs. Bailey's mother, Clara Miner.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham accompanied the group on the piano as they sang some of the old love songs. "How Can I Leave Thee?" "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton" and "Comin' Thru the Rye" were titles that provoked memories.

Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney and Mrs. Hayden sang "The Senior Citizen Waltz" accompanied by Mrs. Waldron on the piano.

A card was signed for Mrs. Owen Merrill, a member confined to her home with hepititis.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Ellwood Bush of Britton and Mrs. W. F. Kirk of Port Clinton, Ohio, sister of Mrs. Waldron.

The club announced the National Music Week, May 1-8. Plans are being made to observe the day locally.

Through My Window

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

First perhaps I should apologize for the title — terribly unimaginative, but it pin-points our subject exactly.

It all started several weeks ago with company and their tale of seeing such a pretty red bird. As the chatter went back and forth I mentioned a cardinal.

Immediately they wanted to know why I called their red bird a cardinal. Simply because I explained, there were no other all red birds around here this time of year.

The cardinal is the only red colored bird who stays in Tecumseh 12 months a year.

"What about the regular red birds?" they challenged. "No such thing," I countered. "No cardinal is the only red bird who stays in Tecumseh 12 months a year."

ALTHOUGH usually found south of here, there is a summer tanager, the male of the species is a brilliant red and, of course, in warm weather, some of us are lucky enough to see a scarlet tanager.

He has black wings and black on his tail though and neither tanager is crested. A red bird as a red bird just isn't; around here a red bird is a cardinal.

I can hear comeone asking, "So alright, what about bluebirds?"

Bluebirds there are — pretty little harbingers of spring and proverbial bringers of happiness. There are also blue-colored birds who are not bluebirds — think of indigo buntings and bluejays.

LET'S LOOK further into this name bit. According to where you live, summer tanagers are also called smooth-headed redbirds, summer redbirds and of all things, bee birds.

The scarlet tanager has a variety of titles too, black-winged redbird, firebird, Canada tanager, scarlet sparrow and pocket-bird.

And are you really ready for some confusion? The black, chestnut and white bird we call a towhee or chewink is known to others as a swamp robin, a towhee bunting, a bush-bird, a turkey sparrow, a ground robin or a bullfinch.

However, a bullfinch in southern Arizona means an Arizona pyrrhuloxia. If this is too much of a tongue twister, most "natives" would know what you bill, a gray grosbeak, a gray cardinal or a bullfinch cardinal. Oh, my!

ANOTHER mixup concerns our well-known mourning doves. Elsewhere they may be called Carolina doves, wild doves, turtle doves or even love birds.

What about parakeets though —they are also called love birds. And in the south they have a ground dove which is similar, but much smaller than our mourning dove. That's right, down there they call it a mourning dove.

Are you game for some more? Well, let's take the case of the beautiful, but now probably extinct, ivory-billed woodpecker. some places we have read about him as a woodchuck.

What does that do to our short-legged, broad-bodied animal who stole the plastic cover from the grill. We call him a woodchuck.

WOODPECKERS can be lots of fun. The big pileated woodpecker has all sorts of names: cock of the woods, wood hen, wood kate, great god woodpecker and lord god woodpecker. Both the ivory-billed and the pileated share the names of logcock and woodcock.

Trouble again though. We know the woodcock as a game bird, found in the northern part of the state, and has no resemblance at all to a woodpecker.

And speaking of aliases, the bird we call a woodcock is also a woodhen, big-headed snipe, snipe, night-partridge, night peck, big-eyes, hookum pake, Laabrador twister, bogsucker and timber doodle. Wow!

THE PRIZE for the most picturesque name would have to go to the timber doodle or hookum pake or Labrador twister except that the gorgeous rose-breasted grosbeck is listed as a potato bug-bird and the cute little white breasted nuthatch as a devil downhead. And why would anyone call the magnificent red-headed woodpecker a jellycoat?

So it is that laughs are many and confusion is great when one tries to answer, "What's in a name?"

A successful white elephant sale was the diversion of the evening.

Refreshments were served at a table centered with a bouquet of red roses and red heart decorations.

The March 10 meeting will be held with Mrs. Edward Kehoe. Mrs. Elmer Staib and Mrs. Tom Young will be the co-hostesses.

Republicans Hold Primary February 21

CLINTON — An all-Republican primary election will be held in the village Monday, Feb. 21. The polls will be open in the Clinton Township Hall from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Only one party placed candidates in nomination this year.

The primary will be held to determine the candidates for the regular election on March 14, since there are six nominees for three trustee offices, two-year terms.

They are: incumbents Paul Gieske, Richard Dixon and Frank Englehart and nominees by petition: Gary Underwood, James Wilson and Richard Stuedle.

Two other new candidates will be unopposed on the ballot: Mrs. Gus Smith, treasurer and Mrs. Franklin Englehart, trustees of the Smith-Kimball Community Center. The present treasurer, Mrs. John Knight and the present center trustee, Mrs. Robert King, did not choose to run for relelection.

Other incumbent officers to be nominated in the primary are: President, John Truesdale; Clerk, John Fox; Assessor, Arthur Rudel and Smith-Kimball trustee, Hollis Farley.

Rev. Przyblski Will Present Parish Mission

CLINTON — The Rev. Fr. Wallace Przyblski, O.F.M., a member of the Franciscan Retreat and Mission Band is conducting a parish mission in St. Dominic's Catholic Church, Feb. 13 to Feb. 18.

The mission opened formally at the Masses on Sunday.

During the period of the mission, evening services will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. There will be a series of sermons on the fundamental facts of Christianity and the spiritual life.

These services will include the Way of the Cross, Catholic hymns and Benediction. On week days, short introductions will be given after the 6:30 and 9 a.m. morning Masses.

Father Przyblski was born and educated in Detroit. He studied at Bradley and other Catholic universities. He has had the experience of assistant pastor, teacher in high school, assistant retreat director, pre-cana instructor and now missionary.

They have resided in Florida since their marriage in October.

A beautifully-decorated wedding cake, made by Mrs. Duane Reum, was a feature of the refreshment table.

Foul Shooting Seals Victory for Indian 5

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh learned Friday night that a good average at the free throw line wins games.

Against Grosse Ile, the Indians hit on 25 of 34 attempts and went on to score a 73-56 victory, and cinch third place in the Huron League.

Chuck Thomas led his teammates with 24 points, 21 coming in the first half, 14 in the first quarter.

Except for Thomas' first-half performance — and a flurry or two from Terry Alcock — the Indians were far from being impressive.

A GI pressing defense bothered the Indians to no end, forcing frequent turnovers, particularly in the first half.

Alcock and Dean Hebb, however, controlled the boards, a winning factor since GI hit for 24 goals from the floor, the same as Tecumseh.

Thomas gave Tecumseh a 20-12 lead in the first quarter, all it needed to keep ahead of GI.

The Red Devils once pulled to within three points in the second period, but dropped completely out of the game after the half when the Indians tallied 21 points to GI's 13.

Coach Vic Lawson flooded the floor in the final period with reserves who continued the rout, upping the winning margin to 17 points.

ALCOCK collected 14 points, and Dean Hebb, top Tecumseh scorer for the season, netted 12, with 10 of these in the second half.

The 70% average from the free throw line is the highest for the Indians this year. If they had been as successful in their four losses, it's conceivable Tecumseh would be undefeated at 13-0, instead of 9-4.

Poem Cautions Complacent of Tecumseh

TO THE EDITORS:

Here is an original poem which I have entitled:

"Laughing on the Outside, Crying on the Inside"

There is a city I know of,
Not too far away,
That prospered during boom,
But soon decayed.

A booming economy
They wanted, you see.
But returned nothing to citizens
In the form of facilities.

Stores went unrenovated
As long as bucks could be made.
City fathers stood by Certain businessmen and politicians held the spades.

Parking and shopping
Grew into a puzzle.
Fire and crime grew
While councilmen were muzzled.

Old timers said, "Don't go into a frenzy
There won't be any problem with juvenile delinquency.
Times are good, it's just your imagination.
Things will take care of themselves we don't [illegible] organization."

Well, streets needed repair,
Police and fire crews too small.
Water and sewer were questioned,
Letters flooded city hall.

Without thought to forward planning,
Master plan, the fact is.
Or new business and commerce,
Where will we get the taxes?

Sad ending came to that city that shunned.
But one that we can learn from.
The city regressed and lost its position.
Let's not allow Tecumseh this kind of transition.

Let's provide for the future,
And build our tax base.
Encourage restaurants and business,
Please don't start to erase.

We're on our way now,
And the future is bright.
We can modify rules,
The time is just right.

We must allow for more business.
For parks, homes and schools.
For more policemen and firemen,
We can't act like mules.

If we don't get moving,
You can bet our beautiful town
Will be poor and vacant,
Like a hole in the ground.

Shopping centers and subdivisions
Will grow outside the city line.
And our epitaph will read,
"We weren't ready, we fell behind."

The town I first mentioned,
And used as example
Is east on Highway 12,
And a very good sample.

If you question my authority,
And wonder why I should fear,
I lived in that town
During those prosperous years.

Someone once said
There's no middle to progress—
It's either forward or backward,
No "in-between" was stressed.

Can Churches Hold Cantata?

TO THE EDITORS:

Could the churches of Tecumseh combine their choirs for an Easter cantata? Would young people and adults from Tecumseh and the surrounding area be willing to contribute their singing talents to a community project of this kind?

Years ago folks of the Tecumser area presented an Easter cantata and as a teenage member of that group, it was then, I was first introduced to Handel's Messiah.

It was a rewarding experience and I still thrill to that beautiful music and the message it brings.

If it hadn't been for the opportunity to sing with our local group, I would have missed a wonderful experience.

It could be that there are others who enjoyed these Easter Sunday afternoon presentations and now miss them as I do.

It is a concern of mine that some youth of today aren't having this opportunity for exposure to this type of music in our area. In my opinion we are to the saturation point in the so-called modern music of today.

I realize individuals have different tastes in music and I respect the individual's privilege of choice, but from my personal taste, I find it more and more difficult as time passes to find music I enjoy on radio and TV.

If for some of our youth, this is the only medium they have access to, what taste in music can they develop?

Couldn't we combine our efforts in a community choral group and at least offer to the youth of our area the opportunity to take part in such a program.

Are there other adults who would enjoy being a member of such a group? I hope so.

Sincerely,
Mrs. William Osburn
6404 Pocklington Rd.

McKean Crew Sharp

TO THE EDITORS:

The enclosed article was in the "Independent", Long Beach, Calif., and I thought perhaps you would be interested to know that a boy from Tecumseh was aboard this valiant ship during our holiday season and is still aboard the USS McKean.

He is Robert Imes, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Hunt. He's proud he's from Tecumseh and I'm sure Tecumseh should be proud of him and the many many more like him.

It's too bad many in the U.S. didn't realize what these boys were going through when they were feasting on their Christmas dinners and opening their many gifts.

From the Independent:

"The destroyer USS McKean went into action on Dec. 15 after being notified that Viet Cong were preparing to attack the village of My Trang.

Lt. John Culver, weapons officer, said, "The mount captains had their crews working at top efficiency. These young sailors are a credit to their country. They came through when the chips were down!

"All told, we blasted out three Viet Nam mortar posi tions and did a lot of damage to the troops," Lt. Culver said.

"The McKean's barrage prevented the 400 Viet Cong from taking the key outpost."

Sincerely yours,
Corleone E. Gore

Family Lauds Nursing Home

TO THE EDITORS:

This letter is to express the appreciation of the family of Clarence Reinhart to the entire community of Tecumseh for the wonderful care accorded him at the Herrick Nursing Home during his extended and final illness.

Too many times we fail to think of institutions such as this as being anything but just another necessary organization but, in the Herrick Nursing Home, we have an outstanding example of the fact that no such place could exist except as it reflects the spirit of the entire community.

This is especially true in this case for again and again our family has witnessed how the people of Tecumseh, through the Nursing Home Auxiliary, the high school students, and other individual efforts, have directly engaged in the program of helping to include love and kindness and actual physical care in brightening the lives of those in this fine nursing home.

Moreover, I am sure that the people of the community and those who have participated in this effort have given their own lives an added enrichment through this fine service.

Sincerely,
The Family of Clarence Reinhart

Where Does Tax Money Go, He Asks?

TO THE EDITORS:

We have lived here approximately eight months now and love it. Our taxes are slightly over $400 — or comparable to what we paid living in a Detroit suburb.

The home we had there was better made and larger than the one we now own, but we're not complaining about that.

What we are concerned about is that here we have a police and voluntary fire department operating on a bare string, we have no sidewalks, poor roads, we pay no salary for a mayor, operate on the minimum of city employees, pay extra for garbage pick up, receive bad water, etc., etc.

Admittedly, I am not aware of the legal ramifications and the rules and regulations governing the City Council, Board of Appeals, etc. But where do the taxes go and why is it so difficult to increase our tax base by allowing new businesses into town and established businesses to grow?

If we as a city, expect to grow and prosper, as we must, and if we expect to benefit from an obviously bright future based on new industry, we have to realize that services must be offered.

If there are rules that strangle this approach, then I say let's change them before we hang ourselves.

New books at your Public Library:

AFTER JULIUS by Elizabeth Howard. This is at once a moral tale and a portrait of three states of mind. It tells the story of three women living in the deep shadow of a single man, Julius, whose tragic death at Dunkirk years before has produced in each of them a different sense of loss.

THE LOCKWOOD CONCERN by John O'Hara. The Lockwood men were strong-willed, shrewd, aggressive; and each generation gained over its predecessors in self-assurance and attractiveness. But something important was missing in the Lockwoods and in their concern. What this was will become apparent to the reader as he follows the intricate and subtle steps whereby this exciting chronicle is unfolded and resolved.

THE COMEDIANS by Graham Greene. Set in Haiti, where terror rides and death comes frequently and swiftly in the night, it is a story of love and adventure, hope and disillusion.

WILLA CATHER'S COLLECTED SHORT FICTION, 1892-1912. Brought together in this omnibus volume are all the known signed stories written by Willa Cather over a period of two decades — the twenty years of experiment and discovery which culminated in the publication of PIONEERS.

THE GREAT STRUGGLE, labor in America by Irving Werstein, who was during the thirties a factory worker and union member and has personal experience of a climactic era in the labor movement.

MOUNTAIN MAN by Vardis Fisher. Sam Minard was of this breed — a mountain man, whose deepest love was for that freedom which the Rocky Mountains offered to the free trappers. The author gives us a remarkable story of this giant of a mountain man, who lived in that time which historian Bernard DeVoto has called the brief season when the romantic myth of the Far West became a fact.

TEEN TALK

By DEBBIE EARLING

The Student Council would like to extend their thanks to the student body for their participation in the "Ben Cat" drive.

Altogether $135.97 and $30 worth of supplies were collected. The money was used to convert masonite into slates and to purchase chalk and erasers. Special thanks go to Mr. Gross for his assistance.

The Necessities will entertain at the Teen Club Dance Feb. 19 from 8:30 to 11:30. Feb. 26 the Teen Club will sponsor a "sponge dance" in the High School gym with music provided by the Serfs.

The Student Council and the clubs in affiliation with the school have contributed to the Michigan Heart Association Fund in memory of Mrs. Ruth LaPrad.

Every war has its heroes and the Green Berets qualify for this status among the teenagers. The song dedicated to the Special Service by Staff Sergeant Barry A. Sadler has become a favorite because it combines a "good beat with a noble thought."

A letter was received by Kathy Hall and Steve Hollar from Congressman Weston E. Vivian, congratulating the student body for its participation in the Ben Cat drive.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In The Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

No. 562

On reading and filing the complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan praying for a judgment in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said complaint will be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at Adrian in the County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, on the 14th day of March A. D. 1966, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgment the lands described in said complaint for which a judgment of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Lenawee, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. REX B. MARTIN, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Lenawee County this 21st day of January A. D. 1966.

REX B. MARTIN,
Circuit Judge.

Countersigned,
Patricia J. Johnston,
Deputy Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee.

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.50 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Dated: January 20, 1966.

Room Fees Raised

BRITTON — George Berryman, director of the school band and head of the music department at Britton-Macon School, and Ronald Maschino, president of the Band Boosters, were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education last Wednesday evening to report on the progress of the band, and outline the plans to purchase new uniforms.

The school board voted to help them with the purchase of uniforms.

Four teachers were given tenure; they are Gary Lovett, Al Vadasy, George Berryman and Mrs. Kenneth Fleming.

Contracts were signed for the two new teachers, Galen Quigley and Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

New fees for the use of rooms in the school were announced. The costs will be raised as follows:

Study Hall	$7.50
Cafeteria	$7.50
Kitchen	$7.50

The new fees will go into effect immediately. Also, anytime the kitchen is in use, one of the cafeteria staff will have to be on hand to supervise the use of the equipment, and wages will be paid by the group using the kitchen.

Will Pray for Sick

By REV. THOMAS DROBENA

BRITTON — Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Britton met in a Pre-Lent evangelism and healing prayer group Thursday, Feb. 17, 1966.

Members promised to pray regularly for the unchurched and the sick. This will be the Lenten emphasis, starting next week, Ash Wednesday, "by Christ's stripes are we healed."

Pastor Drobena pointed out the danger of indifference to God. If we do not consider God "a very present help in trouble" (Psalm 46), do we not show our disbelief in the effectiveness of prayer? Is it not the end of spiritual power?

A series of 12 Biblical studies will explain Man's relationship to God and himself. The first six will deal with "healing of the soul" which is necessary for eternal salvation, but also for a "healing of the body" according to Doctor Albert Reissmer.

The second group of studies beginning after Easter will give insight into the healing of man's body. However, already next Wednesday, friends and relatives of the ill are invited to pray for them and the sick may receive the laying on of hands with prayer and anointing. (Matt. 16:17-18)

The regular Lenten service with a sermon dealing with health and salvation will begin at 7:30 p.m. It will give a deeper insight into the actual prayer and healing service which follows at 8:15 p.m.

After the service, books on the subject may be borrowed, as well as magazines. Literature will also be distributed free of charge.

If you are unable to attend, please write for a free copy of the sermon and the literature for the week, on a postcard. You may also request the ministers of the parish to call on you and place you on our prayer list.

Easter Cantata Practice Starts

BRITTON — "Music for the Easter cantata for presentation by the Senior and Junior choirs of the Congregation Christian Church arrived, and practice will begin this week," stated choir director Mrs. William Raeburn.

"No Greater Love," a Singspiration Cantata by John Peterson, is the title of this year's presentation.

Musical Service Will Dedicate New Church Piano

BRITTON — A musical dedication service will be presented next Sunday evening, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the Congregational Church, to dedicate the recent gift of a new piano to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bush.

Instrumental music, piano and organ selections and numbers by the junior and senior choirs will be featured.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program. Refreshments will be served in the Fellowship Center following the service.

Britton Choir Members Sing Inspiringly

BRITTON — The Senior Choirs of Grace Methodist and the Britton Congregational Christian Church were among those participating in the Singspiration at the Deerfield Methodist Church Sunday evening.

About 200 people were present to hear the choir selections and enjoy the group hymn sing.

The Rev. William Buffton, pastor of the Deerfield and Petersburg Methodist Churches, gave the invocation and welcome.

Other groups include the Deerfield Cherub Choir, the Blissfield Methodist Choir, the Dundee Methodist Choir, the Macon Methodist Choir and the Dundee Senior Choir.

Refreshments were served in the church dining room following the musical program.

Tory School Notes

By SHERRY SQUIRES and SUE EDDINGER

"It's a great privilege to be selected to go to Boys State. I'll try to live up to the honor given me by being chosen," commented Larry Ash on being selected to represent Britton High School at Boys State.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash of 8904 Ridge Rd., Ridgeway, was chosen by the vote of the high school faculty and administration for his high moral character, good clean sportsmanship and potential leadership ability.

If Larry is unable to attend Boys State, Gary Griffin will take his place.

Jacqueline Cunkle has been chosen "Homemaker of Tomorrow" for our high school. She received the highest score here in a written examination given in December.

She will receive a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin and her test paper will be entered in competition for State Honors.

The following rated high on the test: Sherry Squires, superior; Karen Ivan, Sylvia Luegge, Sue Eddinger and Sandra Gibbs, excellent. The test was administered by Kathleen Wood.

The Britton F.F.A. participated in the District F.F.A. Leadership Contest at Ida High School, Thursday, Feb. 10, 1966. Britton was represented in two of the four contests.

In the Parliamentary Practice Contest, Britton received a silver award. This team consisted of Les Rowe, chairman; Ron Eldred, vice-chairman; Gary Spohr, secretary; and team members, Tom Loomis, Tom Tucker, Tim Gall and Larry Bush.

In the Farm Forum Contest three teams were entered. Britton won first place, a gold award, and the opportunity to compete in the regional F.F.A. contests, Feb. 24, at Bedford High School. Britton was represented here by chairman, Charues Drexler; and team members Steve Eldred, Ron Heiden, Tom Korican, Barney Kurowicki and John Miller.

Declamations, condensations or excerpts from literary work, will be presented by a group of students under the direction of Gary Lovett and Jack Evans.

The readings will be presented in programs at Britton and Deerfield High School, at a later date. Those students participating in the programs are: Gary Griffith, Mike Smith, Carmen Gergus, Mike McKenzie, Ron Eby, Chug Brablec, Larry Bush, Brenda Hall, David Bush and Linda Mann.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

There I was, back in Egypt again, thanks to ladies of the Lutheran Church Women of Gloria Dei.

They wanted to take a peek at color slides taken by me in the Land of the Nile during a trip my wife and I made there during 1964.

It's always fun for me to see the shots (this being about the 100th time). However, this showing was especially thrilling because of the projector used, loaned for the occasion by Mabel Lockwood, editor of the Tecumseh Products Broadcast.

Mabel recently purchased a 500-watt Sawyer, which gives surprising zip and color to slides. It uses a carousal, which can hold 100 slides. There's a remote control switch that permits not only advancing from slide to slide, but also has a reverse device and a button which corrects focus.

I only hope the Lutheran ladies enjoyed the pictures as much as I did. Up to now, I had been using a tired Argus 300-watter, which was worn out from about 14 years of use.

Comparing the two, Argus and Sawyer, is like driving a Model A and then hopping into a new Mercury.

A LOT OF things have happened in Egypt since we were there, especially with the Great Temple of Abu Simbel, built by Rameses II. It now is 1,500 huge sandstone blocks, each weighing up to 30 tons.

They give the appearance of a jig-saw puzzle, sitting in apparent disarray on a cliff 200 feet above the 3,200-year-old location.

Saving Abu Simbel from the water of Lake Nasser, which is now forming behind the new High Dam at Aswan, was the No. 1 project of archeologists who wanted to preserve as many as possible of the ancient treasures along the Upper Nile.

It was the most expensive individual project — costing $36 million.

The cash was anted up by UNESCO, a branch of the United Nations, with Uncle Sam kicking in about 40%. U.S. contributions mainly came in the realm of "soft currency," which means money owed the USA for grain by the United Arab Republic. These Egyptian pounds are almost useless outside the country.

WELL, ANYWAY, the job on Abu Simbel is now past the first stage.

When we looked at it, two years ago, knowing what engineers planned doing, I was mighty skeptical. Being made of sandstone, which would flake off at the touch of a finger nail, the temple couldn't possibly be cut

Trailer Park Now Rated Commercial

Don Maves of Paul's Trailer Court told Council Monday he's happy with city water service and bulk rates.

But he doesn't like the idea of being hit with a $3 minimum charge for every mobile home when only one meter is used.

Councilmen, after considerable talk, agreed with him.

The trailer court will be considered a commercial user and billings based on amount of water used.

Mr. Maves said there had been a misunderstanding when he abandoned his own two wells and switched to the city mains.

He didn't realize a $3 quarterly fee would be assessed on the basis of 40 units, despite the fact that water comes through one meter and is distributed from there by the trailer court's system.

Ferris Trailer Park has always been billed commercial, it was noted.

Mr. Maves said expansion plans at Paul's call for addition of 30 more units and he didn't want to face what he felt was unfair charges for water.

Water Survey Probes Entire City Supply

A survey of Tecumseh's underground water supply and potential well fields is currently being made by McNamee, Porter and Seeley, consulting engineers of Ann Arbor.

When it is complete, a full study by city officials will be made of the water setup and rate structure.

Budget Time

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Zorn Anticipates Increased Valuation

Nobody in community government envies City Manager Cal Zorn these days.

It's budget-making time.

Mr. Zorn asked Council Monday if any city fathers would care to offer suggestions as to approximately what percentage the budget might be raised.

Payroll increases are a major factor to be considered.

His query triggered a spirited discussion and once more brought up the police pay scale.

Chief Murell Clark told Councilmen that the city was losing two patrolmen, James Harden and Bob Purkey, in the next few weeks, dropping his outside force to six. It should be nine.

Patrolman Harden, who will leave March 2, has not revealed his future plans. Patrolman Purkey, who leaves Feb. 25, is joining his brother Dick in operation of the family garage.

In addition, Patrolman Alan Jones suffered a broken knee recently and is confined to desk work.

Mr. Zorn said that the Lenawee County Board of Supervisors recently upped pay of sheriff deputies to $6,200 annually, which leaves Tecumseh's scale $400 off the pace.

Chief Clark said the force's two sergeants earn $6,032 and the patrolmen $5,824.

"Where is the best spot to recruit patrolmen?" Councilman Gene Tuckey asked.

To this, Mr. Zorn replied, "Vietnam."

The city manager still is able to maintain a sense of humor, especially helpful at budget time.

HE TOLD Council he had asked department heads to turn in recommendations and expects to use as a base from which to figure his final proposals.

Last year, Tecumseh's budget totaled $610,000, of which $226,000 was for payroll. He said new increases in social security, workman's compensation and retirement will account for a sizeable jump in expense to the city.

At present, Tecumseh ranks No. 7 in pay scale out of 22 Michigan cities of comparable size. However, as Councilman Ray Puffer noted the influence of nearby metropolitan areas make this statistic almost useless.

A jump in the city budget could mean another mill in taxation, Councilmen mused, however, the city manager said this might not be necessary.

"I look for increases in assessed valuations (among property)," he said. This would bring in more money at the same millage.

Mr. Zorn added that he hopes eventually city properties would be 100% of state equalization. At present, the city is 85% of the state figure.

Saves $2,600 in Retiring Sewer Bonds

Council authorized the retirement of $80,000 in Series B Sewer Bonds as of March 1.

This will mean a savings of $2,600 annually to the city.

A total of $560,000 in bonds were floated for construction of the Wastepaper Plant expansion.

The early retirement was made possible because of a government grant.

Council Runs 'Action Line'

Now City Councilmen know how it is to run an Action Line, just like the Detroit Free Press does.

Among spectators at Monday's meeting were members of the Tri-Town Extension Club, who were getting a practical lesson on community development.

Before things had gone too long, the ladies were asking pointed questions, which had everyone from city government jumping.

"There was some big tile left ages and ages ago in front of our house. How long must it be on our property before we can claim it?" Mrs. John Robinson, 1210 Shady Lane, wanted to know.

It turned out that the pieces of 15" tile were left over from a storm sewer job completed about the first of the year along Mrs. Robinson's block.

"They'll probably be out by noon tomorrow," Gene Tucky told her, then added that he was merely "a lowly councilman."

"I'll call each one of you by noon if the pipes aren't removed," she grinned.

ANOTHER VISITOR, Mrs. Loarn Forrester, 502 Occidental Hwy., inquired when her street was to be paved.

City Engineer Lynn Noble allowed as how this was scheduled for 1969, which didn't make the ladies, most of whom lived in the area, too happy.

Mr. Noble explained that this summer a storm sewer is going in on Occidental, from Willow St., to Russell Rd. Surfacing improvements can't be started until this is done. Curb and gutters also must go in first.

Mrs. Forrester explained she'd take a petition for curb and gutter around the neighborhood if she had to.

Some temporary relief, from the dips and humps of Occidental, is in sight, pointed out Mr. Noble.

After the storm sewer work is done, city crews will fill and grade temporarily. The nob along Occidental, just south of Harry Beland's Tecumseh Woodworking shop, will be cut down and the hollow north of it filled.

PFC Jerry G. Forsyth arrived in Vietnam and is in active duty with the 6th Heavy Artillery Co. Pvt. Forsyth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Forsyth, 3402 Ridge Rd., near Holloway. A 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School, he was employed at the J. J. Walper and Son Elevator in Britton, before joining the army in 1965.

Satterthwaite Named NASA Consultant

U. S. Representative Weston E. Vivian today reported that Joseph C. Satterthwaite, a native of Tecumseh, former ambassador and career foreign service officer, has joined the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as a consultant to Administrator James E. Webb.

Satterthwaite retired from the State Department in 1965. He will advise the Administrator in the field of international affairs in the area of Western Europe.

Satterthwaite received bachelor and master's degrees from the University of Michigan and is an overseas army veteran of World War I.

He joined the Department of State in 1924 in Germany and served in a number of diplomatic posts around the world before becoming director general of the Foreign Service in 1957.

He served subsequently as assistant secretary for African affairs and his last assignment was ambassador to the Republic of South Africa.

HUGE LAMINATED BEAMS FOR NEW METHODIST CHURCH LIFTED INTO PLACE

Methodists Want To Honor Bishop

Methodists in town are excited about two things.

- Their new church, now rapidly taking shape.
- An opportunity to honor their retired bishop by naming a street in town after him.

Both tie together nicely.

The spacious $350,000 church complex is under construction just off Brown St., not far from the southwest tip of Red Mill Pond.

When it is finished, the church will build a roadway in from Brown.

On the city plat, this street is designated as Algonquin, but Methodists have asked that it be changed to honor Bishop Marshall Reed, who was born in Tecumseh and now lives in retirement in Onsted.

In their first request, Methodists asked for "Bishop Marshall Reed Dr.," but this was deemed too long.

Now under consideration are "Bishop Reed Dr." and "Reed Dr."

City fathers have attempted to have Indian names for roadways, but in this case there seems no objection to honoring the popular religious leader. None were expressed when the subject came up at Council Monday.

ON THE construction project, extremely cold weather has stalled some work, but the job is still on schedule.

Heavy plastic sheets have closed in windows of the Sunday School area, allowing temperatures to reach 70 degrees so that concrete can be poured.

Outside, limestone work is at a standstill because of low temperatures.

The church is slated for dedication in September.

A parsonage for the Rev. Donald Porteous and his family is simultaneously being erected on Seminole St.

TAXES GOING UP?

School Board Talks Millage

By JIM LINCOLN

School Board members discussed — without action — possible millage to be placed on the June ballot at Monday night's meeting.

The board was unable to reach any conclusions, mainly because of salary negotiations with teachers and others in the school system.

These negotiations start next Monday.

At the meeting, the Board approved for negotiating purposes, the Tecumseh Custodian and Maintenance Association.

IN OTHER action, the Board:

- Approved student accident insurance.
- Discussed checkless paydays, a method of paying all school teachers and employees by having their pay deposited at the United Savings Bank.
- Heard a statistical report from the business manager about the comparison of costs per pupil here with the national average.
- Listened to board president Aden Mead's report on the Atlantic City Convention.

TEA Presents Master Plan, Salary Plea

A negotiating team from the School Board will meet with a similar team, representing the Tecumseh Teachers Association, next Monday night.

Center of discussion is a master plan compiled by the TEA and probably a request for salary increases for the teachers.

The School Board selected Aden Mead, president; Supt. James McDowell and Assistant Supt. Norval Bovee to negotiate and report back to the board.

The board will have the perogative to approve or veto any settlements made by the negotiating teams.

Pool Filter Costing $5,995

It's going to cost $5,995 to replace the filters in the city's swimming pool.

Council OKed the expenditure Monday, with the job awarded to Poplar Filter Co. of Britton.

Of five bids submitted on the project, Poplar's was the highest, but the other firms had not included several items, nor complete installation costs.

The filter alone runs $3,200.

Recreation Director Don Moffatt and City Manager Cal Zorn told Councilmen they had made a complete study of the situation and felt the Poplar proposal was the best one. It offers a five-year guarantee and the equipment is Fiberglas.

An objection to spending more money on the pool was offered by Buck Smith, 202 W. Pottawattamie St., a spectator who opined, "This is throwing good money after bad."

He explained that the pool is poorly located and hard to get to.

Mayor Harold Easton replied, "I think the pool has done a terrific job in the community."

Mr. Zorn added, "I can't even begin to measure how many lives it has saved. The younger kids are still all learning (to swim) at the pool."

Many junior and senior high-age youths go to the Pit, he explained.

Mr. Zorn noted that the pool costs $8,000 a year to operate and, "We take in $4,000 revenue."

Lenten Schedule Started

In order to make the Lenten Season a time of deep spiritual helpfulness to all the families of the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Donald C. Porteous sent a personal invitation to the members of the congregation to participate in the Wednesday evening services at 7:15 and the Sunday morning services at 10.

"The Crossroads of Lent" will be the theme of the Wednesday services beginning with Ash Wednesday Holy Communion.

March 2, th Rev. Joseph Edwards, district superintendent of the Ann Arbor District, will speak. In the following weeks Rev. Porteous will speak on "Saving or Spending" March 9, "Striving or Serving" March 16, "Awake or Asleep" March 23, and "Silent or Speaking" March 30.

On April 7, Maundy Thursday, Holy Communion will be administered.

"Questions From the Passion" will highlight the morning services: February 27 "Is It I?", March 6 "Shall We Strike With the Sword?", March 13 "What Is Truth?", March 20 "What Shall I Do With Jesus Who Is Called Christ?", March 27 "My God, Why?", April 3, Palm Sunday, "Who Is This?", and on Easter, April 10, "Why Do You Seek the Living Among the Dead?"

LONG & SHORT

into chunks and hauled up 180 feet and back a mile, I figured.

Now I know why the engineers are earning their keep. Before sawing was started, holes were drilled into the sandstone and polyester resin injected, helping to hold the material together. At the same time, lifting rods were embedded.

Folks who saw my reports in The Herald of the Egyptian adventure may recall the mention of an English couple, Jenny and Mike Lucas, whom we met on the tiny Sudanese steamer going to Abu Simbel, spent two days together at the temple and returned north with them as far as Luxor.

We still correspond and a few weeks ago they sent a concise story from The London Guardian, written by a chap named Michael Frenchman, who brought the Abu Simbel project up to date. He noted:

"Now it looks like a marzipanned cake with the first slice eaten. All that is left of the great statues are a few crumbs, just the big toes sticking out of the red sand. Lilliputian workmen, many of them Nubians whose forefathers carved the statues, scramble over the remains of the feet sawing and drilling.

"Chain saws grind slowly through the rock and dozens of British-made road drills stammer away. Compressed a[illegible] electrical cables, hoses, pipes, chains, hawsers, and scaffolding criss-cross the site.

"Rising up from the middle, a spidery tower crane, its jib swinging back and forth, lifts newly cut blocks on to low trailers which are then pulled slowly up the tortuous mile-long track to the resting ground.

"At one time there were 2,000 workmen engaged on the project, in which the United Arab Republic, West Germany, Italy, Sweden and France are participating.

"They worked round the clock in two shifts in a desperate effort to beat the Nile waters, which have been rising steadily as work progresses on the Aswan High Dam 180 miles downstream.

"Now the workmen have dwindled to 1,000, supervised by about 60 Europeans on the site.

The temples will be reassembled on the cliff top 200 ft. above the original site and 200 yards further back from the river.

"The cracks between the blocks will be filled in with resin-mortar blended to match. When the work is completed a huge concrete shell will be poured over the temple, binding it all together, and the area will be landscaped into the natural surroundings," he reported.

When Ramses ordered the four, seated statues of himself cut into the cliff, with three inner rooms that were burrowed deep into the sandstone, his objective was to have the farthermost chamber illuminated by the rising sun twice a year, at the time of Equinox.

In March and September, the first rays of dawn would stream through the corridor to bathe in light that inner-most room with its four statues — including the sun god, Ra-Horakhte, to whom the temple was dedicated.

"Once again the temple will face the east," Mr. Frenchman concluded his Guardian article, "And all things well, the first rising sun of March 1970, should strike into the sanctuary as it did for the first time 3,000 years ago."

Flag Holders Will Replace Older Models

Sixty new downtown flag holders are being purchased by the city.

They will replace the ones in use for the past six years and cost $5 each.

In discussing the purchase, Councilmen again wondered how come people who are given parking fines continually place their money in the red envelopes and then slip them into flag holders.

3 Venti-Breathers Given to Firemen by Ken-Ray Drug

A gift of three Venti-Breather [illegible] was made to the Tecumseh Volunteer Fire Department by Ken-Ray Drugs.

"The Fire Department has been very gracious to us in allowing our wholesaler to leave our drug order at the fire house every Saturday night. My brother, Ken, and I feel this is a good way to say 'thanks'."

The note was read at Council's session Monday.

Among $4,038.84 in bills approved by Council Monday was a $441.50 tab for a new air compressor from K & K Air compressors.

Ideals of Lincoln

ADRIAN — The new auditorium of the First Methodist Church in Adrian was filled to capacity Saturday night for the annual Lincoln Day banquet observed by the Republican Party.

Party faithful gathered from the Second Congressional District to hear Governor George Romney deliver the main address of the evening, in such numbers that Gov. Romney remarked that no where else in the entire state had be observed such a complete turnout of an area's state congressman and local party officials.

Speaking in his usual dynamic manner, Gov. Romney compared the ideals and hopes of Lincoln with the situation facing the nation today, shressing again and again that the two words best describing the founder of the Republican party were "Lincoln Cared." "Lincoln cared about people," Gov. Romney said, "not as votes for his policital beliefs, but about the needs of the widow's and children and churches and schools.

His memory should instill in us a renewal of dedication to care for our own instead of relegating these duties to the concern and control of the national government." Governor Romney elaborated on the ideas that Michigan has been working on for the last few years. "Ten ago," he said, "Michigan ranked No. 10 in the nation in programs to plan for the solution of our internal problems — now we rank No. 1.

More has been done in the lines of education, care for our institutionalized persons, and discussion of family affars groups than in any time in history.

We are preparing to assume home control of these problems — we must perform the functions of caring for our own people in Michigan and not look to Washington for help."

Governor Romney brought out that Michigan is the only state that has a civil rights commission, and Michigan has more programs to aid our schools than ever before in the history of the state.

Governor Romney feels that the most pressing problems facing the American people today are the decline of religion, the deterioration of morals, lack of faith in the principles of good government and the breakup of family life.

Dignataries present included Joe Bell, State Central Vice Chairman Prosser Watts, Jr., member of the State Central Committee, Mrs. Ruth Hobbs, President, Women's Federation, Wendell Hobbs, Chairman 2nd District, a long list of senators and representatives including Gilbert Bursley, Haskell Nichols, Tom Sharps, Rollo Conlin, and numerous others including the county officers and candidates for the coming elections.

Mrs. Raymond Platt introduced Mrs. Susan Allen, 90, of Morenci, as the oldest Republican at the Lincoln Day dinner. Mrs. Allen still considers herself an active Republican worker and never misses a Lincoln Day event.

Loses $18,618

Herrick Memorial Hospital Trustees OKed $107,359.48 in bills and payroll for December.

An added professional hospital liability insurance was approved and this will run $1,139.30 for three years.

The year of 1965 saw a loss of $18,618.39, with nearly half of it in December, but since then daily room rates have been increased an average of $2.

Trustees agreed to participate in a Lenawee County Hospital survey, assuming $1,000 of the total $4,000 cost.

The University of Michigan School of Hospital Administration will gather data during April and May to:

- ► Deliniate service areas for each of five county hospitals.
- ► Review care needs including long-term and psychiatric needs.
- ► Recommend long-term plan of health care, programs and facilities to provide them.

Rates Raised $1.50

Room rates at Herrick Nursing Home have been raised $1.50 a day to help offset increased operating expenses.

Rooms now range from $10.50 to $13.50, based on individual patient care required.

Action was taken by the Home's Board of Trustees at the January meeting.

The Home lost $318.15 in December as compared to a $449 profit in 1964 for the same month. Increased staff wages and Social Security account for the higher costs. The Home showed a net profit of $2,305.75 for 1965.

Current costs total $950 monthly, with an average monthly census of 700 patient days.

Fires Hit

• Kitchen Cabinets Ruined

CLINTON — Fire destroyed most of the new custom-made kitchen cabinets and charred the ceiling in the Smith-Kimball Community Center, Tuesday morning at 8:30 a.m.

The blaze ignited when glue struck an open electrical outlet as workmen were installing the Formica top on the kitchen sink, which was the last section of the cabinets to be built in the remodeling project as it neared completion.

Fire and smoke damage was confined to the kitchen.

The nearly-completed custodian's apartment, west of the kitchen, was not damaged, nor was the remainder of the center.

The limited damage was largely due to the fact that Harry Werth, the custodian, was just outside the center filling the ice-skating pond with a hose as the fire started. He was able to put water on the fire until the Clinton Fire Department arrived.

Contractors, Donald Meyers and Harold Socks, had planned to have the cabinets all in place by evening for viewing by the Community Center Board at their regular meeting.

The loss is completely covered by the contractor's insurance.

• Chimney Sparks Set Blaze

TIPTON — A fire from sparks in the chimney set fire to the roof of the Mrs. Caroline Baldwin home in Tipton at 8:45, Saturday morning.

The house and contents were a total loss estimated at $20,000, including many antiques and horticultural historical records dating back to 1929.

She also lost records and books of the Civil War which were to be given to the Lenawee County Historical Museum and a complete collection of Horticultural magazines to be given to the Michigan State Horticultural Society Library at Detroit.

Mrs. Baldwin was one of the first members of the Michigan State Horticultural Society, and kept pictures, slides and records pertaining to that activity.

She also had family heirlooms over 100 years old.

Mrs. Baldwin has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Withrow in Birdsall.

The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The Tecumseh Fire Department was called and they asked for assistance from Sand Lake and Onsted.

Hitch-Hikes into Berlin

Editor's note — Here's another report from Hal Weakly of Tecumseh who is making a four-month tour of Europe.

By HAL WEAKLY

BERLIN — My travels find me in West Berlin after a snowy and cold Scandanavia. The snow was up to my shoulders but Norway and Sweden were beautiful countries.

In Norway I saw the first ski jumping that I've ever seen and ate reindeer in a mountain lodge outside of Oslo. Another first for me (reindeer). In Sweden I lived aboard a ship in Stockholm the SS Af Chapman.

Oh, yes, I also saw Miriam Makeba at Bern's, a famous restaurant in Stockholm.

By the way, I think I mentioned that Amsterdam was the "Venice of the North," I stand corrected. Stockholm is really the "Venice of the North," I would like to come back to visit these cities and countries when the weather is warm and everything is in bloom.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark is a typical example. I did not know that Tivoli would be closed during the winter, but I guess it just stands to reason that no one in his right mind would operate a ferris wheel while it's snowing.

While in Copenhagen I saw "The Little Mermaid." She's a bronze statue sitting on a rock out in the water and if you remember about a year or so ago she had her head knocked off.

They have never found the head but they presume it was vandals. She was all intact and in her splendor on a bright sunny day when I saw her.

I HAD very little difficulty getting to Berlin, my Eurail Pass is not in effect when we enter East Germany, so I decided to hitch-hike about 250 miles to Berlin.

Much to my surprise a German student from Berlin picked me up and took me right to my hostel in Berlin.

He spoke very little English, but you would be surprised how well we could understand each other.

We had to get visas at a barbed-wire check point, which took about an hour, and cost 10 Deutsche Marks (about $2).

We had another check point at Berlin and then we were in the city.

It must have been a beautiful city before it was severely bombed. Actually, the most prominent and most beautiful buildings of Berlin happen to be in East Berlin, the Communist sector. They have done very little to restore them.

I SAW the changing of the guard at a tomb in East Berlin and did I ever see some goose-stepping. Their legs were at 90-degree angles.

Check Point Charley is quite a thrill to go through. To see the "wall" dividing that beautiful city almost makes one sick.

Well, on to southern Germany and to Austria.

2 International Chassis Ordered

Tecumseh Equipment Co. was awarded contracts for two International chassis Monday night by the School Board.

Winning bid was $3,260. Tecumseh Motors bid $3,265, and Schneider Chevrolet-Buick, $3,795.36.

Wayne Co. bodies have been ordered for the chassis, and the buses will be put into service next fall.

YOU TOLD US

Tecumseh residents will be glad to hear that Mark Doerfleur, son of "Red", the Driggs milk man about town for the past at least 25 years, is recuperating.

Mark, 11, was walking to the school bus stop Feb. 2 when he dropped his books in the slippery snow and as he stooped to pick them up, was struck by a vehicle driven by Cliff Jackson en rounte to Anderson Fertilizer Co., near Clinton.

Mark arrived home from Riverside Hospital, Toledo, Monday evening after a stay there that included two weeks of intensive care.

His Dad said the boy really slept well that night and we suspect, so did his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson Jr. and daughter, Pat, and Lynn Kitson of Adrian, attended graduation ceremonies from boot camp at Great Lakes in which Mike Wilson was one of the participants. He is expected home Friday for a two week leave before going to Pensacola, Fla., to attend storekeeper's school.

Cards and letters from friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hadley have aided much in their recuperation in the Greenville Surgical Hospital, Greenville, Texas. The couple, former Tecumseh residents were both seriously injured in an auto accident Jan. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Burley, sister of Mrs. Hadley, of Monroe have returned to their home after spending a week in Greenville. They said that the mail is most helpful but the Hadleys are neither one able to write to answer letters.

"How's the old has-been?" said the voice on the phone to my surprised ears, expecting to hear that of Mrs. Henry Karl Smith who should have been informed that her classified ad would be $1.25.

"Are you feeling better today, June?" continued the voice and then I realized it was Mrs. Penman thinking she was talking to June Kirkland. After we had straightened out "who was who," Mrs. Penman gave one of the nicest tributes to one of the finest people we know.

She said, "I don't believe there is another person living who does the things for others, that June does for me. She is always so concerned for others and to look at her, one would think that she thinks only of herself. She is always so pretty."

Reading Program Will Be First of Kind in State

If all goes well, Tecumseh's remedial reading program will start March 7.

Only obstacle remaining to initiate the program here is approval of the mobile units by the fire marshall.

Since it's the first mobile program of this type to be used in Michigan, school officials and others are hoping for a favorable fire inspector's decision.

Supt. James McDowell says the school here has received numerous inquiries from other district about the mobile units and the adopted remedial program, all of which is under a three-year Federal grant of $117,000.

Newest Subdivision

Another housing subdivision is taking shape.

The Heights, a development owned by two Adrian men, is underway along Occidental Hwy. in Raisin Township, just south of Fisher Body.

Nick Miller, who is in asphalt paving, and Fred Spiegel, a retired body shopman, are owners of the 67-acre area.

They have assigned Bob Goedert Realty of Adrian as sales organization.

One home is nearly complete and another underway. The first one will be shown at an open house during March, states Mr. Goedert.

He noted that 38 homesites have been platted, each approximately one-half acre in size. Another section will be opened later.

Three roads are being developed within the subdivision, with Ridgemonth Dr. running off of Occidental, then joining Green Brier Ct. and Crofton Ct.

Cab Driver's Fee Too High, Owner Says

Taxi cabs and licensing were touched upon Monday by Council.

A partnership of David R. Merillat, present owner of Tecumseh Cab Co., with Edwin D. Covell, 1200 Shady Lane, was approved.

The matter of a city chauffeur fee for each driver—now $15 a year—was talked over, but no decision made.

Mr. Merillat told Councilman he thought that this was too high, especially for his part-time drivers. In total, he has a crew of five, two of them work only on weekends.

He cited Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Adrian as charging only $5 per driver.

Mayor Harold Easton said he was not aware of the ordinance and explained that city fathers would take the matter under advisement, placing it on the agenda for the next meeting.

In addition to driver fees, Mr. Merillat is required to pay $15 in annual operating charge to the city.

Ernie Topps is planning to paint the town red Feb. 28 and we will furnish the brush. It was on this day 53 years ago that he came to Tecumseh — from Adrian.

My Neighbors

"Lather him up and we'll yank him down again!"

THS Edges Airport

Tecumseh's up and down basketball team hit the up swing and edged Airport, 82-80, Friday night at Carleton.

It was the sixth game this season that the Indians have played where the difference between teams has been two points or less. Tcumseh is 4-2 for the thrillers, losing to Dundee in the opener by two points and then by one point in a sad performance last week against Adrian.

The Indians against Airport were not the same club which bowed to Adrian. Tecumseh took a five-point half time lead after a big 24-point second quarter.

The two clubs were knotted at 61-61 entering the final eight minutes. After gaining a four-point bulge, the Indians hung on in the waning seconds as the Jets nearly tied the count.

Dean Hebb, top Tecumseh scorer, hit for 28 points, best for either team. Terry Alcock dropped in 17, Chuck Thomas 14, and Gordon Gibson, 12.

Alcock, Gibson, John Goodman and Ron Rentschler are the lone seniors who will be playing out their prep careers here Friday night on the local court.

The 6'4" Alcock has been a regular for two seasons and should be cinch for league and area honors, despite averaging only 12 points a game. He's the best rebounder in the league, and one of the best here for many years.

Indians Need Win over Blissfield '5'

The whole season — almost — rests on Tecumseh's final game of the season here Friday night against Blissfield. The Indians tripped Airport Friday, 82-80, to gain a shot at second place in the Huron League.

If the Indians whip the Royals here Friday night, they can knock Blissfield into a first place tie with Flat Rock, providing the Rams win.

If FR loses and Tecumseh wins, the Indians will tie for second, but Blissfield will still grab the honors with an 8-2 mark. Blissfield is 7-1 in the league, FR 8-2, and Tecumseh, 6-3.

Tecumseh meets Blissfield for the third time this season with each holding a victory. The Indians won in the ABHT tournament at Adrian, and the Royals defeated Tecumseh at Blissfield.

Coach Vic Lawson will have little trouble getting the team up for the Royals. However, it's doubtful that Tecumseh will be as high as Blissfield when the Indians bowed on Jan. 22 at Blissfield.

Blissfield's downtown was decorated for the occasion, as was the gym, and the victors toted Coach Al Shaffer off the floor. Its been a near tradition this year for Tecumseh's opponents to carry their coach off the floor after beating the Indians.

Maybe Tecumseh can give Coach Lawson a ride here Friday night.

Tecumseh Tournament Play Starts

Tecumseh opens tournament play next Monday night against Monroe Jefferson at the Dundee gym.

Coach Vic Lawson's club should have little trouble with the Monroe County school, but Wednesday evening will be a different tale.

A win Monday will pit Tecumseh against Blissfield for the fourth time this season — two regular season games plus an encounter in the ABHT tourney.

If the Indians get by their first two games, they'll play for the championship on Saturday March 5.

Other tourney games will have Dundee and Erie-Mason squaring off next Tuesday night with the Vikings a top heavy favorite. Monroe Catholic Central will play the winner next Thursday.

All games are scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Champs

The Tecumseh Junior High Indians ended last week with a tournament victory for the eighth grade. The Indians are now undefeated in 18 games stretching across two seasons. A complete picture-story feature on the Junior High teams will appear in The Herald, next week.

Pony League Needs Diamond

Pony League baseball may be played this summer on the Tecumseh High School diamond.

The Parks and Recreation Board is looking into the possibility at the request of Robert Kennedy, who appeared at the last meeting.

What had been the Pony field, along N. Maumee St. by Evans Creek, was plowed up last fall for reseeding, along with the remainder of the area north of the high school.

This section is primarily a football practice field.

Beer Cans Dumped Near Evans Bridge

A batch of empty beer cans and other refuse was dumped onto the ice over Evans Creek, from the bridge by the athletic field.

Police Ticket Five

Five motorists involved in seven accidents investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week were ticketed for violations.

Only one driver was injured, and she sought her own treatment from a family physician.

A resume of the mishaps:

Feb. 16 — Mary L. Studnick, 34, of 11990 Milwaukee Rd., backed in Faye Maynard, 46, 808 Shady Lane, in Vescio's parking lot. Since the accident was on private property, no citation was issued.

Feb. 17 — Dale J. Bowen, 63, of 2541 Munger Rd., lost control of his car, hit and broke off a telephone pole and went through a fence, just south of Pleasant Dr. on Munger Rd. He was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Feb. 18 — Charles R. Wallace of 703 Adrian St., reported the front left door and fender damaged while parked behind Lamb's Pharmacy. The other driver is unknown.

Feb. 18 — Mary L. Brown, 20, of 415 E. Shawnee St., was cited for failure to stop in an assured distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Abie L. Pistole, 22, of 412 E. Shawnee.

Feb. 19 —Charges of failure to have his truck under control and leaving the scene of an accident were levied against David T. Cook, 28, Clinton, after a mishap on N. Maiden Lane. He struck a power company pole and guy wire.

Feb. 19 — Lloyd H. Smith, 34, of 202 E. Pottawatamie St., was cited for failure to yield right of way after hitting Dr. Richard Dustin, 46, of 309 N. Union St., in the intersection of Wyandotte and E. Pottawatamie.

Feb. 22 — Mary Jo Coker, 33, of 606 Stacy St., suffered minor injuries after running a stop sign at Pottawatamie and S. Evans Sts., She was struck in the intersection by Catherine Rozsa, 36, of 502 Center Dr., and then knocked into a parked car occupied by Belle C. Brewer, 53, of 3481 Russell Rd.

POLICE BLOTTER

Arrested for illegal left turns and fined $6 each were Joseph Bradish, Adrian; David P. Kelley, Birmingham; Oliver G. Sprague, Jackson.

Clovis E. Gibbs, Clayton; Joseph E. Ford, Adrian; John R. Gonzalez, 708 S. Pearl St.; and Donna J. Friess, Adrian.

Portable Rooms Due in March

A long delay in obtaining two portable classrooms for the Sutton School may end early next month — if the supplying company comes through as promised.

The two portable units, made mostly of steel, were promised here last September.

When they're erected, elementary pupils now in the basement of the public library and one elementary pupils now in the basement of the public library and one elementary class from the Sutton School will be shifted to the new units.

6 Bills Will Promote International Commerce

Six bills promoting Michigan international commerce have been introduced by Senator Gilbert Bursley and the members of the Senate Committee on International Commerce.

These bills implement recommendations of the Committee made after a European study trip last fall.

"These bills strengthen the international branch," Senator Bursley explained, "in each of three major governmental departments: commerce, agriculture and tourism."

"Another bill provides for coordination between the three departments with an advisory committee on international activities composed of the three directors."

"PROVISIONS ARE made to facilitate incorporation of an international foundation whose purpose will be to promote participation by Michigan exporters in overseas trade fairs, exhibitions, missions and U.S. Trade Centers."

"Establishment of an Institute for International Commerce at the University of Michigan is called for with active roles in the academic, research and training areas. This can be of great significance.

"It will provide the State of Michigan with the country's first university-level institute in international commerce. A detailed supporting proposal has already been worked out by the University's School of Business Administration at the invitation of the Committee."

"A committee recommendation for the establishment of a European office is not covered by a bill at this time," Senator Bursley explained, "as the Lansing office of the International Commerce Division must be initially strengthened and considerable added support provided for international advertising and promotional programs."

'Love Is Eternal' Is Key to Title

"Love is Eternal," the three words Abraham Lincoln had engraved on his wife's wedding band, are the key to the title of a book by Irving Stone, reviewed by Mrs. Paul McKenna for the women of the First Baptist Church in Clinton, Monday evening.

Mary Todd Lincoln came alive for her listeners as Mrs. McKenna refreshed their memories of the events of romance, humor, tragedy and stark realism in the lives of this great couple.

It was noted by Mrs. Enna Whaley that her husband's uncle stood guard at the funeral bier of President Lincoln.

Mrs. Katherine K[illegible] has some of the braid that went around the hat of the uncle as he had stood at the bier.

Mrs. C. O. Baily presented devotions stressing the deep need for faith in God. Mrs. Claude Sebring arranged the program.

Mrs. David Champanois was the pianist and acting secretary in the absence of Mrs. Robert Manchester. Mrs. Llewellyn Sisson conducted the business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Orville Bishop.

Mrs. Richard Carter gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Floyd Bryan dedicated the love gift of $18.60.

Tentative dates of March 30 and April 2 were announced for the rummage sale. Members were reminded to attend the World Day of Prayer Feb. 25 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Thomas Brooks poured from a tea table centered with red and white carnations and crystal candelabra.

"THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU"
CKLW 9:45 A. M. EVERY SUNDAY

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Lenawee County has a rich historical heritage. How many of you realize that Lenawee County has more Centennial Farms than any other county in Michigan?

There are 137 listed in the last Historical Commission. This is far more than Kent County, in second place (113), and exactly the same as Washtenaw (60) and Livingston (77) combined. Monroe has only 49 and Wayne 26.

To be certified as a Centennial Farm, families have to prove to the satisfaction of the Historical Commission that they have owned the same land for over 100 years.

Almost every community in Lenawee is represented with one or more Centennial Farms. Over half of these farms (69) were acquired by the families in the 1830s. Over 3[illegible] were acquired in the 1840s and over 25 in the 1850s.

The earliest recorded Centennial Farms in Lenawee are listed for Tecumseh and Britton in 1827, Tecumseh and Britton again in 1828 and Adrian in 1829.

LENAWEE COUNTY also deserves credit for the considerable sums its residents pay to the State in taxes. (I'm not referring here to local or federal taxes).

In fiscal year 1965, Lenawee residents paid $4,210,949.95 in sales taxes. Of this, Adrian paid over half, or $2,443,524.

Food was the largest single category on which sales taxes were collected, $1,320,000. There were 1274 returns filed by sales taxpayers.

Another category is the Business Activities Tax. Here 1,036 taxpayers poured $577,818 into the State coffers. Of this, $413,000 came from manufacturers, $64,000 from service trade, $59,000 from retailers, $13,000 from wholesalers and $11,000 from professional persons.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge, Mrs. Marietta Greenfield of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Tipton attended the funeral Saturday of Charles W. Flager at Livonia. He died Feb. 15. He was the uncle of Mrs. Holdridge.

Past Chiefs To Sponsor Travelogue

The Past Chief's Club will sponsor a Travelogue at the Pythian Hall Friday, March 4.

Announcement was made at the meeting held Thursday evening when Mrs. Lynn Hubbard presided in the absence of President, Mrs. Cecile Smith.

Robert Todd will present pictures of Mexico, Canada and other places of interest, which he and his mother, Mrs. Albert Todd, have visited.

Cards were the diversion of the evening and prizes were presented to Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. Lynn Hubbard and Mrs. Neva Jacobs.

Refreshments were served at an attractively decorated table by the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Carney and Mrs. Walter Hizer.

Son Born to Merlyn Wagners

The Rev. and Mrs. Merlyn D. Wagner, missionaries in New Guinea, are parents of a baby son, Mark Allen, born Feb. 9, weighing 7 lbs.

Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wagner, of Occidental Hwy., will have to put the desire to fondle the little one in storage for 18 months.

Their son and his wife will be living in their Maramunia Valley home in New Guinea that much longer before they have a furlough to come home.

The Rev. Wagner and his wife were the first white people to go into the valley about three years ago. They have since made considerable progress in teaching the native people.

Truck gardening to bring money into the area has been one of the projects they have been teaching along with religious instruction.

Several homes besides their own, a crude church and school and an airstrip suitable for a small plane have been established.

With pick and shovel and wheelbarrows it took two years for the Rev. Wagner, with the help of the natives, to carve the strip out of the side of a mountain.

When the Wagners sent their son a picture of the earth movers used by General Motors at the Tecumseh plant site, he wrote back, "Well, we are making progress too, we just got a new shipment of wheelbarrows."

The airstrip in this part of Australian governed New Guinea has proven most valuable to the Wagners.

Mail, before the plane, took four days by native runner just to get it to the nearest mission for dispatch.

Now supplies are brought in more readily and ill persons are flown out to the mission hospital as was Mrs. Wagner for the birth of their first child.

In taking it by mouth, the patient received the active ingredients contained in it.

Different soils contain different species of antibiotics. Many vegetables and plants contain antibiotic substances and these were called miracle plants. Through the years many tests were made and in 1948 the soil that had been sent for testing from Illinois had yielded the best cultures. The people who worked with it called it the Golden Fungus.

The botanical name of the drug is the new antibiotic, Aureomycin.

In addition Mrs. Halladay recalled many incidents in the life of her father who was a physician and surgeon, and of the changes that have come about in that profession through the years since he practiced.

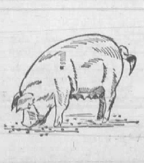
DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

OVERMILKING reduces milking efficiency, encourages mastitis, and may be detrimental to milk production. Prolonged milking leads to cell injury which provides entry for infection and mastitis. To prevent overmilking avoid milking by routine and don't try to operate too many machines. This allows you time to give fast milkers individual attention and to keep up with the machines. Also, set up your schedule so other jobs are held to a minimum while milking.

GRAIN BIN CAPACITY. Do you have some corn or soybeans in storage you want to sell but aren't certain how much you have? Here's a way to estimate it: Round bin—½ diameter x ½ diameter x height = volume in cubic feet. Rectangular — length x width x height = volume in cubic feet. To get bushels, divide volume by cubic feet in 1 bushel of grain. Corn measures 2.5 cubic feet per bushel and soybeans measure 1.25.

STOMACH ULCERS IN SOWS are being reported with increasing frequency. Biggest outbreaks are during late pregnancy or at farrowing because of the added stress at that time. Severity ranges from loss in weight to death by bleeding. To reduce ulcers keep sow movement and ration changes to a minimum before farrowing. Any sudden change creates stress. Keep sows quiet, visitors away, and don't even change managers.



PLOW SIZE a tractor can comfortably handle in average soil conditions can be estimated by this rule of thumb: Figure one moldboard bottom per 15 rated pto horsepower. Thus a 60 pto horsepower tractor should pull a four-bottom plow. Adjust this up or down for light or heavy soil.

On reading and filing the complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan praying for a judgment in favor of the State of Michigan, against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said complaint will be brought on for hearing and judgment at the March term of this Court, to be held at Adrian in the County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, on the 14th day of March A. D. 1966, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgment will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgment the lands described in said complaint for which a judgment of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgment, on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Lenawee, State of Michigan; and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgment shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein; or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being, and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

Witness the Hon. REX B. MARTIN, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of Lenawee County this 21st day of January A. D. 1966.

REX B. MARTIN,

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee.

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.50 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.
And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Dated: January 20, 1966.

Through My Window

ABOUT DOVES

It is wrong to humanize birds and animals — that is to say, we should not read human traits into their actions. They do not react, reason or think the way we do but isn't it hard to remember sometimes?

For example, I have no basis for saying that we have a squirrel who has a sense of humor and yet — well, you judge for yourselves.

As the squirrels eat in the corn tree, they nibble just the tiny germ out of each kernel and drop what is left to the ground. At times the ground becomes quite covered.

Nothing is wasted, however, because the mourning doves fly in and have marvelous banquets of leftovers.

BEING FRIENDLY birds, a whole group will congregate and nobody seems to mind rubbing elbows with his neighbor. A dozen or so birds eating together is just too much for our crazy squirrel.

When he sees the gang, he tears across the yard, heads for the corn tree and, of course, doves fly every which way.

Usually the squirrel shows no interest in eating, he merely runs into the flock of doves and watches their frantic efforts to get out of the way.

Some fun—at least from the way he does it, I am sure he is having a good time.

THIS WINTER our dove chaser has been exceptionally busy. The other bird population may be down, but doves we have like we have never had before.

I really think that this current flock is the largest ever. An accurate count is difficult to make because it is not a close knit group.

One day they may all be together, but the next morning they scatter in several directions. Then too, there is the problem of movement—they simply do not stand still and to count 30 or 35 birds without getting the same one twice can put a few gray hairs in the head.

To see this many doves fly in from all directions is quite a thrill. They are pretty birds of course, so soft and smooth looking.

But, as they bank, drop landing gears, brake and make all the other preparations necessary for a three-point landing, we have a good look at their surprisingly colorful underside.

The pale, delicate gray of the breast fades into a light blue tinge under the wings and the long, pointed tail, when spread out, is marked with white, navy blue, tan and gray.

WHEN ONE of the birds decides to dine in style and comes up to the feeder, we have a close look at the "top side".

Again, very pretty. The little head, long neck and plump body of the mourning dove is one of the most familiar bird silhouettes.

In close-up though, and if the light is right, there is a beautiful iridescent sheen about the head, neck and shoulders. It is rather elusive, sometimes pink, sometimes gold, sometimes green, sometimes it doesn't show at all.

A dove at the feeder may provide either laughter or frustration. One of the funniest sights in our bird-watching is to see a mourning dove bluff a blue jay away from a pile of scratch feed or corn.

They do it by "blowing up" — by crouching down, pulling their head in and ruffling up their feathers until they practically stand out straight, the bird seems to grow bigger and bigger.

OFTEN, when faced with this expanding mound of ragged feathers, the frightened blue jay leave. The maddening aspect of a dove sitting on a feeder is trying to take his picture and have it turn out well.

They just don't look real on film. It is hard to catch any character. They are just not photogenic. We still like them, though.

So it is that because they are pretty, interesting and plentiful, we decided that this week's article should be about doves.

Science Church Plans A Year of Observation

Plans for a year-long observance of the one hundredth anniversary of Christian Science were announced today by The Christian Science Board of Directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Major events will include a worldwide public speaking tour by the Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, publication of a new book titled "A Century of Christian Science Healing," and the start of work on a new "Church Center" construction program.

The Centennial stems from events in 1866 which marked the turning point in the life of Mary Baker Eddy and began her pioneering of a world religious movement.

She wrote the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and founded a church which now includes 3,300 branches in more than 50 countries.

A Church Manual written by Mrs. Eddy provides the general framework, with a five-member Board of Directors in Boston to conduct the business of The Mother Church.

Within the framework of this Manual, complete local self-government is provided for each of the individual branch churches. They elect their own officers, set up their own by-laws, and make all major decisions by a vote of their own membership.

One thing that remains universal in the Church is the form of the worship services. Since the Church has no ordained clergy and is a movement composed entirely of laymen, it was early established that the function of "Pastor" would be filled by the Bible (traditional Protestant version) and the denominational textbook.

Centennial activity within the Church will come to a focus at the Annual Meeting in Boston June 6.

The only thing that looks low-priced on a Pontiac Tempest is its price sticker.
And that's removable.
Take it off, and there's just a pure, unabridged Pontiac: crisp, Wide-Track style and handling. A handsome interior. Plus the effervescent performance of a new, overhead cam 6 engine that puts out with all the spunk of an 8, yet saves like the traditional 6. And of course, being a Pontiac, Tempest allows you the luxury of choice—with options in engines, transmissions, suspensions, practically everywhere. And like all Pontiacs, Tempest also has a standard safety package with items like seat belts to buckle—front and rear. (That ought to do for now. We'll tell you the rest when you get here.)

Musical Offers 'Fun-Filled Evening'

By TINA SATTERTHWAITE of The Toledo Blade
Special to The Herald

Some Damon Runyon characters from New York City came to Tecumseh last week and are planning to stay for a few days. For a fun-filled evening you can hear their songs, laugh at their jokes every night at 8 p.m. in the Community Center, from Wednesday through Saturday.

Of course the guys and dolls who are performing in the Broadway musical "Guys and Dolls" are really members of the Tecumseh Players, who, with a make-shift stage and homemade costumes, have captured that special spell created by the theater.

THE MAGIC BEGINS when the orchestra starts to play, and the curtain rises on the seedy and the saintly of lower Manhattan. Setting the mood for this story of two gamblers and their loves, are such fascinating "night people" as Harry the Horse, cleverly played by Dick Hurlbut, and the "Drunk" played to the hilt by Bill Frownfelder.

But no matter how good a supporting cast — and it was good — every play depends on its stars to make it or break it. Marty Bagdon, as Sarah, the Mission girl, out to save the sinners from themselves, was great.

Playing the part with just enough frost and thaw, she warmed everyone's heart with her singing of "If I Were a Bell."

Sky Masterson, the high-living gambler who takes her to Havana on a bet is played by Dick Egli with such a nice mixture of charm, swagger and innocence that you understand why she went.

Howard Gentry, as the man whose floating crap game is the catalyst for most of the action, is as endearing and independent as you would expect Nathan Detroit to be.

His altar-bound fiancee of 14 years, a nightclub dancing girl named Miss Adelaide, is delightfully interpreted by Peg Geiger, whose sparkle lights up her every scene.

Tom Riordan as Big Jule, the gambler from Chicago, and Duane Steele as Arvide Abernathy, Sarah's Mission-based grandfather, added special color to the large and amusing cast.

THE PLAY, which was directed by Betty Jo Hancock, will play its final performance at Adrian College on March 5.

The sets, by Michael Brose, were designed to be used for the lower stage height in Tecumseh and then extend to a full stage height when it would be seen in Adrian — an ingenuous bit of designing.

Tina Satterthwaite, Toledo Blade home furnishings editor and feature writer, formerly worked for the Toledo Times, where she did book and theater reviews and features. She majored in English and journalism, attending Northwestern University, University of Chicago and Drama School at Wellesley College in Massachusetts. She won two national prizes in 1965 for her writing, including the Dorothy Dawes Award for distinguished journalism in the home furnishings field for the third time. Listed in "Who's Who of American Women," she is the wife of James Satterthwaite, mother of four children, and lives in Toledo.

HAVANA SETTING — Dancers Mary Myers and Ray Aylesworth provide Cuban dancing during the "Guys and Dolls" visit to Havana. In the background are Dick Egli as Sky Masterson and Marty Bagdon as Sarah, both of whom drew lavish praise from The Toledo Blade writer who reviewed this winter's musical comedy currently being presented by the Tecumseh Players. With anticipated packed houses at the Community Center, the show runs through Saturday evening. One performance is slated for Adrian College's Dawson Auditorium on Saturday, March 5.

Following this the members browsed through Mrs. Hall's displays and were able to ask questions of her personally regarding their own problems.

During the business session members were urged to promote the "All Hands On Deck Card Party" being held Friday, March 11, in the parish hall of St. Peter's Church featuring a smorgasborg dessert, door prizes, and table prizes.

The card party begins at 8 p.m. with drawings about 9 p.m.

The "Vietnam Forum" is sponsored by Adrian College and all meetings are open to the public without charge. Separate discussions are scheduled for 10 a.m., 4 p.m., and 8 p.m., all in Dawson Auditorium.

An open, informal discussion is to be held at 1:30 p.m. in Mahan Hall, with students meeting with the speakers.

The political, economic and military aspects of the situation will be debated at 4 p.m. in half hour speeches by two professors close to the scene, Dr. Wesley Fishel of Michigan State University and Dr. Rhoads Murphey of the University of Michigan.

Panelists will include: the four previous speakers plus Arthur Collingsworth, a University of Michigan student and a member of the National Young Republican Club's foreign affairs committee; and Carl Oglesby of Ann Arbor, national chairman of Students for a Democratic Society.

There will be an opportunity for questions from the audience.

NEWS FROM BOYSVILLE

Boysville's Fighting Knights cemented a second place finish in the River Raisin Conference with an 84-50 hammering of Sand Creek's Aggies at Sand Creek, Friday.

Three Boysville starters broke the 20-point mark. Moe Jacobs and Jim Cowan shared scoring honors with 23 apiece, while Sam Kirkland added 20.

Boysville opened with a strong first quarter, taking an 18-9 lead at the end of that quarter. Boysville gradually built up its margin in the second quarter, leaving the half with a 43-25 lead.

Sand Creek resorted to a press in the final half, and enjoyed their greatest quarter in the third period. The Aggies outscored the Knights 14-10 that quarter. Boysville came back in the fourth quarter to win easily, 84-50.

Earlier in the week, Boysville's five turned in one of their season's finest performances in a non-league encounter with St. Charles of Detroit.

Norris McFarland, a 6'4" senior proved a most valuable asset on Boysville's defense in a first half marked by an all around hustle on the part of the Boysville squad.

Boysville jumped to an early ten-point lead in the first quarter, a lead that was never again disputed. Boysville held its biggest margin, on of 15 points, at the end of the third quarter.

One unpleasant note remained, however: Boysville's whole first string had accumlated three fouls apiece.

Firm Given 1 Good and 1 Bad Report

Dependable Garbage Service got good and bad reports at Monday's session of Council.

The Rev. Ed Pistole, 412 E. Shawnee St., asked where his household garbage could go, since Dependable had missed three pickups and the odor was getting pungent.

He wondered if Council might issue a special permit to use the city dump. (No garbage is ollowed at dump, only refuse.)

Mayor Harold Easton said the city office would try to catch the Dependable truck and have it stop by Pistole's

The mayor gave one Dependable driver a pat on the back, saying that last week when told he had missed a home on N. Maiden Lane, the driver immediately went there.

He had a mixup with the house next door, where the owner had written not to call until March, as the family was in Florida.

Episcopalians Start Shade Tree Campaign

A campaign to plant new shade trees in the churchyard of St. Peter's Episcopal Church has begun as a special Lenten program of "stewardship for the future," as the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, Rector of St. Peter's calls it.

In 1858 the Rev. William N. Lyster, acting as priest in charge of the parish, wrote in his report to the Bishop: "At Tecumseh the boundaries of our churchyard (quite a spacious one) have been ascertained, a substantial fence erected and shade trees planted in the enclosure."

Over the past few years, over 15 of the old trees have been cut down due to disease and old age. Three were removed for new building construction.

"Part of our Lenten sacrifice and giving should go for our children and our children's children, as well as for necessary missionary projects other places," Fr. Hawthorne said.

GM Improvements To Cost $1.4 Billion

NEW YORK — General Motors' capital expenditures in 1966 will total an estimated $1.4 billion for capacity expansion, modernization, plant replacements, safety, research activities and new model programs around the world, Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche disclosed recently in the Corporation's 1965 Annual Report.

The report, with final figures for 1965 operations, also showed that GM set records for the fourth consecutive year in dollar sales and earnings. Worldwide unit sales of cars and trucks, dividends paid to shareholders, worldwide employment and total payrolls also were records.

General Motors' program to expand its facilities and modernize its plants around the world continued through 1965. The two-year program announced early in 1964 resulted in total expenditures of $2.3 billion during the last two years.

Looking forward, the program is continuing and capital expenditures are estimated at $1.4 billion for 1966, bringing the three-year total to $3.7 billion.

About $2 billion of the 1965-66 outlay of $2.7 billion — which will be the largest amount General Motors has ever spent for plant an dequipment in a two-year period — is designated for projects in the United States. Some $200 million will have been spent in Canada and about $500 million overseas.

MESSRS. DONNER and Roche noted that General Motors "is cooperating with the President's program aimed at improving the balance of payments position of the United States."

The GM executives said they "look forward to 1966 being another year of good business."

"The country's economy is strong and consumers are showing a continuing willingness to buy," they said. "Our products are enjoying excellent customer acceptance."

The report, soon to be mailed to more than 1,335,000 shareholders around the world, contained final data on 1965 results showing that:

► Total 1965 sales of $20,734 million were 22 per cent above the previous record of $16,997 million in 1964. Automotive products accounted for 90 per cent of the corporation's sales, with the remainder being nonautomotive and defense sales.

► Net income for 1965 was $2,126 million, or 23 per cent above the previous record of $1,735 million in 1964. Earnings on the common stock in 1965 amounted to $7.41 per share, compared with $6.05 per share in 1964.

► Dividends paid on the common stock in 1965 totaled $5.25 per share, or 71 per cent of earnings, with $2.16 per share reinvested in the business. Dividends per common share in 1964 were $4.45, with $1.60 per share reinvested.

Total dividends of $1,497 million paid on the common stock in 1965 were the highest in the Corporation's history. The previous high was $1,266 million in 1964.

► GM's worldwide factory sales of cars and trucks totaled 7,278,000 units, compared with the previous record of 6,114,000 set in 1964.

GM also set records for factory sales of cars and trucks manufactured in the United States last year, the report noted. Factory sales of GM cars and trucks produced in the United States totaled 5,696,000 units, well above the 4,598,000 units sold in 1964.

► "More GM people earned more money and received more benefits during 1965 than ever before in the history of the Corporation," the report said.

GM's 1965 worldwide employment averaged 735,000 men and women, and payrolls totaled $5,448 million. Nearly one-third of every GM sales dollar was set aside for employees as wages or benefits.

CLINTON'S HISTORIC UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST IS CURRENTLY PLANNING EXTENSIVE REMODELING

Clinton Fliers Crash

CLINTON—Flying enthusiasts and long-time residents of the community, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Stadler, died Saturday when their two-seater, single-engine Piper Tri-pacer plane crashed and burned near Coburn, Ky.

The couple took off just before noon Saturday, with Mrs. Stadler at the controls, from Scott's private landing field west of Clinton, on their way to visit relatives in Florida.

They ate lunch and refueled at an airfield near London, Ky., and eight minutes later radioed that their plane was having motor trouble. They called in again to say they were going to make an emergency landing.

IN AN ATTEMPT to land on US-25, the plane struck power lines which crossed the highway and landed in a field bursting into flames. The crash occurred at 3:47 p.m. Although a motorist witnessed the mishap, the fire prevented their rescue.

Mr. and Mrs. Stadler, both qualified pilots, owned two airplanes which were housed across the road from their farm residence at 13406 Clinton Rd. They had a small landing strip on the property.

Mr. Stadler was born in Adrian, Nov. 17, 1913. He graduated from Clinton High School in 1932. He married Hope Catherine Alvord in Clinton, Oct. 28, 1937. He received five meritorious citations and a Purple Heart medal while serving as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne Division in World War II.

He was a member of the Flying Farmers of Tecumseh. He served as master of the Clinton Masonic Lodge in 1941.

MR. STADLER was engaged in farming most of his life, and had been employed by Ford Motor Co. at Rawsonville, for the past two years.

Mrs. Stadler was born Nov. 21, 1919, in Clinton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obediah Alvord, who preceded her in death. She graduated from Clinton High School in 1936.

She served as matron of the Clinton Order of the Eastern Star in 1946. She was a member of the United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Stadler was a secretary at the George Underwood automobile agency until December when she resigned. Since then she was serving as a substitute carrier on the rural Clinton mail route.

A son, Thomas, of 201 Bartlett St., Clinton, survives as does a granddaughter, Nancy Ann.

Mr. Stadler is also survived by his father, Edgar T. Stadler of Detroit; a brother, Robert, of Florida, and a sister, Mrs. Edgar Randall of Clinton.

MRS. STADLER is survived by a sister, Mrs. Floyd Whitmore of Venice, Fla.

A double funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at the United Church of Christ with the Rev. Paul McKenna officiating.

Burials were at Riverside Cemetery with the arrangements by Proctor Funeral Home.

Local Church Has History

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — The United Church of Christ plans to complete a $20,000 repair and remodeling project before it observes the 125th anniversary of its founding in 1968.

Tracing its history to early New England Congregational Churches, it was known as the First Congregational Church until a few years ago when the Congregational and Evangelical and Reformed Lutheran Churches of the United States united. At that time it adopted the present name.

The First Congregational Church in Clinton was formed April 23, 1843.

FOLLOWING IS a brief history of the changes which have taken place in the church structure since the winter of 1843-44 when the men of the society whe nthe men of the society sawed down the oaks and whitewood trees to use in the building of the church.

Jira Payne gave the land for the site of the new church on the main road leading to Tecumseh near the Chicago Trail. Mr. Payne said if the land was ever used for anything except a church site, it would be taken away and given back to his heirs.

This is a vital consideration for present-day church planners.

The Society raised $1,800 to build a Colonial-styled wooden ediface 40 x 60 feet, which was dedicated in October, 1844.

The room above the vestibule was partitioned off, as it is now, but it opened into the sanctuary and was used by the choir, causing the congregation to turn about while they sang.

IN 1878, THE present parsonage was built at a cost of $840. It was completed in just 60 days, while the ground was frozen 18 inches deep.

At the turn of the century, the church added a belfry, designed by Wirt Rowland, a well-known architect, laid cement walks and installed a Vocalion organ which cost $600, replacing "Old Betsy" the venerable organ which had provided the music since 1872.

The two-story Kirker Memorial wing, which was dedicated Feb. 1923, provided for several Sunday School classrooms and an annex to the sanctuary.

With the expanded facilities the church presented several religious dramas such as "St. Claudia," which in succeeding years played to large audiences.

The fine pipe organ which is still in treasured use was dedicated in September, 1927. It cost $4,550 and was made possible by gifts of many honors. About this time, the present lights were installed in the sanctuary.

In 1943, the amplifying system of chimes was installed and a generous legacy made possible the installation of new furnaces.

THE LAST major change in the sanctuary took place in the years 1948 to 1950 when the chancel was rearranged.

The pipe organ was moved from the north side of the chancel to the center where it was concealed by a red velvet dossal.

A beautiful silver cross, designed by Nathaniel Gould, was hung there above the altar. It was at that time that the natural oak woodwork was all painted white.

In 1951, the church was painted both inside and outside and a few repairs were made to the parsonage.

The rare old stained glass windows were reset in 1957 by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gary, members of the church, who have restored such windows in churches throughout the United States.

Five years ago the parsonage was completely remodeled inside at a cost of $8,500. The church kitchen was also extensively improved to facilitate the serving of Rotarian dinners which the Women's Fellowship has done weekly for almost 20 years.

It is now in order that this rich heritage from self-sacrificing forefathers may be maintained and restored to beauty that a repair program is begun.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

"It's so wonderful that you folks would bother," a GI wounded in Vietnam said from his Great Lakes Naval Hospital bed as the Earl Greenes offered him some home-made fudge last Thanksgiving weekend.

The Greenes had originally planned to visit their son, Gary, who had undergone surgery at Great Lakes.

But their junket sort of expanded.

Shortly before leaving, Esther told third graders she teaches in Clinton. About the same time, Earl was letting his fifth and sixth graders in on the trip.

The students quickly were insisting on sending along goodies for the wounded.

By the time the Greenes got everything stowed away, their car trunk was jammed with cookies, brownies and fudge.

So the holiday weekend with Gary included something else—a four-hour tour through five floors of the vast hospital, where the Greenes chatted with the fellows as they gave out the goodies.

"That's when the youthful GI told Earl he was so delighted that "You folks would bother."

Earl thought, "Me bother, my gosh after what you guys have been through for me."

The kids raved about the treats, exclaiming again and again, "Is this really home-made fudge? Are these actually home-made brownies?"

WELL, EARL'S experience thrilled a lot of folks, myself included, and in the Dec. 2 Long & Short, there was the query, "Might we ship over more goodies to the Great Lakes Hospital, much as Earl did, one of these weeks"

The question was quickly answered by Mrs. Jule Fosbender, our city's librarian, who volunteered to coordinate such a project.

She wrote to the Red Cross at the Hospital to find when Tecumseh might bring treats, realizing that it would probably be after the Christmas holidays since as many fellows as possible are given leave and local folks take care of those not able to visit home.

Word finally came Saturday—and Jule almost tore the envelope to shreads getting to the letter.

Edna R. Schweitzer, Red Cross recreation supervisor, told Jule that Saturday, April 2 would be fine.

"We are allowed on the wards from 2 to 4 p.m. with groups," Miss Schweitzer wrote, "We have found that it is more fun for the patients if some sort of entertainment can be incorporated with the distributing of food."

Jule is active with the Tecumseh Players and that evening she chatted with Preston Caswell, who is the group's president, along with members of the "Guys and Dolls" cast.

Everyone was keyed up about entertaining the fellows at Great Lakes.

There even was some talk of putting on the entire musical there, but this couldn't be worked out.

Jule phoned Miss Schweitzer Monday to confirm the date and get some additional ideas.

The Red Cross lady said 20 is about the maximum number of people who can invade a ward at once. She figured the Tecumseh group would cover about four wards of approxmately 65 men each in the afternoon visit.

ENTERTAINMENT now being considered includes possibility of segments from Players' current and past musicals, a small combo, accordion or piano.

Jule figures the best way to handle transporation is with a chartered bus, in which everyone involved would ride and the goodies be packed.

She's sorta worried right now about raising the cash for a bus, but do you really think she should?

Volunteer bakers should be no problem.

Wounded by Cong

Hank Hintz, 18-year-old son of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Wayne Hintz, has been wounded in Vietnam. His mother received a letter stating that he arrived in California Saturday and will be flown to Kentucky hospital. Thursday. It said that Hank walked into machine gun fire and was wounded most on the right side.

She expects to visit him this weekend. Hank is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hintz of Britton,

'Islands of Freedom' Are Vital to Pilots

Editor's note — Navy Lt. Tom Neil O'Hara, a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School and now a pilot flying from the USS Enterprise, wrote The Herald this week. He is the son of Thomas O'Hara, 207 W. Pottawatamie St., and the late Mrs. O'Hara.

USS ENTERPRISE, At Sea Off Vietnam — I just received my 30 December 1965 copy of The Herald and was pleased to see an article by Greg Mason on the front page. With the mail being a little slow I find myself a bit behind copy wise, and so I don't know what luck Greg has had from the people of Tecumseh in supporting the 2nd Battalion's project. Let me say however, that I certainly hope the request has been answered.

Being attached to a fighter squadron aboard the USS Enterprise I do not come in daily contact with the people of South Vietnam. Nevertheless I am very familiar with Ben Cat and the surrounding areas.

I'VE SPENT MANY hours in the skies overhead and when I read Ben Cat referred as an "island" of freedom and security it struck me as about the best description I'd heard. It may interest you to know that these "islands" are mighty important to those of us that fly.

On Dec. 2 my wingmen were downed only about 15 miles northwest of Ben Cat during a strike on the Michelin Rubber Plantation. Their F4B Phantom was badly damaged and they were forced to eject near a small outpost completely surrounded by VC.

The Radar Intercept Officer was seriously hurt and had this little outpost not been just where it was his chances would have been slim indeed.

The VC do not fool with downed pilots — they shoot them on the spot if they can't travel and if they can they shoot them as soon as their usefulness is ended.

This is a difficult war, the rules imposed on the military are very limiting, this is a necessary but often trying handicap.

Roger arrived in the hospital last Thanksgiving at the time of a visit there by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greene. Earl reported chatting with Roger whose picture appeared shortly afterwards in The Adrian Telegram, which has loaned this shot to The Herald.

60 Without Jobs as Foundry Folds, Faces Bankruptcy

By JIM LINCOLN

PADLOCK APPARENTLY ENDS HOPES FOR BRUCE FOUNDRY, PUTS 60 OUT OF WORK

Bruce Foundry, padlocked last week when city officials attempted to collect $1,600 in back taxes, has filed voluntary bankruptcy papers in Federal District Court in Detroit.

The 54-year-old foundry, which reported a $475,000 payroll in 1965, petitioned the court to reorganize.

Whether the company can pull out of its financial difficulties and resume operations is remote.

William Bruce, owner, in his petition, listed liabilities of approximately $380,000, and assets at $386,000.

Over the past several weeks, one problem after another piled up on the company. General Telephone dropped its phone service and several companies started pulling out patterns and other equipment.

Monday of last week, City Manager Cal Zorn and Murell Clark, police chief, visited Mr. Bruce and attempted to collect the back taxes of $1,600 and a $163 water bill — for which the city had received a check, but was unable to cash.

City Attorney James Beardsley asked officials to wait a couple of days to see if the company couldn't come up with the money and work out of its predicament.

When Mr. Zorn learned that Consumers Power was cutting off power Thursday, city officials took a tax warrant to Mr. Bruce that morning. Unable to collect, they padlocked the office, pattern shop and foundry building.

Many businesses have refused to cash Bruce Foundry checks for months, usually due to the company's insufficient funds at its bank.

Some of the 60 employees there have payroll checks several weeks old and still are unable to cash them.

Attorney John Zeigler is receiver here for the bankruptcy and handling all of the local legal work.

'Guys and Dolls' Playing Adrian

"Guys and Dolls" goes on the road Saturday with an 8 p.m. performance in 1,200-seat Dawson Auditorium on the Adrian College campus.

A limited number of tickets are available, $2 for adults and $1 for students. Tau Delta Sorority is sponsoring the show with proceeds going to the Family Counseling Service of Lenawee County.

Morrison Pharmacy and Hayes Shoe Store in Adrian are sale points in Adrian. Tecumseh residents can check with Mrs. Frank Dalton, 423-4281.

Most of the "Guys & Dolls" performances the last two weekends in the 160-seat Community Center theatre were sold out. Tecumseh Players' president Preston Caswell reports that 1,144 attended the show, meaning a gross of $2,288.

Total expenses have not as yet been reported.

The Players move into Dawson Saturday afternoon for a full dress rehearsal, hard on lavish praise by Tina Satterthwaite of The Toledo Blade, who reviewed the show for The Herald.

Mrs. Satterthwaite lauded the entire show, with special plaudits for the work of the four leads — Marty Bagdon, Peg Geiger, Howard Gentry and Dick Egli.

Original sets by Mike Brose rated special mention in the show's review. These will be used in Dawson, with twice as much up-and-down revealed, thanks to greater stage height.

LAST WINTER, the Players' "The Music Man" followed an almost identical pattern. With eight local performances and a sell-out in Dawson, the show earned a net profit of $1,156.

"Music Man" gross was $3,256, including a check for $1,036 from Tau Delta, which brought the show to Adrian for one night.

Expenses for director salary, costumes, advertising, programs, rent, piano, guest musicians for the Adrian performance and royalties topped $2,100.

Tau Delta earned $1,129 towards its YMCA building pledge with the 1965 show.

'Islands of Freedom' Are Vital to Pilots

The point I wish to make is that this is more than a military war. It is a political, social and economic one. We are here to aid a poor and backward country preserve its right to govern itself.

If we win the fight and lose the people our "victory" won't be worth much. The VC are a highly-trained army and they are reinforced by regular units from the DRV. The fact remains, however, that in order to operate in a terrorist environment they must have popular support.

You at home can help to undermine this support by showing the small villages and the small farmers that, unlike the VC, Americans are interested in the people and their welfare.

I HAVE NO WAY of aiding these people except from the cockpit of an aircraft. I don't kid myself that at times my help may be a mixed blessing.

In a war where there are no front lines and today's friendly village may be tomorrow's enemy stronghold, civilians are often hurt — some are killed or maimed — many are left homeless. That simply is the way it is.

I know what napalm can do to a rice paddy and I know what a single rocket pack can do to a "hutch" which is what the Vietnamese call their homes. I know these things because this is my job to know them and to know how to use them.

This is My part of the war, and you can't help me do My job because you're not trained to do it — and you're not here.

There is something you can do. You can help by supporting 1st Lt. Mason and the 2nd Battalion's project. All over SVN men and units like Lt. Mason and the 2nd Battalion are showing the Vietnamese that the United States Fighting Man can do more than fight — he feels and he cares!

The means should justify the end and the best set of "means" to end this war still lie through the people of SVN.

There are other ways but I like this one. These people want to believe we are their friends. What do you say Tecumseh — how about helping?

I would be more than happy to answer any questions anyone might have about Fighter Squadron 92 or the USS Enterprise. My address is enclosed.

Thomas N. O'Hara, Lt. USN
Fighter Squadron 92
FPO San Francisco 96601

PS — I'd like to say how much I enjoy the late, but always welcome Herald. Its tardiness is really my fault as I have never updated my address.

Keep up the good work, Tecumseh is a fine town and when you have been over here as long as I have you really get to missing it.

83 Boxes to Vietnam

This might be, in a way, an answer to the question asked by Lt. Tom Neil O'Hara.

In his letter, which appears on page one, the naval pilot wondered if Tecumseh residents had responded to the plea for aid to Ben Cat Schools.

You bet, lieutenant, in spades.

To date, the committee, headed by Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann, has packed and mailed 83 five-pound cartons, a total of 410 pounds.

These contained 2,500 pencils, 80 pencil sharpeners, 160 rulers, 160 boxes of crayons, 150 boxes of chalk, 240 ruled tablets.

This cost $109.88 for mailing charges at $1.34 per box.

Money was donated for this purpose and the fund still contains $77.

There is material enough for another eight or 10 boxes.

The bulky part of the project — 300 primary English readers — were packed in sturdy cartons last week at Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co., which donated all materials.

These are going to be more expensive to handle — about 80c per pound and there are 407. The committee plans to airlift them as soon as members can scare up about $250.

IN ADDITION, Tecumseh High School students have just polished off their part of the project — the creation of 500 hand-held blackboards.

THS youngsters chipped in $135.97, of which $50 bought large sheets of Masonite. There is almost enough cash in the school fund to air ship the slates.

Boys in Charlie Gross' shop class cut up the large sheets into 10x12" pieces and rounded the corners, drilled a hole in each. The girls then applied a coat of shellac and two coats of a special blackboard paint, all materials donated by The Decorating Center.

So, you see, Lt. O'Hara, Tecumseh has been hustling on the Ben Cat project.

DONATIONS HAVE continued to come in and each Thursday Mrs. Goldmann and her committee pack from 10 to 20 boxes.

Each bears a label:

"School Supplies for Ben Cat, South Vietnam from Tecumseh, Michigan, United States of America."

School Supplies for Ben Cat, Vietnam from Tecumseh, Michigan United States of America

READERS FOR BEN CAT — Mrs. Kenneth Goldmann affixes a label on one of the eight cartons packed last week with English readers at Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. In total, the shipment weighs 407 pounds and to get it moving, the committee is looking for about $250.

L and M Club Studies Meal of Leftovers

The L and M Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Leslie Downing on the County Line Road, Thursday noon. The luncheon was served to eight members by the hostess and Mrs. Albert Bailey.

The meal was an object lesson on the study topic for the day, "Left-Over Foods," which was also led by Mrs. Bailey.

Thank you letters were read from Larry Gould, the International Farmer Youth Exchange student from the area who has been in Mexico, and also from the Lenawee Institute.

The Roll Call on "A Favorite Mix-up" was an interesting starting point for the program.

The next meeting will be March 24 at the new home of Mrs. Bernard Clement, when it is hoped the vacationing members will be home from Florida.

GMI Opportunity Opens

General Motors Institute, an engineering school unique in concept and operation, situated in Flint, has become of greater interest to area residents since a plant of Fisher Body Division of General Motors is now located in Tecumseh.

Lewis Lamm, manager of the facility, was graduated from GMI in 1937 and there are six other GMI graduates now in the plant. According to Industrial Relations Director Harvey Vogt, it is possible that in the future many qualified graduates of high schools in this region may receive their higher education through the local Fisher Body plant and GMI.

All students become employes of a unit of General Motors as a part of acceptance into the program, which follows the cooperative plan of education according to Mr. Vogt.

Students are sponsored in this way by about 140 different General Motors units throughout the United States and Canada. The student spends alternating six-week periods in studies at General Motors Institute and in work experience at his sponsoring unit.

DURING THE fifth year, the student at his sponsoring unit follows a program of fulltime employment and works on a project assignment involving a thesis leading to a Bachelor's degree in either mechanical engineering, industrial engineering or electrical engineering.

There are about 2900 students including those in the Fifth-Year phase of the program and there are more than 200 full-time faculty members.

An entering student earns approximately $2,400 a year after deductions from his work experience periods. The student pays for his own tuition and fees of $750 a year and for his books and living expenses. Food and lodging costs vary with the individual. The Institute operates two cafeterias and it has been found that adequate board and room may be obtained for $25 a week.

HIGH SCHOOL students interested in securing an appointment to GMI should apply to either Mr. Vogt at the Fisher Body plant or write directly to the Admissions Office at General Motors Institute, Flint.

Application forms will be furnished him. His high school transcript, together with other information will then be reviewed by the General Motors Institute admissions committee, who will determine if in their opinion the applicant is qualified to handle the academic portion of the program.

The evaluation and selection of students is a joint activity of GMI and the participating General Motors unit, with the GMI unit giving major attention to qualities of the applicant as a future full-time employe.

Area Obituaries

EDNA KIMBALL WILCOX

Services were held Saturday in Alma for Mrs. Edna K. Wilcox, 90, who died Friday morning at the Michigan Masonic Home in Alma.

The former superintendent of the Eastern Star Villa had been a resident of the home since May of 1963.

Mrs. Wilcox was born March 20, 1875, in Portland.

After her graduation from high school she studied music in Chicago.

She taught school in Menominee before her marriage to Dr. D. M. Wilcox in 1901.

Two children were born to them, Marjorie, who died at birth, and Marian Wilcox Hart, who died in October 1955.

Mrs. Wilcox was member of Menominee Chapter OES, and served as Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter in 1923 and 1924.

During that period she visited all the Chapters in the State of Michigan and founded the Educational Fund for the Grand Chapter.

Early in her married life, she traveled with the Orpheus Concert Company as a soprano soloist through Michigan and Wisconsin. She also directed church choirs in Marinette, Wis. and Menominee.

In March 1937, Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox moved from Menominee to Adrian, where Mrs. Wilcox was superintendent of the Eastern Star Villa.

Dr. Wilcox passed away in 1945 and Mrs. Wilcox left the Villa in 1946 and moved to Tecumseh to live with her daughter.

She later moved back to Adrian and bought a home on Division St. and became foster parent for a family of three children from the Villa; namely, Douglas, Charline and Donald Greene. She kept the children until they graduated from high school.

Mrs. Wilcox was the first teacher for the Croswell School for the Mentally Retarded in Adrian and taught there from 1954 to 1957 when she was forced to retire because of illness.

She resided at the Terrace Apartments on State Street until July 1962 when she moved to the Bayless Nursing Home. In May 1963 she left Tecumseh and entered the Masonic Home.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Monday Evening Study Club, the DAR for which she was a Past Regent and the Past Matrons OES all of Adrian.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Fred Biesanz of Winona, Minn.; a son-in-law, Neville Hart of Tecumseh, and four nephews and one niece.

Burial was at Menominee.

o

LAWRENCE L. VILES SR.

Services were held Wednesday in Dundee for Lawrence Viles Sr. who died Sunday after being stricken at his home in Dundee.

A native of Waltz, he had been a resident of Dundee for 31 years.

Besides his wife, Florence, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Maurice Tuckey, 119 N. Ottawa St., Mrs. Orrin Lamkin of Dundee, Mrs. Harlen Simon of Traverse City and Mrs. Clifford Brown of Britton; two sons, Lawrence Jr. of Dundee and Norman of Petersburg and 15 grandchildren.

Burial was in Pleasant View Cemetery at Petersburg.

HERMAN LEWIS SCHANZ

Services were held Tuesday at the Green-Dunn Funeral Home for Herman Schanz, 62, 1225 Ford Hwy., who died Friday at 11 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was admitted an hour earlier.

He had been in failing health for six years.

Mr. Schanz was an interior decorator in this area for many years before retirement because of ill health.

He was born April 26, 1903, in Chelsea, the son of Otto and Elizabeth Keihl Schanz. He married Caroline Scholzen Beal June 15, 1937. She survives.

Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Harold Holmes of Milan, nee Delores Schanz; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Raymond Grill, nee Caroline Beal, of Ann Arbor; one step-son, Richard Beal of Clinton; one sister, Flora Schanz, of Chelsea and one brother, Earl, of Dexter.

Five granddaughters also survive.

The Rev. Ronald Corl officiated and burial was in the Macon Cemetery.

o

BERTRAM UPDIKE

Services were held Monday at the Proctor Funeral Home for Bertram Updike, 63, who died at 3:45 a.m. Friday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient the last few days.

Formerly employed at the Ford Motor Co., in later years he was self-employed as an automobile body repair man but retired in 1958 because of failing health.

Mr. Updike was born July 12, 1902, in Tecumseh and lived here his entire life.

A graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1920, he married Dorothy Balmer April 13, 1935, and she survives.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, and a former member of the Tecumseh Club.

He is survived, in addition to his wife, by one daughter, Mrs. Sam Whitney, 315 S. Union, and four grandchildren.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

If the first part of your car registration number is here, you might be a winner.
Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next weeks list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00* happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charge.
Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.
Buick's $1,000,000.00 Sweepstakes.
There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

Lenten Lessons

By The Rev. KURT F. KOEPLIN, Pastor
Grace English Ev. Lutheran Church

The season of Lent, a special 40-day preparatory pre-Easter period, has been used for centuries to deepen spiritual life. It is a time for review, renewal and rededication.

It is a review since the emphasis of Lent, the redeeming love of God in Christ Jesus, underscores the fearful yet glorious price of our salvation, our deliverance from life's fear and futility, and the defeat of death's doom and damnation.

Particularly during Lent we learn anew that by the anguish and death of our Savior, who walked the way of sorrows in our stead, we have been made the children of God.

The Scripture passage, "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us that we should be called the sons of God!" (I John 3:1) becomes more meaningful and is a source of real joy and comfort in a world torn by strife and hate.

Lent is also a time for renewal and rededication since the cost of reconciliation to God is clearly seen in the face of our Suffering Substitute.

Moved by the compassionate love of God, the Christian vows that with His help he will attempt, to an ever increasing degree to accurately reflect God's love for mankind in his daily life and actions.

During Lent, we see God's love in Christ. Now, and for the balance of the year, the world should see Christ in His grateful people.

Hear About Head Start

Mrs. Donald Rodehaver, director of the Federal Head Start program last summer at Madison School, told of the successes of operation Thursday at the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club meeting.

The initial idea came from our first lady, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

There were 13,000 centers in operation last year, with 86 of them in Michigan including the one in Madison School in Lenawee County with 68 enrolled from the ages of four and one-half to five years.

These were chosen based on their need of love, care, and understanding (not necassarily because of poverty). Although only 15% could be chosen from middle-class homes, the response was greater than expected.

The one common need of all was that of learning and becoming familiar with middle-class standards and to prepare them for kindergarten and school.

The course lasted eight weeks with the 68 children divided into small groups of 17 with one teacher and several volunteer workers.

Mrs. Rodehaver told of dramatic visits to the Toledo Airport to go through a jet, to a farm to see an orchard and young animals, plus field trips.

One of the greatest rewards of the project was that of the physical program. This consisted of a visit to a physician for immunization shots and physical examination and another visit to the dentist.

This was a new experience to most of them and it turned up many cases in need of further treatment, including a girl with an enlarged heart who might not have liived to age six without the immediate treatment she received.

A survey of the Tecumseh area revealed that there were enough children who would be eligible to enroll in the Head Start program, but it is not known at this time if one will be conducted this year. The program is administered by the Federal government at about $150 per child.

Tom Johnston Loses Control

Thomas Johnston, 19, of 8334 E. Monroe Rd., Ridgeway, was treated at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, for a possible fractured shoulder, Tuesday morning.

Johnston lost control of his car on Ridge Rd., near Pennington Rd., and struck a fence. The car tipped over then righted itself.

Clinton State Police issued Johnston a summons for driving too fast for road conditions.

Marge Retires

Marge Chase, four-year veteran in slapping red tickets under windshield wipers, is retiring as Tecumseh's parking meter maid.

Her efficiency aroused both merchants and motorists, and she was often a victim of verbal abuse. Her last day treking the streets and parking lots is next Wednesday.

Chief Police Murell Clark says the position is open and he is taking applications. Miss Chase will be a receptionist for Dr. Laurence Burch.

The local police department has still another dilemma:

Patrolman James Harden quit last week to join the Rumpf Truck Line, and Robert Purkey turned in his last tour, Tuesday night. He is joining his brother, Dick, and dad, Lee Purkey, at the family's garage on W. Chicago Blvd.

The resignations cut the police force here to six, including Alan Jones, who broke his leg in a fall while attending police training school in East Lansing.

Don't be surprised if you see City Manager Cal Zorn and Building Inspector Lynn Nobles doning police uniforms, checking the meters and patroling the streets.

Ardis Dreuyor Off to Puerto Rico

Ardis Dreuyor left Saturday morning for Humacao, Puerto Rico, where she'll be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell for three weeks.

Bank Requests Moving Street Near New Branch

In order to allow an adequate turning radius for cars which will use the coming United Savings Bank, Herrick Park branch, a request has been made to Council that Water St. be moved about 30 feet north for a short distance, near the Red Mill Pond bridge.

Bank President Pat Meadows asked Council's opinion Monday and was told "there is the possibility."

Since the bank owns property both north and south of the roadway, the move would involve only city permission.

Nothing Missing in Local Break-in

Wright's Pharmacy was broken into either late Saturday night or early Sunday morning when a rock was thrown through the back door window and the door's night latch released.

William Wright, owner, reported nothing taken earlier this week.

Mrs. Paul Roekle, owner, with her husband, of Tecumseh Office Supply, also reported nothing taken. The office supply store is connected to the pharmacy by an open archway.

70-Year-Old Woman Hurt in Car Crash

CLINTON — The intersection of US-12 and M-52 was the scene of another serious accident Tuesday morning, when a car driven by Lewis Trolz, 74, of Manchester collided with a car driven by Robert Anspaugh, 45, of Hillsdale.

Mrs. Trolz, 70, is in critical condition in Herrick Memorial Hospital with numerous fractures, head and facial injuries and possible internal injuries.

Mr. Trolz received minor lacerations and complained of chest pains.

Mr. Anspaugh received abrasions to the leg.

The collision occurred at the caution lighted intersection at 10 a.m. as Mr. Trolz, southbound, stopped for the light then proceeded into the path of the eastbound Anspaugh car. Mr. Trolz was given a summons for failure to yield the right of way.

Mr. and Mrs. Trolz are the parents of Mrs. Rex Winchell of Clinton.

71 Inspect Coldwater's State Home

A visit to the Coldwater State Home was taken by 71 members and advisors of the Clinton Future Nurses Club and their guests, the Clinton Future Homemakers Club and the Tecumseh Future Nurses Club.

R. G. Mulchahy, director of community relations at the home, who addressed the combined groups at a recent meeting in Clinton, conducted the educational tour.

Adults attending were Mrs. James Meeks, FNC chapter advisor; Mrs. M. R. Blanden and Mrs. Harold Richardson of Tecumseh; Mrs. Glen Harrison and Mrs. Harry Spencer of Clinton, Kathy McCarty of Adrian College, a homemaker student teacher.

Dear friends,

At the time that the bereaved family selects the casket, it is also customary to choose an outside container or vault to enclose it. The grave vault provides added strength and protection to the casket against the elements.

We offer complete information on the various types of vaults that are available and can supply the one selected.

Indians Trounce Jefferson, 81-44

Tecumseh opened the District Eight basketball tournament Monday night with an easy 81-44 victory over Monroe Jefferson at Dundee.

The Indians, after a slow first half, romped in the third and fourth quarters with Coach Vic Lawson shuttling players in and out, even playing several from the Jayvee squad.

Jefferson was frigid from the floor in the last two periods, hitting only three goals from the floor, one in the final quarter.

Three Indians paced the scoring attack, spreading their feats out over three different periods.

In the initial quarter, 6'4" Terry Alcock tallied 11 points and completed the game with a 16-point total.

Gordon Gibson took over in the second stanza, hitting for 10 points. He added five more in the second half.

Scott Edwards led all scorers with 17 points, 12 coming in the third quarter when the Tecumseh press completely befuddled the Jefferson team.

Tecumseh opened the game in a rush, running up an 8-0 score before Jefferson got into the scoring column. MJ closed the margin to 18-13 at the quarter's end, but then fell further behind in the second period with Tecumseh rolling up 19 points to Jefferson's 13.

The game was broken wide open after the half when Tecumseh hit the bucket for 25 points in the quarter to Jefferson's seven.

Officials clipped the Indians with 22 fouls, and Jefferson 20. Jefferson scored on 18 of 31 free throws, Tecumseh 17 of 26.

If They Win?

If the Indians are fortunate Wednesday night against Blissfield, they'll play for the District Eight Tournament championship at 7:30, Saturday night.

Probable opponent will be either Dundee or Monroe Catholic Central.

GAA Five Down Ypsilanti

The Girl's Athletic Association varsity basketball team defeated Ypsilanti High School, Thursday evening, 59-20.

All 10 forwards scored at least two points. Emily Manwaring was high with 18 points followed by Mary Ann Allen's 16.

Captain Beth O'Neil and Debbie Black played well as guards.

Given Ticket for Speeding

Juanita Underwood, 28, of Tipton, was given a summons for driving too fast for icy road conditions, Tuesday morning, by State Police.

Her car ran off M-50, hit a fixed object, skidded and tore down 132 feet of woven fence owned by Irvin Sieler of 1835 W. Monroe Rd.

Alcock Hurt for Game with Royals

Injuries for the second straight year have taken their toll for the Tecumseh Indians basketball team.

Terry Alcock, 6'4" senior center, who is rated the best rebounder in this area, suffered a sprained ankle in the Monroe Jefferson tilt, Monday night.

An X-ray at Herrick Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning showed no breaks. He was then taken to the training quarters for the University of Michigan athletic teams and had the ankle specially wrapped.

Last year about this time, Jim Lawson suffered a heel injury in the final game of the season and was severely handicapped in Tecumseh's narrow loss to Willow Run.

Alcock's injury may not be as severe as Lawson's, but his play certainly will be affected.

Another injury last spring caused the Indians to lose the Huron League track meet here. Victim then was Steve Derby, top hurdler.

David Mueller Completes Prep Leadership Class

The 19-year-old soldier entered the Army last January.

Mueller is a 1965 graduate of Adrian Catholic High School.

John Sorenson, education director of the Civil Air Patrol, will be the keynote speaker.

Others from Tecumseh attending the event are Wayne Kaiser, Tecumseh Acres; Mrs. Albert Tonneberger, Tipton; R. T. Gillam, Patterson and Mrs. Graham Fleming, Ridgeway.

Auto Hits Calf

CLINTON—A 350 pound black Angus calf was struck and killed on US-12 five miles west of Clinton, by a car driven by Marvin Gene Sell, 45, of Blissfield.

The calf, which had been raised as a pet by Mrs. John Hoelzer, slipped the collar that held it to a tree beside the Irish Hills Locker, and it ran into the highway. Mr. Sell told Clinton State Police he was unable to see the black calf in the dark. It was 8:15 p.m. Mr. Sell and his six passengers, members of his family, were unhurt.

Male Reporter Enjoys Girl Scout Luau

By DICK CARVER

One young man and 375 girls were there.

Girl Scouts that is.

"You realize you're conspicuous," Mrs. Bill Frownfelder exclaimed. That's when the 375-to-1 ratio hit me. Until then I was perfectly comfortable. Even then it wasn't so bad.

TWELVE Girl Scout troops staged a Michigan Luau in true Hawaiian style.

This authentic Island holiday was held in the Products Union Hall Feb. 22.

The program was in celebration of International Scout Month and the birthday of Girl Scouting's founder, Juliette Low.

Feature attractions were two special guests from Maui, the second largest of the Hawaiian Islands, via Siena Heights College in Adrian, where they are students.

Gerri and Diana DeCosta added a truly beautiful touch of the South Pacific to this luau.

This is Diana's fourth year in Michigan, where she spends summers counseling in a youth camp near Port Huron.

This is Gerri's first experience with a Michigan winter. She and her sister insist seeing the snow was one reason for coming to Michigan.

The Hawaiian visitors presented a fine example of the Hula dance and Diana invited Scouts to come forward if they wanted to learn the basic "steps."

A crowded stage accepted the challenge.

LOCAL HULA dancers, Janice Miller, Daryl Jean Michared and Mary Ellen Bonnell added to the program.

Another number, "The Waltz of the Flowers" featured Janice Miller, Daryl Jean, Mary Ellen, Maureen O'Brien and Lynn Pieh.

The international program is designed as a money-making project with proceds going to national and international Girl Scout activities.

Also present at the Luau were Mrs. G. L. Murphy, President of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Barton Christman, Tecumseh Neighborhood Chairman and Mrs. Fred Robinson, District Scouting Executive.

Decorations, entirely constructed by the Scouts and leaders, drew compliments from the Hawaiian visitors. The scene was effective and marvelously realistic.

All in all it was an enjoyable evening for 375 girls and one reporter.

HERALD PHOTO BY DICK CARVER

AUTHENTIC — Hawaiian sisters Gerri and Diana DeCosta, far left and right, judged dress worn by Nancy Gentry, front, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gentry, N. Occidental Hwy., and by Barbara Haeussler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weston Haeussler, 701 Brook St., as most nearly authentic. The sisters from Maui, Hawaii, are holding gifts presented at this year's International Girl Scout dinner with an Hawaiian theme.

Wins Promotion

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Detective Capt. Raymond H. McConnell, commanding officer of the intelligence and security section of the Michigan State Police, has been promoted to Detective Captain V and named Commander of the Detective Division in the Bureau of Field Services for the state.

The promotion was announced by Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director.

Capt. McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell of Rogers Hwy., is a 1934 graduate of Tecumseh High School and enlisted in the State Police in September of 1940.

He served at the Bay City, Marquette, Wakefield and Ypsilanti posts as a trooper, as a detective at the Romeo Post, a detective sergeant in the Special Investigation Bureau at East Lansing, as post commander at the New Buffalo and Jackson Posts.

In 1963, he was a lieutenant in charge of the Racket Squad.

JOHN MILLHONE, staff writer for the Detroit Free Press, wrote in 1963, when Capt. McConnell became commander of the Racket Squad, "Raymond H. McConnell is an American version of the unbelievable Scotland Yard inspector in British mysteries who snares criminals and snips orchids.

"Capt. McConnell is the commander of a little known group that leads a running battle against organized gambling, dope peddlers and prostitution.

"He doesn't look the part. Bifocal glasses, gray, short cropped hair and a round pixie face give him a quiet almost innocent appearance."

"It's an illusion — McConnell's credits include 22 years of tracking down murderers and exposing fraud.

"But when he wasn't trailing a hoodlum, he was teaching his son, Stephen, how to land a trout, or carefully tending his prize roses — teas and florabundas.

"McConnell succeeded Det. Lt. Carl W. Robinson as commander of the Rackets Squad. Robinson was arrested on embezzlement charges after a $15,000 shortage was found in confiscated funds," the Free Press story stated.

TECUMSEH Police Chief Murrel Clark, a retired Michigan State Police lieutenant, said of Capt. McConnell, "He came up through the ranks and benefited by his own productivity. He had 'nose trouble' and wanted to know what was going and why it was going that way.

"This makes a good policeman. He is conscientious and aggressive about everything including education, always taking refresher courses. He didn't drag his feet by a long ways and he has personality plus."

Chief Clark and Capt. McConnell worked together at several posts around the state and also on special assignment. Both men received commendation for recovering a load of copper for the Detroit Edison Co., when six or eight arrests were made.

CAPT. RAY H. McCONNELL

They were instrumental in the conviction of Harry C. Smith, superintendent of Sandusky Schools, who was caught "padding the roll."

They also worked together on the governors convention at Mackinaw Island and on strike duty at Flint, Owosso and Clinton.

CAPT McCONNELL has been awarded 11 citations for meritorious service, an unusually large number, and eight or ten for honorable mention.

He has addressed service clubs and groups of citizens for years.

In speaking to the Exchange Club members at Farmington last week, Captain McConnell told of the war his department wages against organized crime.

He said, "This confederacy contains a relatively stable group with a common purpose of extending the scope of their criminal activities wherever and whenever possible, united and allied by familial relationships and agreements for mutual support and common action basically in the areas of gambling, narcotics, prostitution, liquor and labor racketeering."

He said the activities of this confederacy are dependent upon the corruption of public and law enforcement officials and public apathy, and all three of these are going for them right now.

The captain concluded his talk by stating, "If we lose this little skirmish we aren't just losing a few cases to the syndicate — we're losing something far more serious — our way of life — democracy."

CAPT. McCONNELL, prophecied in the high school annual to be the screen's greatest lover, describes his work as fascinating and he is dedicated to it. He said recently, "In the past 25 years, I haven't known anything but police work, it's been my whole life."

Had "Red" Wilson, Mrs. Wyman Service, the late C. R. Dustin, Newman Gamble, Mary Louise Allen and others of the Tecumseh High School faculty of that time known what their young tormenter would do with his life, they might not have shaken their head so many times over his antics.

Captain McConnell and his wife, Maxine, whom he met while stationed at Marquette, and their son, Steve, presently live at Mason .

Plan to Send Child to Camp

Members of the Josephine H. Hall Temple, Pythian Sisters, voted to send an underprivileged child to Pythian summer camp at Burt Lake.

Most Excellent Chief Mrs. Harry Carney conducted the session. Mrs. Erwin Buss was appointed chairman of the rummage sale to be held at the Pythian Hall March 10 and 11.

A flower shower was held with artificial blooms of white, blue, red and yellow for use in decorating the hall.

It was announced that Robert Todd will present pictures of Mexico and Canada at the hall March 4 at 7:30 p.m., followed by refreshments.

Cookies and dainty crackers were served following the meeting by Mrs. Lewis Schultz and Mrs. Clayton Greenwald.

Another meeting will be held March 9.

Citizen Band Radio Owners Are Prepared

The citizens band radio operators of Lenawee are preparing for another tornado season. An organization known as the "Emergency Citizens Band Radio Volunteers of Lenawee County" in cooperation with Sheriff Richard Germond, are making up lists of volunteers, issuing identification cards, checking on the number of mobile radio units available, station wagons, trucks, chain saws, etc.

The Sheriff Department and some other law enforcement agencies in the county now have citizen band radios in their departments, and they are monitoring Channel"17". If you have a citizens band radio, they are asking that you cooperate and use Channel "17" for emergency operation only.

The organization will also make a directory of all C.B. radio operators in and around Lenawee County, so if you are a licensed C.B. Operator send your name, address and call letters to "Post Office Box 201, Adrian, Michigan."

The organization will try to get a copy of the directory to all C.B.'ers in Lenawee County and surrounding areas.

Ahleman Addresses Auxiliary

Paul Ahleman of Adrian was the guest speaker at the February meeting of the Jaycee Auxiliary giving a talk and demonstration on mouth to mouth resuscitation and first aid.

Future projects discussed were:

► The Progressive Dinner March 19 with all Auxiliary members participating.

► The Spring Bazaar April 30 with the following booths: "You-Make-It," "Fish Pond," "Herb, Spice, and Garden," "Cake Walk," "Baked Goods," "Children Only," "Mother's Day Gifts."

► Bloodmobile March 2 at General Motors plant.

► President's meeting at Mrs. Walt Elwartowski's March 14.

The Michigan Week Project was accepted with Mrs. Tom Morgan as chairman for the Auxiliary working with Dyke Helms.

The Jaycee Auxiliary presented the Jaycees with a 34-piece place setting of silverware Saturday night at the Sweetheart Ball held at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Day and Mrs. Walt Wonderly.

Steel Ball Falls 36,000' to Hit Bottom

IT'S A FACT

Did you know that if a one pound steel ball rolled off a deck and drops into the Marianas Trench of the Pacific, it would hit the bottom of the ocean 63 minutes later — a distance of 36,000 feet.

That's deep.

Deeper still is the Coast Guard's involvement in the sea.

Men of the Coast Guard plumb ocean's depths — cruise it's surface — fly above it, carrying out it's peacetime mission of protecting life and property on the high seas, and during time of war, acting as a military force.

If this kind of service appeals to you, contact your Coast Guard Recruiter at the Federal Building, 234 Summit Street, Toledo, Ohio.

5,000 Questionnaires Help Gather Information on Area Vocational Needs

The Lenawee Area Vocational and Technical Education Survey is passing the halfway mark, according to Mrs. Margaret Kaiser, Coordinator.

She described the status and procedure of the study to an audience of business, industry and labor leaders, public officials, educators and interested citizens at a meeting Thursday in the Madison School.

Professor Ralph Wenrich, chairman of the Department of Vocational Education and Practical Arts at the University of Michigan, stressed the need for trained personnel and for up-to-date employment skills in the rapidly-advancing economy.

HE EMPHASIZED the obligation of high schools to plan for employment-bound youth.

The Lenawee Survey will result in recommendations for vocational education facilities which are developing out of in-depth studies of Lenawee manpower needs, training programs, students and parents' opinions and available methods of financing such programs.

Contact is being made with business and educational community and the public by means of 5,000 questionnaires being mailed out by the study office.

Coordinators of the survey will provide information on the entire vocational subject to interested groups.

Eighth Grade Wins Tourney

By DICK CARVER

Tecumseh Junior High Indians outshot Blissfield cagers, 50-27, Saturday evening and took the eighth grade tournament title.

Adrian downed the Blissfield seventh grade for the championship in that bracket.

The Indians downed Adrian,, 44-35 and Airport, 46-12, to earn the shot at the Blissfield team.

The eighth grade Indians are undefeated in 18 games through two seasons and will remain undefeated this season with 11 straight wins.

BLISSFIELD was cold at the charity line Saturday shooting a poor 3-18, 16% compared to Tecumseh, 16-30, 53%.

The game marked the first the 50-point mark in the history of the present team.

Tecumseh's Bob Reed was hard put to better it much in this cold encounter as he topped scorers with 11 points.

THE INDIANS opened their tournament competition with a win over Adrian, 44-35.

Adrian had good height but was unable to control the backboards with it or to shoot well. The combination brought Tecumseh's first win in the tourney.

Adrian and Tecumseh averaged about the same at the free throw line with 35% and 39% respectively, but Adrian faulted 26 times to 17 Tecumseh fouls.

PROBLEMS AS WELL AS PLEASURES

Last week's article ended with the frustration of trying to get a good picture of a mourning dove. These fairly large, fawn colored birds come to the feeder, sit and so pretty are they that it just seems an ideal picture is there for the taking.

So take the picture we do and more often than not, the results are disappointing. I think part of the problem is that the birds do come and just sit, period. They are quiet, easy-going creatures and this lack of animation shows up on film. Many of our pictures of mourning doves don't look real; the bird on the feeder looks like porcelain or china.

There are other birds who are not ideal photographic models, too. Papa Cardinal is a prime example. He is so handsome with that brilliant scarlet suit and jet black face mask; in person he is handsome but in the picture he is apt to look cross, unfriendly and downright disagreeable. The scowl is due to the face mask, I believe. About the only way to counteract this is to work for a profile shot. It helps if he has his top-knot raised; he is much much more alert this way and besides, when extended to its highest peak, this crest is surprisingly high and very sharply pointed.

Actually, one of the cardinal rules — sorry about that — one of the first rules in aiming the camera at any bird is to avoid "head on" shots whenever possible. No bird looks his best when viewed from this angle. Taken by itself, a bird's bill is a peculiar looking thing but, in our mind's picture, birds have bills and so to match what we think with what the camera sees, certain things must be taken into consideration. A full-face picture does not give shape nor size to the bill, thus the bird simply does not look right.

Two of our favorite subjects are the pert little tufted titmouse and the even smaller black-capped chick-a-dee. Both are bouncy characters, full of fun, and this zest for life shines through their bright black eyes. As they hop on the feeding trays, nibbling at the suet, tasting the scratch feed and pecking open the sunflower seeds, all sorts of shots are available. They almost ask me to snap their picture and fortunately, the results are quite often satisfying.

Speaking of asking to have their pictures taken, the squirrels are regular hams. They will do almost anything to get the camera started. Of course, I must admit that I usually do not need much coaxing; I enjoy photographing squirrels. One pose that always gets me, is the "pledge of allegiance." A squirrel stands straight, looks directly in the window and places high right paw over his heart — it is exactly the position we assume when we honor the flag.

When a squirrel has a particularly big and bushy tail, we can count on a good camera session, too. Almost as if consciously proud of the "glorious plume" they arch, twitch, drape and oh, the posing we have watched is just unbelievable. Back lighting is the ideal thing to bring out and show all the highlights and markings. On a rainy or snowy day, however, such a tail makes a good picture, too. A squirrel uses his tail as an umbrella, you know, he flips it up over his back and heads for protection. One of my favorite slides is of a squirrel crouched low on a snow covered feeder, his tail laying up over his back and oh, that poor tail is just white with snow.

So it is that when trying to take pictures of birds and squirrels—in fact, whenever a camera comes into play regardless of the subject matter, there are problems as well as pleasures.

Tiny Guard Mobley Is Hero in Victory

By JIM LINCOLN

Friday night's basketball night in Tecumseh — and what a night Feb. 25 was for the Tecumseh Indians.

Blissfield — title bound, victors over the Indians last month, loser of just two games this season — was bumped by Tecumseh in double-overtime, 79-75.

THS gym never heard such bedlam from possibly the largest crowd ever to witness a game here, and it was a well played game for the most part.

Tied 71-71 at the end of the regulation game, the Royals tallied first in overtime for a two-point lead. Chuck Thomas evened the count, then apparently put the Indians ahead with one from under bucket.

The two pointer was nullified when officials called traveling. The first overtime ended at 73-73.

The second overtime was all Jim Mobley, sophomore guard. Early in this three-minute period, Mobley slipped through the bigger Royals and counted on a layup.

After Blissfield missed its next shot, Mobley started dribbling, controlling and keeping the ball from the Royals. He was fouled in the process, then notched two free throws for a 77-73 Tecumseh lead.

The Royals came back to pull within two points. Mobley took over again, and desperate Blissfield again fouled the 5'8" guard. He iced the game, again hitting two free throws on one-and-one situations.

John Goodman had an opportunity to widen the gap in the final seconds but missed on two attempts.

Seniors in their final game here should always remember it.

Terry Alcock controlled the boards and pitched in 12 points before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

Gordon Gibson turned in one of his best games with 14 points, as did Ron Rentschler, who sparked his teammates in fourth period. He finished with 14 points also.

With practically all of Tecumseh's big boys sidelined via the foul route, high-jumping Goodman helped Tecumseh on the boards in the overtimes, and contributed six points overall.

Some Tecumseh fans undoubtedly had thoughts of going home early in the game. Blissfield jumped off to a 12-0 lead as the Indians had one turnover after another — just one shot at the bucket in the first three and a half minutes.

Alcock broke the ice with a foul shot, and the Indians started catching up. Before the quarter ended, Alcock had six points and Tecumseh trailed by just four points, 19-15.

Blissfield once led in the second quarter, 36-26, before Dean Hebb caught fire, hitting on four goals and two free throws. At the half, the Royals still led by four, 40-36.

Jim Gibbons, who seemed on his way to some kind of scoring mark in the first half for Blissfield with 25 points, picked up his fourth infraction at the 3:26 mark of the third stanza. Coach Al Schaffer pulled the 6'5" senior.

Seconds later, Gibson pulled Tecumseh into a tie, 52-52, and then for another two pointer, giving Tecumseh its first lead of the night, 54-52.

The Indians led throughout the final quarter until seven seconds remained when Bill Beal connected on two free throws to tie the game 71-71 and send it into overtime.

Both clubs had golden opportunities to win in the first overtime with the Royals having a player at the free throw line with less than a second remaining.

At this stage, the two officials had a lengthy discussion with timekeeper Tom Fagan over whether the foul was called before the buzzer sounded, or afterwards.

They finally agreed it was called before and allowed the Blissfield player a free throw, which could have won the game. He missed and set up the second overtime period.

Tecumseh had 30 fouls called against the Indians with Dean Hebb, top local scorer with 15 points, Thomas, Alcock and Gibson sitting on the bench before the game finally ended.

The Royals lost Jim Gibbons, Larry Carroll and Dave Gurica on fouls. Officials cited Blissfield with 25 infractions, three coming in the final minute.

Blissfield's Larry Caroll (dark uniform) battles Tecumseh's Terry Alcock (40) for a rebound. Other THS players include Randy Work (4) and John Goodman (with glasses in background). Alcock controlled the boards in another fine performance, despite the fact he gave away almost two inches in height to the Royals' Jim Gibbons. Both boys have been named to the All - Lenawee County team.

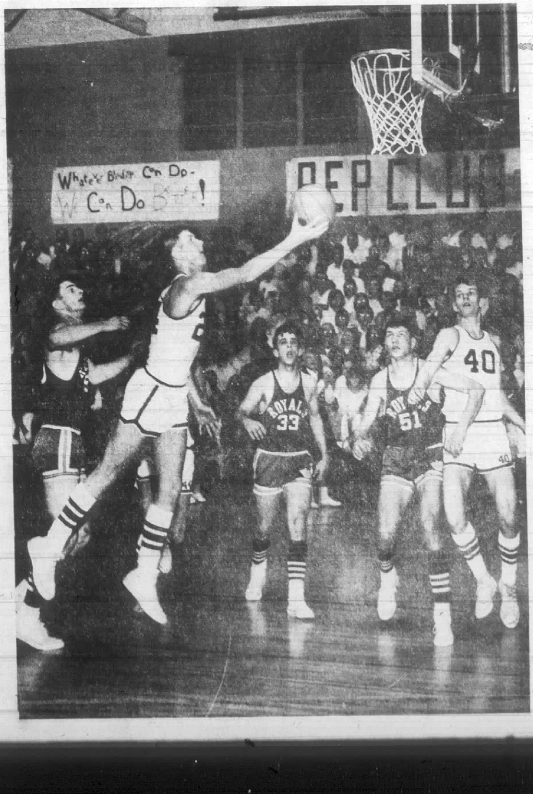
Surrounded by four Royal players, tiny Jim Mobley (22) drills into the bucket for a two-pointer in the first half. Jim proved to be the game's hero in the overtime, hitting for four free tosses that iced the Indian victory.



Co-Capt. Gordon Gibson bores towards the hoop as team mate Terry Alcock squeezes in from right to get in position for a possible rebound. This was one of Gibson's best games of the season.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

In the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee

In the Matter of the Complaint of Allison Green, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee.

ALLISON GREEN, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, Act No. 126 of the Public Acts of 1933, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, and the description of all lands in said county which are delinquent for any installment of taxes under the provisions of the act last above mentioned;

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent and (d) $1.50 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned;

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended;

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgment in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained;

c. That said judgment provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides;

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

ALLISON GREEN
State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Dated: January 20, 1966.
